Proposal for a

REGULATION OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND OF THE COUNCIL

on the protection of the Union and its Member States from economic coercion by third countries

THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN UNION,

Having regard to the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union, and in particular Article 207(2) thereof,

Having regard to the proposal from the European Commission,

After transmission of the draft legislative act to the national parliaments,

Acting in accordance with the ordinary legislative procedure,

Whereas:

- (1) Pursuant to Article 3(5) of the Treaty on European Union (TEU), in its relations with the wider world, the Union is to uphold and promote its values and interests and contribute to the protection of its citizens and is to contribute, among other things, to solidarity and mutual respect among peoples and the strict observance and the development of international law, including respect for the principles of the United Nations Charter (the "UN Charter").

- (2) Pursuant to Article 21(1) ~~of the Treaty on European Union~~ TEU, the Union's action on the international scene is to be guided by principles such as the rule of law, equality and solidarity, and respect for the principles of the ~~United Nations~~ UN Charter and international law. It also states that the Union is to promote multilateral solutions to common problems.
- (3) Pursuant to Article 1 of the ~~United Nations~~ UN Charter, one of the purposes of the United Nations ~~include the purpose~~ is to develop friendly relations among nations based on, among other things, respect for the principle of equal rights.
- (4) Article 21(2) ~~of the Treaty on European Union~~ TEU requires the Union to define and pursue common policies and actions, and work for a high degree of cooperation in all fields of international relations, ~~among other things~~ in order to, among other things, safeguard its values, fundamental interests, independence and integrity, consolidate and support the rule of law, and the principles of international law.
- (5) The modern interconnected world economy ~~creates an increased~~ increases the risk of, ~~and opportunity for~~, economic coercion, as it provides countries with enhanced, including hybrid, means to deploy such coercion. It is desirable that the Union contribute to the creation, development and clarification of international frameworks for the prevention and elimination of situations of economic coercion.
- (6) Whilst always acting within the framework of international law, it is essential that the Union possess an appropriate instrument to deter and counteract economic coercion by third countries in order to safeguard its rights and interests and those of its Member States. This is particularly the case where third countries take measures affecting trade or investment that interfere in the legitimate sovereign choices of the Union or a Member State by seeking to prevent or obtain the cessation, modification or adoption of a particular act by the Union or a Member State. Such measures affecting trade or investment may include not only actions taken on, and having effects within, the territory of the third country concerned, but also actions taken by the third country, including through entities controlled or directed by the third country and present in the Union, that cause harm to economic activities in the Union.

- (7) This Regulation aims to ensure an effective, efficient and swift Union response to economic coercion, including deterrence of economic coercion of the Union or a Member State and, ~~in the~~ as a last resort, countermeasures. This Regulation is without prejudice to other existing Union instruments and international agreements, as well as actions taken thereunder, in the area of the common commercial policy, and to other Union policies.
- (7bis) Economic coercion by third countries may be target foreign policy actions of the Union or a Member State, while a determination of the existence of economic coercion, and responses thereto, may have significant implications for relations with third countries. It is necessary to ensure consistent responses in distinct but related policy areas, and this Regulation is without prejudice to a possible Union action pursuant to specific provisions in Chapter 2 of Title V of TEU on the Union's common foreign and security policy, to which due consideration should be given when considering any response to economic coercion by a third country.*
- (8) ~~The objectives of this Regulation, in particular counteracting third countries' economic coercion of the Union or a Member State, cannot be sufficiently achieved by Member States acting on their own. Third countries' measures of economic coercion against a Member State affect the Union's internal market and the Union as a whole. This is because Member States, as distinct actors under international law may not be entitled under international law to respond to economic coercion directed against the Union acting on their own cannot counteract third countries' economic coercion through measures falling under the area of common commercial policy. Additionally, because of Given the exclusive competence conferred on the Union by Article 207 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union (TFEU), only the Union may. Moreover, Member States are prevented from taking common commercial policy measures as a response to as distinct actors under international law, may not be entitled to counteract third countries economic coercion directed against the Union. Therefore, those objectives can be achieved with greater effectiveness at Union level. This Regulation is without prejudice to the division of competences between the Union and its Member States as defined by the Treaties.~~

