

Council of the European Union

Brussels, 30 November 2022
(OR. en)

15000/22
ADD 1
LIMITE
PV CONS 68
AGRI 648
PECHE 470

DRAFT MINUTES
COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN UNION
(Agriculture and Fisheries)
21 November 2022

CONTENTS

| | Page |
|--|-------------|
| Statements for the Council minutes | 3 |

Statements to the non-legislative "A" items set out in doc. 14595/22

Ad "A" item 2:

Council Decision on guidelines for the employment policies of the Member States (2022)

Adoption

STATEMENT BY HUNGARY

"Hungary recognizes and promotes equality between men and women in accordance with the Fundamental Law of Hungary, and the primary law, principles and values of the European Union, as well as commitments and principles stemming from the international law. Furthermore, equality between women and men is enshrined in the Treaties of the European Union as a fundamental value. In line with these and its national legislation, Hungary interprets the concept of 'gender' as reference to 'sex' and the concept of 'gender equality' as 'providing equal chances and opportunities for women and men' in the council decision on guidelines for the employment policies of the Member States."

Ad "A" item 5:

Council Decision authorising the opening of negotiations for a Council of Europe convention on artificial intelligence, human rights, democracy and the rule of law

Adoption

STATEMENT BY THE COMMISSION

"The Commission welcomes the swift progress by the Council of the preparation and adoption of its decision to authorise the entering into negotiations on behalf of the European Union for a Council of Europe convention on artificial intelligence, human rights, democracy and the rule of law.

However, as the Council is aware, the Commission considers it legally incorrect that a Council Decision authorising the opening of negotiations indicates a substantive legal basis.

The Decision authorising the opening of negotiations is premised solely on the existence of conferred powers of the Union and not on a determination of a specific competence. Its effect is limited to authorising the Commission to use its prerogatives under the EU Treaties in order to start negotiations. The scope of these negotiations is therefore determined by the scope of the powers of the Union. Besides, the freedom of the envisaged treaty partner of the Union as regards the determination of the scope of the negotiations cannot be limited by the Council Decision authorising the opening of the negotiations. Thus, the precise legal basis for the future agreement can only be determined after the content of the agreement is known.

The Commission also considers that the scope of the authorisation as set out in Article 1 of the Decision should extend to all matters falling within the Union's competences, as defined by the Treaties. In this respect, the Commission considers it legally incorrect to limit the authorisation solely to "matters falling under the exclusive Union competence". This could adversely impact the effectiveness of Union's action on international scene should matters arise in the course of the negotiations in relation to other areas of Union competence. Notwithstanding the above, based on the zero draft of the convention, it appears that the entire convention may fall within exclusive Union competence. In particular, the conclusion of the convention may affect common rules or alter their scope in the meaning of Article 3(2) TFEU given its significant overlap with the proposed AI Act as well as other relevant existing EU legislation.

The Commission also considers the possible revision or further development of negotiating directives as set out in Article 2 of the Decision to be subject to the Commission's right of initiative for those matters.

As regards the addition in Article 3 addressing situations of partially Union and partially Member States competence, the Commission notes that it appears that, based on the zero draft of the Convention, the entire convention may fall within the Union competence, and not within the Member States exclusive competence.

The Commission will therefore pursue the negotiations in full respect of the above-mentioned provisions and principles.

The Commission reserves all its rights and looks forward to good cooperation with the Member States in the implementation of the decision in compliance with the duty for sincere cooperation."
