Subject: Amended proposal for a Regulation of the European Parliament and of the Council on the establishment of 'Eurodac' for the comparison of biometric data for the effective application of Regulation (EU) XXX/XXX [Regulation on Asylum and Migration Management] and of Regulation (EU) XXX/XXX [Resettlement Regulation], for identifying an illegally staying third-country national or stateless person and on requests for the comparison with Eurodac data by Member States' law enforcement authorities and Europol for law enforcement purposes and amending Regulations (EU) 2018/1240 and (EU) 2019/818

Dear Mr. LÓPEZ AGUILAR,

Following the informal negotiations on this proposal between the representatives of the three institutions, today the Permanent Representatives Committee agreed with the final compromise text.

I am therefore now in a position to inform you that, should the European Parliament adopt its position at first reading, in accordance with Article 294(3) TFEU, in the exact form of the text set out in the Annex to this letter (subject to revision by the lawyer-linguists of the two institutions), the Council, in accordance with Article 294(4) TFEU, will approve the European Parliament's position and the act shall be adopted in the wording which corresponds to the position of the European Parliament.

On behalf of the Council, I also wish to thank you for your close cooperation which should enable us to reach agreement on this file at first reading.

Yours sincerely

REGULATION (EU) 2024/...
OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND OF THE COUNCIL

on the establishment of 'Eurodac' for the comparison of biometric data for the effective application of Regulation (EU) █ .../... [Regulation on Asylum and Migration Management] █, of Regulation (EU) █ .../... [Resettlement Regulation], and Directive 2001/55/EC [Temporary Protection Directive], for identifying an illegally staying third-country national or stateless person and on requests for the comparison with Eurodac data by Member States' law enforcement authorities and Europol for law enforcement purposes and amending Regulations (EU) 2018/1240, and (EU) 2019/818

THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN UNION,

Having regard to the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union, and in particular Articles 78(2)(c), (d), (e) and (g), 79(2)(c), 87(2)(a) and 88(2)(a) thereof,

Having regard to the proposal from the European Commission,

After transmission of the draft legislative act to the national parliaments,

Having regard to the opinion of the European Economic and Social Committee<sup>1</sup>,

Having regard to the opinion of the European Data Protection Supervisor,

Acting in accordance with the ordinary legislative procedure,

Whereas:

- (1) A common policy on asylum, including a Common European Asylum System, is a constituent part of the European Union's objective of progressively establishing an area of freedom, security and justice open to those who, forced by circumstances, seek international protection in the Union.
  - (2) For the purposes of applying Regulation (EU) .../... [█ Asylum and Migration Management] establishing the criteria and mechanisms for determining the Member State responsible for examining an application for international protection registered in one of the Member States by a third-country national or a stateless person, it is necessary to establish the identity of applicants for international protection and of persons apprehended in connection with the irregular crossing of the external borders of the Union. It is also desirable, in order effectively to apply Regulation (EU) .../... [█ Asylum and Migration Management], and in particular Article 26(1)(b) thereof, to allow each Member State to check whether a third-country national or stateless person found illegally staying on its territory has applied for international protection in another Member State.

(3) Moreover, for the purposes of effectively applying Regulation (EU) .../... [Asylum and Migration Management Regulation] and in accordance with the rules thereof, it is necessary to clearly mark in Eurodac the fact that there has been a shift of responsibility between Member States, including in cases of relocation. █

(4) It is also necessary, in order to effectively apply Regulation (EU) .../... [Asylum and Migration Management Regulation] or to identify any secondary movements to allow each Member State to check whether a third-country national or a stateless person found illegally staying on its territory or who applies for international protection has been granted international protection or a national humanitarian status by another Member State in accordance with Regulation (EU) .../... [Resettlement Regulation] or in accordance with a national resettlement scheme. For that purpose, the biometric data of persons registered for the purpose of conducting an admission procedure should be stored in Eurodac as soon as the international protection or humanitarian status under national law is granted, and no later than 72 hours thereafter.

- (5) In order to smoothly apply Regulation (EU) .../... [Resettlement Regulation], it is necessary to ■ allow each Member State to check whether a third-country national or a stateless person has been granted international protection or a national humanitarian status in accordance with Regulation (EU) .../... [Resettlement Regulation] by another Member State or has been admitted to the territory of the Member States in accordance with a national resettlement scheme. In order to be able to apply the refusal grounds provided for under Article 6(1)(e) and (f) as well as Article 6(2)(a) of Regulation (EU) .../... [Resettlement Regulation] within the context of a new admission procedure, Member States also need information on the conclusion of previous admission procedures as well as information on any decision on granting international protection or a humanitarian status under national law. Information on the decision on granting international protection or a national humanitarian status is furthermore needed to identify the Member State that concluded the procedure and thus to enable Member States to seek supplementary information from that Member State.

- (6) Furthermore, in order to reflect accurately the obligations Member States have under international law to conduct search and rescue operations and to provide a more accurate picture of the composition of migratory flows in the EU it is also necessary to record in Eurodac the fact that the third-country nationals or stateless persons were disembarked following search and rescue operations, including for statistical purposes. Without prejudice to the application of Regulation (EU) .../... [Regulation on Asylum and Migration Management], the recording of this fact should not result in any difference of treatment of persons registered in Eurodac upon apprehension in connection with the irregular crossing of an external border. This should be without prejudice to the respect of rules under EU law applicable to third-country nationals or stateless persons disembarked following search and rescue operations.

- (7) Furthermore, for the purposes of supporting the asylum system by applying Regulation (EU) .../... [Asylum and Migration Management Regulation], Regulation (EU) .../... [Asylum Procedure Regulation], Regulation (EU) .../... [Qualification Regulation] and Directive (EU) .../... [Reception Conditions Directive] it is necessary to record whether, following security checks referred to in this Regulation, it appears that a person could pose a threat to internal security. That recording should be carried out by the Member State of origin defined in this Regulation. The existence in Eurodac of such a record is without prejudice to the requirement of an individual examination in order to apply Article 12, Article 14(1) points (d) or (e) or Article 19(1) point (b) of Regulation (EU) .../... [Qualification Regulation] and Regulation (EU) .../... [Asylum Procedures Regulation]. The record should be erased if the investigation shows that there are insufficient grounds to consider that the person represents a threat to internal security.

- (8) Following the security checks referred to in this Regulation, the fact that the person could pose a threat to internal security ('security flag') should only be recorded in Eurodac if the person is violent or unlawfully armed, or where there are clear indications that the person is involved in any of the offences referred to in Directive (EU) 2017/541 or in any of the offences referred to in Article 2(2) of the Framework Decision 2002/584/JHA. When assessing whether a person is unlawfully armed, it is necessary that a Member State determine whether the person is carrying a firearm without a valid permit or authorisation, or any other type of prohibited weapon as defined under national law. When assessing whether a person is violent, it is necessary that a Member State determine whether the person has displayed behaviour that results in physical harm to other persons, that would amount to a criminal offences under national law.

