<sup>3</sup> Position of the European Parliament of 9 November 2023 (not yet published in the Official Journal) and decision of the Council of ...

Whereas:

- (1) Regulation (EU) No 909/2014 of the European Parliament and of the Council<sup>1</sup> standardises the requirements for the settlement of financial instruments and the rules on the organisation and conduct of central securities depositories (CSDs) to promote safe, efficient and smooth settlement. That Regulation introduced shorter settlement periods, settlement discipline measures, strict organisational, conduct of business and prudential requirements for CSDs, increased prudential and supervisory requirements for CSDs and other institutions providing banking services that support securities settlement, and a regime allowing authorised CSDs to provide their services across the Union.
- (2) A simplification of the requirements in certain areas covered by Regulation (EU) No 909/2014 and a more proportionate approach to those areas would be in line with the Commission's Regulatory Fitness and Performance (REFIT) programme, which emphasises the need for cost reduction and simplification so that Union policies achieve their objectives in the most efficient way and aims in particular to reduce regulatory and administrative burdens.

- (3) Efficient and resilient post-trading infrastructures are essential elements for a well-functioning capital markets union and increase the efforts to support investment, growth and jobs in line with the political priorities of the Commission. For that reason, a review of Regulation (EU) No 909/2014 is one of the key actions of the Commission Capital Markets Union Action Plan set out in the communication of the Commission of 24 September 2020 on a Capital Markets Union for people and businesses-new action plan.
- (4) In 2019, the Commission carried out a targeted consultation on the application of Regulation (EU) No 909/2014. The Commission also received input from the European Supervisory Authority (European Securities and Markets Authority) (ESMA) established by Regulation (EU) No 1095/2010 of the European Parliament and of the Council<sup>1</sup> and the European System of Central Banks (ESCB). The feedback received indicated that stakeholders support and consider relevant the objective of Regulation (EU) No 909/2014 to promote safe, efficient and smooth settlement of financial instruments, and that no major overhaul of that Regulation was necessary. The report submitted by the Commission to the European Parliament and the Council in accordance with Regulation (EU) No 909/2014 was published on 1 July 2021. Although the provisions of that Regulation are not yet all fully applicable, the report identified areas for which targeted action is necessary to ensure that the objective of that Regulation is reached in a more proportionate, efficient and effective manner.

- (5) CSDs should be able to specify, in their internal rules, which events other than insolvency proceedings constitute the default of a participant. In general, such events relate to a failure to complete a transfer of funds or securities in accordance with the terms and conditions and the internal rules of the securities settlement system.
- (6) Regulation (EU) No 909/2014 introduced rules on settlement discipline to prevent and address failures in the settlement of securities transactions and therefore ensure the safety of transaction settlement. Additional measures and tools to improve settlement efficiency in the Union, such as shaping of transaction sizes or partial settlement, should be explored. Accordingly, ESMA should, in close cooperation with the members of the ESCB, review industry best practices, both within the Union and internationally, with a view to identifying all relevant measures that could be implemented by settlement systems or market participants, and develop updated draft regulatory technical standards on measures to prevent settlement fails in order to increase settlement efficiency.

- (7) The rules introduced by Regulation (EU) No 909/2014 include, in particular, reporting requirements, a cash penalties regime and mandatory buy-ins. Currently, only the reporting requirements and the cash penalties regime apply. The accumulated experience in applying the cash penalties regime as well as the development and specification of the settlement discipline framework, in particular in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2018/1229<sup>1</sup>, have allowed all interested parties to better understand that framework and the challenges its application gives rise to. In particular, the scope of the cash penalties and of the mandatory buy-in process set out in Regulation (EU) No 909/2014 should be clarified. In order to distinguish the requirements relating to cash penalties from those relating to mandatory buy-ins, such requirements should be laid down in separate articles.

- (8) Settlement fails the underlying cause of which is not attributable to the participants and operations that are not considered as trading should not be subject to cash penalties or mandatory buy-ins, since the application of those measures to such settlement fails and operations would not be practicable or could lead to detrimental consequences for the market. For mandatory buy-ins, that is likely to be the case for certain primary market transactions, securities financing transactions, corporate actions, reorganisations or the creation and redemption of fund units, realignment operations or other types of transactions that render the buy-in process unnecessary. Similarly, the settlement discipline measures should not apply to failing participants against which insolvency proceedings have been opened, or where central counterparties (CCPs) are the failing participants, except for transactions entered into by a CCP where it does not interpose itself between counterparties.
- (9) Cash penalties should be calculated for each business day for as long as the fail persists. The possibility of a negative interest rate environment should be taken into account when defining the parameters for the calculation of cash penalties. Eliminating any adverse incentives to fail that could arise in a low or negative interest rate environment is necessary in order to avoid unintended effects on the non-failing participant. The Commission should, on a regular basis, review the parameters used to calculate cash penalties and should, as a result, consider potential changes to the method used for the calculation of those penalties, such as setting progressive rates.

- (10) Mandatory buy-ins could have negative effects, both in normal and stressed market conditions. Therefore, mandatory buy-ins should be a measure of last resort and should apply only where the following two conditions are met at the same time: first, the application of other measures, such as cash penalties or the suspension, by CSDs, CCPs or trading venues, of participants that cause settlement fails consistently and systematically, has not resulted in a long-term sustainable reduction of settlement fails in the Union or in maintaining a reduced level of settlement fails in the Union; and, second, the level of settlement fails has or is likely to have a negative effect on the financial stability of the Union.
- (11) When considering whether to introduce mandatory buy-ins, the Commission should, in addition to consulting the European Systemic Risk Board, request ESMA to provide a cost-benefit analysis. Based on that cost-benefit analysis, the Commission should be able to introduce mandatory buy-ins by means of an implementing act. That implementing act should specify to which financial instruments or categories of transactions mandatory buy-ins are to be applied.

- (12) Applying buy-ins to a chain of transactions on the same financial instrument carried out by counterparties that are participants of a CSD could trigger unnecessary duplicative costs and affect the liquidity of the financial instrument. To avoid such consequences, a pass-on mechanism should be available to participants in such transactions. Each participant involved in the transaction chain should be allowed to pass on a buy-in obligation to the next participant.
- (13) Mandatory buy-ins allow for the payment of the difference between a financial instrument's buy-in price and its original trade price to be made by the seller to the purchaser only where that buy-in reference price is higher than the original trade price. That asymmetry would unduly benefit the purchaser in the event that the buy-in reference price is lower than the original trade price. It would also make the pass-on mechanism impossible to apply since, notably, the amounts to be paid can differ between each step in the chain of transactions, depending on when each intermediary executes the buy-in. Therefore, that asymmetry should be removed to ensure that the trading parties are restored to the economic terms that would have applied had the original transaction taken place.