- (9) In accordance with the principle of proportionality, it is necessary and appropriate, for creating an effective and comprehensive framework for Union action against economic coercion, to lay down rules on the examination, determination and counteraction with regard to third countries' measures of economic coercion. In particular, the Union's response measures should be preceded by an examination of the facts, a determination of the existence of economic coercion, and, wherever possible, efforts to find a solution in cooperation with the third country concerned. Any measures imposed by the Union should be commensurate with the injury caused by the third countries' measures of economic coercion. The criteria for defining the Union response measures should take into account in particular the need to avoid or minimise collateral effects, administrative burdens and costs imposed on Union economic operators as well as the Union's interest. Therefore, this Regulation does not go beyond what is necessary in order to achieve the objectives pursued, in accordance with Article 5(4) ~~of the Treaty on European Union~~ TEU.
- (10) Any action undertaken by the Union on the basis of this Regulation should ~~comply with the Union's obligations under~~ be consistent with international law. ~~International law~~ including customary international law Among the international agreements concluded by the Union and the Member States, the Agreement establishing the World Trade Organization (WTO) is the cornerstone of the rules-based multilateral trading system. Therefore, it is important that the Union continue to support that system, with the WTO at its core, and to use its dispute settlement system where appropriate.

(10bis) Customary international law, as reflected in Articles 22 and 49 to 53 of the Articles on Responsibility of States for Internationally Wrongful Acts ("ARSIWA"), adopted by the United Nations' International Law Commission at its fifty-third session in 2001 and taken note of by the United Nations General Assembly in resolution 56/83, allows, under certain conditions, such as proportionality and prior notice, the imposition of countermeasures, that is to say of measures that would otherwise be contrary to the international obligations of an injured party vis-à-vis the country responsible for a breach of international law, and that are aimed at obtaining the cessation of the breach or reparation for it.² Accordingly, Union response measures could consist, as necessary, not only in measures consistent with the Union's international obligations, but also in the non-performance of international obligations towards the third country concerned insofar as the measures of economic coercion of the third country constitute an internationally wrongful act. Under international law, and in accordance with the principle of proportionality, ~~they~~ Union response measures should not exceed a level that is commensurate with the injury suffered by the Union or a Member State due to the third country's measures of economic coercion, taking into account the gravity of the third country's measures and the Union's rights and interests in question. In this respect, injury to the Union or a Member State is understood under international law to include injury to Union economic operators.

10ter Where measures of economic coercion constitute an internationally wrongful act, the Union should, where appropriate, in addition to the cessation of economic coercion, request the third country concerned to make reparation of any injury caused to the Union or a Member State, in accordance with Articles 31 and 34-39 of the ARSIWA.

² ~~See Articles 22 and 49-53 of the Articles on Responsibility of States for Internationally Wrongful Acts, adopted by the United Nations' International Law Commission at its fifty-third session, in 2001, and taken note of by the United Nations General Assembly in resolution 56/83.~~

