AMENDMENTS BY THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT*

to the Commission proposal

2017/0143 (COD)

Proposal for a

REGULATION OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND OF THE COUNCIL

on a pan-European Personal Pension Product (PEPP)

(Text with EEA relevance)

THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN UNION,

Having regard to the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union, and in particular Article 114 thereof,

Having regard to the proposal from the European Commission,

After transmission of the draft legislative act to the national parliaments,

Having regard to the opinion of the European Economic and Social Committee¹,

Acting in accordance with the ordinary legislative procedure,

Whereas:

(1) EU households are amongst the highest savers in the world, but the bulk of these savings are held in bank accounts with short maturities. More investment into capital markets can help meet the challenges posed by population ageing and low interest rates.

(1a) Old age pensions constitute an essential part of a retiree's income and for many people, adequate pension provision makes the difference between a comfortable old age and poverty; it is a precondition for exercising fundamental rights laid down in the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union, including in Article 25 on the rights of the elderly which states: "The Union recognises and respects the rights of the elderly to lead a life of dignity and independence and to participate in social and cultural life".

* Amendments: new or amended text is highlighted in bold italics; deletions are indicated by the symbol ■.

- (1b) The Union is facing several challenges, including demographic challenges because of the fact that Europe is an ageing continent. In addition, career patterns, the labour market and the distribution of wealth are undergoing radical changes, not least as a result of the digital revolution. At the same time, it is increasingly clear that national security systems are not adjusted to a globalised knowledge economy with open borders, labour mobility and migration. Too many people are not, or are inadequately covered by the traditional national pension systems, including, inter alia, women, young people, migrants, low-skilled workers, self-employed workers and workers with atypical contracts.
- (1c) A substantial part of old age pensions is provided under public schemes, so that there is a direct connection between national pension systems and the sustainability of public finances. Notwithstanding the exclusive national competence regarding the organisation of pension systems as determined by the Treaties, income adequacy and financial sustainability of national pension systems are crucial to the stability of the Union as a whole. By channelling more of Europeans' savings from cash and bank deposits to longer-term investment products, such as voluntary pension schemes, the impact would therefore be beneficial both for individuals (who would benefit from higher returns and improved pension adequacy) and for the broader economy.
- (1d) In 2015, 11,3 million Union citizens of working age (20 to 64 years old) were residing in a Member State other than the Member State of their citizenship and 1,3 million Union citizens were working in a Member State other than their Member State of residence.
- (1e) A portable pan-European Personal Pension Product (PEPP) will increase its attractiveness as a product particularly to young people, and will help to further facilitate the right of Union citizens to live and work across the Union.
- (2) Personal pensions are important in linking long-term savers with long-term investment opportunities. A larger, European market for personal pensions will support the supply of funds for institutional investors and investment into the real economy.
- (2b) This Regulation enables the creation of a pension product which, as far as possible, will be simple, safe, reasonably-priced, transparent, consumer-friendly and portable Union-wide and complements the existing systems in the Member States.
- (3) Currently, the internal market for personal pensions does not function smoothly. In some Member States there is not yet a market for pension products. In others, private pension products are available, but there is a high degree of fragmentation between national markets. As a result, personal pension products have only a limited degree of portability. This can result in difficulties for individuals to make use of their basic freedoms. For instance, they may be prevented from taking up a job or retiring in another Member State. In addition, the possibility for providers to use the freedom of establishment and the freedom to provide services is hampered by the lack of standardisation of existing personal pension products.
- (3a) The European pension market is highly fragmented and diverse, so the impact of PEPPs will be very different across Member States, and the target audience is equally varied. In Member States where the first and second pillar are insufficiently developed, PEPP might offer solutions for people who do not currently have access to adequate provisions. In Member States with highly developed pension markets, the PEPP could broaden the consumer choice, or offer solutions to mobile citizens.

However, the PEPP should not aim at replacing existing national pension systems, since it is an additional and complementary product and further priority should be given to the further development, enhancement and reform of the first and second pillar.

- (4) The Capital Markets Union (CMU) will help mobilise capital in Europe and channel it to all companies, including small and medium enterprises, infrastructure and long term sustainable projects that need it to expand and create jobs. One of the main objectives of the CMU is to increase investment and choices for retail investors by putting European savings to better use. For this purpose, a PEPP will represent a step forward for the enhancement of the capital markets integration due to its support to the long-term financing of the real economy.
- (5) As announced in the Commission's Action Plan on building a CMU¹, in September 2015, "the Commission will assess the case for a policy framework to establish a successful European market for simple, efficient and competitive personal pensions, and determine whether EU legislation is required to underpin this market."
- (6) In its Resolution of 19 January 2016², the European Parliament stressed that "an environment must be fostered that stimulates financial product innovation, creating more diversity and benefits for the real economy and providing enhanced incentives for investments, and that may also contribute to the delivery of adequate, safe and sustainable pensions, such as, for example, the development of a pan-European Pension Product (PEPP), with a simple transparent design".
- (7) In its conclusions of 28 June 2016³, the European Council called for "swift and determined progress to ensure easier access to finance for business and to support investment in the real economy by moving forward with the Capital Markets Union agenda".
- (8) In its Communication of 14 September 2016 Capital Markets Union – Accelerating Reform⁴, the Commission announced that it "will consider proposals for a simple, efficient and competitive EU personal pension product [...] Options under consideration include a possible legislative proposal which could be tabled in 2017."
- (9) In its Communication Mid-Term Review of the Capital Markets Union Action Plan⁵, the Commission announced "a legislative proposal on a pan-European Personal Pension Product (PEPP) by end June 2017. This will lay the foundations for a safer, more cost-efficient and transparent market in affordable and voluntary personal pension savings that can be managed on a pan-European scale. It will meet the needs of people wishing to enhance the adequacy of their retirement savings, address the demographical challenge, complement the existing pension products and schemes, and support the cost-efficiency of personal pensions by offering good opportunities for long-term investment of pension savings".

- (10) Among personal pension products, the development of a PEPP will contribute to increasing choices for retirement saving, especially for mobile workers, and establish an EU market for PEPP providers. It should not, however, call into question the fundamental responsibility of Member States to guarantee a decent minimum standard of living in old age for their citizens and the urgent need to strengthen the capacity of public pension systems to provide a secure, substantive and effective social protection for all.
- (10a) Financial education can support the understanding and awareness of households' saving choices in the area of voluntary personal pension schemes. Savers should also have a fair chance to fully grasp the risks and the features related to a pan-European product.
- (11) A legislative framework for a PEPP will lay the foundations for a successful market in affordable and voluntary retirement-related investments that can be managed on a pan-European scale. By complementing the existing statutory and occupational pension schemes and products, it will contribute to meeting the needs of people wishing to enhance the adequacy of their retirement savings, addressing the demographic challenge and providing a powerful new source of private capital for long-term investment. This framework will not replace or harmonise existing national personal pension schemes, nor will it affect existing national statutory and occupational pension schemes and products. The PEPP will neither directly nor indirectly be linked to the occupation or the employment status of the PEPP saver.
- (11a) A legislative framework for PEPPs should not limit the responsibility of Member States to meet their obligations regarding the supply of a sufficient state pension.
- (12) The Regulation harmonises a set of core features for the PEPP, which concern key elements such as distribution, contracts, investment policy, provider switching, or cross-border provision and portability. The harmonisation of these core features will improve the level playing field for personal pension providers at large and help boost the completion of the CMU and the integration of the internal market for personal pensions. It will lead to the creation of a largely standardised pan-European product, available in all Member States, empowering consumers to make full use of the internal market by transferring their pension rights abroad and offering a broader choice between different types of providers, including in a cross-border way. As a result of fewer barriers to the provision of pension services across borders, a pan-European Personal Pension Product will increase competition between providers on a pan-European basis and create economies of scale that should benefit savers.
- (13) Article 114 TFEU allows the adoption of acts both in the shape of Regulations or Directives. The adoption of a Regulation has been preferred as it would become directly applicable in all Member States. Therefore, a Regulation would allow a quicker uptake of the PEPP and contribute more rapidly to address the need for more pension savings and investments in the CMU context. Since this Regulation is harmonising the core features of the PEPPs, they do not have to be subject to specific national rules, so a Regulation appears better suited than a Directive in this case. On the contrary, the features which are out of the scope of the Regulation (e.g. accumulation phase conditions) are subject to national rules.

