Neither the non-binding statement nor the subsequent arrangements signed by DG HERA should trigger commitments affecting the responsibilities of the Member states for the management of health services and medical care and the allocation of resources assigned to them, or preventing Member states from acting within their national capacity at international level.

We request for the inclusion of this statement in the minutes of the Coreper meeting."

Statement by the Commission

"The Commission does not support changes in the decision, which pertain to acts of external representation of the Union.

All acts of external representation in the treaty-making process, including the signature of an international agreement and the subsequent expression of the consent to be bound by it are in accordance with Article 17(1) TEU the institutional prerogatives of the Commission, with the exception of such acts pertaining to agreements falling exclusively or predominantly within the common foreign and security policy of the Union, where it is the High Representative who represents the Union externally according to Article 27(2) TEU.

Without prejudice to this exception, when the Commission and another actor designated by the Council, co-sign an international agreement on behalf of the Union, only the signature of the Commission commits the Union.

Similarly, the notification to be submitted to the Faroe Islands under Article 15(2) of the Agreement with the Faroe Islands concerning the provisional application of this Agreement by the Union is an act of external representation of the Union, thus falls under the Commission's prerogatives included in Article 17(1) TEU. As a consequence, it is not for the President of the Council or the Council to notify the provisional application of this agreement. Should it do so, it would violate the external representation power of the Commission as well as the principle of inter institutional balance enshrined in Article 13(2) TEU.

The Court of Justice has emphasized that consistent practice by Union institutions that is not in accordance with the EU Treaties 'cannot alter the rules of the Treaties that the institutions are obliged to respect' (Case C-687/15 Commission v Council, EU:C:2017:803, para. 42).

While not opposing the adoption of the amendment by the Council by a qualified majority vote, the Commission reserves all its rights in this regard."

Statement by the Commission

The notification to be submitted to the Faroe Islands under Article 15(1) of the Agreement with the Faroe Islands expressing the Union's consent to be bound by the Agreement is an act of external representation of the Union, thus falls under the Commission's prerogatives included in Article 17(1) TEU. As a consequence, it is not for the President of the Council or the Council to notify the Union's consent to be bound by this agreement. Should it do so, it would violate the external representation power of the Commission as well as the principle of inter institutional balance enshrined in Article 13(2) TEU.

Furthermore, the Commission considers the addition of a new Article 2a superfluous. The Commission's prerogative to represent the Union within the Joint Committee established under Article 14 of this Agreement stems directly from Article 17(1) TEU, thus it is not conditional upon an explicit authorisation to be given by way of a Council decision.

The Court of Justice has emphasized that consistent practice by Union institutions that is not in accordance with the EU Treaties 'cannot alter the rules of the Treaties that the institutions are obliged to respect' (Case C-687/15 Commission v Council, EU:C:2017:803, para. 42).

Statement by Denmark

"Denmark supports the proposal on amendments to the Commission proposal for a Regulation of the European Parliament and of the Council laying down transitional rules for the packaging and labelling of veterinary medicinal products authorized in accordance with Directive 2001/82/EC and Regulation (EC) No 726/2004. Denmark finds it very important that the issues relating to packaging and labelling are resolved swiftly with transitional measures such as the measures proposed.

However, Denmark is still concerned that Article 106(1) of Regulation 2019/6 could lead to an unintentional increase in the use of antimicrobials in Denmark and would have preferred if the proposal had also addressed this issue. According to paragraph 1 of Article 106, veterinarians are no longer allowed to deviate from the dosage and the duration of treatment stated in the Summary of Product Characteristics (SPC). Denmark is concerned that veterinarians will be forced to use unnecessarily high amounts of antimicrobials by not being allowed to reduce the duration of treatment stated in the Summaries of Product Characteristics (SPC), even when clinical effect can be achieved by a shorter duration of treatment. An increase in the consumption of antibiotics would be incompatible with the reduction targets in the Farm to Fork-strategy.

The Commission has referred to updating of SPC's as the solution to this issue. However, according to the Danish Medicines Agency it is up to the marketing authorization holder to decide which dosage and duration treatment regime they wish to have covered by the SPC – as long as the safety and efficacy is confirmed by the supporting documentation. Furthermore, if there is evidence to support a need to change the SPC for the above reasons, it is still up to the marketing authorization holder to decide, whether they wish to change the marketing authorization or alternatively deregister the medicinal product, which can lead to supply problems and risk of animal health and welfare. Therefore, until the marketing authorizations have been updated, and for products where the marketing authorizations will not be updated to a sufficient extent, to mitigate these consequences, there is a need for an alternative solution.

Denmark therefore urges the Commission to assist Member States in finding a solution that decreases antibiotic consumption all over the EU."