- (14) The mandatory buy-in procedures under Regulation (EU) No 236/2012 of the European Parliament and of the Council<sup>1</sup> ceased to apply on 1 February 2022, as a result of the entry into force of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2018/1229. However, the mandatory buy-in procedures under Regulation (EU) No 236/2012 were independent of the regime under Regulation (EU) No 909/2014 and should have continued to apply. Therefore, it is appropriate to reinstate in Regulation (EU) No 236/2012 the provision governing mandatory buy-ins. Transactions that will fall within the scope of that provision should not be subject to mandatory buy-ins under Regulation (EU) No 909/2014.
- (15) Transactions not cleared by a CCP might be uncollateralised and therefore each trading venue member or trading party bears the counterparty risk. Moving that risk to other entities, such as participants of a CSD, would force the participants to cover their exposure to counterparty risk with collateral, which could lead to a disproportionate increase in the costs of securities settlement. The failing trading venue member or the failing trading party, as applicable, should therefore bear responsibility for the payment of the price difference, the cash compensation and the buy-in costs.

- (16) Where mandatory buy-ins apply, it should be possible for the Commission to temporarily suspend their application in certain exceptional situations. Such a suspension should be possible for specific categories of financial instruments where necessary to avoid or address a serious threat to financial stability or to the orderly functioning of financial markets in the Union. Such a suspension should be proportionate to those aims.
- (17) ESMA should develop updated draft regulatory technical standards in order to take into account the amendments introduced by this Regulation to Regulation (EU) No 909/2014. That would enable the Commission to make any necessary corrections or amendments with a view to clarifying the requirements set out in such existing regulatory technical standards. ESMA should also develop draft regulatory technical standards to specify the details of the pass-on mechanism, which types of transactions render the buy-in process unnecessary and how to take into account the specificities of retail investors when executing mandatory buy-ins.
- (18) Where a CSD does not carry out a settlement activity before the beginning of the authorisation process, the criteria determining which relevant authorities should be involved in such authorisation process should take into account the anticipated settlement activity to ensure that the views of all relevant authorities potentially interested in the activities of that CSD are taken into account.

- (19) Where a new CSD applies for authorisation, but compliance with certain requirements cannot be assessed because the CSD is not yet operational, the competent authority should be able to grant the authorisation where it can reasonably be assumed that that CSD will comply with Regulation (EU) No 909/2014 when it effectively commences its activities. That assessment is particularly relevant as regards the use of distributed ledger technology and the application of Regulation (EU) 2022/858 of the European Parliament and of the Council<sup>1</sup>.
- (20) While Regulation (EU) No 909/2014 requires national supervisors to cooperate with and involve relevant authorities, national supervisors are not required to inform those relevant authorities whether or how their views have been considered in the outcome of the authorisation process or whether additional issues have been identified in the course of regular reviews and evaluations. The relevant authorities should therefore be able to issue reasoned opinions on the authorisation of CSDs and the review and evaluation process. The competent authorities should take into account such opinions or explain why such opinions were not followed. The competent authorities should inform the relevant authorities, as well as other authorities consulted, of the results of the authorisation process. The competent authorities should inform the relevant authorities, ESMA and the college of the results of the review and evaluation process.

- (21) The provisions regarding the timelines for the authorisation of a CSD to outsource core services to a third party or to extend its activities to certain other services should be amended to remove unintended inconsistencies between those timelines and the timelines of the general authorisation process.
- (22) Regular reviews and evaluations of CSDs by competent authorities are necessary to ensure that CSDs continue to have in place appropriate arrangements, strategies, processes and mechanisms to evaluate the risks to which CSDs are, or might be, exposed or which could constitute a threat to the smooth functioning of securities markets. Experience has, however, shown that an annual review and evaluation is disproportionately burdensome for both CSDs and competent authorities and of limited added value. Subject to a minimum frequency of once every 3 years, competent authorities should be able to set a more appropriate frequency for the review and evaluation of each CSD in order to alleviate that burden and avoid a duplication of information from one exercise to the next. Furthermore, in assessing what would be the appropriate frequency and depth of the review and evaluation, the competent authority should consider what would be proportionate, taking into account the size, systemic importance, risk profile, nature, scale and complexity of the CSD. The supervisory capacities of competent authorities and the objective of safeguarding financial stability should, however, not be undermined. Therefore, competent authorities should continue to have the possibility to perform any additional review and evaluation. CSDs providing banking-type ancillary services are also subject to review and evaluation under Directive 2013/36/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council<sup>1</sup>.

(23) A CSD should be prepared to face scenarios that could potentially prevent it from being able to provide its critical operations and services as a going concern and should assess the effectiveness of a full range of options for recovery or orderly wind-down in those scenarios. Regulation (EU) No 909/2014 introduced requirements in that respect, providing in particular that a competent authority is to require the CSD to submit an adequate recovery plan and is to ensure that an adequate resolution plan is established and maintained for each CSD. No harmonised resolution regime on which a resolution plan could be based, however, currently exists. CSDs that are authorised to offer banking-type ancillary services fall within the scope of Directive 2014/59/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council<sup>1</sup>. However, no specific provisions exist for CSDs which are not authorised to provide such services and therefore are not considered credit institutions under Directive 2014/59/EU with the obligation to have recovery and resolution plans in place. Clarifications should therefore be introduced with a view to better aligning the requirements applicable to CSDs taking into account the absence of a Union framework for the recovery and resolution for all CSDs. In order to avoid a duplication of requirements, where a recovery and resolution plan has been drawn up for a CSD under Directive 2014/59/EU, that CSD should not be required to prepare plans on recovery or orderly wind-down under Regulation (EU) No 909/2014, insofar as the information to be included in those plans has been already provided. However, such CSDs should provide their competent authority with the recovery plans drawn up under that Directive.

<sup>1</sup> Directive 2014/59/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 15 May 2014 establishing a framework for the recovery and resolution of credit institutions and investment firms and amending Council Directive 82/891/EEC, and Directives 2001/24/EC, 2002/47/EC, 2004/25/EC, 2005/56/EC, 2007/36/EC, 2011/35/EU, 2012/30/EU and 2013/36/EU, and Regulations (EU) No 1093/2010 and (EU) No 648/2012, of the European Parliament and of the Council (OJ L 173, 12.6.2014, p. 190).

- (24) The procedure set out in Regulation (EU) No 909/2014 regarding the provision by a CSD of notary and central maintenance services in relation to financial instruments constituted under the law of a Member State other than the law of the Member State where the CSD is authorised has proven to be burdensome and some of its requirements are unclear. That procedure has resulted in a disproportionately costly and lengthy process for CSDs. The procedure should therefore be clarified and simplified to better dismantle the barriers to cross-border settlement so as to enable authorised CSDs to fully benefit from the freedom to provide services within the Union. Without prejudice to the measures that CSDs need to take to allow their users to comply with national law, it should be clear which is the relevant legal framework for the assessment that a CSD is required to perform under Regulation (EU) No 909/2014 in relation to the measures that it intends to take to allow its users to comply with the law of another Member State and that the assessment be limited only to shares. The competent authority of the host Member State should be offered the possibility to comment on the assessment related to the law of that Member State. The final decision should be left to the competent authority of the home Member State.