- (14) PEPP providers should have access to the whole Union market with one single product authorisation issued by the European Insurance and Occupational Pensions Authority ("EIOPA"), on the basis of a single set of rules and in cooperation with national competent authorities.

- (16) In order to ensure a high quality of service and effective consumer protection, home and host Member States should closely cooperate in the enforcement of the obligations set out in this Regulation. Where PEPP providers and distributors pursue business in different Member States under the freedom to provide services, the competent authority of the home Member State should be responsible for ensuring compliance with the obligations set out in this Regulation, because of its closer links with the PEPP provider. In order to ensure fair sharing of responsibilities between the competent authorities from the home and the host Member States, if the competent authority of a host Member State becomes aware of any breaches of obligations occurring within its territory, it should inform the competent authority of the home Member State which should then be obliged to take the appropriate measures. Moreover, the competent authority of the host Member State should be entitled to intervene if the home Member State fails to take appropriate measures or if the measures taken are insufficient.
- (17) In the case of the establishment of a branch or a permanent presence in another Member State, it is appropriate to distribute responsibility for enforcement between home and host Member States. While responsibility for compliance with obligations affecting the business as a whole – such as the rules on professional requirements – should remain with the competent authority of the home Member State under the same regime as in the case of provision of services, the competent authority of the host Member State should assume responsibility for enforcing the rules on information requirements and conduct of business with regard to the services provided within its territory. However, where the competent authority of a host Member State becomes aware of any breaches of obligations occurring within its territory with respect to which this Directive does not confer responsibility on the host Member State, a close cooperation demands that that authority informs the competent authority of the home Member State so that the latter takes the appropriate measures. Such is the case in particular as regards breaches of the rules on good repute, professional knowledge and competence requirements. Moreover, in view of protecting consumers, the competent authority of the host Member State should be entitled to intervene if the home Member State fails to take appropriate measures or if the measures taken are insufficient.
- (18) The competent authorities of the Member States should have at their disposal all means necessary to ensure the orderly pursuit of business by PEPP providers and distributors throughout the Union, whether pursued in accordance with the freedom of establishment or the freedom to provide services. In order to ensure the effectiveness of supervision, all actions taken by the competent authorities should be proportionate to the nature, scale and complexity of the risks inherent in the business of a particular provider or distributor.
- (19) The pan-European dimension of the PEPP can be developed not only at the level of the provider, through the possibilities for its cross-border activity, but also at the level of the PEPP saver – through the portability of the PEPP, thus contributing to the safeguarding of personal pension rights of persons exercising their right to free movement under Articles 21 and 45 TFEU. Portability involves the PEPP saver changing residence to another Member State without changing PEPP providers, whereas the switching of PEPP providers does not necessarily involve a change of residence. In any case, the place of residence of a PEPP saver should determine the applicable tax regime for the saver.

- (20) A PEPP should comprise national compartments, each of them accommodating personal pension product features allowing that contributions to the PEPP qualify for incentives. At the level of the individual PEPP saver, a first compartment should be created upon opening of a PEPP.
- (21) ■ Upon launching a PEPP, the provider should provide information on which national compartments are immediately available in the contract. If a PEPP provider cannot offer a national compartment in a certain Member State, it should provide the PEPP saver with alternative portability options, such as the possibility to continue saving into a PEPP through a partnership arrangement. If no such partnerships exist, the PEPP saver should be able to switch provider free of charge.
- (22) Taking into account the nature of the pension scheme established and the administrative burden involved, PEPP providers and distributors should provide clear, easy to understand, and adequate information to potential PEPP savers and PEPP beneficiaries to support their decision-making about their retirement. For the same reason, PEPP providers and distributors should equally ensure a high level of transparency throughout the various phases of a scheme comprising pre-enrolment, membership (including pre-retirement) and post-retirement. In particular, information concerning accrued pension entitlements, projected levels of retirement benefits, risks and guarantees including risks relating to environmental, social and governance factors, and costs should be given. Where projected levels of retirement benefits are based on economic scenarios, that information should also include an unfavourable scenario, which should be extreme but plausible.
- (23) Before joining a PEPP scheme, potential PEPP savers should be given all the necessary information to make an informed choice through the provision of advice assessing their saving demands and needs.
- (24) In order to ensure optimal product transparency, PEPP providers should draw up the PEPP key information document for the PEPPs that they manufacture before the product can be distributed to PEPP savers. They should also be responsible for the accuracy of the PEPP key information document. **■
- (25) In order to ensure widespread dissemination and availability of PEPP key information documents, this Regulation should provide for publication by the PEPP provider of PEPP key information documents on its website.
- (26) Pension product calculators are already being developed at national level. However, in order for the calculators to be as useful as possible to consumers, they should cover the costs and fees charged by the various PEPP providers, together with any further costs or fees charged by intermediaries or other parts of the investment chain not already included by the PEPP providers.
- (26a) A Union pension tracker, enabling citizens to calculate their accumulated pension capital and accrued pension entitlements, so as to have a complete overview, should be developed as a matter of urgency, alongside the development of products like PEPP.

I

- (28) The PEPP key information document should be clearly distinguishable and separate from any marketing communications.
- (29) PEPP providers should draw up a Pension Benefit Statement addressed to PEPP savers, in order to present them with key personal and generic data about the PEPP scheme and to ensure continuous information on it. The Pension Benefit Statement should be clear and comprehensive and should contain relevant and appropriate information to facilitate the understanding of pension entitlements over time and across schemes and serve labour mobility. The Pension Benefit Statement should be provided annually to the PEPP saver.
- (30) PEPP providers should inform PEPP savers sufficiently in advance before retirement about their pay-out options and at least one year before entering the decumulation phase. Where the retirement benefit is not paid out in accordance with the options applicable to the Basic PEPP or for an alternative PEPP as a lifetime annuity, members approaching retirement should receive information about the benefit payment products available, in order to facilitate financial planning for retirement.
- (31) During the phase when retirement benefits are paid, PEPP beneficiaries should continue to receive information on their benefits and corresponding pay-out options. This is particularly important when a significant level of investment risk is borne by PEPP beneficiaries in the pay-out phase. PEPP beneficiaries should also be informed of any reduction in the level of benefits due, prior to the application of any such reduction, after a decision which will result in a reduction has been taken. PEPP providers are recommended to consult PEPP beneficiaries in advance of any such decision.
- (32) In order to protect adequately the rights of PEPP savers and PEPP beneficiaries, PEPP providers should be able to opt for an asset allocation that suits the precise nature and duration of their liabilities, including those having a long term horizon. Therefore, efficient supervision is required as well as an approach to investment rules that allows PEPP providers sufficient flexibility to decide on the most secure and efficient investment policy, while obliging them to act prudently and in alignment with the PEPP saver's needs and preferences. Compliance with the prudent person rule therefore requires an investment policy geared to the customers' structure of the individual PEPP provider.
- (33) By setting the prudent person rule as the underlying principle for capital investment and making it possible for PEPP providers to operate across borders, the redirection of savings into the sector of personal retirement provision is encouraged, thereby contributing to economic and social progress. The prudent person rule should also take into explicit consideration the role played by environmental, social and governance factors in the investment process.
- (34) This Regulation should ensure an appropriate level of investment freedom for PEPP providers. As very long-term investors with low liquidity risks, PEPP providers are in a position to contribute to the development of the CMU by investing in non-liquid assets such as shares and in other instruments that have a long-term economic profile and are not traded on regulated markets, multilateral trading facilities (MTFs) or organised trading facilities (OTFs) within prudent limits. They can also benefit from the advantages of international diversification. Investments in shares in currencies other than those of the liabilities and in other instruments that have a long-term economic profile and are not traded on regulated markets, MTFs or OTFs should therefore not be restricted, in line with the prudent person rule so as to protect the interest of PEPP savers and PEPP beneficiaries, except on prudential grounds.