(9) Council Directive 2001/55/EC<sup>1</sup> provides for a system of temporary protection which has been activated for the first time by Council Implementing Decision (EU) 2022/382 in response to the war in Ukraine. Pursuant to that temporary protection regime Member States are to register persons enjoying temporary protection on their territory. Member States are also required, inter alia, to reunite family members and to cooperate with each other with regard to the transferral of the residence of persons enjoying temporary protection from one Member State to another. It is appropriate to supplement the data collection provisions of Directive 2001/55/EC by including persons benefiting from temporary protection in Eurodac. In this regard, biometric data are an important element in establishing such persons' identity or family relationships, and thus protecting a substantial public interest within the meaning of Article 9(2)(g) of Regulation (EU) 2016/679. Moreover, by including the biometric data of beneficiaries of temporary protection in Eurodac rather than in a peer-to-peer system between Member States, such persons will benefit from the safeguards and protections laid down in this Regulation particularly with regard to data retention periods, which should be as short as possible.

- (10) However, in view of the fact that a platform has already been set up by the Commission, in cooperation with eu-LISA and the Member States, to deal with the information exchanges necessary pursuant to Directive 2001/55/EC, it is appropriate to exclude from Eurodac those persons benefiting from temporary protection pursuant to Council Implementing Decision (EU) 2022/382, and the national measures taken pursuant thereto. Such exclusion should also apply in respect of any future amendments to Council Implementing Decision (EU) 2022/382 and any extensions thereto.
- (11) It is appropriate to defer the application of Article 26 to three years after the entry into application of the other provisions of this Regulation, in order to ensure sufficient time for an assessment by the Commission of the functioning and the operational efficiency of any IT system used to exchange the data of the beneficiaries of temporary protection and of the expected impact of applying this Article in case of a future activation of Council Directive 2001/55/EC.
- (12) Biometrics constitute an important element in establishing the exact identity of the persons falling under the scope of this Regulation because they ensure high accuracy of identification. It is necessary to set up a system for the comparison of their biometric data.

- (13) It is also necessary to ensure that that system functions within the interoperability framework established by Regulations (EU) 2019/817<sup>2</sup> and (EU) 2019/818<sup>3</sup> of the European Parliament and of the Council in accordance with this Regulation and Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council<sup>4</sup>, in particular with the principles of necessity, proportionality and purpose limitation set out in that Regulation.
- (14) The reuse by Member States of the biometric data of third-country nationals or stateless persons already taken pursuant to this Regulation for the purposes of transmission to Eurodac in accordance with the conditions set out in this Regulation should be encouraged.

- (15) Furthermore, it is necessary to introduce the provisions that would frame the access of European Travel Information and Authorization System (ETIAS) national units and of competent visa authorities to Eurodac in accordance with Regulation (EU) 2018/1240<sup>5</sup> and (EC) No 767/2008<sup>6</sup> of the European Parliament and of the Council.
- (16) For the purpose of assisting with the control of irregular immigration and of providing statistics supporting evidence-based policy making, eu-LISA should be able to produce cross-system statistics using data from Eurodac, the Visa Information System, ETIAS and the Entry/Exit System (EES)<sup>7</sup>. In order to specify the content of these cross-system statistics, implementing powers should be conferred on the Commission. Those powers should be exercised in accordance with Regulation (EU) No 182/2011 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 16 February 2011 laying down the rules and general principles concerning mechanisms for control by the Member States of the Commission's exercise of implementing powers.

(17) To those ends, it is necessary to set up a system known as ‘Eurodac’, consisting of a Central System and of the Common Identity Repository (CIR) established by Regulation (EU) 2019/818<sup>8</sup>, which will operate a computerised central database of biometric data, alphanumeric data and, where available, a scanned colour copy of an identity or travel document, as well as of the electronic means of transmission between Eurodac and the Member States, hereinafter the ‘Communication Infrastructure’.

(18) The Communication of the Commission of 13 May 2015, titled ‘A European Agenda on Migration’<sup>8</sup> noted that ‘Member States must also implement fully the rules on taking migrants' fingerprints at the borders’ and further proposed that the Commission will also explore how more biometric identifiers can be used through the Eurodac system (such as using facial recognition techniques through digital photos).

(19) For the purposes of obtaining high accuracy identification, fingerprints should always be preferred over facial images. To this end, Member States should exhaust all attempts to ensure that fingerprints can be taken from the data-subject before a comparison using a facial image only can be carried out. To assist Member States overcome challenges, where it is impossible to take the fingerprints of the third-country national or stateless person because his or her fingertips are damaged, either intentionally or not, or amputated, this Regulation should permit the comparison of a facial image without fingerprints.

- (20) The return of third-country nationals or stateless persons who do not have a right to stay in the Union, in accordance with fundamental rights as general principles of Union law as well as international law, including refugee protection, the principle of non-refoulement and human rights obligations, and in compliance with the provisions of Directive 2008/115/EC<sup>9</sup>, is an important part of the comprehensive efforts to address migration in a fair and efficient way and, in particular, to reduce and deter irregular migration. To increase the effectiveness of the Union system to return illegally staying third-country nationals or stateless persons is needed in order to maintain public trust in the Union migration and asylum system, and should go hand in hand with the efforts to protect those in need of protection.
- (21) For that purpose, it is also necessary to clearly record in Eurodac the fact that an application for international protection has been rejected where the third-country national or stateless person has no right to remain and has not been allowed to remain in accordance with Regulation (EU) .../... [Asylum Procedure Regulation].

<sup>9</sup> Directive 2008/115/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 16 December 2008 on common standards and procedures in Member States for returning illegally staying third-country nationals (OJ L 348, 24.12.2008, p. 98).

- (22) National authorities in the Member States experience difficulties in identifying illegally staying third-country nationals or stateless persons in view of their return and readmission. It is therefore essential to ensure that information on third-country nationals or stateless persons who are staying illegally in the Union are collected and transmitted to Eurodac and are compared also with those collected and transmitted for the purpose of establishing the identity of applicants for international protection and of third-country nationals or stateless persons apprehended in connection with the irregular crossing of the external borders of the Union, in order to facilitate their identification and re-documentation and to ensure their return and readmission, and to reduce identity fraud. It should also contribute to reducing the length of the administrative procedures necessary for ensuring return and readmission of illegally staying third-country nationals or stateless persons, including the period during which they may be kept in administrative detention awaiting removal. It should also allow identifying third countries of transit, where the illegally staying third-country national or stateless person may be readmitted.