- (25) In order to allow for better cooperation regarding the supervision of CSDs providing cross-border services, the competent authority of the home Member State should be able to invite staff from the competent authorities of the host Member States and from ESMA to participate in on-site inspections in branches. The competent authority of the home Member State should also transmit to ESMA and the college the findings of the on-site inspections and information on remedial actions or penalties decided on by that competent authority.

(26) Regulation (EU) No 909/2014 requires the cooperation of authorities that have an interest in the operations of CSDs that offer services in relation to financial instruments constituted under the laws of more than one Member State. Nonetheless, the supervisory arrangements remain fragmented and can lead to differences in the allocation and nature of supervisory powers depending on the CSD concerned. Such fragmentation creates barriers to the cross-border provision of CSD services in the Union, perpetuates the remaining inefficiencies in the Union settlement market and has a negative impact on the stability of Union financial markets. While Regulation (EU) No 909/2014 provides for the possibility of setting up colleges, that option has rarely been used. In order to ensure the effective and efficient coordination of the supervision by competent authorities, the setting up of colleges should become mandatory under certain conditions. A college of supervisors should be established for CSDs the activities of which are considered to be of substantial importance for the functioning of the securities markets and the protection of investors in at least two host Member States. A college set up under this Regulation should not prevent or replace other forms of cooperation between competent authorities. ESMA should develop draft regulatory technical standards to specify the criteria on the basis of which it can be determined whether the activities are of substantial importance. Members of a college should have the possibility of requesting the adoption by the college of a non-binding opinion concerning issues identified during the review and evaluation of a CSD or during the review and evaluation of providers of banking-type ancillary services, or concerning issues that relate to the extension or outsourcing of activities and services provided by the CSD, or concerning any potential breach of the requirements of Regulation (EU) No 909/2014 arising from the provision of services in a host Member State. Non-binding opinions should be adopted by a simple majority vote.

- (27) ESMA and competent authorities currently have limited information on the services offered by third-country CSDs in relation to financial instruments constituted under the law of a Member State as a result of several factors. The first is the deferred application, without an end date, of the recognition requirements for third-country CSDs that already provided central maintenance and notary services in the Union before the date of application of Regulation (EU) No 909/2014 pursuant to Article 69(4) of that Regulation. The second is the fact that where a third-country CSD provides only the settlement service, it is not subject to recognition requirements. The third is the fact that Regulation (EU) No 909/2014 does not require third-country CSDs to notify Union authorities of their activities in relation to financial instruments constituted under the law of a Member State. Given the lack of information, neither issuers nor public authorities at Union or national level have been able to assess the activities of those CSDs in the Union when needed. Therefore, third-country CSDs should be required to inform Union authorities of their activities in relation to financial instruments constituted under the law of a Member State.
- (28) Regulation (EU) No 909/2014 requires a CSD to have a management body of which at least one third, but no less than two, of its members are independent. In order to ensure a more consistent application of the concept of independence, that concept should be clarified in line with the definition of ‘independent members’ in Regulation (EU) No 648/2012 of the European Parliament and of the Council<sup>1</sup>.

- (29) Regulation (EU) No 909/2014 does not contain specific requirements applying in the case of an acquisition of, or increase in, qualifying holdings in the capital of CSDs. Such requirements, including as regards the procedures to be followed, should therefore be introduced in order to ensure the consistent application of requirements regarding the shareholding structure of a CSD, similar to provisions laid down in Regulation (EU) No 648/2012 and Directive 2013/36/EU. ESMA should develop guidelines on the assessment of the suitability of any person who will direct the business of the CSD, as well as on the procedural rules and evaluation criteria for the prudential assessment of direct or indirect acquisitions of, and increases in, holdings in CSDs.
- (30) In order to ensure legal certainty as regards the key arrangements on which user committees should advise the management body, it should be further clarified what elements are included in the ‘service level’.
- (31) Given their central role regarding the safety of transactions, CSDs should not only reduce the risks associated with the safekeeping and settlement of transactions in securities, but should also seek to minimise those risks.
- (32) Several CSDs established in the Union operate securities settlement systems that apply deferred net settlement. Those CSDs should adequately measure, monitor and manage the risks stemming from the use of such settlement.

- (33) Under certain circumstances, a security might be constituted under the corporate or similar law of two different Member States. That is in particular the case for debt securities where the issuer is incorporated in one Member State and the securities are issued under the law of another Member State. It is important to clarify that in such cases the corporate or similar law of both Member States should continue to apply. The choice of the applicable law is not to be governed by Regulation (EU) No 909/2014 and should therefore remain at the issuers' discretion or otherwise be determined by law.
- (34) In order to ensure that issuers who arrange for their securities to be recorded in a CSD established in another Member State can comply with the relevant provisions of the corporate or similar law of that Member State, Member States should regularly update the list of such key relevant provisions of national law and communicate it to ESMA for the purposes of publication.
- (35) In order to avoid settlement risks due to the insolvency of a settlement agent, a CSD should settle, whenever practical and available, the cash payments of its securities settlement system through accounts opened with a central bank. Where that option is not practical and available, such as where a CSD does not meet the conditions to open an account with a central bank other than that of its home Member State, the CSD should be able to settle the cash payments for all or part of its securities settlement systems in a currency other than that of the country where the CSD is established through accounts opened with CSDs or with credit institutions authorised to provide banking services under the conditions laid down in Regulation (EU) No 909/2014.

- (36) In order to better support the efficiency of the settlement market, deepen capital markets and enhance cross-border settlement, a CSD authorised to provide banking-type ancillary services in accordance with Regulation (EU) No 909/2014, whose relevant risks are already monitored, should be able to offer services pertaining to the settlement of the cash payments to CSDs that are not authorised under Directive 2013/36/EU, in a currency other than that of the country where the CSD seeking to use those services is established, irrespective of whether they are part of the same group of companies. An authorisation to designate CSDs or credit institutions should only be used for the settlement of the cash payments for all or part of the securities settlement systems of the CSD seeking to use the banking-type ancillary services. It should not be used for the purposes of carrying out any other activities. It should also be possible for a CSD that intends to settle the cash payments for all or part of its securities settlement systems through its own accounts or that otherwise intends to provide any banking-type ancillary services to be authorised to do so under the conditions laid down in Regulation (EU) No 909/2014.

- (37) Below an appropriate threshold, CSDs that are not authorised to provide banking-type ancillary services should be able to settle the cash payments through accounts opened with CSDs authorised to provide banking-type ancillary services in accordance with Regulation (EU) No 909/2014 and through accounts opened with any credit institution, in any currency. That threshold should consist of a maximum aggregate amount for such settlement of cash payments. In addition, the threshold should be calibrated in a way that promotes efficiency of settlement and allows CSDs to reach a level of cash settlement beyond which requiring a banking authorisation under Directive 2013/36/EU or connecting to a central bank of issue becomes relevant, while ensuring financial stability and limiting risk implications that result from the derogations applicable under that threshold. The calibration of the threshold should take into account the need for a CSD to be able to settle payments in different currencies, especially for the most liquid currencies, while setting an appropriate limit that would be applicable to the CSD as a whole. The calibration of the threshold should also take into account the need to avoid an unintended shift away from settlement in central bank money.