- (35) In the context of deepening the CMU, the understanding of what constitutes instruments with a long-term economic profile is broad. Such instruments are non-transferable securities and therefore do not have access to the liquidity of secondary markets. They often require fixed term commitments which restrict their marketability and should be understood to include participation and debt instruments in, and loans provided to, non-listed undertakings. Non-listed undertakings include infrastructure projects, unlisted companies seeking growth, real estate or other assets that could be suitable for long term investment purposes. Low carbon and climate resilient infrastructure projects are often non-listed assets and rely on long term credits for project financing. Considering the long-term nature of their liabilities, PEPP providers are encouraged to allocate a sufficient part of their asset portfolio to sustainable investments in the real economy with long-term economic benefits, in particular to infrastructure projects and corporates.
- (36) Environmental, social and governance factors, as referred to in the United Nations-supported Principles for Responsible Investment, are important for the investment policy and risk management systems of PEPP providers. PEPP providers should consider such factors in investment decisions and to take into account how they form part of their risk management system so that stranded assets can be avoided. The information on ESG-factors should be available to EIOPA, the competent authorities and the PEPP saver.
- (36a) One of the objectives of regulating PEPPs is to create a safe, cost-friendly long term retirement savings product. Because the investments concerning pension products are long term, special regard must be had to the long term consequences of asset allocation. In particular, environmental, social and governance factors need to be taken into account. PEPP savings should be invested in line with the Union's climate and sustainability objectives as set out in the Paris agreement, Sustainable Development Goals, and the United Nations Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights. Furthermore, PEPP providers should adopt an investment exclusion policy in order to ensure that savings are not invested in the most controversial and harmful products or tax avoidance tactics.
- (37) In ensuring compliance with their obligation to develop an investment policy in accordance with the prudent person rule, PEPP providers should be prevented to invest in high-risk and non-cooperative jurisdictions identified by the Financial Action Task Force, nor in a country on the Union list of non-cooperative tax jurisdictions, nor in a country on the Union list of high-risk third countries with strategic deficiencies in their regime on anti-money laundering and countering terrorist financing.
- (38) In view of the long-term retirement objective of the PEPP, the investment options granted to the PEPP savers should be framed, covering the elements which allow investors to make an investment decision .
- (39) The Basic PEPP should be a simple and safe product that can be easily acquired in each Member State and should act as a default option. It should seek capital protection for the PEPP saver, either by applying life cycle risk mitigation techniques, or via a capital guarantee. The PEPP saver should be provided with advice on both risks and benefits of the different techniques.

- (39a) In cases of justified reasons, such as in cases of proven negligence, breaches of law or tax avoidance, or when an authorisation of a PEPP is withdrawn, PEPP savers should be able to switch providers any time and free of charge without being charged or locked-up in a contract.
- (40) The competent authority should exercise its powers having as its prime objectives the protection of the rights of PEPP savers and PEPP beneficiaries and the stability and soundness of PEPP providers.
- (41) Where the PEPP provider is an institution for occupational retirement provision or an investment firm, it should appoint a depositary in relation to the safe-keeping of its assets. This is necessary for protecting consumers, since the sectorial legislation applicable to institutions for occupational retirement provision and investment firms does not provide for the appointment of a depositary.
- (42) Transparency and fairness of costs and fees is essential to develop PEPP savers' trust and allow them to make informed choices. Accordingly, the use of non-transparent pricing methods should be prohibited.
- (43) In order to fulfil the objectives set out in this Regulation, the power to adopt acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union should be delegated to the Commission in respect of specifying the conditions for the exercise of intervention powers by EIOPA and the competent authorities. It is of particular importance that the Commission carry out appropriate consultations during its preparatory work. The Commission, when preparing and drawing up delegated acts, should ensure a simultaneous, timely and appropriate transmission of relevant documents to the European Parliament and to the Council.
- (44) The Commission should adopt draft regulatory technical standards developed by the ESAs, through the Joint Committee, with regard to the presentation and the content of specific elements the PEPP key information document not covered by the [PRIIPs KID RTS] in accordance with Articles 10 to 14 of Regulation (EU) No 1093/2010 of the European Parliament and of the Council¹, of Regulation (EU) No 1094/2010 of the European Parliament and of the Council² and of Regulation (EU) No 1095/2010 of the European Parliament and of the Council³. The Commission should complement the technical work of the ESAs by conducting consumer tests of the presentation of the key information document as proposed by the ESAs.
- (45) Without prejudice to the right of PEPP customers to bring action in the courts, easily accessible, adequate, independent, impartial, transparent and effective alternative dispute resolution (ADR) procedures should be established between PEPP providers or distributors and PEPP customers for resolving disputes arising from the rights and obligations set out in this Regulation.

² Regulation (EU) No 1094/2010 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 24 November 2010 establishing a European Supervisory Authority (European Insurance and Occupational Pensions Authority), amending Decision No 716/2009/EC and repealing Commission Decision 2009/79/EC (OJ L 331, 15.12.2010, p. 48).

- (46) With a view to establishing an efficient and effective dispute resolution procedure, PEPP providers and distributors should put in place an effective complaints procedure that can be followed by their customers before the dispute is referred to be resolved in an ADR procedure or before a court. The complaints procedure should contain short and clearly defined timeframes within which the PEPP provider or distributor should reply to a complaint. ADR entities should have sufficient capacity to engage in an adequate and efficient way in cross-border cooperation with regard to disputes concerning rights and obligations pursuant to this Regulation.
- (47) In order to find better conditions for their investments, thus also stimulating the competition among PEPP providers, PEPP savers should have the right to switch providers during the accumulation and the decumulation phases, through a clear, low-cost, quick and safe procedure.
- (48) The switching process should be straightforward for the PEPP saver. Accordingly, the receiving PEPP provider should be responsible for initiating and managing the process on behalf of the PEPP saver. PEPP providers should be able to use additional means, such as a technical solution, on a voluntary basis when establishing the switching service. Considering the pan-European nature of the product, PEPP savers should be able to switch free of charge when no compartment is available in the Member State the PEPP saver moves to.
- (49) Before giving the authorisation for switching, the PEPP saver should be informed of all the steps of the procedure and costs necessary to complete the switching, in order to enable the PEPP saver to make an informed decision about the switching service.
- (50) The cooperation of the transferring PEPP provider is necessary in order for the switching to be successful. Therefore, the receiving PEPP provider should be provided by the transferring PEPP provider with all the information necessary to reinstate the payments on the other PEPP account. However, such information should not exceed what is necessary in order to carry out the switching.
- (51) In order to facilitate cross-border switching, the PEPP saver should be allowed to ask the new PEPP provider to provide the PEPP saver with information giving details of the new PEPP account, preferably within a single meeting with the new PEPP provider.
- (52) PEPP savers should not be subject to financial losses, including charges and interest, caused by any mistakes made by either of the PEPP providers involved in the switching process. In particular, PEPP savers should not bear any financial loss deriving from the payment of additional fees, interest or other charges as well as fines, penalties or any other type of financial detriment due to delay in the execution of the switching.
- (53) PEPP savers should be given the freedom to decide upon subscription of a PEPP about their pay-out choice (annuities, lump sum, or other) in the decumulation phase, but with a possibility to revise their choice once every three years thereafter, in order to be able to best adapt their pay-out choice to their needs when they near retirement.
- (54) PEPP providers should be allowed to make available to PEPP savers a wide range of decumulation options. This approach would achieve the goal of enhanced take-up of the PEPP through increased flexibility and choice for PEPP savers. It would allow providers to design their PEPPs in the most cost-effective way. It is coherent with other EU policies and politically feasible, as it preserves enough flexibility for Member States to decide about which decumulation options they wish to encourage. However, in the capital guaranteed Basic PEPP, a certain amount (35%) of the capital should be taken out in the form of lifelong annuities to do justice to the retirement nature of the product. Therefore, the ability to take out a percentage of the total amount should be limited to 30% which can be taken out in the first year. For the life-cycle backed Basic PEPP, payment via a drawdown plan should be mandatory.

