

Interinstitutional File: 2012/0011 (COD)

Brussels, 13 July 2015 (OR. en) 10790/15 LIMITE DATAPROTECT 117 JAI 551 MI 482 DIGIT 56 DAPIX 123 FREMP 155 COMIX 325 CODEC 1039

NOTE

From:	Presidency
То:	Delegations
Subject:	Proposal for a Regulation of the European Parliament and of the Council on the protection of individuals with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data (General Data Protection Regulation)
	- Chapter II, preparation of trilogue

Introduction

- On 15th June 2015, the Council agreed on a General Approach (9565/15) on the proposal for a General Data Protection Regulation, thereby giving to the Presidency a negotiating mandate to enter into trilogues with Parliament. The Presidency recalls the objective of reaching a conclusion on this reform by the end of 2015, in accordance with the conclusions of the European Council of 25/26th June 2015.
- With a view to preparing the next trilogue, the Presidency invites delegations to discuss Chapter II Principles (Articles 5 10)

- Relevant definitions in Article 4, in particular definitions (3b) and (2a) (EP), (8), (10), (11), (12) and (20)
- Relevant recitals: 23a; 23c; 24; 25; 25a; 25aa; 26; 28, 29, 30; 31; 31a; 32; 33; 34; 35; 35a; 36; 37; 38, 38a; 39; 39a (EP); 39b (EP); 40; 41; 42; 42a; 42b; 43; 44; 45

In Annex appears the four column table which reflects the European Commission proposal, the European Parliament's first reading position and the Council's General Approach on the provisions that will be discussed in this trilogue.

3. While underlining that the General Approach reached by Council on 15th June 2015 constitutes the basis of the Presidency's negotiation mandate, and taking into account the position of the European Parliament on Chapter II, the Presidency invites delegations to share their views on the different questions and suggestions listed below (points 7 and 8).

The Presidency wishes to discuss provisions relating to processing of personal data for archiving purposes in the public interest or for scientific, statistical and historical purposes as they appear in Chapter II, notwithstanding further discussions on related issues in Chapter IX at a later stage.

The next trilogue will not address issues related to flexibility for the Member States' public sector which the Presidency proposes to discuss comprehensively when addressing Articles 1(2a), 6(3), and 21.

4. In order to ensure an efficient discussion process, as well as to maximise its clarity, the Presidency chose to divide the different provisions into three categories.

The first category (points 5 and 6) relates either to provisions on which the colegislators have a consensual view or to provisions where the Presidency intends to maintain the Council's General Approach. With regards to this category, the Presidency takes the view that no further discussion is needed.

The second category (point 7) relates to provisions that require further clarification. In this context, the Presidency invites delegations to give their views on the issues raised while keeping in mind the Council's General Approach.

The third category (point 8) exclusively relates to Article 10. The Presidency invites delegations to share their views on the two questions listed below.

Preparation for trilogue

- 5. Considering the position of the European Parliament, delegations will note that there is a consensus on:
 - Article 5 (1(d))
 - Article 6 (1) chapeau, (1(b)), (1(c)), (1(e)), (3(a))
 - Article 8 (2), (4)
 - Article 9 (2) chapeau, (2(c)), (2(d)), (2(e))

The Presidency takes the view that no additional discussion is necessary on these Articles.

- 6. The Presidency suggests to maintain the Council's General Approach as regards:
 - Article 4 (3a), (2a) (EP), (8), (10), (11), (12) and (7a) (EP text)
 - Article 5 (1) chapeau (on the term "must"), (1(b)), (1(c))
 - Article 6 (1(a)), (1(d)), (2), (3) chapeau, [(3(b))], (3a)
 - Article 7 (2), (3)
 - Article 8 (subject to discussions under point 7))
 - Article 9 (1), (2(b)), (2(f)), (2(g)), (2(h)), (2(hb)), (2(i)), (2(j)), (3), (4), (5)
 - Article 9a

The Presidency takes the view that no additional discussion is necessary on these Articles. However, in case delegations wish to raise any crucial point or to provide further input relating to these Articles, they may do so under point 8.

7. With regard to the position of the European Parliament, the Presidency considers that certain provisions need further clarification. Consequently, the Presidency invites delegations to give their views as regards the following points.

Article 5 – Principles relating to personal data processing

- The European Parliament suggests "tags" to qualify the different principles enshrined in Article 5. The Presidency considers that these additions could improve the readability of the text.
- On Article 5 (1(e)), the Presidency suggests to maintain the Council's General Approach while remaining flexible on the addition of "direct or indirect" as proposed by the European Parliament.
- The Presidency considers that Council could be flexible as to the inclusion of point (ea) under Article 5 (1), as suggested by the European Parliament.
- As Article 5 (1(eb)) proposed by the European Parliament and Article 5(1)((ee)) of the Council's General Approach both cover the same idea, the Presidency takes the view that the General Approach should be maintained.
- The Presidency considers that Article 5(1) (f) of the European Parliament's text, as well as Article 5(2) of the Council's General Approach follow the same rationale. In this context, the Presidency takes the view that the Council's General Approach ensures a clearer understanding of the underlying logic of the Regulation. However, as the reference to the accountability principle neither counters the objective pursued by the Council's General Approach, nor modifies the meaning of Article 5(2), the Presidency suggests to accept an express reference to the accountability principle by means of a 'tag', as well as the addition of the words "and shall be able to demonstrate the compliance with the provisions of this regulation" at the end of Article 5(2) of the Council's General Approach.

Article 6 – Lawfulness of processing

- Concerning Article 6 (1(f)), the Presidency invites delegations to indicate whether they could envisage flexibility regarding the introduction of the sentence proposed by the European Parliament and more particularly on the notions of "disclosure" and "reasonable expectations of the data subject". Delegations are also invited to give their views on the provision concerning processing carried out by public authorities in the performance of their tasks as foreseen by the European Parliament.
- As the European Parliament envisages the deletion of Article 6(4), the Presidency invites delegations to indicate their flexibility with regards to this provision.

Article 7 - Conditions for consent

- The Presidency takes the view that the drafting of Article 7(1) and (1a) of the Council's General Approach could be simplified. In this context, and without prejudice to the rest of the wording of Article 7(1), the Presidency suggests to add the words "Where processing is based on consent, the" (as suggested by the European Parliament) at the beginning of paragraph (1) which allows to merge paragraphs (1) and (1a).
- With regards to Article 7(4), the Presidency invites delegations to indicate their possible flexibility on the introduction of the idea contained in the last sentence of the paragraph as suggested by the European Parliament. ("The execution of a contract or the provision of a service shall not be made conditional on the consent to the processing of data that is not necessary for the execution of the contract or the provision of the service pursuant to Article 6(1), point (b)").

Article 8 – Conditions applicable to child's consent in relation to information society services

The Presidency invites delegations to confirm the Council's General Approach as regards the scope of this article (reference to "information society services").
 Accordingly, the Presidency invites delegations to express their views on the related definition in Article 4(20).

Article 9 - Processing of special categories of personal data

- While the Presidency suggests to maintain the Council's General Approach regarding most of Article 9(2(a)), Member States are invited to share their views on the addition "for one or more specified purposes" as proposed by the European Parliament.
- Concerning Article 9(2(aa)) as proposed by the European Parliament, the Presidency invites delegations to share their views on the possibility to include this paragraph.

Member States are invited to confirm the Presidency's suggestions or share their views on the issues raised under point 6.

Article 10 – Processing not requiring identification

The suggestions made by the European Parliament modify the substance compared to the Council's General Approach. Therefore, while maintaining the Council's General Approach, the Presidency seeks further input with regards to the two following points:

- Concerning Article 10(1), the Presidency invites delegations to share their views on the addition of the term "processor", as well as the reference to "pseudonymous data", as proposed by the European Parliament.
- As regards Article 10(2), the Presidency invites delegations to express their support for either the wording suggested by the European Parliament, or the wording contained in the Council General Approach, or to indicate their flexibility with regards to this provision.

Member States are invited to indicate their position as regards point 7.

8. Finally, the Presidency invites the delegations to raise any other issue related to Chapter II.

Proposal for a regulation of the European Parliament and of the Council on the protection of individuals with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data (General Data Protection Regulation)

COM(2012)0011 / 2012/0011 (COD)

The markings in this table are to be read as follows:

Second column with first reading Position of the European Parliament: new text is marked in bold italics; deleted parts of the text are marked in strikethrough, text identical with the Commission proposal is marked - with a diagonal line in the box.