(38) As a body with specialised expertise regarding banking and credit risk matters, the European Supervisory Authority (European Banking Authority) (EBA) established by Regulation (EU) No 1093/2010 of the European Parliament and of the Council<sup>1</sup> should be entrusted with the development of draft regulatory technical standards to set an appropriate threshold and to specify any appropriate risk management and prudential requirements related thereto. EBA should also cooperate closely with the members of the ESCB and with ESMA. The Commission should be empowered to adopt those regulatory technical standards in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union (TFEU). The competent authorities, which regularly monitor the threshold, should transmit their findings together with the underlying data to ESMA and EBA and their findings to the members of the ESCB, notably in order to feed into a regular report that should be prepared by EBA, in cooperation with the members of the ESCB and with ESMA, on banking-type ancillary services.

- (39) CSDs, including those authorised to provide banking-type ancillary services, and designated credit institutions should cover relevant risks in their risk management and prudential frameworks. Tools to cover those risks should include maintaining sufficient qualifying liquid resources in all relevant currencies and ensuring that stress scenarios are sufficiently strong. CSDs should also ensure that corresponding liquidity risks are managed and covered by highly reliable funding arrangements with creditworthy institutions; those arrangements should be committed or have similar reliability. CSDs which provide banking-type ancillary services should also have specific rules and procedures to tackle potential credit, liquidity and concentration risks stemming from the provision of those services. EBA should develop draft regulatory technical standards to update the existing regulatory technical standards in order to take into account those changes to prudential requirements. That would enable the Commission to make any necessary amendments with a view to clarifying the requirements set out in such regulatory technical standards, such as those related to the management of potential liquidity shortfalls.
- (40) A period of only one month for relevant authorities and competent authorities to issue a reasoned opinion on the authorisation to provide banking-type ancillary services has proven to be too short for those authorities to be able to make a substantiated analysis. Therefore, a longer period of two months should be provided for in this Regulation.

- (41) In order to provide CSDs established in the Union and third-country CSDs with sufficient time to apply for authorisation and recognition of their activities, the date of application of the authorisation and recognition requirements of Regulation (EU) No 909/2014 was initially deferred until an authorisation or recognition decision was made pursuant to that Regulation. Sufficient time has elapsed since the entry into force of that Regulation. Therefore, those requirements should now start to apply to ensure, on the one hand, a level-playing field amongst all CSDs offering services in relation to financial instruments constituted under the law of a Member State and, on the other hand, that authorities at Union and national level have the necessary information to ensure investor protection and monitor financial stability.

(42) Regulation (EU) No 909/2014 currently requires ESMA, in cooperation with EBA, national competent authorities and relevant authorities, to prepare annual reports on 12 topics and to submit those reports annually to the Commission. That requirement is disproportionate considering the nature of certain topics which do not require an annual update. The frequency and number of those reports should therefore be recalibrated in order to reduce the burden on ESMA and competent authorities while ensuring that the Commission is provided with the information it needs to review the implementation of Regulation (EU) No 909/2014. However, given the changes to the settlement discipline regime of Regulation (EU) No 909/2014 introduced by this Regulation, it is appropriate to require ESMA to regularly prepare reports to the Commission on some additional topics, such as measures taken by competent authorities to address situations where a CSD's settlement efficiency over a six-month period is significantly lower than the average settlement efficiency levels recorded in the Union market and the possibility of applying additional regulatory tools to improve settlement efficiency in the Union. Furthermore, ESMA, in cooperation with the members of the ESCB, should also submit a report to the European Parliament and to the Council on the potential shortening of the settlement cycle in order to inform potential future developments on that topic. EBA should prepare an annual report focussing on the findings of competent authorities as a result of their monitoring of the threshold for settlement of cash payments. Upon the request of the Commission, ESMA should provide a cost-benefit analysis that should be used as a basis for the implementing act on mandatory buy-ins.

(43) In order to ensure the effectiveness of this Regulation, the power to adopt acts in accordance with Article 290 TFEU should be delegated to the Commission to take into account, when developing the parameters for the calculation of the level of cash penalties, the duration of the settlement fail, the level of settlement fails per class of financial instruments and the effect that low or negative interest rates can have on the incentives of counterparties and on fails, and to review those parameters; and to specify which underlying causes of a settlement fail are not considered attributable to the participants and which operations are not considered as trading. It is of particular importance that the Commission carry out appropriate consultations during its preparatory work, including at expert level, and that those consultations be conducted in accordance with the principles laid down in the Interinstitutional Agreement of 13 April 2016 on Better Law-Making<sup>1</sup>. In particular, to ensure equal participation in the preparation of delegated acts, the European Parliament and the Council receive all documents at the same time as Member States' experts, and their experts systematically have access to meetings of Commission expert groups dealing with the preparation of delegated acts.

- (44) The Commission should be empowered to adopt, in accordance with Article 290 TFEU and with Articles 10 to 14 of Regulation (EU) No 1093/2010 and of Regulation (EU) No 1095/2010, regulatory technical standards developed by EBA and by ESMA with regard to: specifications of the mandatory buy-in process regarding the details of the pass-on mechanism, which types of transactions render the buy-in process unnecessary and how to take into account the specificities of retail investors when executing mandatory buy-ins; the information to be notified by third-country CSDs; the conditions for the activities of a CSD to be considered of substantial importance; the rules and procedures to be established by a CSD providing banking-type ancillary services; the details of the measuring, monitoring, management and reporting of the credit and liquidity risks by CSDs in relation to deferred net settlement; the threshold below which CSDs may use any credit institution to settle the cash payments; and the updated prudential requirements on liquidity and the rules and procedures on credit, liquidity and concentration risks in the case of CSDs authorised to provide banking-type ancillary services.

- (45) In order to ensure uniform conditions for the implementation of the amendments introduced by this Regulation, and in particular with regard to the application and the suspension of mandatory buy-in requirements where those apply, implementing powers should be conferred on the Commission. Those powers should be exercised in accordance with Regulation (EU) No 182/2011 of the European Parliament and of the Council<sup>1</sup>. The Commission should adopt immediately applicable implementing acts where, in duly justified cases relating to the application and the suspension of mandatory buy-ins, imperative grounds of urgency so require.
- (46) Delegated and implementing acts adopted in accordance with Articles 290 and 291 TFEU constitute Union legal acts. Pursuant to Articles 127(4) and 282(5) TFEU, the European Central Bank (ECB) is to be consulted on any proposed Union act in its fields of competence. Where the consultation of the ECB is required pursuant to the Treaties, the ECB is to be duly consulted on the delegated and implementing acts adopted under this Regulation.

- (47) Since the objectives of this Regulation, namely to increase the provision of cross-border settlement by CSDs, reduce the administrative burden and compliance costs and ensure that authorities have sufficient information in order to monitor risks, cannot be sufficiently achieved by the Member States but can rather, by reason of their scale and effects, be better achieved at Union level, the Union may adopt measures, in accordance with the principle of subsidiarity as set out in Article 5 of the Treaty on European Union. In accordance with the principle of proportionality, as set out in that Article, this Regulation does not go beyond what is necessary in order to achieve those objectives.

