Proposal for a

REGULATION OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND OF THE COUNCIL

amending Regulations  (EU) 2016/424, (EU) 2016/425, (EU) 2016/426, (EU) 2023/1230, (EU) 2023/1542 and (EU) 2024/1781 as regards digitalisation and common specifications

(Text with EEA relevance)

THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN UNION,

Having regard to the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union, and in particular Article 114 thereof,

Having regard to the proposal from the European Commission,

After transmission of the draft legislative act to the national parliaments,

Having regard to the opinion of the European Economic and Social Committee¹,

Acting in accordance with the ordinary legislative procedure,

Whereas:

- (1) Reporting requirements play a key role in ensuring proper monitoring and correct enforcement of legislation. The overall costs of reporting are balanced by the benefits they bring, in particular for ensuring compliance with key policy measures. However, in order to ensure that they fulfil their intended purpose and to limit the administrative burden, it is important to streamline those requirements.

- (2) In its Communication on ‘Long-term competitiveness of the EU: looking beyond 2030’, the Commission has committed to rationalise and simplify reporting requirements, with the aim to reduce such burdens by 25%, without undermining the related policy objectives.
- (3) In its Better regulation Guidelines, the Commission promotes the ‘digital by default’ principle to support digital transformations, by facilitating digital-ready policies which consider the fast-evolving world of digitalisation and technology, and which are digital, interoperable, future-proof and agile by default.
- (4) The increasing importance of digitalisation in simplifying regulatory frameworks necessitates the reduction, harmonisation and modernisation of reporting requirements and economic operators’ obligations. In line with the efforts to accelerate digitalisation, it is essential to fully digitalise business-to-authority reporting and economic operators’ obligations when they do not affect protection and safety of consumers or require an excessive burden for the economic operators. Embracing digitalisation will not only simplify compliance procedures but also enhance the overall efficiency of the regulatory framework, ultimately benefiting both businesses and authorities alike. A smooth transition should be pursued.
- (4a) The Commission and the Member States are encouraged to provide guidance and practical support, and to promote the development of streamlined and standardised digital tools, with a view to facilitating the digital transition of companies, in particular SMEs and micro-enterprises.
- (5) A number of sectoral Union legal acts lay down harmonised rules regarding the obligations of economic operators when placing a product on the market or putting it into service. Such legal acts include Regulations (EU) 2016/424², (EU) 2016/425³, (EU) 2016/426⁴,

³ Regulation (EU) 2016/425 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 9 March 2016 on personal protective equipment and repealing Council Directive 89/686/EEC (OJ L 81, 31.3.2016, p. 51, ELI: <http://data.europa.eu/eli/reg/2016/425/oj>).

⁴ Regulation (EU) 2016/426 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 9 March 2016 on appliances burning gaseous fuels and repealing Directive 2009/142/EC (OJ L 81, 31.3.2016, p. 99, ELI: <http://data.europa.eu/eli/reg/2016/426/oj>).

(EU) 2023/1230⁵, (EU) 2023/1542⁶ and (EU) 2024/1781⁷ of the European Parliament and of the Council (the ‘Regulations concerned’). The Regulations concerned are based on the principles of the ‘new approach’ to technical harmonisation and are aligned with the reference provisions laid down in Decision No 768/2008/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council⁸.

- (6) In accordance with the Regulations concerned, manufacturers are to draw up an EU declaration of conformity stating that the fulfilment of essential requirements set out in the applicable Regulations has been demonstrated. In order to enable seamless electronic processes, the EU declaration of conformity should be drawn up only in electronic form.
- (7) Moreover, Regulations (EU) 2016/424, (EU) 2016/425, (EU) 2016/426, and (EU) 2023/1230 require that a copy of the declaration of conformity accompanies the product. Considering the evolution of digitalisation, it is essential to modernise this obligation by requiring that such EU declaration of conformity ■ accompany the product in electronic form. The manufacturer should therefore ensure that the EU declaration of conformity is directly accessible through an internet address or a machine-readable code meaning that intermediate steps, such as the number of landing pages, should be minimised as much as possible. Such a direct access should be free of charge, without the need for login procedures, providing any personal data, downloading or using additional applications specific to the economic operator or the obligation to register solely to access the EU declaration of conformity.

- (8) Taking into account that in 2024 no less than 94% of EU households had access to internet, the availability of product instructions in digital format offers an opportunity to align with current technologies and contribute to green objectives . In light of this, the possibility for a digital format of the instructions should be introduced in the Regulations concerned. This will allow manufacturers to provide instructions in digital format, if they wish to do so. Where manufacturers choose to provide instructions in digital format, specific safeguards for consumers should ensure that they, as non-professional users, are still able to access and understand the information, in contrast to professional users, who are expected to possess the expertise and knowledge necessary for the correct use and handling of products. In that spirit , where a product is used solely by professional users, namely persons acquiring the product as professional end-users in the course of their industrial or professional activities, safety information, including instructions that have an impact on the safe use of the product, might be provided in digital format. In contrast, the safety information should always be provided in paper format or marked on the product where it is reasonably foreseeable that a product, even if primarily intended for professional use, could also be used by consumers. Moreover, end-users should be able to obtain a paper copy of the instructions for use or safety information, upon request – at the time of the purchase and for a certain period of time after their purchase.
- (8a) The definition of ‘consumer’ forms part of the notion of ‘end user’ as laid down in Regulation (EU) 2019/1020 of the European Parliament and of the Council, which applies to the Regulations concerned, and refers to any natural person acting for purposes outside their trade, business, craft or profession. This requirement ensures that all consumers, including vulnerable consumers such as elderly persons, persons with disabilities or those with limited digital literacy, are able to access and understand the safety information.
- (8b) Regulation (EU) 2016/425 contains certain sectoral specificities. In order to protect the safety of consumers, where the product is intended for, or can be reasonably foreseen to be used by, consumers, all the instructions and information set out in point 1.4 of Annex II, which are related to the safe use of the product, should be provided in a paper format or made visible on the packaging.

- (8c) In order to ensure that all consumers, including those who may not have regular access to digital tools, can effectively exercise their right to obtain the instructions or safety information in paper format, manufacturers may still provide additional accessible means of communication for submitting such requests, including by telephone. This is particularly important for elderly consumers and other groups at risk of digital exclusion. End-users should also be clearly informed, in the safety information accompanying the product, of their right to request the instructions or safety information in paper format.
- (8d) Manufacturers should, where relevant, ensure that instructions and safety information provided in digital format take into account the requirements set out in Annex I of Directive (EU) 2019/882 of the European Parliament and of the Council, insofar as the products fall within the scope of that Directive, so that all end-users, including persons with disabilities, are able to access, understand and use the safety information and instructions. Other categories, such as elderly persons or persons with limited digital literacy, may also benefit from these provisions.
- (8e) Manufacturers can offer alternative means to deliver the instructions on paper directly to the end-user, free of charge and without imposing any obligation on distributors which are not required to print the instructions, unless they choose to do so voluntarily.
- (8f) When providing the instructions and safety information in electronic form, the manufacturer should ensure that those instructions and safety information are directly accessible through an internet address or a machine-readable code, meaning that intermediate steps, such as the number of landing pages, should be minimised as much as possible. Such a direct access should be free of charge, without the need for login procedures, providing any personal data, downloading or using additional applications specific to the economic operator or the obligation to register solely to access the instructions and safety information. This is in line with the overarching vision of digital inclusion, as set out in the European Declaration on Digital Rights and Principles for the Digital Decade, notably chapter II on Solidarity and inclusion.

- (8g) Given the shift towards digital information for consumers, when evaluating the implementation of the Regulations amended by this Regulation, where appropriate, the Commission should also assess whether the provisions concerning instructions in digital format are effectively ensuring that such information remains easily accessible and comprehensible for consumers.
- (8h) The possibility for the end-user to request the instructions or safety information in paper format should not preclude manufacturers from providing supplementary information materials in an electronic-only format, such as video or audio content, which cannot be reproduced in a paper format. The same content should be provided in paper format and in the materials provided in electronic format.
- (9) In order to facilitate communication between economic operators and national competent authorities and end-users, the indication of a digital contact of the manufacturer on the product and in the EU declaration of conformity is necessary to enhance the effectiveness of market surveillance and to expedite the process of tracing non-compliant products. Currently, economic operators are required to indicate their postal address on the product, but this is not always sufficient to ensure that competent authorities can establish rapid contact. It is therefore necessary to require economic operators to provide both a postal address and a digital contact on the product and in the EU declaration of conformity. Such digital contact should be defined in the Regulations concerned. The digital contact should allow consumers and competent authorities to contact economic operators directly, and should be accessible free of charge, without the need for login procedures, provide any personal data, download or use additional applications specific to the economic operator or the obligation to register solely to contact the economic operator. Such digital contact may include, for example, an email address or a contact form on a website, or any other direct means of digital communication without intermediate steps which allow for traceability of exchanges and should be interpreted in a technologically neutral manner. However, it should not be understood as encompassing automatic replies to queries, chatbots, fax numbers, or telephone lines.
- (9a) The term ‘digital contact’, similarly to the term ‘electronic address’ in Regulation (EU) 2023/988 of the European Parliament and of the Council, should be interpreted in a technologically neutral manner, capable of evolving with future technological developments, and should cover all forms of direct digital communication.

- (10) The Regulations concerned require that economic operators provide, upon a reasoned request from a competent national authority, all information and documentation necessary to demonstrate the conformity of the concerned products with the respective Regulations, in paper or electronic form. The paper-based form is becoming less important, while electronic communication enhances interaction between authorities and businesses, streamlining processes and reducing administrative burdens. In order to achieve the digitalisation of reporting requirements and to reduce administrative burden for economic operators, in particular SMEs, and competent authorities, the economic operators should be required to provide the necessary information and documentation in electronic form only. Documentation provided in electronic form could be made available, for example, in a digital printable format, which allows the possibility to print, download and save the documentation on an electronic device.
- (11) The current Union standardisation framework, which is based on Regulation (EU) No 1025/2012 of the European Parliament and of the Council⁹, represents the framework by default to elaborate standards that provide for a presumption of conformity with the relevant essential health and safety or other requirements. However, where no harmonised standards exist or where they are insufficient, the Commission should be able to adopt implementing acts establishing common specifications for the essential health and safety or other requirements, as an exceptional fall-back solution to facilitate the manufacturer's obligation to comply with those health and safety or other requirements. Several legislative acts already contain such an option to provide businesses with legal predictability and prove compliance with Union law, to cater for such situations. Compliance with common specifications remains purely voluntary for manufacturers, who may rely on them to benefit from a presumption of conformity or choose other appropriate methods to demonstrate compliance with Union requirements.