Third column with General Approach of the Council: new text is marked in bold italics; deleted parts of the text are marked in strikethrough, parts of the text that have been moved up or down are marked in bold.

Fourth column: the diagonal line in the box indicates that the text is identical for all three institutions.

7

EN

VH/np

LIMITE

COM (2012)0011	EP Position / First Reading	Council General Approach (15/06/2015)	Comments / compromise suggestions
	Amendment 6
		 (23a) The application of pseudonymisation to personal data can reduce the risks for the data subjects concerned and help controllers and processors meet their data protection obligations. The explicit introduction of 'pseudonymisation' through the articles of this Regulation is thus not intended to preclude any other measures of data protection. 23b) ()

	(23c) In order to create incentives for applying pseudonymisation when processing personal data, measures of pseudonymisation whilst allowing general analysis should be possible within the same controller when the controller has taken technical and organisational measures necessary to ensure that the provisions of this Regulation are implemented, taking into account the respective data processing and ensuring that additional information for attributing the personal data to a specific data subject is kept separately. The controller who processes the data shall also refer to authorised persons within the same controller. In such case however the controller shall make sure that the individual(s) performing the pseudonymisation are not referenced in the meta-data.
--	---

--	---

	Amendment 7
(24) When using online services, individuals may be associated with online identifiers provided by their devices, applications, tools and protocols, such as Internet Protocol addresses or cookie identifiers. This may leave traces which, combined with unique identifiers and other information received by the servers, may be used to create profiles of the individuals and identify them. It follows that identification numbers, location data, online identifiers or other specific factors as such need not necessarily be considered as personal data in all circumstances.	(24) When using online services, individuals may be associated with online This Regulation should be applicable to processing involving identifiers provided by their devices, applications, tools and protocols, such as Internet Protocol addresses or cookie identifiers and Radio Frequency Identification tags, unless those identifiers do not relate to an identified or identifiable natural person. This may leave traces which, combined with unique identifiers and other information received by the servers, may be used to create profiles of the individuals and identify them. It follows that identification numbers, location data, online identifiers or other specific factors as such need not necessarily be considered as personal data in all circumstances.	(24) When using online services, individuals may be associated with online identifiers provided by their devices, applications, tools and protocols, such as Internet Protocol addresses or cookie identifiers. This may leave traces which, when combined with unique identifiers and other information received by the servers, may be used to create profiles of the individuals and identify them. It follows that iIdentification numbers, location data, online identifiers or other specific factors as such need should not necessarily be considered as personal datain all circumstances_if they do not identify an individual_or make an individual identifiable.

	Amendment 8
by any appropriate method enabling a freely given specific and informed indication of the data subject's wishes, either by a statement or by a clear affirmative action by the data subject, ensuring that individuals are aware that they give their consent to the processing of personal data, including by ticking a box when visiting an Internet website or by any other statement or conduct which clearly indicates in this context the data subject's acceptance of the proposed processing of their personal data. Silence or inactivity should therefore not constitute consent. Consent should cover all processing activities carried out for the same purpose or purposes. If the data subject's consent is to be given following an electronic request, the request must be clear, concise and not unnecessarily disruptive to the use of the service for	Amendment 8) Consent should be given licitly by any appropriate thod enabling a freely given cific and informed indication he data subject's wishes, either a statement or by a clear rmative action that is the ult of choice by the data ject, ensuring that individuals aware that they give their sent to the processing of sonal data, including by. Clear irmative action could include ting a box when visiting an ernet website or by any other ement or conduct which arly indicates in this context data subject's acceptance of proposed processing of his or personal data. Silence, mere of a service or inactivity uld therefore not constitute sent. Consent should cover all	(25) Consent should be given explicitly-unambiguously by any appropriate method enabling a freely given specific and informed indication of the data subject's wishes, either by a written, including electronic, oral or other statement or, if required by specific circumstances, by any other clear affirmative action by the data subject, signifying his or her agreement to ensuring that individuals are aware that they give their consent to the processing of personal data relating to him or her being processed.; This could including include by ticking a box when visiting an Internet website or by any other statement or conduct which clearly indicates in this context the data subject's request, the request must be clear concise and not unnecessarily disruptive to the use of the service for which it is provided.	r, Where it is technically feasible and effective, the data subject's consent to processing may be given by using the appropriate settings of a browser or other application. In such cases it is sufficient that the data subject receives the information needed to give freely specific and informed consent when starting to use the service. Consent should cover all processing activities carried out for the same purpose or purposes. When the processing has multiple purposes, unambiguous consent should be granted for all of the processing purposes. If the data subject's consent is to be given following an electronic request, the request must be clear, concise and not unnecessarily disruptive to the use of the service for which it is provided.

--	--	--

	(25a) Genetic data should be defined as personal data relating to the genetic characteristics of an individual which have been inherited or acquired as they result from an analysis of a biological sample from the individual in question, in particular by chromosomal, deoxyribonucleic acid (DNA) or ribonucleic acid (RNA) analysis or analysis of any other element enabling equivalent information to be obtained.
--	---

(25aa) It is often not possible to fully identify the purpose of data processing for scientific purposes at the time of data collection. Therefore data subjects can give their consent to certain areas of scientific research when in keeping with recognised ethical standards for scientific research. Data subjects should have the opportunity to give their consent only to certain areas of research opportunity to give their consent other health professional, a hospital, a medical device, or an in vitro diagnostic test.

--

(28) A group of undertakings should cover a controlling undertaking and its controlled undertakings, whereby the controlling undertaking should be the undertaking which can exercise a dominant influence over the other undertakings by virtue, for example, of ownership, financial participation or the rules which govern it or the power to have personal data protection rules implemented.	(28) A group of undertakings should cover a controlling undertaking and its controlled undertakings, whereby the controlling undertaking should be the undertaking which can exercise a dominant influence over the other undertakings by virtue, for example, of ownership, financial participation or the rules which govern it or the power to have personal data protection rules implemented.	(28) A group of undertakings should cover a controlling undertaking and its controlled undertakings, whereby the controlling undertaking should be the undertaking which can exercise a dominant influence over the other undertakings by virtue, for example, of ownership, financial participation or the rules which govern it or the power to have personal data protection rules implemented. A central undertaking which controls the processing of personal data in undertakings affiliated to it forms together with these undertakings an entity which may be treated as "group of undertakings" .
--	--	--	--

	Amendment 9
(29) Children deserve specific protection of their personal data, as they may be less aware of risks, consequences, safeguards and their rights in relation to the processing of personal data. To determine when an individual is a child, this Regulation should take over the definition laid down by the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child.	(29) Children deserve specific protection of their personal data, as they may be less aware of risks, consequences, safeguards and their rights in relation to the processing of personal data. To determine when an individual is a child, this Regulation should take over the definition laid down by the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child. Where data processing is based on the data subject's consent in relation to the offering of goods or services directly to a child, consent should be given or authorised by the child's parent or legal guardian in cases where the child is below the age of 13. Age- appropriate language should be used where the intended audience is children. Other grounds of lawful processing such as grounds of public interest should remain applicable, such as for processing in the context of preventive or counselling services offered directly to a child.	(29) Children deserve specific protection of their personal data, as they may be less aware of risks, consequences, safeguards and their rights in relation to the processing of personal data. To determine when an individual is a child, this Regulation should take over the definition laid down by the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child. This concerns especially the use of personal data of children for the purposes of marketing or creating personality or user profiles and the collection of child data when using services offered directly to a child.

LIMITE

	Amendment 10
(31) In order for processing to be lawful, personal data should be processed on the basis of the consent of the person concerned or some other legitimate basis, laid down by law, either in this Regulation or in other Union or Member State law as referred to in this Regulation.	(31) In order for processing to be lawful, personal data should be processed on the basis of the consent of the person concerned or some other legitimate basis, laid down by law, either in this Regulation or in other Union or Member State law as referred to in this Regulation. In case of a child or a person lacking legal capacity, relevant Union or Member State law should determine the conditions under which consent is given or authorised by that person.	(31) In order for processing to be lawful, personal data should be processed on the basis of the consent of the person concerned or some other legitimate basis, laid down by law, either in this Regulation or in other Union or Member State law as referred to in this Regulation, including the necessity for compliance with the legal obligation to which the controller is subject or the necessity for the performance of a contract to which the data subject is party or in order to take steps at the request of the data subject prior to entering into a contract.

