"STATEMENT BY THE CZECH REPUBLIC

The Czech Republic strongly supports the introduction the new risk based solvency regime pursuant to the Directive 2009/138 on the taking up and pursuit of the business of Insurance and Reinsurance (Solvency II). We believe it should be implemented and applied as soon as possible, but under circumstances that are reasonable for all respective stakeholders.

As the adoption of the proposal of the Directive amending Directives 2003/71 and 2009/138 in respect of the powers of the European Insurance and Occupational Pensions Authority and European Securities and Markets Authority (Omnibus II) has been delayed, we understand the urgent need to postpone the transposition and application of the Solvency II Directive. Only for these reasons we support the proposed Quick Fix Directive so as to avoid a state of legal vacuum after 1 November 2012.

However, in general, we have strong concerns whether the setting of the transposition and application dates is realistic. In our opinion, a period of six months, delimited by the dates 30 June 2013 and 1 January 2014, is not sufficient for preparation of all stakeholders to a new regime, especially not for approval procedures. It is far not certain whether the level 2 and level 3 measures will be adopted and published by 30 June 2013. A national legislation transposing the Solvency II Directive might not be in conformity with the level 2 and level 3 measures as their content will not be fixed in sufficient advance. Moreover, all stakeholders will have to prepare for the new regime according to legislation which will not yet be in force.

For these circumstances, which create a legal uncertainty, the Czech Republic will propose, within the Omnibus II Directive negotiations, postponement of application of the Solvency II Directive to 1 January 2015."

"STATEMENT BY SWEDEN

Sweden strongly supports the reform of the solvency and risk management regimes of insurance companies brought about by directive 2009/138 on the taking up and pursuit of the business of Insurance and Reinsurance (Solvency II). The directive should be implemented and applied as soon as reasonably possible. Regrettably, the adoption of the amendments to Solvency II included in the proposed directive amending directives 2003/71 and 2009/138 in respect of the powers of the European Insurance and Occupational Pensions Authority and European Securities and Markets Authority (Omnibus II) has been postponed. From our perspective, it is not possible to separate the transposition of the Solvency II directive from the transposition of the amending directive (Omnibus II) since the latter contains extensive changes to the substance of Solvency II. Omnibus II cannot be expected to be adopted until the autumn of 2012. At that point, the Swedish government is constitutionally required to put proposed amendments to national law, aiming to implement Omnibus II, to a public consultation. Further, the proposed legislation must be reviewed from a constitutional and legal perspective by the Council on Legislation. Naturally, the reading in Parliament then follows. That reading will take 2-3 months to complete. Regrettably, Sweden will, given the aforesaid, most likely not be able to comply with article 309 (1) of directive 2009/138, as amended by the proposal. Swedish national legislation transposing directive 2009/138, as amended by Omnibus II, cannot be adopted until the end of 2013 at the earliest."

"Germany does not intend to raise objections against the Delegated Regulation and, hence, given the time constraints consents to the proposed information of the Commission on the Council's intention not to raise any objections before the expiry of the three months period.

However, it must be kept in mind that an early approval of delegated acts is considered an exemption from the normal procedure subject to and that the participation rights of the Council and the European Parliament with respect to delegated acts must not be undermined by late adoption and notification of the delegated acts by the Commission."

The Commission made a statement on the following item :

90. Commission proposal for a Regulation of the European Parliament and of the Council establishing an action programme for customs and taxation in the European Union for the period 2014-2020 (FISCUS) and repealing Decisions No 1482/2007/EC and No 624/2007/EC (First reading)

- The way forward
11617/12 FISC 87 UD 174 CODEC 1718

"The Commission takes note of the position of COREPER confirming the Council Working Parties, Tax Questions Group and Customs Union Group, and their request to split the Commission proposal for FISCUS into two separate legal acts, Customs 2020 and Fiscalis 2020;

The Commission maintains its position against a split. The integration of the customs and tax programmes is an expression of the overall aim to simplify the next generation of spending programmes under the post-2013 Multi-annual Financial Framework through the application of a common set of rules, whilst preserving the distinct identity of the customs and taxation sectors;

Nevertheless, in view of the unanimity of Member States being in favour of a split, the Commission recalls its right of initiative and expresses its intention to present, in due course, an amended proposal (which in this case will take the form of two legislative texts) upon which discussions in Council and EP could resume."

At its meeting of 20 June 2012 the Committee continued discussions on the main outstanding issues in the European Neighbourhood Instrument (ENI). After bilateral consultations the Presidency tabled a revised compromise proposal related to Articles 4(2), 7(2), 7(3) and 7(6) ENI.

Delegations agreed to both proposals ad referendum.

At the meeting of 21 June 2012 the Committee confirmed the agreement on substance for both compromise proposals. The Chair invited delegations to confirm to the General Secretariat of the Council that they had lifted all their other outstanding reservations on the external financing instruments, and sought agreement to submit all nine external financing instruments to the Committee and the Foreign Affairs Council on 25 June 2012 as I/A items. The Committee took note of the statement by the Secretary General of the EEAS regarding the recommendation submitted by the High Representative. Following the statement by the UK delegation that it could not agree to adopt the Council Decision, there was no unanimity, and the Committee did not approve the text.

The Committee agreed to include in the minutes of the Committee the following statement by the EEAS:

"The EEAS is of the opinion that a Council Decision authorizing Member States to negotiate CFSP aspects of the Arms Trade Treaty is fully justified. The Union has developed over the past years relevant CFSP acquis in the field of activities covered by the future Arms Trade Treaty. The Union has also consistently and strongly supported the negotiation of an Arms Trade Treaty through both political and financial CFSP instruments adopted at Council and European Council level.

The Treaty clearly stipulates that CFSP is exercised by the Council, and not by Member States, individually or collectively.

The EEAS intends to continue to facilitate the EU support to the negotiation of the Arms Trade Treaty at the UN Conference, in the same manner as it did in the UN Preparatory Committee leading to the Conference."

25. Debriefing EU-Mexico Summit on 17 June 2012

The Committee was debriefed, by the EEAS, on the outcome of the EU-Mexico Summit held in Los Cabos, Mexico, on 17 June 2012.

The Summit had been short but helpful - in the immediate run-up to the G20 meeting - and very positive. Both the President of the European Council and the President of the Commission had asked Mexico, in its capacity as Chair of the G20, to play a constructive role in the coming debates while Mexico had explained its security policy. Furthermore, the major bilateral items had been concisely raised.

As to the financial crisis, the President of the European Council had explained the roadmap leading up to the European Council end of June. The focus of the Mexican questions was less the situation in Greece and more so the Spanish situation with a number of questions raised by the Mexican Finance Minister concerning the Spanish banking sector. Regarding security, the Mexican President had in particular elaborated on the three-pronged approach of his administration: facing the criminals, reforming the law and restoring the social fabric. This was put in practice with total respect for human rights. The overall figures for homicides etc. were not as bad as in other parts of Latin America, he added.

Regarding points of bilateral interest, the focus was on trade where trade and FDI flows had more than doubled over the last ten years and where now consideration should be given to an upgrade of the existing agreement, notably on Services and Investment. The Mexican President was receptive to this wish. Furthermore, both sides highlighted the need to fight protectionism. Other subjects raised included Climate Change and Sustainable Development where satisfaction was expressed given that both parties worked well together. Finally, as to Human Rights, two cases were mentioned by the European side which led to some form of discontent on the Mexican side since Mexico considered only one of these cases to be a Human Rights case, the other one being under judicial examination at the High Court.

No delegation intervened.