- (11) Coercion is prohibited and therefore a wrongful act under international law when a country deploys measures such as trade or investment restrictions in order to obtain from another country an action or inaction which that country is not internationally obliged to perform and which falls within its sovereignty, when the coercion reaches a certain qualitative or quantitative threshold, depending on both the ends pursued and the means deployed. The Commission should examine the third-country action on the basis of qualitative and quantitative criteria that help in determining whether the third country interferes in the legitimate sovereign choices of the Union or a Member State and whether its action constitutes economic coercion which requires a Union response. Among those criteria, there should be elements that characterise, both qualitatively and quantitatively, notably the form, the effects and the aim of the measures which the third country is deploying. Applying those criteria would ensure that only economic coercion with a sufficiently serious impact or, where the economic coercion consists in a threat, only a threat that is credible, would fall under this Regulation. In addition, the Commission should examine closely whether the third country pursues a legitimate cause, because its objective is to uphold a concern that is internationally recognised, such as, among other things, the maintenance of international peace and security, the protection of human rights, the protection of the environment, and the fight against climate change.
- (12) Acts by third countries are understood under customary international law to include all forms of action or omission, including threats, that are attributable to a State under customary international law. Articles 2(a) and 4-11 of the ARSIWA confirm that customary international law qualifies as an act of a State, in particular: the conduct of any State organ, of a person or entity which is not an organ of the State but which is empowered by the law of that State to exercise elements of governmental authority, an organ placed at the disposal of a State by another State, a person or group of persons that are acting on the instructions of, or under the direction or control of, that State in carrying out the conduct, a person or group of persons that are exercising elements of the governmental authority in the absence or default of the official authorities and in circumstances such as to call for the exercise of those elements of authority, and conduct that the State acknowledges and adopts as its own.³

(13) The Commission on its own initiative or upon a reasoned request of a Member State should examine whether third-country measures are coercive, ~~on its own initiative or following~~. The Commission could carry out such examination on the basis of information received from any reliable source, including legal and natural persons or a Member State. ~~Following this examination~~ To determine if a third country applies or threatens to apply measures affecting trade or investment, the Commission's assessment should ~~determine in~~ be based on facts. In order to ensure uniform conditions for the implementation of this Regulation, and in view of the effects that a decision ~~whether the third-country measure is coercive~~ determining the existence of economic coercion by a third country has on the Union's overall relations with the third country concerned, implementing powers should be conferred on the Council. Therefore, following the Commission's examination and in the event that ~~should communicate any affirmative determination to the third country concerned, together with a request~~ applies or threatens to apply coercive measures affecting trade or investment, the Commission should submit a proposal to the Council to adopt an implementing act determining that the economic coercion cease and a request, where appropriate, that any injury be repaired third country is applying a measure of economic coercion. The Council should act expeditiously.

(13bis) In an effort to secure the cessation of economic coercion, the Union should seek an early and just settlement of the matter. Accordingly, the Commission should provide adequate opportunity for consultations with the third country concerned and, if that third country is ready to enter into consultations in good faith, engage with it expeditiously. In the course of such consultations, the Commission should endeavour to resort to means such as mediation, conciliation, good offices by a third party or submitting the matter to international adjudication, without prejudice to the division of competence between the Union and the Member States. In particular, when the third country suspends its actions and agrees to submit the matter to international adjudication, an international agreement with the third country should be concluded, as necessary. Such an international agreement could be concluded either by the Union, in accordance with the procedure laid down in Article 218 TFEU, or by the Member State concerned.

- (14) The Union should support and cooperate with third countries affected by the same or similar measures of economic coercion or other interested third countries. The Union should participate in international coordination in bilateral, plurilateral or multilateral fora that are geared towards the prevention or elimination of ~~the~~ economic coercion. The Commission should express the Union position after having consulted the Council in accordance with the Treaties, where appropriate, with the participation of the Member States.
- (15) The Union should only impose ~~countermeasures when~~ response measures if other means such as negotiations, mediation or adjudication do not lead to the prompt and effective cessation of the economic coercion and, where appropriate and requested by the Union from the third country concerned, to the reparation of the injury it has caused to the Union or its Member States, and where action is necessary to protect the interests and rights of the Union and its Member States under international law and it is in the Union's interest to take such action. It is appropriate that the Regulation sets out the applicable rules and procedures for the imposition and application of Union response measures and permits expeditious action where necessary to preserve the effectiveness of any Union response measures.