⁹ Regulation (EU) No 1025/2012 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 25 October 2012 on European standardisation, amending Council Directives 89/686/EEC and 93/15/EEC and Directives 94/9/EC, 94/25/EC, 95/16/EC, 97/23/EC, 98/34/EC, 2004/22/EC, 2007/23/EC, 2009/23/EC and 2009/105/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council and repealing Council Decision 87/95/EEC and Decision No 1673/2006/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council (OJ L 316, 14.11.2012, p. 12, ELI: <http://data.europa.eu/eli/reg/2012/1025/oj>).

(11a) Where the lack of cooperation by international standardisation organisations prevents European standardisation organisations from adopting relevant international standards as harmonised standards, and where such situation cannot be adequately mitigated by alternative measures, implementing powers should be conferred on the Commission to adopt, as a measure of last resort, common specifications without prior request to one or more European standardisation organisations to draft or to revise harmonised standards. In view of the upcoming revision of the standardisation regulation, it is appropriate to limit the scope of the last resort clause to a limited period of time. When the Commission drafts such implementing acts, all relevant information concerning the third parties contracted for supporting the drafting process of the implementing act should be made public in a timely manner.

(12) As the digital product passport is foreseen in certain Union legislation, such as Regulation (EU) 2023/1542 *of the European Parliament and of the Council*¹⁰, it is essential to require economic operators to store the information contained in the EU declaration of conformity and instructions in the digital product passport where a product is covered by multiple pieces of legislation. This approach would reduce the administrative burden on manufacturers, as they would no longer need to maintain separate storage locations for compliance documents, such as declarations of conformity required under the various pieces of product legislation that may apply to the same product, thereby upholding the principle of a single declaration of conformity. In addition, instructions provided in electronic form would be stored together with the declaration of conformity. By storing the documentation in one place, all necessary documents demonstrating product compliance would be easily accessible, ensuring transparency and facilitating compliance. This streamlined approach would enhance the overall efficiency of the regulatory framework, and it aligns with the principle that where several pieces of Union harmonisation legislation apply to a product, the manufacturer or other economic operator, where appropriate, should provide a single EU declaration of conformity.

- (12a) To ensure regulatory continuity and to allow sufficient time for the adoption of certain acts identified under Article 79 of Regulation (EU) 2024/1781 of the European Parliament and of the Council, it is appropriate to prolong the validity of the transitional continued application of certain provisions of Directive 2009/125/EC until 31 December 2028. This will also support a coherent and effective transition towards the new digital instruments established under the Regulation, in particular the Digital Product Passport.
- (12b) The extension of the transitional continued application of certain provisions of Directive 2009/125/EC should not prevent the Commission from incorporating, where technically feasible, information requirements and data transparency objectives available through the digital product passport in accordance with the Regulation (EU) 2024/1781 [ESPR] into the pending implementing measures.
- (13) Since the objectives of this Regulation cannot be sufficiently achieved by the Member States as this Regulation amends Regulations which are harmonising products legislations but can rather by reason of better harmonisation of EU applicable rules to products, be achieved at Union level, the Union may adopt measures, in accordance with the principle of subsidiarity as set out in Article 5 of the Treaty on European Union. In accordance with the principle of proportionality, as set out in that Article, this Regulation does not go beyond what is necessary in order to achieve those objectives.
- (14) To ensure a smooth and effective transition, to minimize disruptions, and to provide a reasonable timeframe for industries to adjust to the new requirements, the application of the amendments to Regulations (EU) ■ 2016/424, (EU) 2016/425, (EU) 2016/426, (EU) 2019/1009, (EU) 2023/1230, (EU) 2023/1542 and (EU) 2024/1781 concerning digitalisation should be deferred. ■
- (15) In order to enable economic operators to supply stock of products that have been placed on the market before the date of application of amendments to Regulations (EU) ■ 2016/424, (EU) 2016/425, (EU) 2016/426, (EU) 2023/1230, (EU) 2023/1542 and (EU) 2024/1781 concerning digitalisation, it is necessary to provide for reasonable transitional arrangements that do not impede the making available on the market of products that have been placed on the market in accordance with those Regulations in their version applicable before that date.

- (16) Regulations ■ (EU) 2016/424, (EU) 2016/425, (EU) 2016/426 ■ , (EU) 2023/1230, (EU) 2023/1542 and (EU) 2024/1781 should therefore be amended accordingly,

HAVE ADOPTED THIS REGULATION:

Article 2

Amendments to Regulation (EU) 2016/424

Regulation (EU) 2016/424 is amended as follows:

- (1) Article 3 is amended as follows:

- (a) the following point (17a) is inserted:

‘(17a) ‘digital contact’ means any up-to-date and freely accessible online communication channel such as email addresses through which economic operators can be contacted without the need to register or to download or use additional applications specific to the economic operator;’

- (b) the following point (19a) is inserted:

‘(19a) ‘common specification’ means a ■ technical specification, other than a standard, that provide means of complying with the essential requirements set out in Annex II applicable to a subsystem or safety component;’

- (2) Article 11 is amended as follows:

- (a) in paragraph 2, the second subparagraph is replaced by the following:

‘Where compliance of a subsystem or a safety component with the applicable requirements has been demonstrated by the procedure referred to in the first subparagraph, manufacturers shall draw up an EU declaration of conformity as referred to in Article 19, in electronic form, and affix the CE marking referred to in Article 20. ’

- (b) in paragraph 4, first subparagraph, the second sentence is replaced by the following:

‘Changes in subsystem or safety component design or characteristics and changes in the harmonised standards or in the common specifications or in other technical specifications by reference to which the conformity of the subsystem or the safety component is declared shall be adequately taken into account.’

- (c) in paragraph 6, the first and second sentences are replaced by the following:

‘Manufacturers shall indicate on the subsystem or the safety component their name, registered trade name or registered trademark as well as their postal address and digital contact or, where that is not possible, on the packaging or in a document accompanying the subsystem or safety component. The postal address and digital contact shall indicate a single point through which the manufacturer can be contacted.’

- (d) paragraph 7 is replaced by the following:

‘7. Manufacturers shall ensure that the subsystem or the safety component is accompanied by the internet address or machine-readable code through which the EU declaration of conformity can be directly accessed and by the instructions and safety information, in a language which can be easily understood by users, as determined by the Member State concerned. The instructions and safety information may be provided in electronic form. Such instructions and safety information shall be clear, understandable and intelligible.

The manufacturer shall take into account the intended use and the foreseeable user of the subsystem or the safety component when deciding the specific format for the instructions and safety information. When drafting instructions and the safety information, the manufacturers shall take account of the intended use and foreseeable misuse by the user, as well as the role which the instructions play for ensuring safety.

However, where a large number of subsystems or safety components are delivered to a single economic operator or user, the batch or consignment concerned may be accompanied by a single internet address or machine-readable code through which the EU declaration of conformity can be directly accessed.

When the instructions and safety information, referred to in the first subparagraph, are provided in electronic form the manufacturer shall:

- (a) mark on the subsystem or the safety component, or, where that is not possible, on its packaging or in an accompanying document, how to directly access them and how to request them in paper format;
- (b) present them in a format that makes it possible for the user to print and download the instructions and safety information and save them on an electronic device so that the user can access them at all times, in particular during a breakdown of the subsystem or the safety component; this requirement also applies where the instructions and safety information are embedded in the software of the subsystem or the safety component;
- (c) make them accessible online during the expected lifetime of the subsystem or the safety component and for at least 30 years after the placing on the market of the subsystem or the safety component.

However, the user may, at time of the purchase of the subsystem or the safety component, or up to 24 months after that purchase, request the instructions or safety information in paper format. Where the user requests those instructions or safety information, the manufacturer shall provide them to the user, free of charge, within one month of receiving the request.; The safety information shall clearly inform the user of their right to request the instructions in paper format.;

(e) paragraph 9 is replaced by the following:

‘9. Manufacturers shall, further to a reasoned request from a competent national authority, provide it, in electronic form, with all the information and documentation necessary to demonstrate the conformity of the subsystem or the safety component with this Regulation, in a language which can be easily understood by that authority. They shall cooperate with that authority, at its request, on any action taken to eliminate the risks posed by subsystems or safety components which they have placed on the market.;

(3) in Article 12(2), point (b) is replaced by the following:

‘(b) further to a reasoned request from a competent national authority, provide that authority, in electronic form, with all the information and documentation necessary to demonstrate the conformity of the subsystem or the safety component;’

(4) Article 13 is amended as follows:

(a) in paragraph 2, first subparagraph, the second sentence is replaced by the following:

‘They shall ensure that the manufacturer has drawn up the technical documentation, that the subsystem or the safety component bears the CE marking and that it is accompanied by the internet address or machine-readable code through which the EU declaration of conformity can be directly accessed and by the instructions and safety information and, where appropriate, by other required documents, and that the manufacturer has complied with the requirements set out in Article 11(5) and (6). ■

(b) in paragraph 3, first subparagraph, the first sentence is replaced by the following:

‘Importers shall indicate on the subsystem or the safety component their name, registered trade name or registered trademark as well as their postal address and digital contact or, where that is not possible, on its packaging or in a document accompanying the subsystem or safety component.;

(c) paragraph 9 is replaced by the following:

‘9. Importers shall, further to a reasoned request from a competent national authority, provide it, in electronic form, with all the information and documentation necessary to demonstrate the conformity of a subsystem or a safety component, in a language which can be easily understood by that authority. ‘(a) the name, postal address and digital contact of the manufacturer and, if the application is lodged by the authorised representative, his name, postal address and digital contact as well;’

I

- (g) in point 4.3.1., point (a) is replaced by the following:

‘(a) the name, postal address and digital contact of the manufacturer and, if the application is lodged by the authorised representative, his name, postal address and digital contact as well;’

- (i) point 5.4.1. is replaced by the following:

‘5.4.1. All appliances or fittings shall be individually examined and appropriate tests set out in the relevant harmonised standard(s), and/or common specifications, and/or equivalent tests set out in other relevant technical specifications shall be carried out in order to verify conformity with the approved type described in the EU type-examination certificate and with the appropriate requirements of this Regulation.