- (23) With a view to facilitating the procedures for the identification and the issuance of travel documents for return purposes of illegally staying third-country nationals or stateless persons, a scanned colour copy of an identity or travel document should be recorded in Eurodac where available, along with an indication of its authenticity. If such identity or travel document is not available, only one other available document identifying the third-country national or stateless person should be recorded in Eurodac along with an indication of its authenticity. In order to facilitate the procedures for the identification and the issuance of travel documents for return purposes of illegally staying third-country nationals or stateless persons, and in order not to populate the system with counterfeit documents, only documents validated as authentic or whose authenticity cannot be established due to the absence of security features, should be kept in the system.
- (24) In its Conclusions of 8 October 2015 on the future of return policy, the Council endorsed the initiative announced by the Commission to explore an extension of the scope and purpose of Eurodac to enable the use of data for return purposes<sup>10</sup>. Member States should have the necessary tools at their disposal to be able to control illegal migration to the Union and to detect secondary movements and illegally staying third-country nationals and stateless persons in the Union. Therefore, the data in Eurodac should be available, subject to the conditions set out in this Regulation, for comparison by the designated authorities of the Member States.

- (25) The European Border and Coast Guard Agency, as established by Regulation (EU) 2016/1624 of the European Parliament and of the Council<sup>11</sup>, supports Member States in their efforts to better manage the external borders and control illegal immigration. The European Union Agency for Asylum as established by [Regulation on the EU Agency for Asylum] provides operational and technical assistance to Member States. Consequently, authorised users of these agencies as well as of other Justice and Home Affairs Agencies should be provided with access to the central repository if such access is relevant for the implementation of their tasks in line with relevant data protection safeguards.
- (26) As members of the European Border and Coast Guard Teams and experts of the asylum support teams referred to in Regulation (EU) 2016/1624 and Regulation (EU) 2021/2303<sup>12</sup> respectively may, upon request of the host Member State, take and transmit biometric data, adequate technological solutions should be developed to ensure that efficient and effective assistance is provided to the host Member State.

<sup>11</sup> Regulation (EU) 2016/1624 of the European Parliament and the Council of 14 September 2016 on the European Border and Coast Guard and amending Regulation (EU) 2016/399 of the European Parliament and of the Council and repealing Regulation (EC) No 863/2007 of the European Parliament and of the Council, Council Regulation (EC) No 2007/2004 and Council Decision 2005/267/EC (OJ L 251, 16.9.2016, p. 1).

- (27) Moreover, in order for Eurodac to effectively assist with the control of irregular immigration to the Union, and with the detection of secondary movements within the Union it is necessary to allow the system to count applicants in addition to applications by linking all sets of data corresponding to one person, regardless of their category, in one sequence. Where a dataset registered in Eurodac is erased, any link to that dataset is to be automatically erased.
- (28) It is essential in the fight against terrorist offences and other serious criminal offences for the law enforcement authorities to have the fullest and most up-to-date information if they are to perform their tasks. The information contained in Eurodac is necessary for the purposes of the prevention, detection or investigation of terrorist offences as referred to in Directive (EU) 2017/541 of the European Parliament and of the Council<sup>13</sup> or of other serious criminal offences as referred to in Council Framework Decision 2002/584/JHA<sup>14</sup>. Therefore, the data in Eurodac should be available, subject to the conditions set out in this Regulation, for comparison by the designated authorities of Member States and the European Police Office (Europol). ■ The powers granted to law enforcement authorities to access Eurodac should be without prejudice to the right of an applicant for international protection to have his or her application processed in due course in accordance with the relevant law. Furthermore, any subsequent follow-up after obtaining a ‘hit’ from Eurodac should also be without prejudice to that right.

- (29) The powers granted to law enforcement authorities to access Eurodac should be without prejudice to the right of an applicant for international protection to have his or her application processed in due course in accordance with the relevant law. Furthermore, any subsequent follow-up after obtaining a ‘hit’ from Eurodac should also be without prejudice to that right.
- (30) The Commission outlined in its Communication to the Council and the European Parliament of 24 November 2005 on improved effectiveness, enhanced interoperability and synergies among European databases in the area of Justice and Home Affairs that authorities responsible for internal security could have access to Eurodac in well-defined cases, when there is a substantiated suspicion that the perpetrator of a terrorist or other serious criminal offence has applied for international protection. In that Communication the Commission also found that the proportionality principle requires that Eurodac be queried for such purposes only if there is an overriding public security concern, that is, if the act committed by the criminal or terrorist to be identified is so reprehensible that it justifies querying a database that registers persons with a clean criminal record, and it concluded that the threshold for authorities responsible for internal security to query Eurodac must therefore always be significantly higher than the threshold for querying criminal databases.

- (31) Moreover, Europol plays a key role with respect to cooperation between Member States' authorities in the field of cross-border crime investigation in supporting Union-wide crime prevention, analyses and investigation. Consequently, Europol should also have access to Eurodac within the framework of its tasks and in accordance with Regulation (EU) 2016/794 <sup>15</sup>.
- (32) Requests for comparison of Eurodac data by Europol should be allowed only in specific cases, under specific circumstances and under strict conditions, in line with the principles of necessity and proportionality enshrined in Article 52(1) of the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union ('the Charter') and as interpreted by the Court of Justice of the European Union<sup>16</sup>.

Post-och telestyrelsen and Secretary of State for the Home Department v. Tom Watson and Others, Joined cases C-203/15 and C-698/15, ECLI:EU:C:2016:970.

- (33) Since Eurodac was originally established to facilitate the application of the Dublin Convention, access to Eurodac for the purposes of preventing, detecting or investigating terrorist offences or other serious criminal offences constitutes a further development to the original purpose of Eurodac. In line with the requirements of Article 52(1) of the Charter ■, any interference with the fundamental right to respect for the private life of individuals whose personal data are processed in Eurodac must be in accordance with the law, which must be formulated with sufficient precision to allow individuals to adjust their conduct and it must protect individuals against arbitrariness and indicate with sufficient clarity the scope of discretion conferred on the competent authorities and the manner of its exercise. Any interference must be necessary to genuinely meet an objective of general interest and proportionate to the legitimate objective it aims to achieve.
- (34) Even though the original purpose of the establishment of Eurodac did not require the facility of requesting comparisons of data with the database on the basis of a latent fingerprint, which is the dactyloscopic trace which may be found at a crime scene, such a facility is fundamental in the field of police cooperation. The possibility to compare a latent fingerprint with the fingerprint data which is stored in Eurodac in cases where there are reasonable grounds for believing that the perpetrator or victim may fall under one of the categories covered by this Regulation will provide the designated authorities of the Member States with a very valuable tool in preventing, detecting or investigating terrorist offences or other serious criminal offences, when for example the only evidence available at a crime scene are latent fingerprints.

