Statement by the Commission

"To ensure coherence and comparability of European social statistics, the Commission will reinforce cooperation with Union Agencies in line with article 14(2) and the related recitals (12 and 33). This will include reinforced cooperation on statistical techniques, methodology, quality, new instruments and data sources."

Statement by the Czech Republic

"The Czech Republic supports the general aim of the IESS Regulation to make the data collection process more efficient and to improve the comparability and coherence of the data. But the Czech Republic remains convinced that the proposed addition of Article 6 is non-systematic since it separates two related subjects (the list and the names of variables on one hand and their description on the other hand). This leads to two different, difficult-to-coordinate legislative procedures and doubles the number of needed legislative acts for implementation of this Regulation.

The Czech Republic is convinced that the extension of scope of implementing regulation according to the provision in Article 7 can have a negative impact on capacity burden and costs of data collection.

The Czech Republic is of a strong opinion that the legal architecture should remain as it was concluded in the Council general approach.

Due to these reasons we cannot wholly embrace and support the compromise text and we will abstain from the vote."

Statements by the Commission

- on the possible extension of EU geographical indication protection to non-agricultural products

"The Commission takes note of the European Parliament resolution of 6 October 2015 on the possible extension of EU geographical indication protection to non-agricultural products.

The Commission launched a study in November 2018 to get further economic and legal evidence on the protection of non-agricultural GIs within the Single Market, as a complement to a study of 2013, and to obtain further data on issues such as competitiveness, unfair competition, counterfeiting, consumer perceptions, costs/benefits as well as on the effectiveness of non-agricultural GI protection models in light of the proportionality principle.

In accordance with the principles of Better Regulation and to the commitments laid down in the Interinstitutional Agreement of 13 April 2016 on Better Law-Making, the Commission will examine the study as well as the report on the participation of the Union in the Geneva Act as referred to in the Article on monitoring and review of the Regulation on the action of the Union following its accession to the Geneva Act of the Lisbon Agreement on Appellations of Origin and Geographical Indications and consider any possible next steps."

- on the procedure set out in Article 11(3) of the Regulation

"The Commission notes that whilst the procedure set out in Article 11(3) of the Regulation is a legal necessity given the exclusive competence of the Union it can nevertheless state that in the context of the current EU acquis any such intervention of the Commission would be exceptional and duly justified. During consultations with a Member State, the Commission will make every effort in order to resolve together with the Member State any concerns in order to avoid the issuing of a negative opinion. The Commission notes that any negative opinion would be notified in writing to the Member State concerned and pursuant to Article 296 TFEU would state the reasons on which it was based. The Commission would further note that a negative opinion would not preclude the submission of a further application concerning the same appellation of origin, if the reasons for the negative opinion have been duly addressed thereafter or are no longer applicable."

Statement by Germany, France, Portugal and Poland

"Wir unterstützen den geplanten Beitritt der Europäischen Union zur Genfer Akte des Lissabonner Abkommens über Ursprungsbezeichnungen und geografische Angaben (sog. GIs), damit diese ihre ausschließliche Zuständigkeit für Ursprungsbezeichnungen und geografische Angaben im Lissabonner System ordnungsgemäß wahrnehmen kann. Mit dem Beitritt verpflichtet sich die EU zur Anerkennung eines Schutzregimes, das auch nicht-landwirtschaftliche Produkte umfasst. Der Schutz für Bezeichnungen für nicht-landwirtschaftliche Produkte muss deshalb schnellstmöglich in der EU geschaffen werden. Wir bitten die Kommission, einen solchen Verordnungsvorschlag nach dem Beitritt zur Genfer Akte zeitnah vorzulegen."

"Nous soutenons l'adhésion prévue de l'Union européenne à l'acte de Genève de l'arrangement de Lisbonne sur les appellations d'origine et les indications géographiques, afin que l'UE exerce comme il se doit sa compétence exclusive en matière d'appellations d'origine et d'indications géographiques dans le système de Lisbonne. Au moment de l'adhésion, l'UE sera tenue de reconnaître un système de protection s'étendant également aux produits non agricoles. Il est donc essentiel que les appellations et indications concernant les produits non agricoles se voient accorder une protection dans l'UE le plus rapidement possible. Nous demandons à la Commission de présenter rapidement une proposition de règlement après l'adhésion à l'acte de Genève."

"Apoiamos a adesão prevista da União Europeia ao Ato de Genebra do Acordo de Lisboa relativo às denominações de origem e às indicações geográficas (IG), a fim de exercer de forma adequada a sua competência exclusiva em matéria de denominações de origem e indicações geográficas no sistema de Lisboa. Após a adesão, a UE será obrigada a reconhecer um sistema de proteção que também inclui produtos não agrícolas. É, por conseguinte, fundamental garantir a proteção das denominações para produtos não agrícolas na UE o mais rapidamente possível. Solicitamos à Comissão que apresente uma proposta de regulamento nesse sentido logo após a adesão ao Ato de Genebra."

"Popieramy planowane przystąpienie Unii Europejskiej do Aktu genewskiego Porozumienia lizbońskiego w sprawie nazw pochodzenia i oznaczeń geograficznych, aby Unia była w stanie właściwie wykonywać swoją wyłączną kompetencję w odniesieniu do nazw pochodzenia i oznaczeń geograficznych zgodnie z systemem lizbońskim. Po przystąpieniu UE będzie zobowiązana do uznania systemu ochrony, który obejmuje również produkty nierolne. W związku z tym nazwy produktów nierolnych muszą jak najszybciej zostać objęte ochroną w UE. Zwracamy się do Komisji o przedłożenie takiego wniosku dotyczącego rozporządzenia wkrótce po przystąpieniu do Aktu genewskiego."