In the absence of such a harmonised standard or common specification, the notified body concerned shall decide on the appropriate tests to be carried out.;

- (j) point 5.5.2. is replaced by the following:

‘5.5.2. A random sample shall be taken from each lot in accordance with the requirements of point 5.5.3. In the absence of such a harmonised standard or common specification, the notified body concerned shall decide on the appropriate tests to be carried out.;

- (k) in point 6.2.1., point (d) is replaced by the following:

‘(d) a list of the harmonised standards applied in full or in part the references of which have been published in the Official Journal of the European Union, and a list of common specifications, applied in full or in part, and, where those harmonised standards or common specifications have not been applied, descriptions of the solutions adopted to meet the essential requirements of this Regulation, including a list of other relevant technical specifications applied. In the event of partly applied harmonised standards or common specifications, the technical documentation shall specify the parts which have been applied.;

- (l) in point 6.4., the first subparagraph is replaced by the following:

‘A notified body chosen by the manufacturer shall carry out appropriate examinations and tests, set out in the relevant harmonised standards or common specifications and/or equivalent tests set out in other relevant technical specifications, to check the conformity of the appliances or fittings with the applicable requirements of this Regulation, or have them carried out. In the absence of such a harmonised standard or common specification the notified body concerned shall decide on the appropriate tests to be carried out.;’

REGULATION OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND OF THE COUNCIL

amending Regulations ■ (EU) 2016/424, (EU) 2016/425, (EU) 2016/426, (EU) 2023/1230, (EU) 2023/1542 and (EU) 2024/1781 as regards digitalisation and common specifications

(Text with EEA relevance)

THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN UNION,

Having regard to the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union, and in particular Article 114 thereof,

Having regard to the proposal from the European Commission,

After transmission of the draft legislative act to the national parliaments,

Having regard to the opinion of the European Economic and Social Committee¹,

Acting in accordance with the ordinary legislative procedure,

Whereas:

- (1) Reporting requirements play a key role in ensuring proper monitoring and correct enforcement of legislation. The overall costs of reporting are balanced by the benefits they bring, in particular for ensuring compliance with key policy measures. However, in order to ensure that they fulfil their intended purpose and to limit the administrative burden, it is important to streamline those requirements.

- (2) In its Communication on ‘Long-term competitiveness of the EU: looking beyond 2030’, the Commission has committed to rationalise and simplify reporting requirements, with the aim to reduce such burdens by 25%, without undermining the related policy objectives.
- (3) In its Better regulation Guidelines, the Commission promotes the ‘digital by default’ principle to support digital transformations, by facilitating digital-ready policies which consider the fast-evolving world of digitalisation and technology, and which are digital, interoperable, future-proof and agile by default.
- (4) The increasing importance of digitalisation in simplifying regulatory frameworks necessitates the reduction, harmonisation and modernisation of reporting requirements and economic operators’ obligations. In line with the efforts to accelerate digitalisation, it is essential to fully digitalise business-to-authority reporting and economic operators’ obligations when they do not affect protection and safety of consumers or require an excessive burden for the economic operators. Embracing digitalisation will not only simplify compliance procedures but also enhance the overall efficiency of the regulatory framework, ultimately benefiting both businesses and authorities alike. A smooth transition should be pursued.
- (4a) The Commission and the Member States are encouraged to provide guidance and practical support, and to promote the development of streamlined and standardised digital tools, with a view to facilitating the digital transition of companies, in particular SMEs and micro-enterprises.
- (5) A number of sectoral Union legal acts lay down harmonised rules regarding the obligations of economic operators when placing a product on the market or putting it into service. Such legal acts include Regulations (EU) 2016/424², (EU) 2016/425³, (EU) 2016/426⁴,

⁴ Regulation (EU) 2016/426 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 9 March 2016 on appliances burning gaseous fuels and repealing Directive 2009/142/EC (OJ L 81, 31.3.2016, p. 99, ELI: <http://data.europa.eu/eli/reg/2016/426/oj>).

(EU) 2023/1230⁵, (EU) 2023/1542⁶ and (EU) 2024/1781⁷ of the European Parliament and of the Council (the ‘Regulations concerned’). The Regulations concerned are based on the principles of the ‘new approach’ to technical harmonisation and are aligned with the reference provisions laid down in Decision No 768/2008/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council⁸.