- (48) The application of the revised scope of the rules on cash penalties, the new requirements regarding the establishment of colleges of supervisors, the submission of a notification by third-country CSDs of the core services they provide in relation to financial instruments constituted under the law of a Member State, the new rules on deferred net settlement, the revised threshold below which credit institutions may offer to settle the cash payments for part of the CSD's securities settlement system and the revised prudential requirements applicable to credit institutions or CSDs authorised to provide banking-type ancillary services pursuant to Article 59 of Regulation (EU) No 909/2014 should be either deferred or subject to appropriate transitional provisions to give sufficient time for the adoption of the necessary delegated acts further specifying such requirements. Given the amendments introduced by this Regulation with regard to the procedure concerning the freedom to provide services in another Member State, it is also appropriate to clarify the rules that should apply to the provision of services by CSDs in Member States other than the home Member State and the setting up of a branch in another Member State. Given the amendments introduced by this Regulation with regard to the frequency and content of the reports that ESMA is to submit to the Commission, the application of the provisions governing the content of some of those reports should be deferred to ensure that ESMA has sufficient time to prepare the new reports and that only the reports that are to be prepared under the existing provisions will be required to be submitted by 30 April 2024.
- (49) Regulations (EU) No 909/2014 and (EU) No 236/2012 should therefore be amended accordingly,

HAVE ADOPTED THIS REGULATION:

Article 1

(a) point (26) is replaced by the following:

‘(26) “default” means, in relation to a participant, a situation where insolvency proceedings, as defined in Article 2, point (j), of Directive 98/26/EC, are opened against a participant or an event defined in the CSD’s internal rules as constituting a default;’;

- (50) “deferred net settlement” means a settlement mechanism whereby cash or securities transfer orders in relation to securities transactions of the participants in the securities settlement system are subject to netting, and whereby settlement of participants’ net claims and obligations takes place at the end of predefined settlement cycles during or at the end of the business day.

* Directive 2004/109/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 15 December 2004 on the harmonisation of transparency requirements in relation to information about issuers whose securities are admitted to trading on a regulated market and amending Directive 2001/34/EC (OJ L 390, 31.12.2004, p. 38).’;

(2) in Article 6(5), the first and second subparagraphs are replaced by the following:

- ‘5. ESMA shall, in close cooperation with the members of the ESCB, develop draft regulatory technical standards to specify the measures to prevent settlement fails in order to increase settlement efficiency and in particular:
- (a) the measures to be taken by investment firms in accordance with paragraph 2, first subparagraph;
  - (b) the details of the procedures that facilitate settlement referred to in paragraph 3, which could include the shaping of transaction sizes, partial settlement of failing trades and the use of auto-lend/borrow programmes provided by certain CSDs; and
  - (c) the details of the measures to encourage and incentivise the timely settlement of transactions referred to in paragraph 4.

ESMA shall submit those draft regulatory technical standards to the Commission by ... [18 months from the date of entry into force of this amending Regulation].’;

(3) Article 7 is replaced by the following:

‘Article 7

Measures to address settlement fails

1. For each securities settlement system it operates, a CSD shall establish a system that monitors settlement fails of transactions in financial instruments referred to in Article 5(1). The CSD shall provide regular reports to the competent authority and relevant authorities as to the number and details of settlement fails and any other relevant information, including the measures envisaged by the CSD and its participants to improve settlement efficiency. Those reports shall be made public by the CSD in an aggregated and anonymised form on an annual basis. The competent authorities shall share with ESMA any relevant information on settlement fails.
2. For each securities settlement system it operates, a CSD shall establish procedures that facilitate the settlement of transactions in financial instruments referred to in Article 5(1) that are not settled on the intended settlement date. Those procedures shall provide for a penalty mechanism that serves as an effective deterrent to participants that cause settlement fails.

Before establishing the procedures referred to in the first subparagraph, a CSD shall consult the relevant trading venues and CCPs in respect of which it provides settlement services.

The penalty mechanism referred to in the first subparagraph shall include cash penalties for participants that cause settlement fails (“failing participants”). Cash penalties shall be calculated on a daily basis for each business day that a transaction fails to be settled after its intended settlement date until the transaction is either settled or bilaterally cancelled. The cash penalties shall not be configured as a revenue source for the CSD.

3. The penalty mechanism referred to in paragraph 2 shall not apply to:
  - (a) settlement fails the underlying cause of which is not attributable to the participants in the transaction;
  - (b) operations that are not considered as trading;
  - (c) transactions where the failing participant is a CCP, except for transactions entered into by a CCP where it does not interpose itself between the counterparties; or
  - (d) transactions where insolvency proceedings are opened against the failing participant.
4. A CCP may establish in its rules a mechanism to cover losses that it could incur resulting from the application of paragraph 2, third subparagraph.

5. The Commission shall be empowered to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 67 to supplement this Regulation by specifying parameters for the calculation of a deterrent and proportionate level of the cash penalties referred to in paragraph 2, third subparagraph, of this Article based on all of the following:
- (a) asset type;
  - (b) liquidity of the financial instrument;
  - (c) type of transaction;
  - (d) duration of the settlement fail.

When specifying the parameters referred to in the first subparagraph, the Commission shall take into account the level of settlement fails per class of financial instruments and the effect that low or negative interest rates could have on the incentives of counterparties and on settlement fails. The parameters used for the calculation of cash penalties shall ensure a high degree of settlement discipline and the smooth and orderly functioning of the financial markets concerned.

The Commission shall review the parameters for the calculation of the level of the cash penalties on a regular basis and at least every four years in order to reassess the appropriateness and effectiveness of the cash penalties in achieving a level of settlement fails in the Union deemed to be acceptable having regard to the impact on the financial stability of the Union.

6. By ... [two years from the date of entry into force of this amending Regulation], ESMA shall publish and keep updated on its website a list of the financial instruments referred to in Article 5(1) which are admitted to trading or traded on a trading venue or cleared by a CCP.
7. CSDs, CCPs and trading venues shall establish procedures that enable them to suspend, in consultation with their respective competent authorities, any participant that fails consistently and systematically to deliver the financial instruments referred to in Article 5(1) on the intended settlement date and to disclose to the public its identity only after giving that participant the opportunity to submit its observations and provided that the competent authorities of the CSDs, CCPs and trading venues, and of that participant have been duly informed. In addition to consulting before any suspension, CSDs, CCPs and trading venues shall notify, without delay, the respective competent authorities of the suspension of a participant. The competent authority shall immediately inform the relevant authorities of the suspension of a participant.

Public disclosure of suspensions shall not contain personal data as defined in Article 4, point (1), of Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council*.

This paragraph shall not apply to failing participants which are CCPs or in cases where insolvency proceedings are opened against the failing participant.