(35) This Regulation also lays down the conditions under which requests for comparison of biometric or alphanumeric data with Eurodac data for the purposes of preventing, detecting, or investigating terrorist offences or other serious criminal offences should be allowed and the necessary safeguards to ensure the protection of the fundamental right to respect for the private life of individuals whose personal data are processed in Eurodac. The strictness of those conditions reflects the fact that the Eurodac database registers biometric and alphanumeric data of persons who are not presumed to have committed a terrorist offence or other serious criminal offence. It is acknowledged that law enforcement authorities and Europol do not always have the biometric data of the suspect or victim whose case they are investigating, which may hamper their ability to check biometric matching databases such as Eurodac. It is important to equip law enforcement authorities and Europol with the necessary tools to prevent, detect and investigate terrorist offences or other serious criminal offences where it is necessary to do so. In order to contribute further to the investigations carried out by those authorities and Europol, searches based on alphanumeric data should be allowed in Eurodac, in particular in cases where no biometric evidence can be found, but where those authorities and Europol possess evidence of the personal details or identity documents of the suspect or victim.

- (36) The expansion of the scope and simplification of law enforcement access to Eurodac should help Member States dealing with the increasingly complicated operational situations and cases involving cross-border crimes and terrorism with direct impact on the security situation in the EU. The conditions of access to Eurodac for the purposes of the prevention, detection or investigation of terrorist offences or of other serious criminal offences should also allow the law enforcement authorities of the Member States to tackle the cases of suspects using multiple identities. For this purpose, obtaining a hit during a consultation of a relevant database prior to accessing Eurodac should not prevent such access. It may also be a useful tool to respond to the threat from radicalised persons or terrorists who might have been registered in Eurodac. A broader and simpler access of law enforcement authorities of the Member States to Eurodac should, while guaranteeing the full respect of the fundamental rights, enable Member States to use all existing tools to ensure an area of freedom, security and justice.
- (37) With a view to ensuring equal treatment for all applicants and beneficiaries of international protection, as well as in order to ensure consistency with the current Union asylum acquis, in particular with Regulation (EU) .../... [Qualification Regulation] of the European Parliament and of the Council, Regulation (EU) .../... establishing a [Union Resettlement Framework] and Regulation (EU) .../... [Asylum and Migration Management], this Regulation includes in its scope applicants for subsidiary protection and persons eligible for subsidiary protection.

(38) It is also necessary to require the Member States promptly to take and transmit the biometric data of every applicant for international protection, of every person for whom Member States intend to conduct an admission procedure in accordance with Regulation (EU) .../... [Resettlement Regulation], of every third-country national or stateless person who is apprehended in connection with the irregular crossing of an external border of a Member State or is found to be staying illegally in a Member State and of every person disembarked following a search and rescue operation, if they are at least six years of age.

(39) The obligation to take the biometric data of illegally staying third country nationals or stateless persons of at least six years of age does not affect the Member States' right to extend a third-country national or stateless person's stay on their territory pursuant to Article 20(2) of the Convention implementing the Schengen Agreement.

(40) The fact that the application for international protection follows or is made simultaneously with the apprehension of the third-country national or stateless person in connection with the irregular crossing of the external borders does not exempt Member States from registering those persons as persons apprehended in connection with the irregular crossing of the external border.

- (41) The fact that the application for international protection follows or is made simultaneously with the apprehension of the third-country national or stateless person illegally staying on the territory of Member States, does not exempt Member States from registering those persons as persons found to be illegally staying on the territory of the Member States.
- (42) The fact that the application for international protection follows or is made simultaneously with the disembarkation following a search and rescue operation of the third-country national or stateless person does not exempt Member States from registering those persons as persons disembarked following a search and rescue operation.
- (43) The fact that an application for international protection follows or is made simultaneously with the registration of the beneficiary of temporary protection does not exempt Member States from registering those persons as beneficiaries of temporary protection.

- (44) In view of strengthening the protection of all children falling under the scope of this Regulation, including unaccompanied minors who have not applied for international protection and those children who may become separated from their families, it is also necessary to take biometric data for storage in the Eurodac to help establish the identity of children and assist a Member State in tracing any family or links they may have with another Member State, as well as in assisting a Member State in tracing missing children, including for law enforcement purposes, by complementing the existing instruments, in particular ■ SIS ■ . Effective identification procedures will assist Member States in guaranteeing the adequate protection of children. Establishing family links is a key element in restoring family unity and must be closely linked to the determination of the best interests of the child and eventually, the determination of a sustainable solution in accordance with national practices following a needs assessment by the competent national child protection authorities.
- (45) The official responsible for taking the biometric data of a minor should receive training so that sufficient care is taken to ensure an adequate quality of biometric data of the minor and to guarantee that the process is child-friendly so that the minor, particularly a very young minor, feels safe and can readily cooperate with the process for having his or her biometric data taken.

- (46) Any minor from the age of six years old and above should be accompanied by, where present, an adult family member throughout the time his or her biometric data are taken. The unaccompanied minor should be accompanied by a ■ representative or, where a representative has not been designated, a person trained to safeguard the best interests of the minor and his or her general wellbeing, throughout the time his or her biometric data are taken. Such a trained person should not be the official responsible for taking the biometric data, should act independently and should not receive orders either from the official or the service responsible for taking the biometric data. Such a trained person should be the person designated to provisionally act as a representative under Directive (EU) .../... [Reception Conditions Directive] where that person has been designated. The official responsible for taking the biometric data of a minor should also receive training so that sufficient care is taken to ensure an adequate quality of fingerprints of the minor and to guarantee that the process is child-friendly so that the minor, particularly a very young minor, feels safe and can readily cooperate with the process for having his or her biometric data taken.

- (47) The best interests of the minor should be a primary consideration for Member States when applying this Regulation. Where the requesting Member State establishes that Eurodac data pertain to a child, those data may only be used for law enforcement purposes, in particular those relating to the prevention, detection and investigation of child trafficking and other serious crimes against children, by the requesting Member State and in accordance with that State's laws applicable to minors and in accordance with the obligation to give primary consideration to the best interests of the child.
- (48) It is necessary to lay down precise rules for the transmission of such biometric data and of other relevant personal data in the Eurodac, their storage, their comparison with other biometric data, the transmission of the results of such comparison and the marking and erasure of the recorded data. Such rules may be different for, and should be specifically adapted to, the situation of different categories of third-country nationals or stateless persons.
- (49) Member States should ensure the transmission of biometric data of an appropriate quality for the purpose of comparison by means of the computerised fingerprint and facial recognition system. All authorities with a right of access to Eurodac should invest in adequate training and in the necessary technological equipment. The authorities with a right of access to Eurodac should inform eu-LISA of specific difficulties encountered with regard to the quality of data, in order to resolve them.

- (50) The fact that it is temporarily or permanently impossible to take and/or to transmit biometric data, due to reasons such as insufficient quality of the data for appropriate comparison, technical problems, reasons linked to the protection of health or due to the data subject being unfit or unable to have his or her biometric data taken owing to circumstances beyond his or her control, should not adversely affect the examination of or the decision on the application for international protection ■ registered ■ by that person.
- (51) Member States should refer to the Commission Staff Working Document on Implementation of the Eurodac Regulation as regards the obligation to take fingerprints which the Council invited the Member States to follow on 20 July 2015<sup>17</sup>. It sets out a best practice approach to taking fingerprints. Where relevant, Member States should also take into account the Checklist to act in compliance with fundamental rights when obtaining fingerprints for Eurodac of the European Union Agency for Fundamental Rights which aims to assist them with complying with fundamental rights obligations when taking fingerprints.

- (52) Member States should inform all persons required by this Regulation to give biometric data of their obligation to do so. Member States should also explain to those persons that it is in their interests to fully and immediately cooperate with the procedure by providing their biometric data. Where a Member State's national law allows for the taking of biometric data by use of coercion as a last resort, those measures must fully respect the Charter ■ . Only in duly justified circumstances and as a last resort, having exhausted other possibilities, a proportionate degree of coercion could be used to ensure the compliance of third-country nationals or stateless persons who are deemed to be vulnerable persons, and minors, with the obligation to provide biometric data.
- (53) Where detention is used in order to determine or verify a third-country national's or stateless person's identity, it should only be used by Member States as a means of last resort and in full respect of the Convention on Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms, and in compliance with relevant Union law, including the Charter **■ .

- (54) Where necessary, hits should be checked by a trained fingerprint expert in order to ensure the accurate determination of responsibility under Regulation (EU) .../... [Asylum and Migration Management], the exact identification of the third-country national or stateless person and the exact identification of the criminal suspect or victim of crime whose data might be stored in Eurodac. Check by a trained expert should be considered necessary where there is doubt that the result of the comparison of the fingerprint data relates to the same person, in particular where the data corresponding to a fingerprint hit belong to a person of different sex or where the facial image data do not correspond to the facial feature of the person whose biometric data were taken. Hits obtained from Eurodac based on facial images should also be checked by an expert trained in accordance with national practice, where the comparison is made with facial image data only. Where a fingerprint and facial image data comparison is carried out simultaneously and hits are returned for both biometric data sets, Member States should be able to check the result of the comparison of the facial image data.

- (55) Third-country nationals or stateless persons who have requested international protection in one Member State may try to request international protection in another Member State for many years to come. The maximum period during which biometric data of third-country nationals or stateless persons who have requested international protection can be kept by the Eurodac should be limited to the extent strictly necessary and should be proportionate, in line with the principle of proportionality enshrined in Article 52(1) of the Charter and as interpreted by the Court of Justice. Given that most third-country nationals or stateless persons who have stayed in the Union for several years will have obtained a settled status or even citizenship of a Member State after that period, a period of 10 years should be considered a reasonable period for the storage of biometric and alphanumeric data.

- (56) In its conclusions on Statelessness of 4 December 2015, the Council and the Representatives of the Governments of the Member States recalled the Union's pledge of September 2012 that all Member States were to accede to the 1954 Convention relating to the Status of Stateless Persons and were to consider acceding to the 1961 Convention on the Reduction of Statelessness.

- (57) For the purposes of applying the refusal grounds under Regulation (EU) .../... [Resettlement Regulation], the biometric data of third-country nationals or stateless persons registered for the purpose of conducting an admission procedure under that Regulation should be taken, transmitted to Eurodac and compared against the data stored in Eurodac of beneficiaries of international protection, of persons who have been granted international protection or a national humanitarian status in accordance with Regulation (EU) .../... [Resettlement Regulation], who have been refused admission to a Member State on one of the [ ] grounds referred to in Article 6(1)(f) of Regulation (EU) .../... [Resettlement Regulation] or in respect of whom that procedure for admission has been discontinued, because they have not given or have withdrawn their consent and of persons who have been resettled under a national resettlement scheme. Therefore, those categories of data should be stored in Eurodac and made available for comparison.
- (58) For the purposes of applying Regulation (EU) .../... [Resettlement Regulation] and the [ ] Asylum and Migration Management Regulation], the biometric data of third-country nationals or stateless persons granted international protection or a national humanitarian status in accordance with Regulation (EU) .../... [Resettlement Regulation] should be stored in Eurodac for five years from the date on which they were taken. Such a period should be sufficient given the fact that the majority of such persons will have resided for several years in the Union and will have obtained a long-term resident status or even citizenship of a Member State.

- (59) Where a third-country national or a stateless person has been refused admission to a Member State on one of the grounds referred to in Article 6(1)(f) of Regulation (EU) .../... [Resettlement Regulation], the related data should be stored for a period of three years from the date on which the negative conclusion on admission was reached. It is necessary to store such data for that length of time in order to allow other Member States conducting an admission procedure to receive information, including any information on the marking of data by other Member States, from Eurodac throughout the procedure to refuse admission, where necessary, by applying the refusal ground set out in Article 6(1)(f) of Regulation (EU) .../... [Resettlement Regulation]. In addition, data on admission procedures that have previously been discontinued because the third-country nationals or stateless persons have not given or have withdrawn their consent should be stored for three years in Eurodac in order to allow the other Member States conducting an admission procedure to ■ reach a negative conclusion, as permitted by Regulation (EU) .../... [Resettlement Regulation].
- (60) The transmission of ■ data of persons registered for the purpose of conducting an admission procedure in Eurodac should contribute to limiting the number of Member States that exchange those persons' personal data within a subsequent admission procedure and thus it should contribute to ensuring compliance with the principle of data minimisation.

- (61) Where a hit is received by a Member State from Eurodac that can assist that Member State in carrying out its obligations necessary for the application of grounds for refusing admission under the [Resettlement Regulation], the Member State of origin of the data which had previously refused to admit a third-country national or a stateless person should promptly exchange supplementary information with the Member State that received the hit in accordance with the principle of sincere cooperation and subject to the principles of data protection. Such exchange of data should allow the Member State that received the hit to reach a conclusion on the admission within the time limit set in [Resettlement Regulation] for concluding the admission procedure.
- (62) The obligation to collect and transmit the biometric data of persons registered for the purpose of conducting an admission procedure should not apply where the Member State in question discontinues the procedure before the biometric data were taken.
- (63) In view of successfully preventing and monitoring unauthorised movements of third-country nationals or stateless persons who have no right to stay in the Union, and of taking the necessary measures for successfully enforcing effective return and readmission to third countries in accordance with Directive 2008/115/EC<sup>18</sup> and the right to protection of personal data, a period of five years should be considered a necessary period for the storage of biometric and alphanumeric data.