- (55) Full transparency on costs and fees related to the investment in a PEPP should be guaranteed. A level-playing field between providers would be established, whilst ensuring consumer protection. Comparative information would be available between different products, thus incentivising competitive pricing.
- (56) Although the ongoing supervision of PEPP providers is to be exercised by the respective competent national authorities, EIOPA should coordinate the supervision with regards to PEPPs, in order to guarantee the consistent application of a unified supervisory methodology, contributing in this way to the pan-European nature of the pension product.
- (56a) In order to strengthen consumer rights and to facilitate access to a complaints procedure, PEPP savers should be able, either individually or collectively, to submit complaints through their own national competent authority, by way of “one stop shop”. The competent authority where the complaint was submitted should be responsible for the further steps in the complaints procedure.
- (57) EIOPA should cooperate with national competent authorities and facilitate cooperation and consistency between them. In this respect, EIOPA should play a role in the power of competent national authorities to apply supervisory measures by providing evidence about PEPP-related infringements. EIOPA should also provide binding mediation in the event of disagreement between competent authorities in cross-border situations.
- (58) In order to ensure compliance with the provisions of this Regulation by financial undertakings that manufacture PEPP, as well as by financial undertakings and persons that distribute PEPP, and to ensure that they are subject to similar treatment across the Union, administrative sanctions and other measures which are effective, proportionate and dissuasive should be provided.
- (59) In line with the Commission Communication of 8 December 2010 "Reinforcing sanctioning regimes in the financial services sector"¹ and in order to ensure that the requirements of this Regulation are fulfilled, it is important that Member States take necessary steps to ensure that infringements of this Regulation are subject to appropriate administrative penalties and measures.
- (60) Although Member States may lay down rules for administrative and criminal penalties for the same infringements, Member States should not be required to lay down rules for administrative penalties for the infringements of this Regulation which are subject to national criminal law. However, the maintenance of criminal penalties instead of administrative penalties for infringements of this Regulation should not reduce or otherwise affect the ability of competent authorities to cooperate, access and exchange information in a timely way with competent authorities in other Member States for the purposes of this Regulation, including after any referral of the relevant infringements to the competent judicial authorities for criminal prosecution.

- (61) Competent authorities should be empowered to impose pecuniary sanctions which are sufficiently high to offset the actual or potential profits, and to be dissuasive even for larger financial undertakings and their managers.
- (62) In order to ensure a consistent application of sanctions across the Union, the competent authorities should take into account all relevant circumstances when determining the type of administrative sanctions or other measures and the level of administrative pecuniary sanctions.
- (63) In order to ensure that decisions on breaches and penalties by competent authorities have a dissuasive effect on the public at large and to strengthen consumer protection by warning them about PEPPs distributed in infringement of this Regulation, those decisions should be published, provided that the time period for lodging an appeal has passed and no appeal was lodged, unless such disclosure jeopardises the stability of financial markets or an ongoing investigation.
- (64) In order to detect potential breaches, the competent authorities should have the necessary investigatory powers, and should establish effective mechanisms, to enable reporting of potential or actual breaches.
- (64a) *Given the pan-European nature of PEPP and the provision of PEPP, cross-border mechanisms for collective compensatory redress for consumers should equally be available.
- (65) This Regulation should be without prejudice to any provisions in the laws of Member States in respect of criminal offences.
- (66) Any processing of personal data carried out within the framework of this Regulation, such as the exchange or transmission of personal data by the competent authorities, the storage of personal data in the central register held by EIOPA, the processing of personal data by PEPP providers or PEPP distributors should be undertaken in accordance with Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council¹, Directive (EU)2016/680 of the European Parliament and of the Council² and a Regulation on the respect for private life and the protection of personal data in electronic communications and repealing Directive 2002/58/EC (Regulation on Privacy and Electronic Communications). Any exchange or transmission of information by the ESAs should be undertaken in accordance with Regulation (EC) No 45/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council¹.

- (66a) Given the sensitivity of personal financial data, strong data protection is of the utmost importance. Therefore it is recommended that data protection authorities are closely involved in the implementation and supervision of this Regulation.
- (67) Tax incentives can take different forms and play an important role in encouraging the take-up of personal pension products ((PPPs) in a number of Member States. In many Member States the contributions paid for PPPs qualify for some form of tax relief, be it explicit or implicit.
- (68) This Regulation should not be understood as obliging Member States to apply to PEPPs the same tax rules as they would apply to comparable personal pension products under their national laws. However, in application of the national treatment principle, stemming from Articles 21 and 45 of the TFEU and interpreted by the Court of Justice of the European Union, it should be possible for a PEPP that is objectively comparable to a personal pension product (PPP) distributed in a given Member State to benefit from the same tax relief and contractual benefits, such as interest promised, granted to the PPP in this Member State ■ This also applies if the PEPP is provided by a provider from another Member State.
- (69) Following the launch of the PEPP, Member States are encouraged to take into consideration Commission Recommendation (EU) 2017/... and to extend the benefits of the tax advantages they grant to national PPPs also to the PEPP.
- (70) An evaluation of this Regulation is to be carried out, inter alia, by assessing market developments, such as the emergence of new types of PEPPs, as well as developments in other areas of Union law and the experiences of Member States. Such an evaluation has to take account of the different aims and purposes of establishing a well-functioning PEPP-market, and in particular should evaluate whether this Regulation has contributed to the development of multi-pillar pension systems in the Member States and has resulted in more European citizens saving for sustainable and adequate pensions.
- (70a) Given the possible long term implications of this Regulation, it is essential to closely monitor the developments during the initial phase of application. When carrying out the evaluation the Commission should also reflect the experiences of EIOPA, stakeholders and experts, and report to the European Parliament and the Council any observations it might have.
- (71) This Regulation should ensure the respect of fundamental rights and observes the principles recognised in particular by the Charter of the Fundamental Rights of the European Union, in particular the rights of the elderly to lead a life of dignity and independence and to participate in social and cultural life, the right to the protection of personal data, the right to property, the freedom to conduct a business, the principle of equality between men and women and the principle of a high level of consumer protection.

¹ Regulation (EC) No 45/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 18 December 2000 on the protection of individuals with regard to the processing of personal data by the Community institutions and bodies and on the free movement of such data (OJ L 8, 12.1.2001, p. 1).

- (72) Since the objectives of this Regulation, namely to enhance PEPP saver protection and improve PEPP saver confidence in PEPPs, including where those products are distributed cross-border, cannot be sufficiently achieved by the Member States but can rather, by reason of its effects, be better achieved at Union level the Union may adopt measures, in accordance with principle of subsidiarity as set out in Article 5 of the Treaty of the European Union. In accordance with the principle of proportionality, as set out in that Article, this Regulation does not go beyond what is necessary in order to achieve those objectives.

HAVE ADOPTED THIS REGULATION:

SECTION II

PORTABILITY

Article 12

The portability service

1. For the purposes of this Section, the portability service is defined as the right of PEPP savers to continue contributing to a PEPP which they have already contracted with its provider, while changing their place of residence by moving to another Member State.
2. In case of using the portability service, PEPP savers are entitled to retain all advantages and incentives granted by the PEPP provider and connected with continuous investment in the same PEPP and shall have the right to simultaneously save in more than one compartment.

Article 13

Provision of the portability service

1. PEPP providers shall provide the portability service to PEPP savers holding a PEPP account with them and requesting this service.
2. When proposing a PEPP, the PEPP provider or PEPP distributor shall provide potential PEPP savers with information on the portability options and on which national compartments are available, either via the provider or from a registered partner.
3. The available compartments shall be listed in the PEPP scheme. The PEPP provider shall be obliged to offer at least the compartments listed in that scheme. Where a PEPP saver changes his or her place of residence to another Member State and the PEPP provider cannot offer a compartment in that Member State itself, or via a partnership, the PEPP saver shall be offered the possibility to switch to another PEPP provider, free of charge.

Article 14
Compartments of the PEPP

■ Where PEPP providers provide a portability service to PEPP savers in accordance with Article 13, they shall ensure that within each individual PEPP account a new compartment could be opened, either by transferral of accumulated assets or by opening an additional compartment corresponding to the legal requirements and conditions for using incentives fixed at national level for the PEPP by the Member State to which the PEPP saver moves and for which a national compartment is available.