8. This Article shall not apply where the principal venue for the trading of shares is located in a third country. The location of the principal venue for the trading of shares shall be determined in accordance with Article 16 of Regulation (EU) No 236/2012.
9. The Commission shall be empowered to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 67 to supplement this Regulation by specifying:
  - (a) the underlying causes of settlement fails that are considered as not attributable to the participants in the transaction under paragraph 3, point (a), of this Article; and
  - (b) the circumstances in which operations are not considered as trading under paragraph 3, point (b), of this Article.

10. ESMA shall, in close cooperation with the members of the ESCB, develop draft regulatory technical standards to specify:
- (a) the details of the system monitoring settlement fails and the reports on settlement fails referred to in paragraph 1;
  - (b) the processes for collection and redistribution of cash penalties and any other possible proceeds from such penalties in accordance with paragraph 2;
  - (c) the conditions under which a participant is deemed to fail, consistently and systematically, to deliver the financial instruments as referred to in paragraph 7.

ESMA shall submit those draft regulatory technical standards to the Commission by ... [1 year from the date of entry into force of this amending Regulation].

Power is delegated to the Commission to supplement this Regulation by adopting the regulatory technical standards referred to in the first subparagraph in accordance with Articles 10 to 14 of Regulation (EU) No 1095/2010.

Article 7a

Mandatory buy-in process

1. Without prejudice to the penalty mechanism referred to in Article 7(2) and the right to bilaterally cancel the transaction, after consulting the European Systemic Risk Board and based on the cost-benefit analysis provided by ESMA pursuant to Article 74(4), the Commission may, by means of an implementing act, decide to which of the financial instruments referred to in Article 5(1), or categories of transactions in those financial instruments, the mandatory buy-in process referred to in paragraphs 4 to 10 of this Article is to be applied where the Commission considers that mandatory buy-ins constitute a necessary, appropriate and proportionate means to address the level of settlement fails in the Union.

The Commission may adopt the implementing act referred to in the first subparagraph only if both of the following conditions are met:

- (a) the application of the penalty mechanism referred to in Article 7(2) has not resulted in a long-term sustainable reduction of settlement fails in the Union or in maintaining a reduced level of settlement fails in the Union, even after a review of the level of cash penalties in accordance with Article 7(5), second subparagraph;

- (b) the level of settlement fails in the Union has or is likely to have a negative effect on the financial stability of the Union.

For the purposes of reaching the decision referred to in the first subparagraph, the Commission shall take into account all of the following:

- (a) the potential impact of the mandatory buy-in process on financial markets in the Union;
- (b) the number, volume and duration of settlement fails, including the number and volume of settlement fails outstanding at the end of the extension period referred to in paragraph 4;
- (c) whether a particular financial instrument or category of transactions in that financial instrument is already subject to appropriate contractual provisions that provide a right for receiving participants to trigger a buy-in.

The implementing act shall be adopted in accordance with the examination procedure referred to in Article 68(2). It shall specify a date of application that is not earlier than one year after its entry into force.

2. ESMA shall publish and keep updated on its website a list of the financial instruments determined by the implementing act referred to in paragraph 1.

3. Before adopting the implementing act referred to in paragraph 1, the Commission shall:
  - (a) assess the effectiveness and proportionality of the penalty mechanism referred to in Article 7(2) and, where appropriate, change the structure or severity of the penalty mechanism in order to increase settlement efficiency in the Union;
  - (b) consider whether the conditions referred to in paragraph 1 are met, despite the prior application of the penalty mechanism referred to in Article 7(2) and the rationale for, and potential cost implications of, subjecting specific financial instruments and categories of transactions to mandatory buy-ins.

4. Without prejudice to the right to bilaterally cancel the transaction, where the Commission has adopted an implementing act pursuant to paragraph 1 and where a failing participant has not delivered the financial instruments covered by that implementing act to the receiving participant within a period after the intended settlement date (“extension period”) of 5 business days, a mandatory buy-in process shall be initiated.

By way of derogation from the first subparagraph, based on the asset type and liquidity of the financial instruments concerned, the extension period may be increased to a maximum of 7 business days where a shorter extension period would affect the smooth and orderly functioning of the markets concerned.

By way of derogation from the first and second subparagraphs, where the transaction relates to a financial instrument traded on an SME growth market, the extension period shall be 15 business days unless the SME growth market decides to apply a shorter period.

5. The instruments subject to the mandatory buy-in process shall be available for settlement and delivered to the receiving participant within an appropriate timeframe.
6. Where there is a settlement fail in a chain of transactions resulting in settlement fails of subsequent transactions in the chain, each participant shall have the right to pass on their obligation to initiate the mandatory buy-in to the next participant in the chain.

The intermediate receiving participant shall be considered as complying with the obligation to execute a mandatory buy-in against the failing participant where it passes on its obligation in accordance with the first subparagraph. The intermediate receiving participant may also pass on to the failing participant its obligations towards the end receiving participant pursuant to paragraphs 8, 9 and 10.

The relevant CSD shall be informed about how the failed transaction was resolved throughout the chain of transactions.

7. The mandatory buy-in process referred to in paragraph 4 shall not apply to:
  - (a) the settlement fails, operations and transactions listed in Article 7(3);
  - (b) securities financing transactions;
  - (c) other types of transactions that render the buy-in process unnecessary;
  - (d) transactions that fall within the scope of Article 15 of Regulation (EU) No 236/2012.

8. Without prejudice to the penalty mechanism referred to in Article 7(2), where the price of the financial instruments agreed at the time of the trade is different from the price paid for the execution of the buy-in, the difference shall be paid by the participant benefitting from the price difference to the other participant no later than on the second business day after the financial instruments have been delivered following the buy-in.

9. If the buy-in fails or is not possible, the receiving participant may choose either to be paid cash compensation or to defer the execution of the buy-in to an appropriate later date (“deferral period”). If the relevant financial instruments are not delivered to the receiving participant by the end of the deferral period, cash compensation shall be paid to the receiving participant.

Cash compensation shall be paid no later than on the second business day after the end of either the mandatory buy-in process referred to in paragraph 4 or, in cases where the receiving participant chooses to defer the execution of the buy-in, the deferral period.

10. The failing participant shall reimburse the entity that executes the buy-in for all amounts paid in connection with the mandatory buy-in process initiated pursuant to paragraph 4, first subparagraph, including any execution fees resulting from the buy-in. Such fees shall be clearly disclosed to the participants.
11. Paragraphs 4 to 10 shall apply to all transactions of the financial instruments referred to in Article 5(1) which are admitted to trading or traded on a trading venue or cleared by a CCP as follows:
  - (a) for transactions cleared by a CCP, the CCP shall be the entity that executes the buy-in according to paragraphs 4 to 10;
  - (b) for transactions not cleared by a CCP, but executed on a trading venue, the trading venue shall include in its internal rules an obligation for its members and its participants to apply the measures referred to in paragraphs 4 to 10;

- (c) for all transactions other than those referred to in points (a) and (b) of this subparagraph, CSDs shall include in their internal rules an obligation for their participants to be subject to the measures referred to in paragraphs 4 to 10.

A CSD shall provide the necessary settlement information to CCPs and trading venues to enable them to fulfil their obligations under this paragraph.

