The provisions of this Regulation shall, for the purposes of this Agreement, be read with the following adaptations:

Given the EU's decision not to extend the rights and obligations for Andorra to issue EU-type approvals and to designate EU technical services other than those established or designated by EU Member States:

- (a) In relation to EU type approval, Articles 6, 7, 11, 25 to 37, 40, 41, 49, 51, 52, and 61 to 71, shall not apply.
- (b) Article 42(9) is replaced by the following: "The approval authorities of EU Member States may accept the national type-approval issued by Andorra where they consider that the national technical requirements of Andorra in accordance with which the vehicle was approved are equivalent to their own. Such approval shall be valid only in that Member State accepting such equivalence."
- (c) Article 53(1) is replaced by the following: "All decisions taken pursuant to this Regulation and all decisions refusing registration, prohibiting or restricting the placing on the market, registration or entry into service of a vehicle or requiring withdrawal of a vehicle from the market, shall state in detail the reasons on which they are based."

Notwithstanding these exceptions, Andorra shall accept, for vehicles, systems, components, and parts to be placed on the market, the EU and UN certificates issued by EU type approval authorities and markings thereof as a proof of conformity, without any further retesting or marking (beyond the markings or labels already mandated in the EU regulations/directives or UN regulations). With regard to UN certificates and markings, this only applies to UNECE 1958 regulations that the EU is applying.

For the UNECE 1958 regulations that both the EU and Andorra are applying in the same versions, the EU shall accept the UN certificates validly issued by Andorra.

Andorra shall be obliged to apply the provisions in the EU motor vehicle legislation relating to market surveillance. Andorra may outsource that task, partly or entirely, to the market surveillance authority of an EU Member State of its choice.

These adaptations shall apply mutatis mutandis to the provisions concerning EU type approval in:

The provisions of this Regulation shall, for the purposes of this Agreement, be read with the following adaptations:

Given the EU's decision not to extend the rights and obligations for Andorra to issue EU-type approvals and to designate EU technical services to other than those established or designated by EU Member States,

- (a) Articles 5, 6, 20 to 30, 34, 35, 36, 38, 39, 40, 45 to 54, and Article 61, shall not apply.
- (b) Article 41 is replaced by the following: "All decisions taken pursuant to this Regulation and all decisions refusing registration, prohibiting or restricting the placing on the market, registration or entry into service of a vehicle or requiring withdrawal of a vehicle from the market, shall state in detail the reasons on which they are based."

Notwithstanding these exceptions, Andorra shall accept, for engines to be placed on the market, the EU and UN certificates issued by EU type approval authorities and markings thereof as a proof of conformity, without any further retesting or marking (beyond the markings or labels already mandated in the EU regulations/directives or UN regulations). With regard to UN certificates and markings, this only applies to UNECE 1958 regulations that the EU is applying.

For the UNECE 1958 regulations that both the EU and Andorra are applying in the same versions, the EU shall accept the UN certificates validly issued by Andorra.

Andorra shall be obliged to apply the provisions in the EU non-road mobile machinery legislation, as regards emissions, relating to market surveillance. Andorra may outsource that task, partly or entirely, to the market surveillance authority of an EU Member State of its choice.

These adaptations shall apply mutatis mutandis to the provisions concerning EU type approval in:
