Proposal for a

DIRECTIVE OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND OF THE COUNCIL

amending Directive 2009/73/EC concerning common rules for the internal market in natural gas

(Text with EEA relevance)

THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN UNION,

Having regard to the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union, and in particular Article 194 (2) thereof,

Having regard to the proposal from the European Commission,

After transmission of the draft legislative act to the national parliaments,

Having regard to the opinion of the European Economic and Social Committee¹,

Having regard to the opinion of the Committee of the Regions²,

Acting in accordance with the ordinary legislative procedure,

Whereas:

- (1) The internal market in natural gas, which has been progressively implemented throughout the Union since 1999, aims to deliver real choice for all consumers in the Union, be they citizens or businesses, new business opportunities and fair conditions of competition, competitive prices, efficient investment signals and a higher standard of service, and to contribute to security of supply and sustainability.

- (2) Directive 2003/55/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council³ and Directive 2009/73/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council⁴ have made a significant contribution towards the creation of the internal market in natural gas.
- (3) This Directive seeks to address ~~the remaining~~ obstacles to the completion of the internal market in natural gas resulting from the non-application of Union market rules to gas [] transmission lines to and from third countries. The amendments introduced by this Directive will ensure that the rules applicable to gas transmission [] lines connecting two or more Member States, are also applicable to [] gas transmission lines to and from third countries within the Union. This will establish consistency of the legal framework within the Union while avoiding distortion of competition in the internal energy market in the Union and negative security of supply impacts. It will also enhance transparency and provide legal certainty as regards the applicable legal regime to market participants, in particular investors in gas infrastructure and network users, noting that an international agreement in accordance with Article 218 TFEU might prove necessary to resolve potential incompatibilities resulting from the application of Union market rules to a given gas transmission system and the rules of a third country.

⁴ Directive 2009/73/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 13 July 2009 concerning common rules for the internal market in natural gas and repealing Directive 2003/55/EC (OJ L 211, 14.8.2009, p. 94).

- (4) To take account of the previous lack of specific Union rules applicable to gas [] transmission lines to and from third countries, Member States should be able to grant derogations from certain provisions of Directive 2009/73/EC to such [] gas transmission lines which are completed at the date of entry into force of this Directive. The relevant date for the application of unbundling models other than ownership unbundling should be adapted for gas [] transmission lines to and from third countries.
- (4a) A pipeline connecting a third-country processing terminal, as part of a production system, to a final landing point of a Member State should be considered as an upstream pipeline. In order to facilitate access to upstream pipelines connected to a third country, this Directive should be understood as not imposing any new rules on upstream pipelines beyond the provisions regarding upstream pipelines set out in the Directive 2009/73/EC.
- (4b) Transmission system operators should be free to conclude arrangements with transmission system operators in third countries on issues concerning the operation and interconnection of transmission systems, provided the content of such agreement is compatible with the Union law.
- (5) The applicability of Directive 2009/73/EC [] to gas [] transmission lines to and from third countries remains confined to the territorial limit of Union's jurisdiction. As regards offshore [] gas transmission lines, it should be applicable in the territorial [] sea [] of the Member States.

(5a) Having regard to Article 2(1) TFEU, with regard to agreements or part of the agreements, with third countries falling within the scope of this directive and within exclusive competence of the European Union, a coherent and transparent procedure should be established to authorise a Member State, upon its request, to amend, extend, adapt, renew or conclude an agreement with a third country, in particular where the Union itself has not indicated its intention to amend, extend, adapt, renew or conclude an agreement by way of an already existing or envisaged authorisation to open negotiations.

This procedure should be without prejudice to the respective competencies of the European Union and of the Member States.

(5b) The agreements concluded between a Member State and a third country as well as technical agreements of the operators already in force, would not be affected by the current proposal, provided that they comply with the Union law or a derogation has been granted by the Member State concerned.

(5c) Recalling that the Network Code on interoperability and data exchange rules⁵, the Network Code on capacity allocation mechanisms in gas transmission systems⁶, Commission Decision on conditions for access to the natural gas transmission networks⁷, as well as chapter III, V, VI, Article 28 and chapter IX of the Network code on harmonised transmission tariff structures for gas⁸ apply to entry points from and exit points to third countries, subject to the decision of the relevant National Regulatory Authority whereas the Network Code on Gas Balancing⁹ applies exclusively to balancing zones within the borders of the Union.

⁵ Commission Regulation establishing a Network Code on interoperability and data exchange rules (703/2015/EU)

⁶ Commission Regulation (EU) 2017/459 establishing a network code on capacity allocation mechanisms in gas transmission systems and repealing Regulation (EU) No 984/2013

⁷ Commission Decision on conditions for access to the natural gas transmission networks [2012/490/EU]

⁸ Commission Regulation (EU) 2017/460 of 16 March 2017 establishing a network code on harmonised transmission tariff structures for gas

⁹ Commission Regulation establishing a Network Code on Gas Balancing of Transmission Networks (312/2014/EU)

(6) Directive 2009/73/EC should therefore be amended accordingly,

HAVE ADOPTED THIS DIRECTIVE:

Where the network concerned is covered by at least one Member State and at least one third country, the Member States concerned shall consult each other and shall consult the third countries concerned, with a view to ensuring, as regards the network concerned, that the provisions of this Directive are applied consistently to a transmission system up to the border of Union [] territory.

~~Where the upstream pipeline network originates from one third country and connects to at least one Member State, the Member States concerned shall consult each other and shall consult the said third countries, with a view to ensuring, as regards the network concerned, that the provisions of this Directive are applied consistently up to the border of Union jurisdiction.~~

(5) Article 36 is amended as follows:

(a) in paragraph 3, the following second sentence is added:

Where the infrastructure in question is connected with the Union network under the jurisdiction of a Member State and originates from or ends in one (or more) third countries, the national regulatory authority, or where appropriate other competent authorities, shall consult the relevant authorities of the third countries prior to adopting a decision.

Where the third-country authorities, subject to such consultation, do not respond to the consultation within the set deadline, the national regulatory authority concerned may take the necessary decision.

(b) in the second subparagraph of paragraph 4, the following second sentence is added:

Where the infrastructure in question [] originates from or ends in one or more third countries, the national regulatory authorities of the Member States, or where appropriate other competent authorities, may [] consult the relevant authorities of the third countries prior to adopting a decision with a view to ensuring, as regards the concerned infrastructure, that the provisions of this Directive are applied consistently up to the border of Union [] territory. (8) in Article 49, the following paragraph 9 is added:

9. In respect of gas [] transmission line to and from third countries completed before [PO: date of entry into force of this Directive], Member States may decide, up to their discretion, to derogate from Articles 9, 10, 11 and 32 and Article 41(6), (8) and (10) for the sections of such [] gas transmission line between the border of Union [] territory and the first [] connection point, for reasons such as enabling the recovery of the investment made or due to reasons of security of supply, provided that the derogation would not [] negatively affect in significant way competition in the Union [] or the effective functioning of the internal market in natural gas in the Union, or the security of supply in the Union and under the condition that the Member State has jurisdiction over the first interconnection point of the said transmission line and a system in the Union in the meaning of Article 2, point 13.

The derogation shall be limited in time up to 20 years, renewable and may be subject to conditions which contribute to the achievement of the above conditions.

This derogation is not applicable to interconnectors completed before [PO: date of entry into force of this Directive] to and from third countries which apply Article 36 of this Directive in their legal order.