- (64) In order to support the Member States in their administrative cooperation during the implementation of Council Directive 2001/55/EC data of beneficiaries of temporary protection should be kept in the Eurodac for a period of one year from the date of the entry into force of the relevant Council Implementing Decision. The retention period should be extended yearly for the duration of the temporary protection.
- (65) The storage period should be shorter in certain special situations where there is no need to keep biometric data and all other personal data for that length of time. Biometric data and all other personal data belonging to a third-country national or a stateless person should be erased immediately and permanently once third-country nationals or stateless persons obtain citizenship of a Member State.
- (66) It is appropriate to store data relating to those data subjects whose biometric data were initially recorded in Eurodac upon ■ registering or making their applications for international protection ■ and who have been granted international protection in a Member State in order to allow data recorded upon ■ registering or making their application for international protection ■ to be compared against them.

- (67) Eu-LISA has been entrusted with the Commission's tasks relating to the operational management of Eurodac in accordance with this Regulation and with certain tasks relating to the Communication Infrastructure as from the date on which eu-LISA took up its responsibilities on 1 December 2012. In addition, Europol should have observer status at the meetings of the Management Board of eu-LISA when a question in relation to the application of this Regulation concerning access for consultation of Eurodac by designated authorities of Member States and by Europol for the purposes of the prevention, detection or investigation of terrorist offences or of other serious criminal offences is on the agenda. Europol should be able to appoint a representative to the Eurodac Advisory Group of eu-LISA.
- (68) It is necessary to lay down clearly the respective responsibilities of the Commission and eu-LISA, in respect of Eurodac and the Communication Infrastructure, and of the Member States, as regards data processing, data security, access to, and rectification of recorded data.
- (69) It is necessary to designate the competent authorities of the Member States as well as the National Access Point through which the requests for comparison with Eurodac data are made and to keep a list of the operating units within the designated authorities that are authorised to request such comparison for the specific purposes of the prevention, detection or investigation of terrorist offences or of other serious criminal offences.

- (70) It is necessary to designate and keep a list of the operating unit(s) of Europol that are authorised to request comparisons with Eurodac data through the Europol Access Point. Such units, including units dealing with trafficking in human beings, sexual abuse and sexual exploitation, in particular where victims are minors, should be authorised to request comparisons with Eurodac data through the Europol Access Point in order to support and strengthen action by Member States in preventing, detecting or investigating terrorist offences or other serious criminal offences falling within Europol's mandate.
- (71) Requests for comparison with data stored in Eurodac should be made by the operating units within the designated authorities to the National Access Point, through the verifying authority ■ and should be reasoned. The operating units within the designated authorities that are authorised to request comparisons with Eurodac data should not act as a verifying authority. The verifying authorities should act independently of the designated authorities and should be responsible for ensuring, in an independent manner, strict compliance with the conditions for access as established in this Regulation. The verifying authorities should then forward the request, without forwarding the reasons for it, for comparison through the National Access Point to Eurodac following verification that all conditions for access are fulfilled. In exceptional cases of urgency where early access is necessary to respond to a specific and actual threat related to terrorist offences or other serious criminal offences, the verifying authority should process the request immediately and only carry out the verification afterwards.

- (72) The designated authority and the verifying authority may be part of the same organisation, if permitted under national law, but the verifying authority should act independently when performing its tasks under this Regulation.
- (73) For the purposes of protection of personal data, and to exclude systematic comparisons which should be forbidden, the processing of Eurodac data should only take place in specific cases and when it is necessary for the purposes of preventing, detecting or investigating terrorist offences or other serious criminal offences. A specific case exists in particular when the request for comparison is connected to a specific and concrete situation or to a specific and concrete danger associated with a terrorist offence or other serious criminal offence, or to specific persons in respect of whom there are serious grounds for believing that they will commit or have committed any such offence. A specific case also exists when the request for comparison is connected to a person who is the victim of a terrorist offence or other serious criminal offence. The designated authorities and Europol should thus only request a comparison with Eurodac when they have reasonable grounds to believe that such a comparison will provide information that will substantially assist them in preventing, detecting or investigating a terrorist offence or other serious criminal offence.

(74) In addition, access should be allowed ■ on condition that a prior search in the national biometric databases of the Member State and in the automated fingerprinting identification systems of all other Member States under Council Decision 2008/615/JHA<sup>19</sup> has been conducted, unless the consultation of CIR in accordance with Article 22(2) of Regulation (EU) 2019/818 indicates that the data of the person concerned is stored in Eurodac. That condition requires the requesting Member State to conduct comparisons with the automated fingerprinting identification systems of all other Member States under Decision 2008/615/JHA which are technically available, unless that Member State can justify that there are reasonable grounds to believe that it would not lead to the establishment of the identity of the data subject. Such reasonable grounds exist in particular where the specific case does not present any operational or investigative link to a given Member State. That condition requires prior legal and technical implementation of Decision 2008/615/JHA by the requesting Member State in the area of fingerprint data, as it should not be permitted to conduct a Eurodac check for law enforcement purposes where those above steps have not been first taken. In addition to the prior check of the databases, designated authorities should also be able to conduct a simultaneous check in the Visa Information System, provided that the conditions for a comparison with the data stored therein, as laid down in Decision 2008/633/JHA, are met.

- (75) For the purpose of efficient comparison and exchange of personal data, Member States should fully implement and make use of the existing international agreements as well as of Union law concerning the exchange of personal data already in force, in particular of Decision 2008/615/JHA.
- (76) While the non-contractual liability of the Union in connection with the operation of the Eurodac system will be governed by the relevant provisions of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union (TFEU), it is necessary to lay down specific rules for the non-contractual liability of the Member States in connection with the operation of the system.
- (77) Since the objective of this Regulation, namely the creation of a system for the comparison of biometric data to assist the implementation of Union asylum and migration policy, cannot, by its very nature, be sufficiently achieved by the Member States and can therefore be better achieved at Union level, the Union may adopt measures in accordance with the principle of subsidiarity as set out in Article 5 of the Treaty on European Union (TEU). In accordance with the principle of proportionality, as set out in that Article, this Regulation does not go beyond what is necessary in order to achieve that objective.

- (78) Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council<sup>1</sup> applies to the processing of personal data by the Member States carried out in application of this Regulation unless such processing is carried out by the designated or verifying competent authorities of the Member States for the purposes of the prevention, investigation, detection or prosecution of terrorist offences or of other serious criminal offences including the safeguarding against and the prevention of threats to public security.
- (79) The national provisions adopted pursuant to Directive (EU) 2016/680 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of individuals with regard to the processing of personal data by competent authorities for the purposes of prevention, investigation, detection or prosecution of criminal offences or the execution of criminal penalties and the free movement of such data<sup>1</sup> apply to the processing of personal data by competent authorities of the Member States for the purposes of the prevention, investigation, detection or prosecution of terrorist offences or of other serious criminal offences pursuant to this Regulation.
- (80) Regulation (EU) 2016/794 applies to the processing of personal data by Europol for the purposes of the prevention, investigation or detection of terrorist offences or of other serious criminal offences pursuant to this Regulation.

