NOTE

From: General Secretariat of the Council
To: Delegations
Subject: List of Council preparatory bodies

1. The list of Council preparatory bodies is attached in Annex I.¹
2. For preparatory bodies marked with a single asterisk, all delegates should have a valid EU personnel security clearance at least to the level SECRET UE/EU SECRET. For preparatory bodies marked with a double asterisk, all delegates should have a valid EU personnel security clearance at least to the level CONFIDENTIEL UE/EU CONFIDENTIAL.²
3. Annex II sets out certain security requirements governing access to meetings, in particular where classified information is discussed.

¹ This list does not include Joint Committees and other bodies with third countries. Nor does it include certain bodies (e.g. the Standing Committee on Employment) which, although they meet in the Council building, are not Council preparatory bodies.

² These references in Annex I cancel and replace 8683/05 + COR 1.

4. Annex III lists all the preparatory bodies with a fixed chair (i.e. committees or Working Parties with an elected/appointed chair, chaired by a representative of the High Representative or chaired by the General Secretariat of the Council).
5. Committees or Working Parties may only be set up by, or with the approval of, the Council or Coreper. Only the committees and Working Parties on this list may meet as Council preparatory bodies (Article 19(3) of the Council's Rules of Procedure). Ad hoc Working Parties cease to exist once their terms of reference have been fulfilled. Their terms of reference should expressly state this rule or be time-limited.
6. Substantial and important new technical proposals requiring specific expertise should, as a rule, be included within the remit of the competent existing Working Party. If necessary for practical reasons, a specific sub-area may be listed rather than creating a new permanent or ad hoc Working Party. The listing of sub-areas does not imply that Working Party remits are confined to the sub-areas in question; Working Parties cover any other matters falling within their general scope.
7. Meetings should only be convened when a sufficiently substantive agenda exists or objective deadlines require it.

MEETINGS OF COUNCIL PREPARATORY BODIESAccess to meeting rooms

1. Rooms where meetings are in progress are considered protected areas and may be subject to access and presence control by the organising entity or by General Secretariat staff. Meetings of certain Council configurations or meetings where sensitive matters are discussed may be subject to access and presence controls by staff from Safety and Security Directorate. For meetings where EU classified information is discussed, further details are provided below. Presence at other meetings is checked by peers under the responsibility of the chair.
2. Delegates' identification badges must be worn visibly. Room attendants may ask to verify any delegate's identification badge and, where an individual cannot produce it, request the assistance of the Safety and Security Directorate. Security officers are authorised to deny access or to remove any unidentified or unauthorised individuals from a meeting. Holders of day badges will only be admitted if their badges specifically authorise attendance at the meeting.

3. All discussion of classified items must be organised in accordance with the Council's security rules for protecting EU classified information⁸⁰.

Security clearance

4. Delegates attending meetings of the Council preparatory bodies where classified items are discussed regularly must be cleared at least to the levels indicated in Annex I of this document.