(16) Union response measures adopted in accordance with this Regulation should be selected and designed on the basis of objective criteria, including: the effectiveness of the measures in inducing the cessation of coercion by the third country; ~~their~~the potential to provide relief to economic operators within the Union affected by the third-country measures of economic coercion; the aim of avoiding or minimising negative economic and other effects on the Union; and the avoidance of disproportionate administrative complexity and costs. It is also essential that the selection and design of Union response measures take account of the Union's interest, which includes, inter alia, the interests of both upstream and downstream industries and final consumers in the Union. When the Commission is considering Union response measures it should prioritise measures that would not have a disproportionate impact on legal certainty and predictability of the measures for economic operators, and on the administration of relevant national regulations. When the Commission is considering Union response measures affecting authorisations, registrations, licenses or other rights for the purposes of commercial activities, it should prioritise measures valid throughout the Union and based on secondary legislation, or, where no such measures are appropriate, measures in areas where extensive Union legislation exists. Union response measures should be selected from a wide array of options in order to allow the adoption of the most suitable measures in any given case.

(16bis) The Union should be able to designate natural or legal persons connected or linked to the government of the third country engaging in economic coercion and thereby make them subject to Union response measures in order to induce the prompt cessation of economic coercion. Such targeted response measures can effectively avoid or minimise the negative effects of such coercion on Member States' economies and Union economic operators and final consumers.

(16ter) As part of the Union response in order to induce the cessation of economic coercion by third countries, the Commission could also adopt measures pursuant to other legal instruments that confer specific powers to the Commission, for example with regard to the granting of Union funding, following the applicable procedures set out therein. Measures adopted by the Commission pursuant to such other legal instruments should be synchronised with actions taken under this Regulation and be consistent with the Union's obligations under international law. In particular, such measures, together with Union response measures adopted under this Regulation, as the case may be, should be commensurate with the injury caused by the third countries' measures of economic coercion. This Regulation is without prejudice to rules and procedures under such other legal instruments.

(17) It is appropriate to set out rules on the origin or nationality of goods, services and service providers, investment and holders of intellectual property rights, for the purposes of determining the Union response measures. The rules of origin ~~or~~ and of nationality should be determined in the light of the prevailing rules for non-preferential trade and investment that are applicable under Union law and the Union's international agreements. This regulation does not affect the division of competences between the Union and its Member States in the field of investment.

- (18) In pursuing the objective of obtaining the cessation of ~~the~~ a measure of economic coercion, Union response measures consisting of restrictions on foreign direct investment or on trade in services should only apply- with regard to services supplied, or direct investments made, within the Union by one or more legal persons established in the Union and which are owned or controlled by persons of the third country concerned, where necessary to ensure the effectiveness of Union response measures and in particular to prevent their avoidance. The decision to impose any such restrictions ~~will~~ should be duly justified in implementing acts adopted pursuant to this Regulation in the light of the criteria specified in this Regulation.
- (19) After the adoption of Union response measures, the Commission should continuously assess the situation in relation to the third-country measures of economic coercion, the effectiveness of the Union response measures and their effects, with a view to adjusting, suspending or terminating the response measures accordingly. It is therefore necessary to set out the rules and procedures for amending, suspending and terminating Union response measures and the situations in which these are appropriate.
- (20) It is essential to provide for opportunities for stakeholder involvement for the purposes of the adoption and amendment of Union response measures; and, ~~where~~ as relevant, for the purposes of their suspension and termination, in view of the potential impact on such stakeholders.
- (21) It is important to ensure ~~an~~ effective communication and an exchange of views and information between the Commission on the one hand, and the European Parliament and the Council, on the other, in particular on efforts to ~~engage~~ enter into consultations with the third country concerned to explore options with a view to obtaining the cessation of the economic coercion and on matters that may lead to the adoption of Union response measures under this Regulation.