- (81) The rules set out in Regulation (EU) 2016/679 regarding the protection of the rights and freedoms of individuals, notably their right to the protection of personal data concerning them, with regard to the processing of personal data should be specified in respect of the responsibility for the processing of the data, of safeguarding the rights of data subjects and of the supervision of data protection, in particular as far as certain sectors are concerned.
- (82) A person's right to privacy and to data protection should be safeguarded in accordance with this Regulation at all times, both with regard to access by the Member States' authorities and by the European Union's authorised agencies.
- (83) Data subjects should have the right of access to, rectification and erasure of personal data concerning them and of restriction of the processing thereof. Taking into account the purposes for which the data are processed, data subjects should have the right to completion of incomplete personal data, including by means of providing a supplementary statement. Those rights should be exercised pursuant to Regulation (EU) 2016/679 and in accordance with the procedures set out in this Regulation, Directive (EU) 2016/680 and Regulation (EU) 2016/794 as regards the processing of personal data for law enforcement purposes pursuant to this Regulation. In relation to the processing of personal data in Eurodac by national authorities, each Member State, for reasons of legal certainty and transparency, should designate the authority which is to be considered as controller in accordance with Regulation (EU) 2016/679 and Directive (EU) 2016/680 and which should have central responsibility for the processing of data by that Member State. Each Member State should communicate the details of that authority to the Commission.

- (84) It is also important that factually incorrect data recorded in Eurodac are rectified, in order to ensure that statistics produced in accordance with this regulation are accurate.
- (85) Transfers of personal data obtained by a Member State or Europol pursuant to this Regulation from Eurodac to any third country or international organisation or private entity established in or outside the Union should be prohibited, in order to ensure the right to asylum and to safeguard persons whose data are processed under this Regulation from having their data disclosed to a third country. This implies that Member States should not transfer information obtained from Eurodac concerning: the name(s); date of birth; nationality; the Member State(s) of origin or Member State of relocation or the Member State of resettlement; the details of the identity or travel document; the place and date of resettlement or of the application for international protection; the reference number used by the Member State of origin; the date on which the biometric data were taken as well as the date on which the Member State(s) transmitted the data to Eurodac; the operator user ID; and any information relating to any transfer of the data subject under Regulation (EU) .../... [Asylum and Migration Management]. That prohibition should be without prejudice to the right of Member States to transfer such data to third countries to which Regulation (EU) .../... [Asylum and Migration Management] applies in accordance with Regulation (EU) 2016/679 and with the national rules adopted pursuant to Directive (EU) 2016/680, in order to ensure that Member States have the possibility of cooperating with such third countries for the purposes of this Regulation.

(86) As a derogation to the rule that no personal data obtained by a Member State pursuant to this Regulation should be transferred or made available to any third country, it should be possible to transfer such personal data to a third country where such a transfer is subject to strict conditions and is necessary in individual cases in order to assist with the identification of a third-country national in relation to his or her return. Sharing of any personal data should be subject to strict conditions. Where such information is shared, no information should be disclosed to a third-country relating to the fact that an application for international protection has been made by that third-country national. The transfer of any personal data to third countries should be carried out in accordance with the provisions of Regulation (EU) 2016/679 and be conducted with the agreement of the Member State of origin. The third countries of return are often not subject to adequacy decisions adopted by the Commission under Article 45 of Regulation (EU) 2016/679. Furthermore, the extensive efforts of the Union in cooperating with the main countries of origin of illegally staying third-country nationals subject to an obligation to return has not been able to ensure the systematic fulfilment by such third countries of the obligation established by international law to readmit their own nationals. Readmission agreements, concluded or being negotiated by the Union or the Member States and providing for appropriate safeguards for the transfer of data to third countries pursuant to Article 46 of Regulation (EU) 2016/679 cover a limited number of such third countries and conclusion of any new agreement remains uncertain. In such situations, and as an exception to the requirement of an adequacy decision or appropriate safeguards, transfer of personal data to third-country authorities pursuant to this Regulation should be allowed for the purposes of implementing the return policy of the Union, and it should be possible to use the derogation provided for in Article 49 of Regulation (EU) 2016/679, provided that the conditions laid down in that Regulation are met. According to its Article 57, implementation of Regulation (EU) 2016/679 ■, including with regard to transfers of personal data to third countries pursuant to this Regulation, is subject to monitoring by the national independent supervisory authority. Regulation (EU) 2016/679 applies regarding the responsibility of the Member States' authorities as 'controllers' within the meaning of that Regulation.

- (87) Regulation (EU) 2018/1725<sup>20</sup>, and in particular Article 33 thereof concerning confidentiality and security of processing, applies to the processing of personal data by Union institutions, bodies, offices and agencies carried out in application of this Regulation, without prejudice to Regulation (EU) 2016/794, which should apply to the processing of personal data by Europol. However, certain points should be clarified in respect of the responsibility for the processing of data and of the supervision of data protection, bearing in mind that data protection is a key factor in the successful operation of Eurodac and that data security, high technical quality and lawfulness of consultations are essential to ensure the smooth and proper functioning of Eurodac as well as to facilitate the application of Regulation (EU) .../... [■ Asylum and Migration Management Regulation] and Regulation (EU) .../... [Resettlement Regulation].
- (88) The data subject should be informed in particular of the purpose for which his or her data will be processed within Eurodac, including a description of the aims of Regulation (EU) .../... [■ Asylum and Migration Management Regulation] and Regulation (EU) .../... [Resettlement Regulation], and of the use to which law enforcement authorities may put his or her data.

<sup>20</sup> Regulation (EU) 2018/1725 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 23 October 2018 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data by the Union institutions, bodies, offices and agencies and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Regulation (EC) No 45/2001 and Decision No 1247/2002/EC (OJ L 295, 21.11.2018, p. 39).

- (89) It is appropriate that national supervisory authorities established in accordance with Regulation (EU) 2016/679 monitor the lawfulness of the processing of personal data by the Member States, whilst the European Data Protection Supervisor, as established in ■ Regulation (EU) 2018/1725 of the European Parliament and of the Council<sup>21</sup>, should monitor the activities of the Union institutions, bodies, offices and agencies in relation to the processing of personal data carried out in application of this Regulation. The European Data Protection Supervisor and the supervisory authorities should cooperate with each other in the monitoring of the processing of personal data, including in the context of the Coordinated Supervision Committee established within the framework of the European Data Protection Board.
- (90) The European Data Protection Supervisor was consulted in accordance with Article 42 of Regulation (EU) 2018/1725 and delivered an opinion on 21 September 2016 and on 30 November 2020.
- (91) Member States, the European Parliament, the Council and the Commission should ensure that the national and European supervisory authorities are able to supervise the use of and access to Eurodac data adequately.