- (6) In accordance with the Regulations concerned, manufacturers are to draw up an EU declaration of conformity stating that the fulfilment of essential requirements set out in the applicable Regulations has been demonstrated. In order to enable seamless electronic processes, the EU declaration of conformity should be drawn up only in electronic form.
- (7) Moreover, Regulations (EU) 2016/424, (EU) 2016/425, (EU) 2016/426, and (EU) 2023/1230 require that a copy of the declaration of conformity accompanies the product. Considering the evolution of digitalisation, it is essential to modernise this obligation by requiring that such EU declaration of conformity ■ accompany the product in electronic form. The manufacturer should therefore ensure that the EU declaration of conformity is directly accessible through an internet address or a machine-readable code meaning that intermediate steps, such as the number of landing pages, should be minimised as much as possible. Such a direct access should be free of charge, without the need for login procedures, providing any personal data, downloading or using additional applications specific to the economic operator or the obligation to register solely to access the EU declaration of conformity.

- (8) Taking into account that in 2024 no less than 94% of EU households had access to internet, the availability of product instructions in digital format offers an opportunity to align with current technologies and contribute to green objectives . In light of this, the possibility for a digital format of the instructions should be introduced in the Regulations concerned. This will allow manufacturers to provide instructions in digital format, if they wish to do so. Where manufacturers choose to provide instructions in digital format, specific safeguards for consumers should ensure that they, as non-professional users, are still able to access and understand the information, in contrast to professional users, who are expected to possess the expertise and knowledge necessary for the correct use and handling of products. In that spirit , where a product is used solely by professional users, namely persons acquiring the product as professional end-users in the course of their industrial or professional activities, safety information, including instructions that have an impact on the safe use of the product, might be provided in digital format. In contrast, the safety information should always be provided in paper format or marked on the product where it is reasonably foreseeable that a product, even if primarily intended for professional use, could also be used by consumers. Moreover, end-users should be able to obtain a paper copy of the instructions for use or safety information, upon request – at the time of the purchase and for a certain period of time after their purchase.
- (8a) The definition of ‘consumer’ forms part of the notion of ‘end user’ as laid down in Regulation (EU) 2019/1020 of the European Parliament and of the Council, which applies to the Regulations concerned, and refers to any natural person acting for purposes outside their trade, business, craft or profession. This requirement ensures that all consumers, including vulnerable consumers such as elderly persons, persons with disabilities or those with limited digital literacy, are able to access and understand the safety information.
- (8b) Regulation (EU) 2016/425 contains certain sectoral specificities. In order to protect the safety of consumers, where the product is intended for, or can be reasonably foreseen to be used by, consumers, all the instructions and information set out in point 1.4 of Annex II, which are related to the safe use of the product, should be provided in a paper format or made visible on the packaging.

- (8c) In order to ensure that all consumers, including those who may not have regular access to digital tools, can effectively exercise their right to obtain the instructions or safety information in paper format, manufacturers may still provide additional accessible means of communication for submitting such requests, including by telephone. This is particularly important for elderly consumers and other groups at risk of digital exclusion. End-users should also be clearly informed, in the safety information accompanying the product, of their right to request the instructions or safety information in paper format.
- (8d) Manufacturers should, where relevant, ensure that instructions and safety information provided in digital format take into account the requirements set out in Annex I of Directive (EU) 2019/882 of the European Parliament and of the Council, insofar as the products fall within the scope of that Directive, so that all end-users, including persons with disabilities, are able to access, understand and use the safety information and instructions. Other categories, such as elderly persons or persons with limited digital literacy, may also benefit from these provisions.
- (8e) Manufacturers can offer alternative means to deliver the instructions on paper directly to the end-user, free of charge and without imposing any obligation on distributors which are not required to print the instructions, unless they choose to do so voluntarily.
- (8f) When providing the instructions and safety information in electronic form, the manufacturer should ensure that those instructions and safety information are directly accessible through an internet address or a machine-readable code, meaning that intermediate steps, such as the number of landing pages, should be minimised as much as possible. Such a direct access should be free of charge, without the need for login procedures, providing any personal data, downloading or using additional applications specific to the economic operator or the obligation to register solely to access the instructions and safety information. This is in line with the overarching vision of digital inclusion, as set out in the European Declaration on Digital Rights and Principles for the Digital Decade, notably chapter II on Solidarity and inclusion.

- (8g) Given the shift towards digital information for consumers, when evaluating the implementation of the Regulations amended by this Regulation, where appropriate, the Commission should also assess whether the provisions concerning instructions in digital format are effectively ensuring that such information remains easily accessible and comprehensible for consumers.
- (8h) The possibility for the end-user to request the instructions or safety information in paper format should not preclude manufacturers from providing supplementary information materials in an electronic-only format, such as video or audio content, which cannot be reproduced in a paper format. The same content should be provided in paper format and in the materials provided in electronic format.
- (9) In order to facilitate communication between economic operators and national competent authorities and end-users, the indication of a digital contact of the manufacturer on the product and in the EU declaration of conformity is necessary to enhance the effectiveness of market surveillance and to expedite the process of tracing non-compliant products. Currently, economic operators are required to indicate their postal address on the product, but this is not always sufficient to ensure that competent authorities can establish rapid contact. It is therefore necessary to require economic operators to provide both a postal address and a digital contact on the product and in the EU declaration of conformity. Such digital contact should be defined in the Regulations concerned. The digital contact should allow consumers and competent authorities to contact economic operators directly, and should be accessible free of charge, without the need for login procedures, provide any personal data, download or use additional applications specific to the economic operator or the obligation to register solely to contact the economic operator. Such digital contact may include, for example, an email address or a contact form on a website, or any other direct means of digital communication without intermediate steps which allow for traceability of exchanges and should be interpreted in a technologically neutral manner. However, it should not be understood as encompassing automatic replies to queries, chatbots, fax numbers, or telephone lines.
- (9a) The term ‘digital contact’, similarly to the term ‘electronic address’ in Regulation (EU) 2023/988 of the European Parliament and of the Council, should be interpreted in a technologically neutral manner, capable of evolving with future technological developments, and should cover all forms of direct digital communication.