- (22) In order to allow the update of the range of Union response measures under this Regulation and the adjustment of the rules of origin or of other technical nationality to take account of relevant developments in international instruments, the power to adopt acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union TFEU should be delegated to the Commission to amend the list of Union responses set out in Annex I and technical rules necessary for the application of the Regulation, including rules of origin laid down ~~in~~ in respect of amending Annex II. It is of particular importance that the Commission carry out appropriate consultations during its preparatory work, including at expert level, and that those consultations be conducted in accordance with the principles laid down in the Interinstitutional Agreement on Better Law-Making.⁴ In particular, to ensure equal participation in the preparation of delegated acts, the European Parliament and the Council should receive all documents at the same time as Member States' experts, and their experts systematically should have access to meetings of Commission expert groups dealing with the preparation of delegated acts.
- (23) In order to ensure uniform conditions for the implementation of Union response measures under this Regulation, implementing powers should be conferred on the Commission. Those powers should be exercised in accordance with Regulation (EU) No 182/2011 of the European Parliament and of the Council.⁵ -

⁵ Regulation (EU) No 182/2011 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 16 February 2011 laying down the rules and general principles concerning mechanisms for control by the Member States of the Commission's exercise of implementing powers (OJ L 55, 28.2.2011, p. 13).

- (24) The examination procedure should be used for the adoption of Union response measures and their amendment, suspension or termination given that those measures–acts determine the Union’s ~~responses~~response to economic coercion falling within the scope of this Regulation and as determined by the Council. In exercising its implementing powers, special attention should be given by the Commission to solutions which command the widest possible support among Member States. Considering the specific nature of this Regulation and the particular sensitivity attached to the Union response measures, the Commission should not adopt a draft implementing act on any Union response measures where the committee delivers a no opinion on that act. The particular sensitivity attached to the Union response measures necessitates finding a balanced solution at all times and solutions should avoid going against any predominant position which might emerge within the appeal committee against the appropriateness of a draft implementing act.
- (25) The Commission should adopt immediately applicable implementing acts of limited duration where, in duly justified cases relating to the ~~adoption~~, amendment, suspension or termination of Union response measures, imperative grounds of urgency ~~so require~~ expedited action to avoid irreparable damage or to ensure consistency with international law. Such expedited action could prevent the coercion from causing or worsening any economic damage, notably with a view to protecting acute and vital interests of the Union or a Member State.

(25bis) Any action taken under this Regulation, including Union response measures with regard to natural or legal persons, should respect the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union. Moreover, any processing of personal data pursuant to this Regulation should be consistent with the applicable rules on the protection of personal data. Processing of personal data by Member States' officials obtaining information under this Regulation should be carried out in accordance with Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council⁶. Processing of personal data by the Commission should be carried out in accordance with Regulation (EU) 2018/1725 of the European Parliament and of the Council⁷.

(26) The Commission should evaluate measures adopted under this Regulation as to their effectiveness and operation and as to possible conclusions for future measures. The Commission should also review this Regulation after gaining sufficient experience with the existence or application of this Regulation. This review should cover the scope, functioning, efficiency and effectiveness of this Regulation and also its relationship to other Union policies and existing legal instruments. The Commission should report on its assessment to the European Parliament and the Council,

Article 9

Criteria for selecting and designing Union response measures

1. Any Union response measure shall not exceed the level that is commensurate with the injury suffered by the Union or a Member State due to the third country's measures of economic coercion, taking into account the gravity of the third country's measures of economic coercion and the rights ~~in question~~ of the Union or a Member State.
2. The Commission shall select and design an appropriate response measure taking into account the determination made pursuant to Article 4, the criteria set out in Article 2(2) and the Union's interest pursuant to Article 7bis, on the basis of available information, including as collected pursuant to Article 11, and the following criteria:
 - (a) the effectiveness of the Union response measures in inducing the cessation of the economic coercion;
 - (abis) the avoidance or minimisation of negative impacts*
 - on Union actors affected by Union response measures, including the availability of alternatives for such affected actors, for example alternative sources of supply for goods or services,
 - on the investment environment in the Union or a Member State, including the impact on employment and regional development policy;
 - (b) the potential of the Union response measures to provide relief to Union economic operators within the Union affected by the economic coercion;
 - ~~(e) the avoidance or minimisation of negative impacts on affected actors by Union response measures, including the availability of alternatives for affected actors, for example alternative sources of supply for goods or services;~~
 - (d) the avoidance or minimisation of negative effects on other Union policies or objectives by Union response measures;