Without prejudice to points (a), (b) and (c) of the first subparagraph, CSDs may monitor the execution of buy-ins as referred to in those points with respect to multiple settlement instructions, on the same financial instruments and with the same date of expiry of the execution period, with the aim of minimising the number of buy-ins to be executed and thus the impact on the prices of the relevant financial instruments.

12. This Article shall not apply where the principal venue for the trading of shares is located in a third country. The location of the principal venue for the trading of shares shall be determined in accordance with Article 16 of Regulation (EU) No 236/2012.

13. ESMA may recommend that the Commission suspend in a proportionate way the buy-in mechanism referred to in paragraphs 4 to 10 for specific categories of financial instruments where necessary to avoid or address a serious threat to financial stability or to the orderly functioning of financial markets in the Union. Such recommendation shall be accompanied by a fully reasoned assessment of its necessity and shall not be made public.

Before making the recommendation referred to in the first subparagraph, ESMA shall consult the members of the ESCB and the European Systemic Risk Board.

The Commission shall, without undue delay after receipt of the recommendation, on the basis of the reasons and evidence provided by ESMA, either suspend the mandatory buy-in mechanism referred to in paragraphs 4 to 10 for the specific categories of financial instruments by means of an implementing act, or reject the recommended suspension. Where the Commission rejects the recommended suspension, it shall provide the reasons therefor in writing to ESMA. Such information shall not be made public.

The implementing act referred to in the third subparagraph shall be adopted in accordance with the procedure referred to in Article 68(3).

The suspension of the mandatory buy-in mechanism shall be communicated to ESMA and shall be published in the Official Journal of the European Union and on the Commission's website.

The suspension of the mandatory buy-in mechanism shall be valid for an initial period of no more than six months from the date of application of that suspension.

Where the grounds for the suspension continue to apply, the Commission may, by way of an implementing act, extend the suspension for additional periods of no more than three months each, with the total period of the suspension not exceeding 12 months. Any extensions of the suspension shall be published in accordance with the fifth subparagraph.

The implementing act referred to in the seventh subparagraph shall be adopted in accordance with the procedure referred to in Article 68(3). ESMA shall, in sufficient time before the end of the suspension referred to in the sixth subparagraph or of the extension referred to in the seventh subparagraph, issue an opinion to the Commission on whether the grounds for the suspension continue to apply.

14. Where the Commission has adopted an implementing act in accordance with paragraph 1, it shall review that decision on a regular basis and at least every four years in order to assess whether the conditions set out in that paragraph remain fulfilled.

Where the Commission considers that mandatory buy-ins are no longer justified or do not address settlement fails in the Union and are no longer necessary, appropriate or proportionate, it shall, without delay, adopt implementing acts amending or repealing the implementing act referred to in paragraph 1.

The implementing act referred to in the second subparagraph shall be adopted in accordance with the examination procedure referred to in Article 68(2).

Where ESMA considers that mandatory buy-ins are no longer justified or do not address settlement fails in the Union and are no longer necessary, appropriate or proportionate, it may recommend that the Commission amend or repeal the implementing act referred to in paragraph 1. Paragraph 13, first to fourth subparagraphs, shall apply mutatis mutandis.

  - (a) the details of the operation of the appropriate buy-in process referred to in paragraphs 4 to 10, including appropriate timeframes, calibrated taking into account the asset type and liquidity of the financial instruments, for the delivery of the financial instrument following the buy-in process;

- (b) the circumstances under which the extension period could be prolonged according to asset type and liquidity of the financial instruments, in accordance with the conditions referred to in paragraph 4, second subparagraph, taking into account the criteria for assessing liquidity under Article 2(1), point (17), of Regulation (EU) No 600/2014;
- (c) the details of the pass-on mechanism under paragraph 6;
- (d) other types of transactions that render the buy-in process unnecessary as referred to in paragraph 7, point (c), such as financial collateral arrangements or transactions that include close-out netting provisions;
- (e) a methodology for the calculation of the cash compensation referred to in paragraph 9;
- (f) the necessary settlement information referred to in paragraph 11, second subparagraph; and
- (g) the details of how the participants of the CSDs, the CCPs and the trading venue members are to take into account the specificities of retail investors when executing the mandatory buy-in in accordance with paragraph 11.

ESMA shall submit those draft regulatory technical standards to the Commission by ... [1 year from the date of entry into force of this amending Regulation].

Power is delegated to the Commission to supplement this Regulation by adopting the regulatory technical standards referred to in the first subparagraph in accordance with Articles 10 to 14 of Regulation (EU) No 1095/2010.

* Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46/EC (General Data Protection Regulation) (OJ L 119, 4.5.2016, p. 1).’;

(4) in Article 12(1), points (b) and (c) are replaced by the following:

‘(b) the central banks in the Union issuing the most relevant currencies in which settlement takes or will take place;

(c) where relevant, the central bank in the Union in whose books the cash payments of a securities settlement system operated by the CSD is or will be settled.’;

(a) in paragraph 2, the following subparagraph is added:

‘By way of derogation from the first subparagraph, where an applicant CSD does not comply with all requirements of this Regulation, but where it can reasonably be assumed that it will do so when it commences its activities, the competent authority may grant the authorisation subject to the condition that the applicant CSD has all the necessary arrangements in place to comply with the requirements of this Regulation when it commences its activities.’;

(b) paragraph 4 is replaced by the following:

‘4. From the moment when the application is considered to be complete, the competent authority shall transmit all information included in the application to the relevant authorities and consult those authorities concerning the features of the securities settlement system operated by the applicant CSD.

Each relevant authority may issue a reasoned opinion within its areas of competence to the competent authority within three months of receipt of the information by the relevant authority. Where a relevant authority does not provide an opinion within that timeframe it shall be deemed to have issued a positive opinion.

Where at least one of the relevant authorities issues a negative reasoned opinion, and the competent authority nevertheless intends to grant the authorisation, that competent authority shall, within one month of receipt of the negative opinion, provide the relevant authorities with the reasons why it intends to grant the authorisation notwithstanding the negative opinion.

Any of the relevant authorities that issued a negative opinion referred to in the third subparagraph may refer the matter to ESMA for assistance under Article 31(2), point (c), of Regulation (EU) No 1095/2010.

Where the issue is not settled within one month of the referral to ESMA, the competent authority intending to grant the authorisation shall take a final decision and provide the relevant authorities with a detailed explanation of its decision in writing.

Where the competent authority intends to refuse authorisation, the matter shall not be referred to ESMA.

A negative opinion referred to in the third subparagraph shall state in writing the full and detailed reasons why the requirements laid down in this Regulation or other requirements of Union law are not met.’;

(c) the following paragraph is inserted:

‘7a. In addition to consulting the competent authorities referred to in paragraph 6, the competent authority may, before granting authorisation to the applicant CSD, consult other authorities supervising an entity that has a qualifying holding in the applicant CSD on the matters referred to in paragraph 7.’;

(d) the following paragraph is inserted:

‘8a. The competent authority shall, without undue delay, inform the authorities consulted pursuant to paragraphs 4 to 7a of the results of the authorisation process, including any remedial actions.’;

(6) in Article 19, paragraph 2 is replaced by the following:

‘2. The granting of an authorisation to outsource a core service to a third party pursuant to paragraph 1 or to extend activities pursuant to paragraph 1, points (a), (c) and (d), shall follow the procedure laid down in Article 17.