Article 15
Opening of a new compartment

1. ■ Immediately after receiving the PEPP savers request to use the portability service, the PEPP provider shall inform the PEPP saver about the options available to him or her, including the possibility to continue saving in a new compartment.

Consequently, if no partnership or compartment is available, the PEPP provider shall inform the PEPP saver about the right of costless switching.

2. Where a PEPP saver signals an intention to avail of a compartment in another Member State, as offered by the PEPP provider, the PEPP provider shall obtain the following information:

- (a) the PEPP saver's new Member State of residence;
- (b) the date from which the contributions should be directed to the new compartment;
- (c) any relevant information about possible modifications in the adopted investment strategy or other elements.

(ca) whether the mobility concerns a transferral or addition.

3. Not later than three months following the reception of the request under paragraph 2, the PEPP provider shall provide the PEPP saver with complete information free of charge and advice under Chapter IV, Sections II and III regarding the conditions applicable to the new compartment.
4. The new compartment shall be opened by signing a new contract, or amending the existing one, between the PEPP saver and the PEPP provider, in compliance with the applicable contract law. The date of opening shall be defined in the contract or, in the absence of such stipulation, the new compartment shall be deemed opened at the date of signing the contract or the amendment thereto.

Article 16
Transfer of accumulated assets between the compartments of the PEPP

1. At the request of the PEPP saver, the PEPP provider shall propose to the PEPP saver to arrange for full or partial transfer of accumulated assets and, where applicable, the surrender value, to other compartments of the PEPP account.
 - 1a. Immediately after receipt of the application for transfer of the deposits made, the PEPP provider shall inform the PEPP saver about all implications of this asset- transfer and on applicable transfer taxes, fees and charges and of the financial consequences of keeping the existing compartment.

2. The transfer of assets under paragraph 1 shall be made possible without redemption in kind of these assets.

Article 17

Provision of information on portability to the national authorities

1. All contractual arrangements for providing the portability service, as well as any partnership arrangements as defined by this Regulation shall be notified by the PEPP provider to EIOPA and, where appropriate, to ESMA.
2. The information under paragraph 1 shall be filed electronically in a central database held with EIOPA within one month of opening the new compartment or partnership. The database shall be accessible to the national competent authorities, who shall automatically receive information concerning the local compartments in the case of any changes as well as the details of any existing or new partnership arrangements between providers and shall contain at least:
 - (a) identification of the compartment (name of the PEPP saver; applicable national legislation; date of opening the compartment and partnership);
 - (b) amount of the transferred assets, if any;
 - (c) way of transfer (with or without redemption in kind of the transferred assets).

Article 19

Distribution regime applicable to different types of PEPP providers and distributors

Article 21 Electronic distribution and other durable mediums

All documents and information under this Chapter shall be provided free of charge to PEPP customers, either electronically or upon request on another durable medium, provided that the PEPP customer is enabled to store such information in a way accessible for future reference and for a period of time adequate for the purposes of the information and that the tool allows the unchanged reproduction of the information stored. Upon request, PEPP providers and distributors shall provide free of charge those documents and information also on another durable medium.

Article 22 Product oversight and governance requirements

Those instruments shall be valued on a prudent basis, taking into account the underlying asset, and included in the valuation of a PEPP provider's assets. PEPP providers shall also avoid excessive risk exposure to a single counterparty and to other derivative operations;
 - (e) the assets shall be properly diversified in such a way as to avoid excessive reliance on any particular asset, issuer or group of undertakings and accumulations of risk in the portfolio as a whole.  - (f) the assets shall not be invested in a high-risk and non-cooperative jurisdiction identified by the Council conclusions of 5 December 2017 on the EU list of non-cooperative jurisdictions for tax purposes or in high-risk and non-cooperative jurisdictions identified by the Financial Action Task Force and in the Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2016/1675;

CHAPTER VII SWITCHING OF PEPP PROVIDERS

Article 45

Provision of the switching service

1. PEPP providers shall provide a switching service transferring, upon a request of the PEPP saver, any positive balance from a PEPP account held with the transferring provider to a new PEPP account opened with the receiving provider, with closing the former PEPP account.

The switching service may be provided by PEPP providers established in the same Member State (domestic switching) or in different Member States (cross-border switching).

In the case of domestic switching, PEPP providers are required to inform national competent authorities of any switching service they provide to PEPP savers. National competent authorities shall monitor the compliance of PEPP providers with this Chapter on a regular basis.

In the case of cross-border switching, PEPP providers are required to inform EIOPA of any switching service they provide to PEPP savers. EIOPA shall monitor the compliance of PEPP providers with this Chapter on a regular basis.

2. The terms for switching PEPP providers shall be listed in the PEPP contract. In any case the PEPP saver has the right to switch at the moment of retirement.

Article 46

The switching service

1. At the request of the PEPP saver, the switching service shall be initiated by the receiving PEPP provider. ■
2. The receiving PEPP provider shall initiate the switching service upon receipt of the request from the PEPP saver.

The request shall be drawn up in an official language of the Member State where the switching service is being initiated or in any other language agreed between the parties.

The request shall allow the PEPP saver to provide specific consent to the performance by the transferring PEPP provider of each of the tasks referred to in paragraph 3 and to provide specific consent to the performance by the receiving PEPP provider of each of the tasks referred to in paragraph 5.

The request shall allow the PEPP saver to specifically identify asset portfolios and/or amounts that are to be switched. The request shall also allow PEPP savers to specify the date from which payments are to be executed to the PEPP account opened with the receiving PEPP provider. That date shall be at least six working days after the date on which the receiving PEPP provider receives the documents transferred from the transferring PEPP provider pursuant to paragraph 4. Member States may require the request from the PEPP saver to be in writing and that a copy of the request be provided to the PEPP saver.

3. Within five working days from receipt of the request referred to in paragraph 2, the receiving PEPP provider shall request the transferring PEPP provider to carry out the following tasks, if provided for in the PEPP saver's request:
 - (a) transmit to the receiving PEPP provider and, if specifically requested by the PEPP saver in the request, to the PEPP saver, a list of the existing assets that are being switched;
 - (b) transfer any remaining positive balance to the PEPP account opened or held with the receiving PEPP provider on the date specified by the PEPP saver; and
 - (c) close the PEPP account held with the transferring PEPP provider on the date specified by the PEPP saver.
4. Upon receipt of a request from the receiving PEPP provider, the transferring PEPP provider shall carry out the following tasks, if provided for in the PEPP saver's authorisation:
 - (a) send the receiving PEPP provider the information referred to in point (a) of paragraph 3 within five working days;
 - (b) where the transferring PEPP provider does not provide a system for automated redirection of the incoming payments to the PEPP account opened by the PEPP saver with the receiving PEPP provider, stop accepting incoming payments on the PEPP account with effect from the date specified in the request. Member States may require the transferring PEPP provider to inform the PEPP saver of the reason for not accepting the incoming payments;
 - (c) transfer the remaining positive balance from the PEPP account to the new PEPP account opened with the receiving PEPP provider on the date specified in the request;
 - (d) close the PEPP account on the date specified in the request if the PEPP saver has no outstanding obligations on that PEPP account and provided that the actions listed in points (a), (b) and (c) of this paragraph have been completed. The PEPP provider shall immediately inform the PEPP saver where such outstanding obligations prevent the PEPP saver's account from being closed.
5. Within five working days of receipt of the information requested from the transferring PEPP provider as referred to in paragraph 3, the receiving PEPP provider shall, as and if provided for in the request and to the extent that the information provided by the transferring PEPP provider or the PEPP saver enables the receiving PEPP provider to do so, carry out the following tasks:
 - (a) make any necessary preparations to accept incoming payments and accept them with effect from the date specified in the request;

- (b) inform payers specified in the authorisation of the details of the PEPP saver's PEPP account with the receiving PEPP provider and transmit to the payers a copy of the PEPP saver's request.

If the receiving PEPP provider does not have all the information it needs to inform the payers as referred to in point (b) of the first subparagraph, it shall ask the PEPP saver or the transferring PEPP provider to provide the missing information.