(dbis) any relevant action in the Union's common foreign and security policy;

- (e) the avoidance of disproportionate administrative complexity and costs in the application of the Union response measures;
- (f) the existence and nature of any response measures enacted by ~~other~~ third countries affected by the same or similar measures of economic coercion, including where relevant any coordination pursuant to Article 6;
- (g) any other relevant criteria established in international law.

In selecting Union response measures, the Commission shall give predominant weight to measures which most effectively ensure compliance with criteria (a) and (abis).

2bis. Without prejudice to paragraph 2, when selecting and designing an appropriate response measure that affects a procedure whereby a public authority in the Union grants authorisations, registrations, licenses or other rights to a natural or legal person for the purposes of their commercial activities, the Commission shall always consider measures according to the following hierarchy of steps:

- (a) measures affecting procedures duly initiated after the entry into force of the implementing act referred to in Article 7(1) or 8(1), respectively, or where no such measures are available
- (b) measures affecting procedures not yet completed upon the entry into force of the implementing act referred to in Article 7(1) or 8(1), respectively.

Where none of the measures referred to in points (a) and (b) of the first subparagraph are available, the Commission may, in exceptional circumstances consider other response measures, where it has been demonstrated, in light of the information-gathering exercise conducted pursuant to Article 11, that those other measures would not disproportionately affect the upstream industries, downstream industries or final consumers within the Union or impose a disproportionate burden on the process of administration of relevant national regulations, whilst ensuring effectiveness.

In conjunction with the first subparagraph, when selecting and designing a response measure, the Commission shall always take into account the level of harmonisation while preferring measures affecting procedures applied on a Union-wide basis or measures affecting procedures applied in an area where extensive Union legislation exists.

3. Where necessary to achieve the objectives of this Regulation, ~~the~~ Commission may decide to apply Union response measures under Articles 7 or 8 consisting of restrictions on foreign direct investment or on trade in services also with regard to services supplied, or direct investments made, within the Union by one or more legal persons established in the Union and owned or controlled by persons of the third country concerned ~~where necessary to achieve the objectives of this Regulation.~~ The Commission may decide on such ~~the~~ application ~~whereof~~ such Union response measures where not covering such situations would be insufficient to effectively achieve the objectives of this Regulation, in particular where such measures could be avoided ~~by the third country or the person concerned.~~

In assessing whether to adopt ~~such a decision~~ the decision referred to in the first subparagraph, the Commission shall consider, in addition to the criteria ~~in~~ under paragraphs 1 and 2, amongst other things:

- (a) the patterns of trade in services and investment in the sector targeted by the envisaged Union response measures and the risk of avoidance by the third country or the person concerned of any Union response measures not applying to services supplied, or direct investments made, within the Union;
- (b) the effective contribution of such intra-Union restrictions referred to in the first subparagraph to the objective of obtaining the cessation of ~~the measure of~~ economic coercion;
- (c) the existence of alternative measures capable of achieving the objective of obtaining the cessation of the measure of economic coercion that are reasonably available and less restrictive of trade in services or investment within the Union.

Any decision to apply restrictions with regard to services supplied, or direct investments made, within the Union by one or more legal persons established in the Union shall be duly justified in the implementing act referred to in ~~paragraph 1 of Article 7(1) and in Article 78(1)~~ in light of the ~~above criteria~~ referred to in the third paragraph of this Article.

Article 10

The termination of Union response measures adopted in accordance with Articles 7 and 8 shall be decided, by means of an implementing act, in accordance with the examination procedure referred to in Article 15(2).

Those implementing acts shall be adopted in accordance with the procedure referred to in Article 15(3) and they shall remain in force for a period not exceeding two months.