	(31a) Wherever this Regulation refers to a legal basis or a legislative measure, this does not necessarily require a legislative act adopted by a parliament, without prejudice to requirements pursuant the constitutional order of the Member State concerned, however such legal basis or legislative measure should be clear and precise and its application foreseeable for those subject to it as required by the case law of the Court of Justice of the European Union and the European Court of Human Rights.
--	---

	Amendment 11
(32) Where processing is based on the data subject's consent, the controller should have the burden of proving that the data subject has given the consent to the processing operation. In particular in the context of a written declaration on another matter, safeguards should ensure that the data subject is aware that and to what extent consent is given.	(32) Where processing is based on the data subject's consent, the controller should have the burden of proving that the data subject has given the consent to the processing operation. In particular in the context of a written declaration on another matter, safeguards should ensure that the data subject is aware that and to what extent consent is given. To comply with the principle of data minimisation, the burden of proof should not be understood as requiring the positive identification of data subjects unless necessary. Similar to civil law terms (e.g. Council Directive 93/13/EEC ¹), data protection policies should be as clear and transparent as possible. They should not contain hidden or disadvantageous clauses.	(32) Where processing is based on the data subject's consent, the controller should have the burden of proving-be able to demonstrate that the data subject has given the consent to the processing operation. In particular in the context of a written declaration on another matter, safeguards should ensure that the data subject is aware that and to what the extent to which consent is given. A declaration of consent pre-formulated by the controller should be provided in an intelligible and easily accessible form, using clear and plain language and its content should not be unusual within the overall context. For consent to be informed, the data subject should be aware at least of the identity of the controller and the purposes of the processing for

Consent cannot be given for the	which the personal data are processing of personal data of	intended; consent should not be third persons.	regarded as freely-given if the ¹ Council Directive 93/13/EEC of	data subject has no genuine and 5 April 1993 on unfair terms in	free choice and is unable to consumer contracts (OJ L 95,	refuse or withdraw consent 21.4.1993, p. 29).	without detriment.

	Amendment 12
(33) In order to ensure free consent, it should be clarified that consent does not provide a valid legal ground where the individual has no genuine and free choice and is subsequently not able to refuse or withdraw consent without detriment.	(33) In order to ensure free consent, it should be clarified that consent does not provide a valid legal ground where the individual has no genuine and free choice and is subsequently not able to refuse or withdraw consent without detriment. This is especially the case if the controller is a public authority that can impose an obligation by virtue of its relevant public powers and the consent cannot be deemed as freely given. The use of default options which the data subject is required to modify to object to the processing, such as pre-ticked boxes, does not express free consent. Consent for the processing of additional personal data that are not necessary for the provision of a service should not be required for using the service. When consent is withdrawn, this may allow the termination or non- execution of a service which is	(33) deleted dependent on the data. Where the conclusion of the intended purpose is unclear, the controller should in regular intervals provide the data subject with information about the processing and request a re- affirmation of their his or her consent.

	Amendment 13
(34) Consent should not provide a valid legal ground for the processing of personal data, where there is a clear imbalance between the data subject and the controller. This is especially the case where the data subject is in a situation of dependence from the controller, among others, where personal data are processed by the employer of employees' personal data in the employment context. Where the controller is a public authority, there would be an imbalance only in the specific data processing operations where the public authority can impose an obligation by virtue of its relevant public powers and the consent cannot be deemed as freely given, taking into account the interest of the data subject.	deleted	(34) In order to safeguard that Consent consent has been freely- given, consent should not provide a valid legal ground for the processing of personal data in a specific case, where there is a clear imbalance between the data subject and the controller and This this is especially the case where the data subject is in a situation of dependence from the controller, among others, where personal data are processed by the employer of employees' personal data in the employment context. Where the controller is a public authority, there would be an imbalance only in the specific data processing operations where the public authority can impose an obligation by virtue of its relevant public powers and makes it unlikely that the consent cannot be deemed was given as freely-given, taking into account the interest of the data subject in all the circumstances of that specific situation. Consent is presumed not to be freely given, if it does not allow separate consent to be given to different data processing operations despite it is appropriate in the individual case, or if the performance of a contract is made dependent on the consent despite this is not necessary for such performance and the data subject cannot reasonably obtain equivalent services from another source without consent.

(35) Processing should be lawful where it is necessary in the context of a contract or the intended entering into a contract.	(35) Processing should be lawful where it is necessary in the context of a contract or the intended entering into a contract.	(35) Processing should be lawful where it is necessary in the context of a contract or the intended entering into a contract.

(35a) This Regulation provides for general rules on data protection and that in specific cases Member States are also empowered to lay down national rules on data protection. The Regulation does therefore not exclude Member State law that defines the circumstances of specific processing situations, including determining more precisely the conditions under which processing of personal data is lawful. National law may also provide for special processing conditions for specific sectors and for the processing of special categories of data.
-

	Amendment 14
(36) Where processing is carried out in compliance with a legal obligation to which the controller is subject or where processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of an official authority, the processing should have a legal basis in Union law, or in a Member State law which meets the requirements of the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union for any limitation of the rights and freedoms. It is also for Union or national law to determine whether the controller performing a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority should be a public administration or another natural or legal person governed by public law, or by private law such as a professional association.	(36) Where processing is carried out in compliance with a legal obligation to which the controller is subject or where processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of an official authority, the processing should have a legal basis in Union law, or in a Member State law which meets the requirements of the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union for any limitation of the rights and freedoms. This should include also collective agreements that could be recognised under national law as having general validity. It is also for Union or national law to determine whether the controller performing a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority should be a public administration or another natural or legal person governed by public law, or by private law such as a professional association.	(36) Where processing is carried out in compliance with a legal obligation to which the controller is subject or where processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of an official authority, the processing should have a legal basis in Union law, or in the national law of a Member State law which meets the requirements of the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union for any limitation of the rights and freedoms. It is should be also for Union or national law to determine the purpose of processing. whether the controller performing a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority should be a public administration or another natural or legal person governed by public law, or by private law such as a professional association. Furthermore, this basis could specify the general conditions of the Regulation governing the lawfulness of data processing, determine specifications for determining the controller, the type of data which are subject to the processing, the data subjects concerned, the entities to which the data may be disclosed, the purpose limitations, the storage period and other measures to ensure lawful and fair processing.

It should also be for Union or national law to determine whether the controller performing a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority should be a public authority or another natural or legal person governed by public law, or by private law such as a professional association, where grounds of public interest so justify including for health purposes, such as public health and social protection and the management of health care services.

(37) The processing of personal data should equally be regarded as lawful where it is necessary to protect an interest which is essential for the data subject's life.	(37) The processing of personal data should equally be regarded as lawful where it is necessary to protect an interest which is essential for the data subject's life.	(37) The processing of personal data should equally be regarded as lawful where it is necessary to protect an interest which is essential for the data subject's life or that of another person. Some types of data processing may serve both important grounds of public interest and the vital interests of the data subject as, for instance when processing is necessary for humanitarian purposes, including for monitoring epidemic and its spread or in situations of humanitarian emergencies, in particular in situations of natural disasters.
--	---	---	--

To ensure transparency, the	take placeiIn particular where controller should be obliged to	such assessment must take into explicitly inform the data subject	account whether the data subject on the legitimate interests	is a child, given that children pursued and on the right to object,	deserve specific protection. The and also be obliged to document	data subject should have the right these legitimate interests. The	to object to the processing, on interests and fundamental rights	grounds relating to their
of the data subject could in	particular situation and free of particular override the interest of	charge. To ensure transparency, the data controller where	the controller should be obliged personal data are processed in	to explicitly inform the data circumstances where data	subject on the legitimate interests subjects do not reasonably	pursued and on the right to expect further processing. Given	object, and also be obliged to that it is for the legislator to	document these legitimate provide by law the legal basis for	interests. Given that it is for public authorities to process data,	Union or national law the this legal ground should not apply	legislator to provide by law the legal basis for public authorities for the processing by public	e i authorities in the performance of their tasks.	to process data, this legal ground men tasks.	should not apply for the processing by public authorities in the exercise performance of their tasks duties .

administrative purposes, including the processing of clients' or employees' personal data. The general principles for the transfer of personal data, within a group of undertakings, to an undertaking located in a third country remain unaffected.

