Proposal for a

DIRECTIVE OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND OF THE COUNCIL

amending Council Framework Decision 2002/465/JHA, as regards its alignment with EU rules on the protection of personal data

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

1. CONTEXT OF THE PROPOSAL

- Reasons for and objectives of the proposal

Directive (EU) 2016/680<sup>1</sup> (the Data Protection Law Enforcement Directive – LED) entered into force on 6 May 2016 and Member States had until 6 May 2018 to transpose it into national law. It repealed and replaced Council Framework Decision 2008/977/JHA<sup>2</sup>, but is a much more comprehensive and general data protection instrument. Importantly, it applies to both the domestic and the cross-border processing of personal data by competent authorities for the purposes of preventing, investigating, detecting or prosecuting criminal offences and executing criminal penalties, including safeguarding against and preventing threats to public security (Article 1(1)).

Article 62(6) LED requires the Commission to review, by 6 May 2019, other EU legal acts that regulate competent authorities' personal data processing for law enforcement purposes, in order to assess the need to align them with the LED and, where appropriate, to make proposals for amending them to ensure consistency in the protection of personal data within the scope of the LED.

The Commission set out the results of its review in a Communication on Way forward on aligning the former third pillar acquis with data protection rules (24 June 2020)<sup>3</sup>, which specifies ten legal acts that should be aligned with the LED and a timetable for doing so. The list includes Council Framework Decision 2002/465/JHA on joint investigation teams<sup>4</sup>. The Commission indicated that it would put forward targeted amendments of that Decision in the last quarter of 2020; that is the purpose of this proposal.

This initiative is not part of the regulatory fitness programme (REFIT).

- Consistency with existing policy provisions in the policy area

The proposal aims to align the data protection rules in Decision 2002/465/JHA with the principles and rules laid down in the LED, in order to provide a strong and coherent data protection framework in the Union.

- Consistency with other Union policies

<sup>2</sup> Council Framework Decision 2008/977/JHA of 27 November 2008 on the protection of personal data processed in the framework of police and judicial cooperation in criminal matters (OJ L 350, 30.12.2008, p. 60).

2. LEGAL BASIS, SUBSIDIARITY AND PROPORTIONALITY

- Legal basis

This proposal is based on Article 16(2) of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union (TFEU).

The original act was based on ex-Article 34(2)(b) of the former Treaty on European Union, which rather corresponds to Article 82(1) TFEU. However, both the objective and the substance of the proposed amendment are clearly limited to the protection of personal data.

In that regard, Article 16(2) TFEU is the most appropriate legal basis. It allows for the adoption of rules on the protection of individuals with regard to the processing of personal data by Member States when carrying out activities under Union law and rules on the free movement of personal data.

According to Article 2a of Protocol No 22, Denmark will not be bound by rules laid down on the basis of Article 16 TFEU which relate to the processing of personal data when carrying out activities falling within the scope of Chapter 4 and 5 of Title IV of Part Three of the TFEU. The same is true for Ireland according to Article 6a of Protocol No 21.

- Subsidiarity (for non-exclusive competence)

Only the Union can adopt a legislative act amending Decision 2002/465/JHA.

- Proportionality

This proposal is limited to what is necessary to align Decision 2002/465/JHA with Union legislation on the protection of personal data (including the LED) without changing the mechanisms of cooperation between Member States setting up a joint investigation team. This Directive does not go beyond what is necessary to achieve the objectives pursued, in accordance with Article 5(4) of the Treaty on European Union.

- Choice of instrument

To amend Decision 2002/465/JHA, the most appropriate instrument is a directive.

3. RESULTS OF EX POST EVALUATIONS, STAKEHOLDER CONSULTATIONS AND IMPACT ASSESSMENTS

- Ex post* evaluations/fitness checks of existing legislation

This proposal follows the results of the Commission's review under Article 62(6) LED, as presented in the Communication on Way forward on aligning the former third pillar acquis with data protection rules. That Communication lists points on which alignment is necessary. In particular, it identifies the need to clarify that any processing of personal data under Decision 2002/465/JHA is subject to either the LED or Regulation (EU) 2016/679<sup>5</sup> (General Data Protection Regulation – GDPR), depending on whether it takes place in the context of criminal or non-criminal proceedings. The alignment should clarify that data obtained under the Decision may be processed for purposes other than those for which they are collected only under the conditions laid down in the LED (Articles 4(2) or 9(1)) or the GDPR (Article 6(4)).

<sup>5</sup> Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46/EC (General Data Protection Regulation) (OJ L 119, 4.5.2016, p. 1).

By proposing the amendment of Article 1(10) of Decision 2002/465/JHA, this proposal is limited to what is necessary to address the above points.

- Stakeholder consultations

n/a

- Collection and use of expertise

In its review, the Commission took account of a study carried out as part of the pilot project on a ‘fundamental rights review of EU data collection instruments and programmes’<sup>6</sup>. The study mapped Union acts covered by Article 62(6) LED and identified provisions potentially requiring alignment on data protection issues.

- Impact assessment

The impact of this proposal is limited to competent authorities’ processing of personal data in the context of Decision 2002/465/JHA. The impact of the new obligations arising from the LED was assessed in the context of the preparatory work for the LED. This renders a specific impact assessment for this proposal unnecessary.

- Regulatory fitness and simplification

n/a

- Fundamental rights

The right to the protection of personal data is laid down in Article 8 of the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union and Article 16 TFEU. Data protection is also closely linked to respect for private and family life, as protected by Article 7 of the Charter.

This proposal ensures that any processing of personal data under Decision 2002/465/JHA is subject to the ‘horizontal’ principles and rules of EU data protection legislation, thus further implementing Article 8 of the Charter. That legislation aims to ensure a high level of protection of personal data and clarifying that the principles and rules of the EU data protection legislation apply fully to data processing under the Decision will have a positive impact as regards the fundamental rights to privacy and data protection.

<sup>6</sup> The pilot project was requested by the European Parliament, managed by the Commission and carried out by a contractor (group of independent experts). The Commission selected the contractor on the basis of criteria determined by the Parliament. ## 5. OTHER ELEMENTS

- Implementation plans and monitoring, evaluation and reporting arrangements

n/a

- Explanatory documents (for directives)

This proposal does not require explanatory documents on transposition, as it involves the targeted amendment of one article of Decision 2002/465/JHA.

- Detailed explanation of the specific provisions of the proposal

The LED establishes the legal framework for competent authorities' processing of personal data for the purposes of preventing, investigating, detecting or prosecuting criminal offences and executing criminal penalties, including safeguarding against and preventing threats to public security. In Articles 4(2) and 9(1), it regulates the processing of personal data for purposes other than that for which they are collected..

Specifically, Article 1(10) of Decision 2002/465/JHA provides that certain personal data may be processed, under certain conditions, for purposes other for which they were originally collected. It goes beyond the LED conditions and therefore needs to be aligned with it. Article 1 of this Directive amends Article 1(10) of the Decision by:

- aligning the use cases of personal data collected by joint investigation teams (Article 1(10)(b)) with the principle of purpose limitation, as regulated under the LED; and
- deleting Article 1(10)(c)-(d).

Article 2 sets the deadline for transposing this Directive.

Article 3 sets the date of entry into force of this Directive.

Article 4 provides that this Directive is addressed to Member States.

That review has led to the identification of Council Framework Decision 2002/465/JHA<sup>2</sup> as one of those other acts to be amended.
- (2) In the interest of consistency and the effective protection of personal data, the processing of personal data carried out under Framework Decision 2002/465/JHA should respect the rules set out in Directive (EU) 2016/680.