Where the PEPP saver chooses to personally provide the information referred to in point (b) of the first subparagraph to the payers rather than provide specific consent in accordance with paragraph 2 to the receiving PEPP provider to do so, the receiving PEPP provider shall provide the PEPP saver with standard letters providing details of the PEPP account and the starting date specified in the request within the deadline referred to in the first subparagraph.

Article 47

Facilitation of domestic and cross-border switching for PEPP savers

1. Where a PEPP saver indicates to his or her PEPP provider that he or she wishes to open a PEPP account with a PEPP provider located in the same or another Member State, the PEPP provider with which the PEPP saver holds a PEPP account shall on receipt of such request provide the following assistance to the PEPP saver:
 - (a) provide the PEPP saver free of charge with available information about recurring incoming payments to the PEPP saver's PEPP account in the previous 13 months;
 - (b) transfer the positive balance remaining on the PEPP account held by the PEPP saver to the PEPP account opened by the PEPP saver with the receiving PEPP provider, provided that the request includes full details allowing the receiving PEPP provider and the PEPP saver's PEPP account to be identified;
 - (c) close the PEPP account held by the PEPP saver.
2. If the PEPP saver has no outstanding obligations on the PEPP account, the PEPP provider with which the PEPP saver holds that PEPP account shall provide assistance referred to in points (a), (b) and (c) of paragraph 1 of this Article on the date specified by the PEPP saver, which shall be at least six business days after that PEPP provider receives the PEPP saver's request unless otherwise agreed between the parties. The PEPP provider shall immediately inform the PEPP saver where outstanding obligations prevent his or her PEPP account from being closed.

Article 48

Fees and charges connected with the switching service

1. PEPP savers shall be able to access free of charge their personal information held either by the transferring or by the receiving PEPP provider.
2. The transferring PEPP provider shall provide the information requested by the receiving PEPP provider pursuant to point (a) of Article 46(4) without charging the PEPP saver or the receiving PEPP provider.

3. The total fees and charges applied by the transferring PEPP provider to the PEPP saver for the closure of the PEPP account held with it shall be limited to no more than 0,5% of the positive balance to be transferred to the receiving PEPP provider.
4. ■ The receiving PEPP provider may only charge the actual costs of the switching service.

Article 49

Protection of PEPP savers against financial loss

1. Any financial loss, including fees, charges and interest, incurred by the PEPP saver and resulting directly from the non-compliance of a PEPP provider involved in the switching process with its obligations under Article 46 shall be refunded by that PEPP provider without delay.
 2. Liability under paragraph 1 shall not apply in cases of abnormal and unforeseeable circumstances beyond the control of the PEPP provider pleading for the application of those circumstances, the consequences of which would have been unavoidable despite all efforts to the contrary, or where a PEPP provider is bound by other legal obligations covered by Union or national legislative acts.
 3. Liability under paragraph 1 shall be established in accordance with the legal requirements applicable at national level.
 4. The PEPP saver shall bear the costs and any risk of financial loss connected with the redemption in kind of the assets held in the PEPP account for the sake of their transfer from the transferring PEPP provider to the receiving PEPP provider.
 5. The PEPP saver shall bear the costs and any risk of financial loss connected with the capital protection provided by the transferring PEPP provider. This capital protection, allowing the PEPP saver to recoup the capital invested and providing an inflation indexation mechanism, shall be consumed at the moment of switching providers.
- 5a. *Member States shall ensure that cross-border complaints and redress mechanisms are set up, allowing for individual as well as collective compensatory redress across borders.

Article 50

Information about the switching service

1. PEPP providers shall give to PEPP savers the following information about the switching service:
 - (a) the roles of the transferring and receiving PEPP provider for each step of the switching process, as indicated in Article 46;
 - (b) the time-frame for completion of the respective steps;
 - (c) the fees and charges charged for the switching process;
 - (d) any information that the PEPP saver will be asked to provide.

PEPP providers shall also give other information, including, where applicable, the information necessary for the identification of the deposit guarantee scheme, investor-compensation scheme or pension protection scheme within the Union of which the PEPP provider is a member. A "pension protection scheme" means an arrangement to pay compensation to PEPP savers or PEPP beneficiaries in the event of insolvency of the PEPP provider.

2. The information referred to in paragraph 1 shall be available in electronic form on the PEPP provider's website at all times, shall be made available free of charge on paper or another durable medium at all PEPP provider's premises accessible to PEPP savers, and shall be provided to PEPP savers on request.

2. For the Basic PEPP, in the first year a maximum of 30 % of the total amount shall be permitted. The remaining capital may be drawdown payments, annuities or a combination thereof. In the case of a Basic PEPP with a capital guarantee as the investment option, a minimum of 35 % of the out-payment will be in lifelong annuities.
- 2a. Considering the individual PEPP saver's circumstances and the relative value of the accumulated capital to current annuity values, annuities in the Basic PEPP may be taken out as a total amount or drawdown-payments instead. In order to establish consistent processes and criteria to assess such circumstances and to identify the appropriate relative value of the accumulated capital, EIOPA shall develop draft regulatory technical standards.
EIOPA shall submit those draft regulatory technical standards to the Commission by ...
Power is conferred on the Commission to adopt the regulatory technical standards referred to in the first subparagraph in accordance with Article 10 of Regulation (EU) No 1094/2010.

2. EIOPA shall ■ verify that the "PEPP" shall not be used unless ■ authorised under, and in compliance with, this Regulation.
3. In coordination with the other European Supervisory Authorities, EIOPA shall review the annual plans for supervision of the PEPP providers adopted by the competent authorities.

1. Where a competent authority of a PEPP provider or distributor disagrees about the procedure or content of an action or inaction of a competent authority of another Member State regarding the application of this Regulation, EIOPA, at the request of one or more of the competent authorities concerned, may assist the authorities in reaching an agreement in accordance with the procedure set out in paragraphs 2 to 4.

In cases involving cross-border situations, and where on the basis of objective criteria disagreement between competent authorities from different Member States can be identified, EIOPA may, on its own initiative or upon request of the European Supervisory Authority (European Banking Authority) or the European Supervisory Authority (European Securities and Markets Authority), assist the competent authorities in reaching an agreement in accordance with the procedure set out in paragraphs 2 to 4.

2. EIOPA shall set a time limit for conciliation between the competent authorities taking into account any relevant time periods, as well as the complexity and urgency of the matter. At that stage EIOPA shall act as a mediator.

3. Without prejudice to the powers of the Commission under Article 258 TFEU, where a competent authority does not comply with the decision of EIOPA, and thereby fails to ensure that a PEPP provider or PEPP distributor complies with requirements directly applicable to it by virtue of this Regulation, EIOPA may adopt an individual decision addressed to the PEPP provider or PEPP distributor requiring the necessary action to comply with its obligations under Union law, including the cessation of any practice.

4. Decisions adopted under paragraph 4 shall prevail over any previous decision adopted by the competent authorities on the same matter. 4. In the case of a decision to publish a sanction or measure on an anonymous basis as referred to in paragraph 3(b), the publication of the relevant data may be postponed. OPINION OF THE COMMITTEE ON EMPLOYMENT AND SOCIAL AFFAIRS

for the Committee on Economic and Monetary Affairs

on the proposal for a regulation of the European Parliament and of the Council on pan-European Personal Pension Product (PEPP)
(COM(2017)0343 – C8-0219/2017 – 2017/0143(COD))

Rapporteur for opinion: Heinz K. Becker

AMENDMENTS

The Committee on Employment and Social Affairs calls on the Committee on Economic and Monetary Affairs, as the committee responsible, to take into account the following amendments:

Amendment 1

Proposal for a regulation Recital 1

Text proposed by the Commission

(1) EU households are amongst the highest savers in the world, but the bulk of these savings are held in bank accounts with short maturities. More investment into capital markets can help meet the challenges posed by population ageing and low interest rates.

Amendment

(1) EU households are amongst the highest savers in the world, but the bulk of these savings are held in bank accounts with short maturities and low returns. Nonetheless, household saving rates differ significantly among EU countries and persistent differences among EU member states may have an impact on investment and growth as household saving is an important financing source for private and public investment. More investment into capital markets can help meet the challenges posed by population ageing, low interest rates and low levels of investment in the long-term.