- (10) The Regulations concerned require that economic operators provide, upon a reasoned request from a competent national authority, all information and documentation necessary to demonstrate the conformity of the concerned products with the respective Regulations, in paper or electronic form. The paper-based form is becoming less important, while electronic communication enhances interaction between authorities and businesses, streamlining processes and reducing administrative burdens. In order to achieve the digitalisation of reporting requirements and to reduce administrative burden for economic operators, in particular SMEs, and competent authorities, the economic operators should be required to provide the necessary information and documentation in electronic form only. Documentation provided in electronic form could be made available, for example, in a digital printable format, which allows the possibility to print, download and save the documentation on an electronic device.
- (11) The current Union standardisation framework, which is based on Regulation (EU) No 1025/2012 of the European Parliament and of the Council⁹, represents the framework by default to elaborate standards that provide for a presumption of conformity with the relevant essential health and safety or other requirements. However, where no harmonised standards exist or where they are insufficient, the Commission should be able to adopt implementing acts establishing common specifications for the essential health and safety or other requirements, as an exceptional fall-back solution to facilitate the manufacturer's obligation to comply with those health and safety or other requirements. Several legislative acts already contain such an option to provide businesses with legal predictability and prove compliance with Union law, to cater for such situations. Compliance with common specifications remains purely voluntary for manufacturers, who may rely on them to benefit from a presumption of conformity or choose other appropriate methods to demonstrate compliance with Union requirements.

⁹ Regulation (EU) No 1025/2012 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 25 October 2012 on European standardisation, amending Council Directives 89/686/EEC and 93/15/EEC and Directives 94/9/EC, 94/25/EC, 95/16/EC, 97/23/EC, 98/34/EC, 2004/22/EC, 2007/23/EC, 2009/23/EC and 2009/105/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council and repealing Council Decision 87/95/EEC and Decision No 1673/2006/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council (OJ L 316, 14.11.2012, p. 12, ELI: <http://data.europa.eu/eli/reg/2012/1025/oj>).

- (11a) Where the lack of cooperation by international standardisation organisations prevents European standardisation organisations from adopting relevant international standards as harmonised standards, and where such situation cannot be adequately mitigated by alternative measures, implementing powers should be conferred on the Commission to adopt, as a measure of last resort, common specifications without prior request to one or more European standardisation organisations to draft or to revise harmonised standards. In view of the upcoming revision of the standardisation regulation, it is appropriate to limit the scope of the last resort clause to a limited period of time. When the Commission drafts such implementing acts, all relevant information concerning the third parties contracted for supporting the drafting process of the implementing act should be made public in a timely manner.

- (12) As the digital product passport is foreseen in certain Union legislation, such as Regulation (EU) 2023/1542 *of the European Parliament and of the Council*¹⁰, it is essential to require economic operators to store the information contained in the EU declaration of conformity and instructions in the digital product passport where a product is covered by multiple pieces of legislation. This approach would reduce the administrative burden on manufacturers, as they would no longer need to maintain separate storage locations for compliance documents, such as declarations of conformity required under the various pieces of product legislation that may apply to the same product, thereby upholding the principle of a single declaration of conformity. In addition, instructions provided in electronic form would be stored together with the declaration of conformity. By storing the documentation in one place, all necessary documents demonstrating product compliance would be easily accessible, ensuring transparency and facilitating compliance. This streamlined approach would enhance the overall efficiency of the regulatory framework, and it aligns with the principle that where several pieces of Union harmonisation legislation apply to a product, the manufacturer or other economic operator, where appropriate, should provide a single EU declaration of conformity.