	Amendment 16
(39) The processing of data to the extent strictly necessary for the purposes of ensuring network and information security, i.e. the ability of a network or an information system to resist, at a given level of confidence, accidental events or unlawful or malicious actions that compromise the availability, authenticity, integrity and confidentiality of stored or transmitted data, and the security of the related services offered by, or accessible via, these networks and systems, by public authorities, Computer Emergency Response Teams – CERTs, Computer Security Incident Response Teams – CSIRTs, providers of electronic communications networks and services and by providers of security technologies and services, constitutes a legitimate interest of the concerned data controller. This could, for example, include preventing unauthorised access to electronic communications networks and malicious code distribution and stopping 'denial of service' attacks and damage to computer and electronic communication systems.	(39) The processing of data to the extent strictly necessary and proportionate for the purposes of ensuring network and information security, i.e. the ability of a network or an information system to resist, at a given level of confidence, accidental events or unlawful or malicious actions that compromise the availability, authenticity, integrity and confidentiality of stored or transmitted data, and the security of the related services offered by; or accessible via, these networks and systems, by public authorities, Computer Emergency Response Teams – CERTs, Computer Security Incident Response Teams – CSIRTs, providers of electronic communications networks and services and by providers of security technologies and services constitutes a legitimate interest of the concerned data controller. This could, for example, include	(39) The processing of data to the extent strictly necessary for the purposes of ensuring network and information security, i.e. the ability of a network or an information system to resist, at a given level of confidence, accidental events or unlawful or malicious actions that compromise the availability, authenticity, integrity and confidentiality of stored or transmitted data, and the security of the related services offered by, or accessible via, these networks and systems, by public authorities, Computer Emergency Response Teams – CERTs, Computer Security Incident Response Teams – CSIRTs, providers of electronic communications networks and services and by providers of security technologies and services, constitutes a legitimate interest of the concerned data controller concerned. This could, preventing unauthorised access to	for example, include preventing net dist of s com com prin pro rest of p infa bla	ctronic communications works and malicious code tribution and stopping 'denial service' attacks and damage to nputer and electronic mmunication systems. This nciple also applies to ocessing of personal data to trict abusive access to and use publicly available network or formation systems, such as the acklisting of electronic ntifiers.	unauthorised access to electronic communications networks and malicious code distribution and stopping 'denial of service' attacks and damage to computer and electronic communication systems. The processing of personal data strictly necessary for the purposes of preventing fraud also constitutes a legitimate interest of the data controller concerned. The processing of personal data for direct marketing purposes may be regarded as carried out for a legitimate interest.

---	---	---	--

Amendment 17
(39a) Provided that the interests or the fundamental rights and freedoms of the data subject are not overriding, the prevention or limitation of damages on the side of the data controller should be presumed as carried out for the legitimate interest of the data controller or, in case of disclosure, of the third party to whom the data is-are disclosed, and as meeting the reasonable expectations of the data subject based on his or her relationship with the controller. The same principle also applies to the enforcement of legal claims against a data subject, such as debt collection or civil damages and remedies.

Amendment 18
(39b) Provided that the in	itavasts or the fundamental rights
•
freedoms of the data subj not overriding, the proces personal data for the pur direct marketing for own similar products and serv for the purpose of postal marketing should be pres as carried out for the legi	timate interest of the controller,	or in case of disclosure, of the	third party to whom the data an	re disclosed, and as meeting	the reasonable expectations of	of the data subject based on his	or her relationship with the com highly visible information right to object and on the of the personal data is give processing of business co details should be general regarded as carried out fo legitimate interest of the controller, or in case of disclosure, of the third pa	urty to uisciosure, oj the third pa whom the data are disclosed, and as meeting the reasonable expectations of the data subject based on his or her relationship with the controller. The same should apply to the processing of personal data made manifestly public by the data subject.

--	---	--	--

	Amendment 19
(40) The processing of personal data for other purposes should be only allowed where the processing is compatible with those purposes for which the data have been initially collected, in particular where the processing is necessary for historical, statistical or scientific research purposes. Where the other purpose is not compatible with the initial one for which the data are collected, the controller should obtain the consent of the data subject for this other purpose or should base the processing on another legitimate ground for lawful processing, in particular where provided by Union law or the law of the Member State to which the controller is subject. In any case, the application of the principles set out by this Regulation and in particular the information of the data subject on those other purposes should be ensured.	deleted	(40) The processing of personal data for other purposes than the purposes for which the data have been initially collected should be only allowed where the processing is compatible with those purposes for which the data have been initially collected, in In such case no separate legal basis is required other than the one which allowed the collection of the data. If particular where the processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority vested in the controller, Union law or Member State law may determine and specify the tasks and purposes for which the further processing shall be regarded as lawful. The further processing for archiving purposes in the public interest, or historical, statistical, or scientific research or historical purposes or in view of future dispute resolution should be considered as compatible lawful processing operations. The legal basis provided by Union or Member State law for the collection and processing of personal data may also provide a legal basis for further processing for other purposes if these purposes are in line with the assigned task and the controller is entitled legally to collect the data for these other purposes.

In order to ascertain whether a purpose of further processing is compatible with the purpose for which the data are initially collected, the controller, after having met all the requirements for the lawfulness of the original processing, should take into account inter alia any link between those purposes and the purposes of the intended further processing, the context in which the data have been collected, including the reasonable expectations of the data subject as to their further use, the consent of the data subject for this other purpose or should base the processing on another legitimate ground for lawful processing, in particular where provided by Union law or the law of the Member State to which the	nature of the personal data, the consequences of the intended further processing for data subjects, and the existence of appropriate safeguards in both the original and intended processing operations. Where the intended other purpose is not compatible with the initial one for which the data are collected, the controller should obtain the

intended other purpose is not compatible with the initial one for which the data are collected, the controller should obtain the consent of the data subject for this other purpose or should base the processing on another legitimate ground for lawful processing, in particular where provided by Union law or the law of the Member State to which the	0 compatible with the initial one for which the data are collected, the controller should obtain the consent of the data subject for this other purpose or should base the processing on another legitimate ground for lawful processing, in particular where provided by Union law or the law of the Member State to which the which the data are collected, the controller should obtain the consent of the data subject for this other purpose or should base the processing on another legitimate ground for lawful processing, in particular where provided by Union law or the law of the Member State to which the controller should obtain the consent of the data subject for this other purpose or should base the processing on another legitimate ground for lawful processing, in particular where provided by Union law or the law of the Member State to which the	- consent of the data subject for this other purpose or should base the processing on another legitimate ground for lawful processing, in particular where provided by Union law or the law of the Member State to which the
this other purpose or should base the processing on another legitimate ground for lawful processing, in particular where provided by Union law or the law of the Member State to which the the processing on another legitimate ground for lawful processing, in particular where provided by Union law or the law of the Member State to which the	5 legitimate ground for lawful processing, in particular where provided by Union law or the law of the Member State to which the	this other purpose or should base processing, in particular where provided by Union law or the law of the Member State to which the	the processing on another provided by Union law or the law of the Member State to which the	legitimate ground for lawful provided by Union law or the law of the Member State to which the	processing, in particular where of the Member State to which the 1 2
controller is subject.

	Amendment 20
(41) Personal data which are, by their nature, particularly sensitive and vulnerable in relation to fundamental rights or privacy, deserve specific protection. Such data should not be processed, unless the data subject gives his explicit consent. However, derogations from this prohibition should be explicitly provided for in respect of specific needs, in particular where the processing is carried out in the course of legitimate activities by certain associations or foundations the purpose of which is to permit the exercise of fundamental freedoms.	deleted	(41) Personal data which are, by their nature, particularly sensitive and-vulnerable-in relation to fundamental rights and freedomsor privacy, deserve specific protection as the context of their processing may create important risks for the fundamental rights and freedoms. These data should also include personal data revealing racial or ethnic origin, whereby the use of the term 'racial origin' in this Regulation does not imply an acceptance by the European Union of theories which attempt to determine the existence of separate human races. Such data should not be processed, unless processing is allowed in specific cases set out in this Regulation, taking into account that Member States law may lay down specific provisions on data protection in order to adapt the application of the rules of this Regulation for compliance with a legal obligation or for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority vested in the controller. In addition to the specific requirements for such processing, the general principles and other rules of this Regulation should apply, in particular as regards the conditions for lawful processing.

Derogations from the general prohibition for processing such special categories of personal data should be explicitly provided inter alia where the data subject gives his or her explicit consent . However, derogations from this prohibition should be explicitly provided for or in respect of specific needs, in particular where the processing is carried out in the course of legitimate activities by certain associations or foundations the purpose of which is to permit the exercise of fundamental freedoms.
freedoms.

Special categories of personal data may also be processed where the data have manifestly been made public or voluntarily and at the request of the data subject transferred to the controller for a specific purpose specified by the data subject, where the processing is done in the interest of the data subject.
Member State and Union Law may provide that the general prohibition for processing such special categories of personal data in certain cases may not be lifted by the data subject's explicit consent.