- (92) It is appropriate to monitor and evaluate the performance of Eurodac at regular intervals, including in terms of whether law enforcement access has led to indirect discrimination against applicants for international protection, as raised in the Commission's evaluation of the compliance of this Regulation with the Charter ■ . Eu-LISA should submit an annual report on the activities of Eurodac to the European Parliament and to the Council.
- (93) Member States should provide for a system of effective, proportionate and dissuasive penalties to sanction the unlawful processing of data entered in Eurodac contrary to its purpose **■ .
- (94) It is necessary that Member States be informed of the status of particular asylum procedures, with a view to facilitating the adequate application of Regulation (EU) .../... ■ [Asylum and Migration Management Regulation].
- (95) This Regulation should be without prejudice to the application of Directive 2004/38/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council<sup>22</sup>.
- (96) This Regulation respects the fundamental rights and observes the principles recognised in particular by the Charter. In particular, this Regulation seeks to ensure full respect for the protection of personal data and for the right to seek international protection, and to promote the application of Articles 8 and 18 of the Charter. This Regulation should therefore be applied accordingly.

Article 33

Conditions for access to Eurodac by designated authorities

1. For the purposes laid down in Article 1(1)(e), designated authorities may submit a reasoned electronic request for the comparison of biometric or alphanumeric data with the data stored in Eurodac within the scope of their powers only if a prior check has been conducted in:
  - national databases; and
  - the automated fingerprinting identification systems of all other Member States under Decision 2008/615/JHA where comparisons are technically available, unless there are reasonable grounds to believe that a comparison with such systems would not lead to the establishment of the identity of the data subject. Such reasonable grounds shall be included in the reasoned electronic request for comparison with Eurodac data sent by the designated authority to the verifying authority; and where the following cumulative conditions are met:

- (a) the comparison is necessary for the purpose of the prevention, detection or investigation of terrorist offences or of other serious criminal offences, which means that there is an overriding public security concern which makes the searching of the database proportionate;

- (b) the comparison is necessary in a specific case including specific persons; and
- (c) there are reasonable grounds to consider that the comparison will substantially contribute to the prevention, detection or investigation of any of the criminal offences in question. Such reasonable grounds exist in particular where there is a substantiated suspicion that the suspect, perpetrator or victim of a terrorist offence or other serious criminal offence falls in a category covered by this Regulation.

In addition to the prior check of the databases referred to in the first subparagraph, designated authorities may also conduct a check in the Visa Information System, provided that the conditions for a comparison with the data stored therein, as laid down in Decision 2008/633/JHA, are met. Designated authorities may submit the reasoned electronic request referred to in the first subparagraph at the same time they submit a request for comparison with the data stored in the Visa Information System.

2. Where the designated authorities consulted the CIR in accordance with Article 22(1) of Regulation (EU) 2019/818, and, in accordance with paragraph 2 of that Article, the CIR indicated that data on the person concerned is stored in Eurodac, the designated authorities may have access to Eurodac for consultation without a prior check in national databases and in the automated fingerprinting identification systems of all other Member States.

3. Requests for comparison with Eurodac data for the purposes of Article 1(1)(e) shall be carried out with biometric or alphanumeric data.

Article 34

Conditions for access to Eurodac by Europol

1. For the purposes laid down in Article 1(1)(e), Europol's designated authority may submit a reasoned electronic request for the comparison of biometric or alphanumeric data with the data stored in Eurodac within the limits of Europol's mandate and where necessary for the performance of Europol's tasks only if comparisons with biometric or alphanumeric data stored in any information processing systems that are technically and legally accessible by Europol did not lead to the establishment of the identity of the data subject and where the following cumulative conditions are met:
  - (a) the comparison is necessary to support and strengthen action by Member States in preventing, detecting or investigating terrorist offences or other serious criminal offences falling under Europol's mandate, which means that there is an overriding public security concern which makes the searching of the database proportionate;
  - (b) the comparison is necessary in a specific case including specific persons; and

- (c) there are reasonable grounds to consider that the comparison will substantially contribute to the prevention, detection or investigation of any of the criminal offences in question. Such reasonable grounds exist in particular where there is a substantiated suspicion that the suspect, perpetrator or victim of a terrorist offence or other serious criminal offence falls in a category covered by this Regulation.
2. Where Europol consulted the CIR in accordance with Article 22(1) of Regulation (EU) 2019/818, they may access Eurodac for consultation under the conditions foreseen in this Article where the reply received pursuant to Article 22(2) of Regulation (EU) 2019/818 indicates that data is stored in Eurodac.
3. Requests for comparison with Eurodac data for the purposes of Article 1(1)(e) shall be carried out with biometric or alphanumeric data.
4. Processing of information obtained by Europol from comparison with Eurodac data shall be subject to the authorisation of the Member State of origin. Such authorisation shall be obtained via the Europol national unit of that Member State.

Article 35

Communication between the designated authorities, the verifying authorities, the National Access Points and the Europol Access Point

1. Without prejudice to Article 39, all communication between the designated authorities, the verifying authorities, the National Access Points and the Europol Access Point shall be secure and take place electronically.
2. For the purposes laid down in Article 1(1)(e), searches with biometric or alphanumeric data shall be digitally processed by the Member States and Europol and transmitted in the data format as set out in the agreed Interface Control Document, in order to ensure that the comparison can be carried out with other data stored in Eurodac.

Carrying out comparisons and transmitting results

1. Member States shall ensure the transmission of biometric data of an appropriate quality for the purpose of comparison by means of the computerised fingerprint and facial recognition system. As far as necessary to ensure that the results of the comparison by Eurodac reach a very high level of accuracy, eu-LISA shall define the appropriate quality of transmitted biometric data. Eurodac shall, as soon as possible, check the quality of the biometric data transmitted. If the biometric data do not lend themselves to comparison using the computerised fingerprint and facial recognition system, Eurodac shall inform the Member State concerned. That Member State shall then transmit biometric data of the appropriate quality using the same reference number as the previous set of biometric data.

2. Eurodac shall carry out comparisons in the order of arrival of requests. Each request shall be dealt with within 24 hours. For the purposes laid down in Article 1(1)(a), (b) and (c) of this Regulation, final identification shall be made by the Member State of origin in cooperation with the other Member States concerned.

Information received from Eurodac relating to other data found to be unreliable shall be erased as soon as the unreliability of the data is established.

6. Where final identification in accordance with paragraphs 4 and 5 reveals that the result of the comparison received from Eurodac does not correspond to the biometric data sent for comparison, Member States shall immediately erase the result of the comparison and communicate this fact as soon as possible and no later than after three working days to eu-LISA and inform them of the reference number of the Member State of origin and the reference number of the Member State that received the result.