- (12a) To ensure regulatory continuity and to allow sufficient time for the adoption of certain acts identified under Article 79 of Regulation (EU) 2024/1781 of the European Parliament and of the Council, it is appropriate to prolong the validity of the transitional continued application of certain provisions of Directive 2009/125/EC until 31 December 2028. This will also support a coherent and effective transition towards the new digital instruments established under the Regulation, in particular the Digital Product Passport.
- (12b) The extension of the transitional continued application of certain provisions of Directive 2009/125/EC should not prevent the Commission from incorporating, where technically feasible, information requirements and data transparency objectives available through the digital product passport in accordance with the Regulation (EU) 2024/1781 [ESPR] into the pending implementing measures.
- (13) Since the objectives of this Regulation cannot be sufficiently achieved by the Member States as this Regulation amends Regulations which are harmonising products legislations but can rather by reason of better harmonisation of EU applicable rules to products, be achieved at Union level, the Union may adopt measures, in accordance with the principle of subsidiarity as set out in Article 5 of the Treaty on European Union. In accordance with the principle of proportionality, as set out in that Article, this Regulation does not go beyond what is necessary in order to achieve those objectives.
- (14) To ensure a smooth and effective transition, to minimize disruptions, and to provide a reasonable timeframe for industries to adjust to the new requirements, the application of the amendments to Regulations (EU) ■ 2016/424, (EU) 2016/425, (EU) 2016/426, (EU) 2019/1009, (EU) 2023/1230, (EU) 2023/1542 and (EU) 2024/1781 concerning digitalisation should be deferred. ■
- (15) In order to enable economic operators to supply stock of products that have been placed on the market before the date of application of amendments to Regulations (EU) ■ 2016/424, (EU) 2016/425, (EU) 2016/426, (EU) 2023/1230, (EU) 2023/1542 and (EU) 2024/1781 concerning digitalisation, it is necessary to provide for reasonable transitional arrangements that do not impede the making available on the market of products that have been placed on the market in accordance with those Regulations in their version applicable before that date.

- (16) Regulations ■ (EU) 2016/424, (EU) 2016/425, (EU) 2016/426 ■ , (EU) 2023/1230, (EU) 2023/1542 and (EU) 2024/1781 should therefore be amended accordingly,

HAVE ADOPTED THIS REGULATION:

Article 2

Amendments to Regulation (EU) 2016/424

Regulation (EU) 2016/424 is amended as follows:

- (1) Article 3 is amended as follows:

- (a) the following point (17a) is inserted:

‘(17a) ‘digital contact’ means any up-to-date and freely accessible online communication channel such as email addresses through which economic operators can be contacted without the need to register or to download or use additional applications specific to the economic operator;’

- (b) the following point (19a) is inserted:

‘(19a) ‘common specification’ means a ■ technical specification, other than a standard, that provide means of complying with the essential requirements set out in Annex II applicable to a subsystem or safety component;’

- (2) Article 11 is amended as follows:

- (a) in paragraph 2, the second subparagraph is replaced by the following:

‘Where compliance of a subsystem or a safety component with the applicable requirements has been demonstrated by the procedure referred to in the first subparagraph, manufacturers shall draw up an EU declaration of conformity as referred to in Article 19, in electronic form, and affix the CE marking referred to in Article 20. ’

- (b) in paragraph 4, first subparagraph, the second sentence is replaced by the following:

‘Changes in subsystem or safety component design or characteristics and changes in the harmonised standards or in the common specifications or in other technical specifications by reference to which the conformity of the subsystem or the safety component is declared shall be adequately taken into account.’

- (c) in paragraph 6, the first and second sentences are replaced by the following:

‘Manufacturers shall indicate on the subsystem or the safety component their name, registered trade name or registered trademark as well as their postal address and digital contact or, where that is not possible, on the packaging or in a document accompanying the subsystem or safety component. The postal address and digital contact shall indicate a single point through which the manufacturer can be contacted.’

- (d) paragraph 7 is replaced by the following:

‘7. Manufacturers shall ensure that the subsystem or the safety component is accompanied by the internet address or machine-readable code through which the EU declaration of conformity can be directly accessed and by the instructions and safety information, in a language which can be easily understood by users, as determined by the Member State concerned. The instructions and safety information may be provided in electronic form. Such instructions and safety information shall be clear, understandable and intelligible.

The manufacturer shall take into account the intended use and the foreseeable user of the subsystem or the safety component when deciding the specific format for the instructions and safety information. When drafting instructions and the safety information, the manufacturers shall take account of the intended use and foreseeable misuse by the user, as well as the role which the instructions play for ensuring safety.

However, where a large number of subsystems or safety components are delivered to a single economic operator or user, the batch or consignment concerned may be accompanied by a single internet address or machine-readable code through which the EU declaration of conformity can be directly accessed.

When the instructions and safety information, referred to in the first subparagraph, are provided in electronic form the manufacturer shall:

- (a) mark on the subsystem or the safety component, or, where that is not possible, on its packaging or in an accompanying document, how to directly access them and how to request them in paper format;
- (b) present them in a format that makes it possible for the user to print and download the instructions and safety information and save them on an electronic device so that the user can access them at all times, in particular during a breakdown of the subsystem or the safety component; this requirement also applies where the instructions and safety information are embedded in the software of the subsystem or the safety component;
- (c) make them accessible online during the expected lifetime of the subsystem or the safety component and for at least 30 years after the placing on the market of the subsystem or the safety component.

However, the user may, at time of the purchase of the subsystem or the safety component, or up to 24 months after that purchase, request the instructions or safety information in paper format. Where the user requests those instructions or safety information, the manufacturer shall provide them to the user, free of charge, within one month of receiving the request.; The safety information shall clearly inform the user of their right to request the instructions in paper format.;