Amendment 2

Proposal for a regulation Recital 1 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(1a) To ensure decent living standards for current and future pensioners, Member States should give priority to further developing, strengthening and reforming the first (public) and second (occupational) pillars of national pension systems. These two pillars remain paramount for old-age income and the sustainability of national schemes. PEPPs should not replace or undermine first and second pillar schemes. To consolidate the financial resources necessary for these pillars, Member states also need to tackle unemployment as well as undeclared and uninsured work. However, in light of the impending reduction of the working population from a ratio of 1:4 to 1:2 a multi-pillar pension approach is crucial. A voluntary, long-term pan-European Personal Pension Product will act as a complement to and strengthen existing pension savings, boosting their adequacy as well as increasing coverage for categories of people previously faced with a lack, or partial lack, of adequate coverage such as women, young people the self-employed and persons in atypical or new forms of employment.

Amendment 3

Proposal for a regulation Recital 1 b (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(1b) In 2015, 11,3 million EU28 citizens of working age (20 to 64 years old) were residing in a Member State other than the Member State of their citizen and 1,3 million EU28 citizens were working in a Member State other than their Member State of residence.

Amendment 4

Proposal for a regulation Recital 1 c (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(1c) Old age pensions constitute an essential part of a retiree's income, to ensure a decent standard of living and to combat old age poverty. It is a precondition for exercising fundamental rights laid down in the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union, including in Article 25 on the rights of the elderly which states: "The Union recognises and respects the rights of the elderly to lead a life of dignity and independence and to participate in social and cultural life" as well as the rights enshrined in the Recommendation of the Committee of Ministers to Member States on the promotion of human rights of older persons of the Council of Europe^{1a}.

^{1a} Recommendation CM/Rec(2014)2 of the Committee of Ministers to member States on the promotion of human rights of older persons

Amendment 5

Proposal for a regulation Recital 1 d (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(1d) The PEPP is to provide an additional voluntary choice for retirement savings for citizens of the Union and will reinforce the portability of citizen's entitlements. It will also complement the

Amendment 6

Proposal for a regulation

Recital 1 e (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(1e) The aging of society and falling birth rates are significant demographic challenges for the Union, which threatens both pension adequacy and sustainability as well as intergenerational solidarity. In addition, digitalisation and labour market changes are likely to further exacerbate the problem and put increasing pressure on first and second pillar pensions.

Amendment 7

Proposal for a regulation

Recital 1 f (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(1f) The gender pension gap also caused by irregular contributions to pension schemes due to interruptions of work or contributions because of motherhood or childcare persists in the Union. The pension of a retired woman between the ages of 65 and 79 in the Union is on average almost 40 % lower than that of her male counterpart. The PEPP can provide them an extra option to accrue an adequate pension.

Amendment 8

Proposal for a regulation

Recital 1 g (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(1g) According to EIOPA, only 67 million people, or 27% of the total EU population between 25-59 years old, are currently voluntarily subscribed to financial products with a long-term pension objective and that this is concentrated in only a few Member States.

Amendment 9

Proposal for a regulation Recital 1 h (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(1h) The PEPP should be primarily a long-term support instrument for the purpose of securing a good standard of living after retirement, especially for young citizens of the Union. The PEPP can effectively improve the ability to cover the costs needed to maintain individual standard of living after retirement.

Amendment 10

Proposal for a regulation Recital 1 i (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(1i) The Union is facing growing demographic challenge, which will eventually lead to the current old age dependency ratio of 1:4 decreasing to 1:2 by 2060. For every citizen aged 65 or over, there are 4 people aged between 15 and 64 and by 2060 there will be 2 people in that age bracket for every citizen over 65 year old.

Amendment 11

Proposal for a regulation Recital 1 j (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(1j) Portability of the PEPP will increase its attractiveness as a product particularly to young people and help to further facilitate citizens' right to live and work across the Union.

Amendment 12

Proposal for a regulation Recital 1 k (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(1k) PEPP as a European framework for personal pensions is specifically needed and useful for those who do not qualify for an adequate pension or would like to have a complementary saving plan next to the national schemes.

Amendment 13

Proposal for a regulation Recital 3

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(3) Currently, the functioning of the internal market for personal pensions is impeded by the high degree of fragmentation between national markets and the limited degree of portability of personal pension products. This can result in difficulties for individuals to make use of their basic freedoms. For instance, they may be prevented from taking up a job or retiring in another Member State. (3) Currently, the functioning of the internal market for personal pensions is impeded by the high degree of fragmentation between national markets and the limited degree of portability of personal pension products. This can result in difficulties for individuals to make use of their basic freedoms. For instance, they may be prevented from searching for or taking up a job in or retiring to another Member State. In addition, the possibility for providers to use the freedom of establishment and the freedom to provide services is hampered by the lack of standardisation of existing personal pension products.

Amendment 14

Proposal for a regulation Recital 4 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(4 a) Due to the contribution a PEPP is expected to play in the building of the CMU and in the channelling of capitals towards real economy and long term sustainable projects, savers need to be involved in the process which makes them aware of their financial and non-financial interests and on the mutual relationship between the performance of the product and the environmental, social and governance factors. The effectiveness of this process is related to a high level of transparency and disclosure as well as to a proper engagement of savers.

Amendment 15

Proposal for a regulation Recital 9 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(9 a) People on lower incomes and those who have spent less time on the labour market have less financial room for investing in personal pension products, which leads to an increase in income inequality in old age. This is in particular the case for women in general as a result of the gender pay gap that affects them throughout their professional careers, and since they spend more time outside the labour market to take up caring responsibilities, without any or only a very low income.

Amendment 16

Proposal for a regulation

Recital 10

Text proposed by the Commission

(10) Among personal pension products, the development of a PEPP will contribute to increasing choices for retirement saving and establish an EU market for PEPP providers. It will provide households with better options to meet their retirement goals.

Amendment

(10) Among personal pension products, the development of a PEPP will contribute to increasing choices for retirement saving and establish an EU market for PEPP providers. It should provide households with well regulated, safe, socially responsible and sustainable better options to meet their retirement goals, taking due account of their needs and preferences.

Recital 10 a (new)

Amendment 19

Proposal for a regulation Recital 14

Text proposed by the Commission

(14) PEPP providers should have access to the whole Union market with one single product authorisation issued by the European Insurance and Occupational Pensions Authority ("EIOPA"), on the basis of a single set of rules.

Amendment

(14) PEPP providers should have access to the whole Union market with one single product authorisation issued by the European Insurance and Occupational Pensions Authority ("EIOPA"), on the basis of a single set of rules and in cooperation with national competent authorities.

Amendment 20

Proposal for a regulation Recital 14 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(14 a) Theway in which institutions for occupational retirement provision (IORPs) are organised and regulated varies significantly between Member States. In some Member States these institutions are only allowed to carry out occupational pension activities whereas in other Member States they are allowed to carry out occupational and personal pension activities. This has not only lead to different organisational structures of IORPs but is also accompanied by different supervision on national level. In particular, prudential supervision of IORPs which carry out occupational and personal pension activities is broader than of those IORPs which only carry out occupational pension activities. In order not to jeopardise financial stability and to take into account the different organisational structure and supervision, only those IORPs should be allowed to provide PEPPs which, pursuant to national law, are authorised and adequately supervised to provide personal pension products. Moreover and to further safeguard financial stability, all assets and liabilities corresponding to PEPP provision business should be ring-fenced, managed and organised separately from the other activities of occupational retirement provision business, without any possibility of transfer.

Amendment 21

Proposal for a regulation Recital 15 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(15 a) The applicable tax regime for the PEPP should be defined by the legislation in each member state where a PEPP saver has contributed. In consequences, The PEPP Product will be taxed in each member state where the PEPP saver has contributed proportionally at the level of contribution in each member state respectively

Amendment 22

Proposal for a regulation Recital 20 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(20 a) Lifelong pensions and additional financial security to cover risks such as disability, death or long-term care are essential features of a comprehensive retirement provision product. Pension products should provide the customer a long-term, secure and stable additional income after retirement.

