STATEMENT 60/06*Statement by the Commission

"The Commission can support all technical amendments related to the transposition and application deadlines, the repeal of the old regime of Council Directive 93/22/EEC of 10 May 1993 on investment services in the securities field and the deadlines concerning reporting obligations and transitional arrangements.

The Commission takes note that the Council accepts the amendments related to comitology. It regrets these amendments since they do not relate to the substance of the proposal and are moreover, at least in part, in conflict with existing commitments with regard to better regulation. However, due to the urgency of the need to extend the transposition and application deadlines foreseen by Directive 2004/39/EC, the Commission will not oppose an agreement in a single reading on the proposed Directive amending Directive 2004/39/EC.

The Commission underlines that the present case does not constitute a precedent and, in particular, that it should not prejudge its position as to the revision of the Council Decision amending Decision 1999/468/EC laying down the procedures for the exercise of implementing powers conferred on the Commission (known as the “comitology” Decision)."

STATEMENT 61/06

Statement by the Commission

"The Commission was instrumental in brokering an agreement and can accept the outcome of the compromise between the Parliament and the Council, while recalling the importance of establishing mandatory energy savings targets, as initially proposed."

STATEMENT 62/06

Statement by the United Kingdom and Sweden

"The United Kingdom and Sweden have a general concern about the principle of reallocating national quantities to those Member States who exceed their Guaranteed National Quantities, not least from a budgetary perspective. In the case of dried fodder, the United Kingdom and Sweden request that the Commission examines this issue as part of the evaluation of the regime to be presented to Council before 30 September 2008."

STATEMENT 63/06

Commission statement on future policy review

"Following adoption of the new Regulation on the protection of geographical indications and designations of origin for agricultural products and foodstuffs, the Commission will undertake a future policy review of the operation of the Regulation and its future development. This policy review will be conducted in consultation with the Standing Committee on Protected Geographical Indications and Designations of Origin and with stakeholders. The review will cover all aspects of the policy that Member States, the Commission and stakeholders may wish to raise, including the following matters:

- identification of protected geographical indications and protected designations of origin as ingredients;
- use of alternative instruments such as trademarks to protect geographical indications and designations of origin;
- scope of products covered by the Regulation with particular consideration to be given to salt, mixed herbs, wicker products, and condiments;
- identification of the origin of raw materials;
- criteria used to assess the generic status of a name;
- design of the Community symbols identifying geographical indications and protected designations of origin."

STATEMENT 64/06

Commission statement on authorities

"The Commission declares that the Member States may designate specific authorities for the purpose of ensuring the controls referred to in Article 10.<sup>1</sup>"

STATEMENT 65/06

Statement by the Greek delegation

"Greece attaches particular importance to the correct and effective implementation of this Regulation, and in particular Article 14 thereof.

It accordingly calls upon the European Commission to take the appropriate measures to prevent trademarks which have been applied for, registered or established by use from infringing the status of designations of origin or geographical indications already recorded and registered, in order to secure the income of the producers of the products concerned and to avoid the consumer being misled."

<sup>1</sup> At the meeting of the Special Committee on Agriculture on 6 March 2006, the Commission representative also gave certain clarifications at the request of delegations. Regarding the definition of "Protected Geographical Indication" in Article 2, whereby "the name of a country" can only be a geographical indication in "exceptional cases", the Commission representative stated that small countries are likely to have demonstrable grounds for qualifying for this exception.

STATEMENT 66/06

Statement by the Commission

"Without prejudice to decisions on individual cases by national courts in the light of the case law of the Court of Justice, names automatically entered under the new PGI/PDO Regulation in the register of protected designation of origin and protected geographical indications will enjoy protection under the conditions laid down in that Regulation."

STATEMENT 67/06

Commission statement on scope

"The Commission will review the scope of products covered by the Regulation with particular consideration to be given to the traditional production of soda water."

STATEMENT 68/06

Commission statement on use of geographic names

"Following adoption of the new Regulation on agricultural products and foodstuffs as traditional specialities guaranteed, the Commission will undertake to review the use of geographic terms in the names of TSGs. This review will be conducted in consultation with the Standing Committee on Traditional Specialities Guaranteed."

STATEMENT 69/06

Commission statement on "representative body" for registered TSGs

"The Commission, in consultation with the Standing Committee on Traditional Specialities Guaranteed, will examine modalities for the creation of 'representative bodies' to be recognized at Community level in respect of TSGs."

STATEMENT 70/06

Commission statement on authorities

"The Commission declares that the Member States may designate specific authorities for the purpose of ensuring the controls referred to in Article 14."

STATEMENT 71/06

Statement by the United Kingdom

"The United Kingdom supports the adoption of this revision of Directive 1999/62/EC on the charging of heavy goods vehicles for the use of certain infrastructures. The UK welcomes the clear statement in the revised Article 9(2) that Member States will retain discretion to determine the use of revenues from infrastructure charging. The UK continues to believe that a sole legal base of Article 71 EC Treaty is not the most appropriate for this measure and that the joint legal base used for the original Eurovignette Directive (Articles 71 and 93) would have better reflected the content of this amending measure. The UK's support for the adoption of this directive is therefore without prejudice to its position on the appropriate legal base for future measures of this type."

STATEMENT 72/06

Statement by Malta

"Malta fully endorses the principle of fair and efficient pricing through the incorporation of external costs into the heavy vehicle charging system. However, Malta, as an island peripheral state, remains gravely concerned about the impact that increases in road tolls will have on transport operating costs and the Maltese economy. It is evident that typical journey lengths and transport chain costs for remote island states are much higher than those for centrally-located mainland states. The special circumstances emanating from the geographical location of the Maltese archipelago on the periphery of mainland Europe makes our trade dependent on multiple modes of transport.

Without the luxury of a rail or road link to mainland Europe our exports must first be transported to a port and then shipped to mainland Europe before being transported over the European road network to their destination. The reverse applies to our imports, upon which Malta is highly dependent and the cost of which will increase with the application of this Directive. Thus, the introduction of a regime of distance-based toll charges across Europe would inevitably widen the competitive disadvantage experienced by peripheral countries whose economies are dependent on imports.

Therefore, for the reasons stated above, Malta votes against the Directive of the European Parliament and of the Council amending Directive 1999/62/EC on the charging of heavy goods vehicles for the use of certain infrastructures."
