Subject : Proposal for a Council Directive on the exemption from valued added tax and excise duty of goods imported by persons travelling from third countries

Subsequently to the ECOFIN of November 7, the Presidency presents the attached new compromise proposal with the following key elements:

- two alternatives in Article 7 for the definition of the overall value ceiling for duty free imports by travellers coming from third countries, respectively:
 - Option A: The overall value ceiling is set at EUR 350; or
 - Option B: The overall value ceiling is differentiated according to whether the duty free imports enter the Community by air (EUR 500) or by land/water (EUR 300). Within option B there are again two possible scenario's: the differentiation is mandatory for all Member States (B 1) or the differentiation is optional (B 2).
- An option for Member States, in Article 8 (2), to apply different quantitative limits for the duty free import of tobacco products, depending on whether they enter the Community by air (higher limit) or by land/water (lower limit). As a consequence Article 3 now also defines air travellers and private pleasure-flying.

Proposal for a

COUNCIL DIRECTIVE

on the exemption from valued added tax and excise duty of goods imported by persons travelling from third countries

THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN UNION,

Having regard to the Treaty establishing the European Community, and in particular Article 93 thereof,

Having regard to the proposal from the Commission¹,

Having regard to the opinion of the European Parliament²,

Having regard to the opinion of the European Economic and Social Committee³,

Whereas:

- (1) Council Directive 69/169/EEC of 28 May 1969 on the harmonisation of provisions laid down by law, regulation or administrative action relating to exemption from turnover tax and excise duty on imports in international travel⁴ established a Community system of tax exemptions. While it remains necessary to maintain that system in order to prevent double taxation, as well as in cases where, in view of the conditions under which the goods are imported, the usual need to protect the economy is absent, it should still apply only to non-commercial imports of goods in the personal luggage of travellers from third countries.

³ OJ C [...], [...], p. [...].

⁴ OJ L 133, 4.6.1969, p. 6. Directive as last amended by Directive 2005/93/EC (OJ L 346, 29.12.2005, p. 16).

- (2) However, given the number of amendments required, as well as the need to adapt the Directive to enlargement and to the new external borders of the Community, and to restructure and simplify certain provisions for the sake of clarity, the complete revision and the replacement of Directive 69/169/EEC is justified.
- (3) The quantitative limits and monetary thresholds to which the exemptions are subject should meet the current needs of Member States.
- (4) The monetary threshold should take account of the development of the real value of money since the last increase in 1994 and should also reflect the abolition of quantitative limits on goods subject to excise duties in some Member States which will now fall into the general threshold on VAT.
- (5) In the experience of the Commission, the quantities for tobacco products and alcoholic beverages have, in general, been shown to be appropriate and should therefore be maintained.
- (6) The quantitative limits for the exemption of excise goods should reflect the current scheme of taxation of such goods in the Member States. Accordingly, it is appropriate to introduce a limit for beer whereas the limits for perfume, coffee and tea should be discontinued.
- (7) It is appropriate to allow Member States to set lower limits with regard to the monetary threshold for children and to exclude under-aged persons from the exemptions for tobacco products and alcoholic beverages, in order to ensure a high level of health protection.

- (8) Given the need to promote a high level of human health protection for Community citizens, it is appropriate to allow Member States to apply reduced quantitative limits for the exemption of tobacco products.
- (9) In order to take account of the special situation of certain people with regard to their location or working environment, it should also be possible for Member States to apply narrower exemptions in the case of frontier workers, persons residing near Community frontiers and the crew of the means of transport used in international travel.
- (10) For Member States which have not introduced the euro, a mechanism should be set up to enable amounts expressed in national currencies to be converted into euro and thus ensure equal treatment in the Member States.
- (11) The amount on which Member States are free not to levy taxes on the import of goods should be increased in order to reflect current monetary values.

HAS ADOPTED THIS DIRECTIVE:

Chapter I