	Amendment 21
(42) Derogating from the prohibition on processing sensitive categories of data should also be allowed if done by a law, and subject to suitable safeguards, so as to protect personal data and other fundamental rights, where grounds of public interest so justify and in particular for health purposes, including public health and social protection and the management of health-care services, especially in order to ensure the quality and cost-effectiveness of the procedures used for settling claims for benefits and services in the health insurance system, or for historical, statistical and scientific research purposes.	(42) Derogating from the prohibition on processing sensitive categories of data should also be allowed if done by a law, and subject to suitable safeguards, so as to protect personal data and other fundamental rights, where grounds of public interest so justify and in particular for health purposes, including public health and social protection and the management of health-care services, especially in order to ensure the quality and cost- effectiveness of the procedures used for settling claims for benefits and services in the health insurance system, for historical, statistical and scientific research purposes, or for archive services .	(42) Derogating from the prohibition on processing sensitive categories of data should also be allowed if done by a when provided for in Union or Member State law, and subject to suitable safeguards, so as to protect personal data and other fundamental rights, where grounds of public interest so justify, in particular processing data in the field of employment law, social security and social protection law, including pensions and for health security, monitoring and alert purposes, the prevention or control of communicable diseases and other serious threats to health or ensuring high standards of quality and safety of health care and services and of medicinal products or medical devices or assessing public policies adopted in the field of health, also by producing quality and activity indicators. and in particular This may be done for health purposes, including public health and social protection and the management of health-care services, especially in order to ensure the quality and cost- effectiveness of the procedures used for settling claims for benefits and services in the health insurance system, or for archiving in the public interest or historical, statistical and scientific research purposes.

A derogation should also allow processing of such data where necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims, regardless of whether in a judicial procedure or whether in an administrative or any out- of-court procedure.

(42a) Special categories of personal data which deserve higher protection, may only be processed for health-related purposes where necessary to achieve those purposes for the benefit of individuals and society as a whole, in particular in the context of the management of health or social care services and systems including the processing by the management and central national health authorities of such data for the purpose of quality control, management information and the general national and local supervision of the health or social care system, and ensuring continuity of health or social care and cross-border healthcare or health security, monitoring and alert purposes or for archiving purposes in the public interest, for historical, statistical or scientific purposes as well as for studies conducted in the public interest in the area of public interest in the area of public health. Therefore this Regulation should provide for harmonised conditions for the processing of special categories of personal data concerning health, in respect of specific needs, in particular where the processing of these data is carried out for certain health-related purposes by persons subject to a legal obligation of professional secrecy. Union or Member State law should provide for specific and suitable measures so as to protect the fundamental rights and the personal data of individuals.

(42b) The processing of special categories of personal data may be necessary for reasons of public interest in the areas of public health without consent of the data subject. This processing is subject to suitable and specific measures so as to protect the rights and freedoms of individuals. In that context, 'public health' should be interpreted as defined in Regulation (EC) No 1338/2008 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 16 December 2008 on Community statistics on public health and health and safety at work, meaning all elements related to health, namely health status, including morbidity and disability, the determinants having an effect on that health status, health care needs, resources allocated to health care, the provision of, and universal access to, health care as well as health care expenditure and financing, and the equipes of mortality. Such the causes of mortality. Such

(43) Moreover, the processing of personal data by official authorities for achieving aims, laid down in constitutional law or international public law, of officially recognised religious associations is carried out on grounds of public interest.	(43) Moreover, the processing of personal data by official authorities for achieving aims, laid down in constitutional law or international public law, of officially recognised religious associations is carried out on grounds of public interest.	(43) Moreover, the processing of personal data by official authorities for achieving aims, laid down in constitutional law or international public law, of officially recognised religious associations is carried out on grounds of public interest.
(44) Where in the course of electoral activities, the operation of the democratic system requires in a Member State that political parties compile data on people's political opinions, the processing of such data may be permitted for reasons of public interest, provided that appropriate safeguards are established.	(44) Where in the course of electoral activities, the operation of the democratic system requires in a Member State that political parties compile data on people's political opinions, the processing of such data may be permitted for reasons of public interest, provided that appropriate safeguards are established.	(44) Where in the course of electoral activities, the operation of the democratic system requires in a Member State that political parties compile data on people's political opinions, the processing of such data may be permitted for reasons of public interest, provided that appropriate safeguards are established.

	Amendment 22
(45) If the data processed by a controller do not permit the controller to identify a natural person, the data controller should not be obliged to acquire additional information in order to identify the data subject for the sole purpose of complying with any provision of this Regulation. In case of a request for access, the controller should be entitled to ask the data subject for further information to enable the data controller to locate the personal data which that person seeks.	(45) If the data processed by a controller do not permit the controller to identify a natural person, the data controller should not be obliged to acquire additional information in order to identify the data subject for the sole purpose of complying with any provision of this Regulation. In case of a request for access, the controller should be entitled to ask the data subject for further information to enable the data controller to locate the personal data which that person seeks. If it is possible for the data, controllers should not be able to invoke a lack of information to refuse an access request.	(45) If the data processed by a controller do not permit the controller to identify a natural person, the data controller should not be obliged to acquire additional information in order to identify the data subject for the sole purpose of complying with any provision of this Regulation. In case of a request for access, the controller should be entitled to ask the data subject for further information to enable the data controller to locate the personal data which that person seeks However, the controller should not refuse to take additional information provided by the data subject in order to support the exercise of his or her rights.

Article 4	Article 4	Article 4
Definitions	Definitions	Definitions
	Amendment 98
	(2a) 'pseudonymous data' means personal data that cannot be attributed to a specific data subject without the use of additional information, as long as such additional information is kept separately and subject to technical and organisational measures to ensure non- attribution;
		(3b) 'pseudonymisation' means the processing of personal data in such a way that the data can no longer be attributed to a specific data subject without the use of additional information, as long as such additional information is kept separately and subject to technical and organisational measures to ensure non-attribution to an identified or identifiable person.

(8) 'the data subject's consent'	(8) 'the data subject's consent'	(8) 'the data subject's consent' means any freely given specific,	means any freely given specific,	means any freely given, specific, informed and explicit indication	informed and explicit indication	and informed and explicit of his or her wishes by which the	of his or her wishes by which the	indication of his or her wishes by data subject, either by a statement	data subject, either by a statement	which the data subject, either by a or by a clear affirmative action,	or by a clear affirmative action,	statement or by a clear signifies agreement to personal	signifies agreement to personal	affirmative action, signifies data relating to them being	data relating to them being	agreement to personal data processed;	processed;	relating to them being processed;
(10) 'genetic data' means all data, of whatever type, concerning the characteristics of an individual which are inherited or acquired during early prenatal development;	(10) 'genetic data' means all personal data, of whatever type, concerning relating to the genetic characteristics of an individual which are have been inherited or acquired during early prenatal development as they result from an analysis of a biological sample from the individual in question, in particular by chromosomal, desoxyribonucleic acid (DNA) or ribonucleic acid (RNA) analysis or analysis of any other element enabling equivalent information to be obtained;	(10) 'genetic data' means all personal data, of whatever type, concerning relating to the genetic characteristics of an individual which are inherited or acquired during early prenatal development that have been inherited or acquired, which give unique information about the physiology or the health of that individual, resulting in particular from an analysis of a biological sample from the individual in question;

(11) 'biometric data' means any data relating to the physical, physiological or behavioural characteristics of an individual which allow their unique identification, such as facial images, or dactyloscopic data;	(11) 'biometric data' means any personal data relating to the physical, physiological or behavioural characteristics of an individual which allow his or her unique identification, such as facial images, or dactyloscopic data;	(11) 'biometric data' means any personal data resulting from specific technical processing relating to the physical, physiological or behavioural characteristics of an individual which allows or confirms the their unique identification of that individual , such as facial images, or dactyloscopic data;
(12) 'data concerning health' means any information which relates to the physical or mental health of an individual, or to the provision of health services to the individual;	(12) 'data concerning health' means any information personal data which relate to the physical or mental health of an individual, or to the provision of health services to the individual;	(12) 'data concerning health' means data related any information which relates to the physical or mental health of an individual, which reaveal information about his or her health statusor to the provision of health services to the individual;
		(20) 'Information Society service' means any service as defined by Article 1 (2) of Directive 98/34/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 22 June 1998 laying down a procedure for the provision of information in the field of technical standards and regulations and of rules on Information Society services.

CHAPTER II PRINCIPLES	CHAPTER II PRINCIPLES	CHAPTER II PRINCIPLES
Article 5	Article 5	Article 5
Principles relating to personal data processing	Principles relating to personal data processing	Principles relating to personal data processing
	Amendment 99
Personal data must be:	1. Personal data mustshall be:	Personal data must be:
(a) processed lawfully, fairly and in a transparent manner in relation to the data subject;	(a) processed lawfully, fairly and in a transparent manner in relation to the data subject (lawfulness, fairness and transparency) ;	(a) processed lawfully, fairly and in a transparent manner in relation to the data subject;
(b) collected for specified, explicit and legitimate purposes and not further processed in a way incompatible with those purposes;	(b) collected for specified, explicit and legitimate purposes and not further processed in a way incompatible with those purposes (purpose limitation) ;	(b) collected for specified, explicit and legitimate purposes and not further processed in a way incompatible with those purposes; further processing of personal data for archiving purposes in the public interest or scientific , statistical or historical purposes shall in accordance with Article 83 not be considered incompatible with the initial purposes;

(c) adequate, relevant, and limited to the minimum necessary in relation to the purposes for which they are processed; they shall only be processed if, and as long as, the purposes could not be fulfilled by processing information that does not involve personal data;	(c) adequate, relevant, and limited to the minimum necessary in relation to the purposes for which they are processed; they shall only be processed if, and as long as, the purposes could not be fulfilled by processing information that does not involve personal data (data minimisation) ;	(c) adequate, relevant, and not excessive limited to the minimum necessary in relation to the purposes for which they are processed; they shall only be processed if, and as long as, the purposes could not be fulfilled by processing information that does not involve personal data;
(d) accurate and kept up to date; every reasonable step must be taken to ensure that personal data that are inaccurate, having regard to the purposes for which they are processed, are erased or rectified without delay;	(d) accurate and, where necessary , kept up to date; every reasonable step must be taken to ensure that personal data that are inaccurate, having regard to the purposes for which they are processed, are erased or rectified without delay (accuracy) .	(d) accurate and, where necessary , kept up to date; every reasonable step must be taken to ensure that personal data that are inaccurate, having regard to the purposes for which they are processed, are erased or rectified without delay;

(e) kept in a form which permits identification of data subjects for no longer than is necessary for the purposes for which the personal data are processed; personal data may be stored for longer periods insofar as the data will be processed solely for historical, statistical or scientific research purposes in accordance with the rules and conditions of Article 83 and if a periodic review is carried out to assess the necessity to continue the storage;	(e) kept in a form which permits direct or indirect identification of data subjects for no longer than is necessary for the purposes for which the personal data are processed; personal data may be stored for longer periods insofar as the data will be processed solely for historical, statistical or scientific research or for archive purposes in accordance with the rules and conditions of Article-Articles 83 and 83a and if a periodic review is carried out to assess the necessity to continue the storage, and if appropriate technical and organizational measures are put in place to limit access to the data only for these purposes (storage minimisation) ;	(e) kept in a form which permits identification of data subjects for no longer than is necessary for the purposes for which the personal data are processed; personal data may be stored for longer periods insofar as the data will be processed solely for archiving purposes in the public interest, or scientific, historical, statistical, or scientific research or historical purposes in accordance with the rules and conditions of Article 83 and if a periodic review is carried out to assess the necessity to continue the storagesubject to implementation of the appropriate technical and organisational measures required by the Regulation in order to safeguard the rights and freedoms of data subject;
	(ea) processed in a way that effectively allows the data subject to exercise his or her rights (effectiveness);

	(eb) processed in a way that protects against unauthorised or unlawful processing and against accidental loss, destruction or damage, using appropriate technical or organisational measures (integrity);
		(ee) processed in a manner that ensures appropriate security of the personal data.
(f) processed under the responsibility and liability of the controller, who shall ensure and demonstrate for each processing operation the compliance with the provisions of this Regulation.	(f) processed under the responsibility and liability of the controller, who shall ensure and be able to demonstrate for each processing operation the compliance with the provisions of this Regulation (accountability).	deleted
		2. The controller shall be responsible for compliance with paragraph 1.

Article 6	Article 6	Article 6
Lawfulness of processing	Lawfulness of processing	Lawfulness of processing
	Amendment 100
1. Processing of personal data shall	1. Processing of personal data shall	1. Processing of personal data shall be lawful only if and to the extent	be lawful only if and to the extent	be lawful only if and to the extent that at least one of the following	that at least one of the following	that at least one of the following applies:	applies:	applies:
(a) the data subject has given	(a) the data subject has given	(a) the data subject has given consent to the processing of their	consent to the processing of their	unambiguous consent to the personal data for one or more	personal data for one or more	processing of their personal data for specific purposes;	specific purposes;	one or more specific purposes;
(b) processing is necessary for the	(b) processing is necessary for the	(b) processing is necessary for the performance of a contract to which	performance of a contract to which	performance of a contract to which the data subject is party or in order	the data subject is party or in order	the data subject is party or in order to take steps at the request of the	to take steps at the request of the	to take steps at the request of the data subject prior to entering into a	data subject prior to entering into a	data subject prior to entering into a contract;	contract;	contract;
(c) processing is necessary for	(c) processing is necessary for	(c) processing is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation	compliance with a legal obligation	compliance with a legal obligation to which the controller is subject;	to which the controller is subject;	to which the controller is subject;
(d) processing is necessary in order	(d) processing is necessary in order	(d) processing is necessary in order to protect the vital interests of the	to protect the vital interests of the	to protect the vital interests of the data subject;	data subject;	data subject or of another person ;

(e) processing is necessary for the	(e) processing is necessary for the	(e) processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in	performance of a task carried out in	performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise	the public interest or in the exercise	the public interest or in the exercise of official authority vested in the	of official authority vested in the	of official authority vested in the controller;	controller;	controller;
(f) processing is necessary for the purposes of the legitimate interests pursued by a controller, except where such interests are overridden by the interests or fundamental rights and freedoms of the data subject which require protection of personal data, in particular where the data subject is a child. This shall not apply to processing carried out by public authorities in the performance of their tasks.	(f) processing is necessary for the purposes of the legitimate interests pursued by the controller or , in case of disclosure, by the third party to whom the data is-are disclosed, and which meet the reasonable expectations of the data subject based on his or her relationship with the controller , except where such interests are overridden by the interests or fundamental rights and freedoms of the data subject which require protection of personal data, in particular where the data subject is a child . This shall not apply to processing carried out by public authorities in the performance of their tasks.	(f) processing is necessary for the purposes of the legitimate interests pursued by a -the controller or by a third party, except where such interests are overridden by the interests or fundamental rights and freedoms of the data subject which require protection of personal data, in particular where the data subject is a child. This shall not apply to processing carried out by public authorities in the performance exercise of their tasks.

2. Processing of personal data which is necessary for the purposes of historical, statistical or scientific research shall be lawful subject to the conditions and safeguards referred to in Article 83.	2. Processing of personal data which is necessary for the purposes of historical, statistical or scientific research shall be lawful subject to the conditions and safeguards referred to in Article 83.	2. Processing of personal data which is necessary for archiving thepurposes in the public interest, or offor historical, statistical or scientific research purposes shall be lawful subject also to the conditions and safeguards referred to in Article 83.
3. The basis of the processing referred to in points (c) and (e) of paragraph 1 must be provided for in:	3. The basis of the processing referred to in points (e) and (e) of paragraph 1 must be provided for in:	3. The basis of for the processing referred to in points (c) and (e) of paragraph 1 must be provided for established in accordance with :
(a) Union law, or	(a) Union law, or	(a) Union law, or
(b) the law of the Member State to which the controller is subject.	(b) the law of the Member-State to which the controller is subject.	(b) national the law of the Member State to which the controller is subject.

The purpose of the processing shall be determined in this legal basis or as regards the processing referred to in point (e) of paragraph 1, be necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority vested in the controller. This legal basis may contain specific provisions to adapt the application of rules of this Regulation, inter alia the general conditions governing the lawfulness of data processing by the controller, the type of data which are subject to the processing, the data subjects concerned; the entities to, and the purposes for which the data may be disclosed; the purpose limitation; storage periods and processing operations and processing procedures, including measures to ensure lawful and fair processing, including for other specific processing situations as provided for in Chapter IX.