"We support the European Union's planned accession to the Geneva Act of the Lisbon Agreement on Appellations of Origin and Geographical Indications (GIs), in order for it to properly exercise its exclusive competence for appellations of origin and geographical indications in the Lisbon system. Upon accession, the EU will undertake to recognise a protection system which covers non-agricultural products, too. It is therefore essential that designations for non-agricultural products be afforded protection in the EU as soon as possible. We ask the Commission to submit a proposal for a regulation to this effect shortly after the EU's accession to the Geneva Act."

Statement by Denmark and Sweden

"Denmark and Sweden support the objective of ensuring a high level of protection and enforcement of intellectual property rights, though the primary focus should be on the fundamental intellectual property rights. We are still not convinced as to the potential of the EU's accession to the Geneva Act of the Lisbon Agreement on Appellations of Origin and Geographical Indications. Denmark and Sweden can however accept the present compromise proposal, as the proposal does not go beyond the scope of the current protection under EU law."

Statement by the Netherlands

"The Netherlands supports the European Union's planned accession to the Geneva Act of the Lisbon Agreement on Appellations of Origin and Geographical Indications (GIs), in order for it to properly exercise its exclusive competence for appellations of origin and geographical indications in the Lisbon system. The Netherlands accepts the present compromise proposal, as the proposal does not go beyond the scope of the current protection under EU law."

Statement by the Commission

"The Commission notes that the Union has exclusive external competence on geographical indications and is acceding to the Geneva Act of the Lisbon Agreement as a Party on its own right. This follows from the ruling of the European Court of Justice of 25/10/2017 (case C-389/15- Commission v. Council). Given the EU's exclusive external competence, Member States are prevented from becoming Parties to the Geneva Act in their own right and should no longer themselves protect geographical indications newly registered by third country members of the Lisbon system. The Commission, mindful of the exceptional circumstances given that seven Member States have been Parties to the Lisbon Agreement for a long time, that they have extensive intellectual property registered under it and that a smooth transition is needed, would exceptionally have been ready to agree that, in this particular case, BG, CZ, SK, FR, HU, IT, PT could have been authorised to accede to the Geneva Act in the interest of the EU.

The Commission strongly objects to the Council's continued insistence on the possibility for all EU Member States which wish to do so to be authorized to ratify or accede to the Geneva Act alongside the Union, while giving as a reason the regularisation of the Union's voting rights in view of point (b)(ii) of Article 22(4) of the Geneva Act rather than the aforesaid exceptional circumstances.

Further, the Commission would like to recall that, given that the Union has exercised its internal competence for agricultural geographical indications, the EU Member States cannot have national agricultural GI protection systems of their own.

Therefore the Commission reserves its rights including the right to avail itself of legal remedies against the Council's decision and, in any event, considers that this case cannot constitute a precedent for any other existing or future international/WIPO agreements, in particular but not only where the EU has already ratified international agreements by itself on the basis of its exclusive competence."

"The Commission considers that the procedure envisaged in Article 6c(3) of the final text obliging it to take into account the assessment of the expert group provided under Article 6c(2) when exercising its implementing powers, imposes on the Commission a mechanism of control which is not foreseen in Regulation (EU) n° 182/2011. "At the time of the review to be conducted in accordance with Article 27 of the Directive, the Commission will consider the possibility of proposing to extend its scope of application to certain acts based on Articles 153 TFEU and 157 TFEU, after consulting the social partners, where appropriate, in accordance with Article 154 TFEU."

Statement by Ireland

"Ireland welcomes the Directive on the protection of persons reporting on breaches of Union law, which will ensure a harmonised, cross-sectoral approach to whistle-blower protection across the EU. However, Ireland considers that any EU legislation in this area should properly reflect the differing legal bases that exist in the Treaties that underpin the material scope of the Directive. In this regard, Ireland agrees with the analysis of the Council Legal Service as set out in document 14620/18."

Statement by Latvia

"Latvia supports the establishment of conditions for enhanced economic and trade relations leading towards Ukraine's gradual integration in the EU Internal Market, as well as supports Ukrainian efforts to progressively approximate its National legislation to the European Union legislation in Sanitary and Phytosanitary (SPS) and animal welfare sector.

Latvia considers it of the utmost importance that Ukraine accelerates its efforts to approximate the EU SPS and animal welfare legislation to which it is bound under the Association Agreement. The draft Council Decision currently indicates the provisional deadlines by which the Ukraine commits to ensure the compliance of national legal framework, at the same time it opens possibility to apply transition periods without concrete deadline, nevertheless Ukraine will continue maintains ability to import SPS commodities into the European Union.

Latvia calls on Commission to urge Ukraine to follow up quickly on its commitment to implement all the conditions of the Agreement as well as to use all efforts possible to oversight and perform close monitoring of approximation and implementation exercise of the European Union requirements into national legal framework of Ukraine in particularly in animal welfare sector."

* This designation is without prejudice to positions on status, and is in line with UNSCR 1244 (1999) and the ICJ Opinion on the Kosovo declaration of independence.

Statement by Poland