The granting of an authorisation under paragraph 1, point (b), shall follow the procedure laid down in Article 17(1), (2), (3), (5) and (8a).

The granting of an authorisation under paragraph 1, point (e), shall follow the procedure laid down in Article 17(1), (2) and (3).

The competent authority shall inform the applicant CSD whether the authorisation has been granted or refused within three months of submission of a complete application.’;

(7) in Article 20, paragraph 5 is replaced by the following:

‘5. A CSD shall establish, implement and maintain adequate procedures ensuring the timely and orderly settlement and transfer of the assets of clients and participants to another CSD in the event of a withdrawal of authorisation referred to in paragraph 1. Such procedures shall include the transfer of issuance accounts or similar records evidencing the issuance of securities, and records linked to the provision of the core services referred to in Section A, points 1 and 2, of the Annex.’;

(a) paragraph 1 is replaced by the following:

‘1. The competent authority shall review the arrangements, strategies, processes and mechanisms implemented by a CSD, including the plans referred to in Article 22a, with respect to compliance with this Regulation and evaluate the risks to which the CSD is, or might be, exposed or which it creates for the smooth functioning of securities markets or stability of the financial markets.

The competent authority shall establish the frequency and depth of the review and evaluation referred to in the first subparagraph having regard to the size, systemic importance, risk profile, nature, scale and complexity of the activities of the CSD concerned.

The review and evaluation shall take place at least every three years.’;

(b) paragraphs 2, 3 and 4 are deleted;

(c) paragraphs 6 and 7 are replaced by the following:

‘6. When performing the review and evaluation referred to in paragraph 1, the competent authority shall, at an early stage, transmit the necessary information to the relevant authorities and, where applicable, the authority referred to in Article 67 of Directive 2014/65/EU, and consult them on whether the requirements of this Regulation or other requirements of Union law are met by the CSD as regards the functioning of the securities settlement systems operated by the CSD.

The consulted authorities may issue a reasoned opinion within their areas of competence within three months of receipt of the information from the competent authority.

Where a consulted authority does not provide an opinion within that deadline it shall be deemed to have issued a positive opinion.

Where a consulted authority issues a negative reasoned opinion and the competent authority disagrees with it, that competent authority shall, within one month of receipt of the negative opinion, provide the consulted authority with a reasoning addressing the negative opinion.

Any of the consulted authorities that issued a negative opinion may refer the matter to ESMA for assistance under Article 31(2), point (c), of Regulation (EU) No 1095/2010.

2. Any natural or legal person or such persons acting in concert (the “proposed acquirer”), who have taken a decision either to acquire, directly or indirectly, a qualifying holding in a CSD or to further increase, directly or indirectly, such a qualifying holding in a CSD as a result of which the proportion of the voting rights or of the capital held would reach or exceed 10 %, 20 %, 30 % or 50 % or would lead to the CSD becoming its subsidiary (the “proposed acquisition”), shall first notify the competent authority of that CSD in writing thereof, indicating the size of the intended holding and relevant information, as referred to in Article 27b(4).

Any natural or legal person who has taken a decision to dispose, directly or indirectly, of a qualifying holding in a CSD (the “proposed vendor”) shall first notify the competent authority in writing thereof, indicating the size of such holding. Such a person shall likewise notify the competent authority where it has taken a decision to reduce a qualifying holding so that the proportion of the voting rights or of the capital held would fall below 10 %, 20 %, 30 % or 50 % or so that the CSD would cease to be that person’s subsidiary.

Such a request shall be made in writing and shall specify the additional information needed.

The assessment period shall be suspended for the period between the date of the request for information by the competent authority and the receipt of a response thereto by the proposed acquirer. The suspension shall not exceed 20 working days. Any further requests by the competent authority for completion or clarification of the information shall be at its discretion but shall not result in a suspension of the assessment period.

5. The competent authority may extend the suspension referred to in paragraph 4, second subparagraph, to up to 30 working days where the proposed acquirer is situated or regulated outside the Union or is a natural or legal person not subject to supervision under this Regulation or under Regulation (EU) No 648/2012 or under Directive 2009/65/EC*, 2009/138/EC** or 2011/61/EU*** of the European Parliament and of the Council, or Directive 2013/36/EU or 2014/65/EU.

8. The competent authority may fix a maximum period for concluding the proposed acquisition and may extend that period where appropriate.

9. Member States shall not impose requirements for notification to, and approval by, the competent authority of direct or indirect acquisitions of voting rights or capital that are more stringent than those set out in this Regulation.

Assessment

1. When assessing the notification provided for in Article 27a(2) and the information referred to in Article 27a(4), the competent authority shall, in order to ensure the sound and prudent management of the CSD in which an acquisition is proposed and having regard to the likely influence of the proposed acquirer on the CSD, assess the suitability of the proposed acquirer and the financial soundness of the proposed acquisition against all of the following:
  - (a) the reputation and financial soundness of the proposed acquirer;
  - (b) the reputation, knowledge, skills and experience of any person who will direct the business of the CSD as a result of the proposed acquisition;
  - (c) whether the CSD will be able to comply and continue to comply with this Regulation;

When assessing the financial soundness of the proposed acquirer, the competent authority shall pay particular attention to the type of business pursued and envisaged in the CSD in which the acquisition is proposed.

When assessing the CSD's ability to comply with this Regulation, the competent authority shall pay particular attention to whether the group of which it will become a part has a structure that makes it possible to exercise effective supervision, to effectively exchange information among the competent authorities and to determine the allocation of responsibilities among the competent authorities.

4. Member States shall make available to the public a list specifying the information that is necessary to carry out the assessment and that shall be provided to the competent authorities at the time of the notification referred to in Article 27a(2). The information required shall be proportionate and shall be adapted to the nature of the proposed acquirer and the proposed acquisition. Member States shall not require information that is not relevant for a prudential assessment.
5. Notwithstanding Article 27a(2) to (5), where two or more proposals to acquire or increase qualifying holdings in the same CSD have been notified to the competent authority, the latter shall treat the proposed acquirers in a non-discriminatory manner.
6. The competent authorities shall, without undue delay, provide each other with any information which is essential for or relevant to the assessment. The competent authorities shall, upon request, communicate all relevant information to each other and shall communicate all essential information at their own initiative. A decision by the competent authority that has authorised the CSD in which the acquisition is proposed shall indicate any views or reservations expressed by the competent authority responsible for the proposed acquirer.

7. ESMA shall, in close cooperation with EBA, issue guidelines in accordance with Article 16 of Regulation (EU) No 1095/2010 on the assessment of suitability of any person who will direct the business of the CSD, as well as on the procedural rules and evaluation criteria for the prudential assessment of direct or indirect acquisitions of, and increases in, holdings in CSDs.