3a. In order to ascertain whether a purpose of further processing is compatible with the one for which the data are initially collected, the controller shall take into account, unless the data subject has given consent, inter alia:
(a) any link between the purposes for which the data have been collected and the purposes of the intended further processing;
(b the context in which the data have been collected;
(c) the nature of the personal data, in particular whether special categories of personal data are processed, pursuant to Article 9;
(d) the possible consequences of the intended further processing for data subjects;
(e) the existence of appropriate safeguards.

The law of the Member State must meet an objective of public interest or must be necessary to protect the rights and freedoms of others, respect the essence of the right to the protection of personal data and be proportionate to the legitimate aim pursued.	The law of the Member State must meet an objective of public interest or must be necessary to protect the rights and freedoms of others, respect the essence of the right to the protection of personal data and be proportionate to the legitimate aim pursued. Within the limits of this Regulation, the law of the Member State may provide details of the lawfulness of processing, particularly as regards data controllers, the purpose of processing and purpose limitation, the nature of the data and the data subjects, processing measures and procedures, recipients, and the duration of storage.	deleted
---	---	---------	--

4. Where the purpose of further processing is not compatible with the one for which the personal data have been collected, the processing must have a legal basis at least in one of the grounds referred to in points (a) to (e) of paragraph 1. This shall in particular apply to any change of terms and general conditions of a contract.	deleted	4. Where the purpose of further processing is not-incompatible with the one for which the personal data have been collected by the same controller, the further processing must have a legal basis at least in one of the grounds referred to in points (a) to (e) of paragraph 1. This shall in particular apply to any change of terms and general conditions of a contract. Further processing by the same controller for incompatible purposes on grounds of legitimate interests of that controller or a third party shall be lawful if these interests override the interests of the data subject.
5. The Commission shall be empowered to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 86 for the purpose of further specifying the conditions referred to in point (f) of paragraph 1 for various sectors and data processing situations, including as regards the processing of personal data related to a child.	deleted	deleted

Article 7	Article 7	Article 7
Conditions for consent	Conditions for consent	Conditions for consent
	Amendment 101
1. The controller shall bear the burden of proof for the data subject's consent to the processing of their personal data for specified purposes.	1. Where processing is based on consent, Tthe controller shall bear the burden of proof for the data subject's consent to the processing of their his or her personal data for specified purposes.	1. Where Article 6(1)(a) applies the controller shall bear the burden of proof for the data subject's be able to demonstrate that unambiguous consent to the processing of their personal data for specified purposes was given by the data subject.
		1a. Where Article 9(2)(a) applies, the controller shall be able to demonstrate that explicit consent was given by the data subject.
2. If the data subject's consent is to be given in the context of a written declaration which also concerns another matter, the requirement to give consent must be presented distinguishable in its appearance from this other matter.	2. If the data subject's consent is given in the context of a written declaration which also concerns another matter, the requirement to give consent must be presented clearly distinguishable in its appearance from this other matter. Provisions on the data subject's consent which are partly in violation of this Regulation are fully void.	2. If the data subject's consent is to be given in the context of a written declaration which also concerns another matters, the requirement to giverequest for consent must be presented in a manner which is clearly distinguishable in its appearance from thise other matters, in an intelligible and easily accessible form, using clear and plain language.

3. The data subject shall have the right to withdraw his or her consent at any time. The withdrawal of consent shall not affect the lawfulness of processing based on consent before its withdrawal.	3. Notwithstanding other legal grounds for processing, \pm the data subject shall have the right to withdraw his or her consent at any time. The withdrawal of consent shall not affect the lawfulness of processing based on consent before its withdrawal. It shall be as easy to withdraw consent as to give it. The data subject shall be informed by the controller if withdrawal of consent may result in the termination of the services provided or of the relationship with the controller.	3. The data subject shall have the right to withdraw his or her consent at any time. The withdrawal of consent shall not affect the lawfulness of processing based on consent before its withdrawal. Prior to giving consent, the data subject shall be informed thereof.
---	--	--	--

 4. Consent shall not provide a legal basis for the processing, where there is a significant imbalance between the position of the data subject and the controller. 4. Consent shall not provide a legal basis for the processing, where there is a significant imbalance between the position of the data subject and the controller. 4. Consent shall not provide a legal basis for the processing, where there is a significant imbalance between the position of the data subject and the controller. 4. Consent shall not provide a legal basis for the processing, where there is a significant imbalance between the position of the data subject and the controller be purpose-limited and shall lose its validity when the purpose ceases to exist or as soon as the processing of personal data is no longer necessary for carrying out the purpose for which they were originally collected. The execution of a contract or the provision of a service shall not be made conditional on the consent to the processing of data that is not necessary for the execution of the service pursuant to Article 6(1), point (b). 	deleted
--	---------

Article 8	Article 8	Article 8
Processing of personal data of a child	Processing of personal data of a child	Conditions applicable to child's consent in relation to information society services
	Amendment 102
1. For the purposes of this Regulation, in relation to the offering of information society services directly to a child, the processing of personal data of a child below the age of 13 years shall only be lawful if and to the extent that consent is given or authorised by the child's parent or custodian. The controller shall make reasonable efforts to obtain verifiable consent, taking into consideration available technology.	1. For the purposes of this Regulation, in relation to the offering of information society goods or services directly to a child, the processing of personal data of a child below the age of 13 years shall only be lawful if and to the extent that consent is given or authorised by the child's parent or custodianlegal guardian. The controller shall make reasonable efforts to obtain verifiable verify such consent, taking into consideration available technology without causing otherwise unnecessary processing of personal data.	1. For the purposes of this RegulationWhere Article 6 (1)(a) applies, in relation to the offering of information society services directly to a child, the processing of personal data of a child below the age of 13 years shall only be lawful if and to the extent that such consent is given or authorised by the holder of parental responsibility over the child's parent or eustodianis given by the child in circumstances where it is treated as valid by Union or Member State law.

	1a. Information provided to children, parents and legal guardians in order to express consent, including about the controller's collection and use of personal data, should be given in a clear language appropriate to the intended audience.
		(1a) The controller shall make reasonable efforts to verify in such cases that consent is given or authorised by the holder of parental responsibility over the child, taking into consideration available technology.
2. Paragraph 1 shall not affect the general contract law of Member States such as the rules on the validity, formation or effect of a contract in relation to a child.	2. Paragraph 1 shall not affect the general contract law of Member States such as the rules on the validity, formation or effect of a contract in relation to a child.	2. Paragraph 1 shall not affect the general contract law of Member States such as the rules on the validity, formation or effect of a contract in relation to a child.

3. The Commission shall be empowered to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 86 for the purpose of further specifying the criteria and requirements for the methods to obtain verifiable consent referred to in paragraph 1. In doing so, the Commission shall consider specific measures for micro, small and medium-sized enterprises.	3. The Commission European Data Protection Board shall be empowered to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 86 for the purpose entrusted with the task of further specifying the criteria and requirements issuing guidelines, recommendations and best practices for the methods to obtain verifiable of verifying consent referred to in paragraph 1, in accordance with Article 66. In doing so, the Commission shall consider specific measures for micro, small and medium-sized enterprises.	deleted
4. The Commission may lay down standard forms for specific methods to obtain verifiable consent referred to in paragraph 1. Those implementing acts shall be adopted in accordance with the examination procedure referred to in Article 87(2).	deleted	deleted

Article 9	Article 9	Article 9
	Amendment 103
Processing of special categories of personal data	Processing of special Special categories of personal data	Processing of special categories of personal data
1. The processing of personal data, revealing race or ethnic origin, political opinions, religion or beliefs, trade-union membership, and the processing of genetic data or data concerning health or sex life or criminal convictions or related security measures shall be prohibited.	1. The processing of personal data, revealing race or ethnic origin, political opinions, religion or philosophical beliefs, sexual orientation or gender identity , trade-union membership and activities , and the processing of genetic or biometric data or data concerning health or sex life or , administrative sanctions , judgments , criminal or suspected offences , convictions or related security measures shall be prohibited.	1. The processing of personal data, revealing race-racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religionus or philosophical beliefs, trade- union membership, and the processing of genetic data or data concerning health or sex life or eriminal convictions or related security measures-shall be prohibited.
2. Paragraph 1 shall not apply where:	2. Paragraph 1 shall not applywhere if one of the following applies:	2. Paragraph 1 shall not apply if one of the following applies:

(a) the data subject has given consent to the processing of those personal data, subject to the conditions laid down in Articles 7 and 8, except where Union law or Member State law provide that the prohibition referred to in paragraph 1 may not be lifted by the data subject; or	(a) the data subject has given consent to the processing of those personal data for one or more specified purposes , subject to the conditions laid down in Articles 7 and 8, except where Union law or Member State law provide that the prohibition referred to in paragraph 1 may not be lifted by the data subject; or	(a) the data subject has given explicit consent to the processing of those personal data, subject to the conditions laid down in Articles 7 and 8, except where Union law or Member State law provide that the prohibition referred to in paragraph 1 may not be lifted by the data subject; or
	(aa) processing is necessary for the performance or execution of a contract to which the data subject is party or in order to take steps at the request of the data subject prior to entering into a contract;
(b) processing is necessary for the purposes of carrying out the obligations and exercising specific rights of the controller in the field of employment law in so far as it is authorised by Union law or Member State law providing for adequate safeguards; or	(b) processing is necessary for the purposes of carrying out the obligations and exercising specific rights of the controller in the field of employment law in so far as it is authorised by Union law or Member State law or collective agreements providing for adequate safeguards for the fundamental rights and the interests of the data subject such as right to non- discrimination, subject to the conditions and safeguards referred to in Article 82 ; or	(b) processing is necessary for the purposes of carrying out the obligations and exercising specific rights of the controller or of the data subject in the field of employment and social security and social protection law in so far as it is authorised by Union law or Member State law or a collective agreement pursuant to Member State law providing for adequate safeguards; or

(c) processing is necessary to	(c) processing is necessary to	(c) processing is necessary to protect the vital interests of the data	protect the vital interests of the data	protect the vital interests of the data subject or of another person where	subject or of another person where	subject or of another person where the data subject is physically or	the data subject is physically or	the data subject is physically or legally incapable of giving consent;	legally incapable of giving consent;	legally incapable of giving consent;
or	or	or
(d) processing is carried out in the	(d) processing is carried out in the	(d) processing is carried out in the course of its legitimate activities	course of its legitimate activities	course of its legitimate activities with appropriate safeguards by a	with appropriate safeguards by a	with appropriate safeguards by a foundation, association or any other	foundation, association or any other	foundation, association or any other non-profit-seeking body with a	non-profit-seeking body with a	non-profit-seeking body with a political, philosophical, religious or	political, philosophical, religious or	political, philosophical, religious or trade-union aim and on condition	trade-union aim and on condition	trade-union aim and on condition that the processing relates solely to	that the processing relates solely to	that the processing relates solely to the members or to former members	the members or to former members	the members or to former members of the body or to persons who have	of the body or to persons who have	of the body or to persons who have regular contact with it in connection	regular contact with it in connection	regular contact with it in connection with its purposes and that the data	with its purposes and that the data	with its purposes and that the data are not disclosed outside that body	are not disclosed outside that body	are not disclosed outside that body without the consent of the data	without the consent of the data	without the consent of the data subjects; or	subjects; or	subjects; or
(e) the processing relates to	(e) the processing relates to	(e) the processing relates to personal data which are manifestly	personal data which are manifestly	personal data which are manifestly made public by the data subject; or	made public by the data subject; or	made public by the data subject; or

(f) processing is necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims; or	(f) processing is necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims; or	(f) processing is necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims or whenever courts are acting in their judicial capacity ; or
(g) processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest, on the basis of Union law, or Member State law which shall provide for suitable measures to safeguard the data subject's legitimate interests; or	(g) processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the for reasons of high public interest, on the basis of Union law, or Member State law which shall be proportionate to the aim pursued, respect the essence of the right to data protection and provide for suitable measures to safeguard the fundamental rights and the data subject's legitimate interests of the data subject; or	(g) processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the reasons of public interest, on the basis of Union law, or Member State law which shall provide for suitable and specific measures to safeguard the data subject's legitimate interests; or

(h) processing of data concerning health is necessary for health purposes and subject to the conditions and safeguards referred to in Article 81; or	(h) processing of data concerning health is necessary for health purposes and subject to the conditions and safeguards referred to in Article 81; or	(h) processing of data concerning health-is necessary for health purposes the purposes of preventive or occupational medicine, for the assessment of the working capacity of the employee, medical diagnosis, the provision of health or social care or treatment or the management of health or social care systems and services on the basis of Union law or Member State law or pursuant to contract with a health professional and subject to the conditions and safeguards referred to in Article 81paragraph 4; or
		(ha) (hb) processing is necessary for reasons of public interest in the area of public health, such as protecting against serious cross-border threats to health or ensuring high standards of quality and safety of health care and of medicinal products or medical devices, on the basis of Union law or Member State law which provides for suitable and specific measures to safeguard the rights and freedoms of the data subject; or

(i) processing is necessary for historical, statistical or scientific research purposes subject to the conditions and safeguards referred to in Article 83; or	(i) processing is necessary for historical, statistical or scientific research purposes subject to the conditions and safeguards referred to in Article 83; or	(i) processing is necessary for archiving purposes in the public interest or historical, statistical or scientific research purposes and subject to the conditions and safeguards laid down in Union or Member State law, including those referred to in Article 83.
	(ia) processing is necessary for archive services subject to the conditions and safeguards referred to in Article 83a; or

(j) processing of data relating to criminal convictions or related security measures is carried out either under the control of official authority or when the processing is necessary for compliance with a legal or regulatory obligation to which a controller is subject, or for the performance of a task carried out for important public interest reasons, and in so far as authorised by Union law or Member State law providing for adequate safeguards. A complete register of criminal convictions shall be kept only under the control of official authority.	(j) processing of data relating to administrative sanctions, judgments, criminal offences, convictions or related security measures is carried out either under the control of official authority or when the processing is necessary for compliance with a legal or regulatory obligation to which a controller is subject, or for the performance of a task carried out for important public interest reasons, and in so far as authorised by Union law or Member State law providing for adequate safeguards . A complete for the fundamental rights and the interests of the data subject. Any register of criminal convictions shall be kept only under	deleted convictions shall be kept only under the control of official authority.

3. The Commission shall be empowered to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 86 for the purpose of further specifying the criteria, conditions and appropriate safeguards for the processing of the special categories of personal data referred to in paragraph 1 and the exemptions laid down in paragraph 2.	3. The Commission European Data Protection Board shall be empowered to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 86 for the purposeentrusted with the task of further specifying the criteria, conditions and appropriate safeguards issuing guidelines, recommendations and best practices for the processing of the special categories of personal data referred to in paragraph 1 and the	deleted laid down in paragraph 2.	special categories of personal data referred to in paragraph 1 and the exemptions laid down in paragraph 2, in accordance with Article 66 .

	4. Personal data referred to in paragraph 1 may on the basis of Union or Member State law be processed for the purposes referred to in point (h) of paragraph 2 when those data are processed by or under the responsibility of a professional subject to the obligation of professional secrecy under Union or Member State law or rules established by national competent bodies or by another person also subject to an obligation of secrecy under Union or Member State law or rules established by national competent bodies.
	5. Member States may maintain or introduce more specific provisions with regard to genetic data or health data. This includes the possibility for Member States to introduce further conditions for the processing of these data.

	Article 9a
	Processing of data relating to criminal convitions and offences Processing of data relating to criminal convictions and offences or related security measures based on Article 6(1) may only be carried out either under the control of official authority or when the processing is authorised by Union law or Member State law providing for adequate safeguards for the rights and freedoms of data subjects. A complete register of criminal convictions may be kept only under the control of official authority.

Article 10	Article 10	Article 10
Processing not allowing identification	Processing not allowing identification	Processing not allowing requiring identification
	Amendment 104
If the data processed by a controller do not permit the controller to identify a natural person, the controller shall not be obliged to acquire additional information in order to identify the data subject for the sole purpose of complying with any provision of this Regulation.	1. If the data processed by a controller do not permit the controller or processor to directly or indirectly identify a natural person, or consist only of pseudonymous data , the controller shall not be obliged to process or acquire additional information in order to identify the data subject for the sole purpose of complying with any provision of this Regulation.	If the data processed by purposes for which a controller processes personal data do not permitor do no longer require the identification of a data subject by the controller to identify a natural person, the controller shall not be obliged to maintain or acquire additional information nor to engage in additional processing in order to identify the data subject for the sole purpose of complying with any provision of this Regulation.

2. Where the data controller unable to comply with a prov of this Regulation because of paragraph 1, the controller st not be obliged to comply with particular provision of this Regulation. Where as a consequence the data control unable to comply with a requ the data subject, it shall infor data subject accordingly.	sioncontroller is not in a position to identify the data subject, articles pall15, 16, 17, 17a, 17b and 18 do not thatapply except where the data subject, for the purpose of exercising his or her rights underler isthese articles, provides additional est ofinformation enabling his or her
---	---