Amendment 23

Proposal for a regulation Recital 20 b (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(20 b) Contribution plans should be accompanied by prognoses focusing on the value of the funds, return on investment, estimated inflation and economic growth.

Amendment 24

Proposal for a regulation Recital 21

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(21) In order to allow a smooth transition for PEPP providers, the obligation of providing PEPPs comprising compartments for each Member State will apply three years after the entry into force of this Regulation. However, upon launching a PEPP, the provider should provide information on which national compartments are immediately available, in order to avoid a possible misleading of consumers.

(21) Upon launching a PEPP, the provider should provide information on which national compartments are immediately available in the contract. When a PEPP saver changes her or his domicile to another Member state where the PEPP provider does not offer a compartment which is readily available, switching provider shall be free of charge for all customers. PEPP beneficiaries should be able to receive PEPP pay-outs irrespective of the Member State in which they reside.

Amendment 25

Proposal for a regulation Recital 21 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(21 a) In order to facilitate provisions to open national compartments in all Member States, PEPP providers should be able to enter partnerships with other PEPP providers.

Amendment 26

Proposal for a regulation Recital 22

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(22) Taking into account the nature of the pension scheme established and the administrative burden involved, PEPP providers and distributors should provide clear and adequate information to potential PEPP savers and PEPP beneficiaries to support their decision-making about their retirement. For the same reason, PEPP providers and distributors should equally ensure a high level of transparency throughout the various phases of a scheme comprising pre-enrolment, membership (including pre-retirement) and post-retirement. In particular, information concerning accrued pension entitlements, projected levels of retirement benefits, risks and guarantees, and costs should be given. Where projected levels of retirement benefits are based on economic scenarios, that information should also include an unfavourable scenario, which should be extreme but plausible.

Amendment 27

Proposal for a regulation Recital 23

Text proposed by the Commission

(23) Before joining a PEPP scheme, potential PEPP savers should be given all the necessary information to make an informed choice.

Amendment

(23) Before joining a PEPP scheme, potential PEPP savers should be given all the necessary information to make an informed choice through the provision of advice assessing their saving demands and needs.

Justification

The advice can be a meaningful tool in order to make consumers aware of their choices.

Amendment 28

Proposal for a regulation
Recital 24

Text proposed by the Commission

(24) In order to ensure optimal product transparency, PEPP manufacturers should draw up the PEPP key information document for the PEPPs that they manufacture before the product can be distributed to PEPP savers. They should also be responsible for the accuracy of the PEPP key information document. The PEPP key information document should replace and adapt the key information document for packaged retail and insurance-based investment products under Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014 of the European Parliament and of the Council³³ which would not have to be provided for PEPPs.

Amendment

(28a) Marketing communication should exploit the opportunities offered by digitization and present the characteristics of the PEPP in a simple and easy to understand and user-friendly way, in full compliance with Article 9 of Regulation 1286/2014 (PRIIPs Regulation).

Amendment 32

Proposal for a regulation Recital 29

Text proposed by the Commission

(29) PEPP providers should draw up a Pension Benefit Statement addressed to PEPP savers, in order to present them with key personal and generic data about the PEPP scheme and to ensure continuous information on it. The Pension Benefit Statement should be clear and comprehensive and should contain relevant and appropriate information to facilitate the understanding of pension entitlements over time and across schemes and serve labour mobility.

Amendment 33

Proposal for a regulation Recital 32

Text proposed by the Commission

(32) In order to protect adequately the rights of PEPP savers and PEPP beneficiaries, PEPP providers should be able to opt for an asset allocation that suits the precise nature and duration of their liabilities. Therefore, efficient supervision is required as well as an approach to investment rules that allows PEPP providers sufficient flexibility to decide on the most secure and efficient investment policy, while obliging them to act prudently. Compliance with the prudent person rule therefore requires an investment policy geared to the customers' structure of the individual PEPP provider.

Amendment

(29) PEPP providers should draw up a Pension Benefit Statement addressed to PEPP savers, in order to present them with key personal and generic data about the PEPP scheme and to ensure continuous information on it. The Pension Benefit Statement should also be addressed to PEPP beneficiaries if agreed upon by the PEPP saver. The Pension Benefit Statement should be clear, updated, simple and comprehensive and should contain relevant and appropriate information to facilitate the understanding of supplementary pension entitlements over time and across schemes and serve labour mobility.

Amendment

Proposal for a regulation

Recital 35

Text proposed by the Commission

(35) In the context of deepening the CMU, the understanding of what constitutes instruments with a long-term economic profile is broad. Such instruments are non-transferable securities and therefore do not have access to the liquidity of secondary markets. They often require fixed term commitments which restrict their marketability and should be understood to include participation and debt instruments in, and loans provided to, non-listed undertakings. Non-listed undertakings include infrastructure projects, unlisted companies seeking growth, real estate or other assets that could be suitable for long term investment purposes. 3. When providing advice on PEPPs, the PEPP provider or distributor referred to in Article 19(c) of this Regulation shall comply with the applicable national laws giving effect to the rules set out in Article 25(2) of Directive 2014/65/EU and with any directly applicable Union legislation adopted under Article 25(8) of that Directive relating to those rules.

Amendment

3. Without prejudice to the obligation set out in the preceding paragraph, the PEPP provider or distributor referred to in Article 19(c) of this Regulation shall comply with the applicable national laws giving effect to the rules set out in Article 25(2) of Directive 2014/65/EU and with any directly applicable Union legislation adopted under Article 25(8) of that Directive relating to those rules.

Justification

Under Article 22(2) of Directive (EU) 2016/97 (IDD), Member States have a national option to make the provision of advice mandatory by insurance distributors prior to the conclusion of any insurance contract. Where a PEPP distributor is an insurance intermediary registered under IDD, Article 19(a) of the PEPP Regulation provides that Chapters V and VI of IDD apply: the national option for mandatory advice (covered by Chapter V) will therefore apply. In some Member States, PEPP contracts distributed by insurance intermediaries will therefore always be sold with prior advice. This will not be the case where PEPP contracts are distributed by investment firms authorized under MiFID II or by any other type of financial undertaking allowed as PEPP provider under Article 5(1) of the PEPP Regulation. This is because neither MiFID II nor the proposed PEPP Regulation currently contains a national option to make the provision of advice mandatory prior to the conclusion of a PEPP contract. This will result in PEPP savers being treated differently depending on the legal status of the PEPP distributor with whom they will deal. These amendments solve this issue and ensure a higher standard for the protection of the PEPP saver.

Concluding a contract for a PEPP without advice

1. Without prejudice to Article 25(1), the PEPP saver may waive his right to receive advice in relation to concluding a contract for the default investment option.

Where the PEPP saver waives his right to receive advice, PEPP providers or distributors referred to in Article 19(c) of this Regulation shall, when carrying out PEPP distribution activities, ask the PEPP saver or potential PEPP saver to provide information regarding that person's knowledge and experience in the investment field relevant to the PEPP offered or demanded so as to enable the PEPP provider or distributor to assess whether the PEPP envisaged is appropriate for the PEPP saver.

Where the PEPP provider or distributor referred to in Article 19(c) of this Regulation considers, on the basis of the information received under the first subparagraph, that the product is not appropriate for the PEPP saver or potential PEPP saver, the PEPP provider or distributor shall warn the PEPP saver or potential PEPP saver to that effect. That warning may be provided in a standardised format.

Where PEPP savers or potential PEPP savers do not provide the information referred to in the first subparagraph, or where they provide insufficient information regarding their knowledge and experience, the PEPP provider or distributor shall warn them that it is not in a position to determine whether the PEPP envisaged is appropriate for them. That warning may be provided in a standardised format.

2. Without prejudice to Article 25(1), where the PEPP saver has waived his right to receive advice in relation to the default investment option, the PEPP provider or distributor referred to in Article 19(c) of this Regulation may carry out PEPP distribution activities without the need to obtain the information or make the determination provided for in paragraph 1 of this Article where all the following conditions are met:

- (a) the activities relate to PEPP contracts concerning the default investment option which only provide investment exposure to the financial instruments deemed non-complex under Article 25(4)(a) of Directive 2014/65/EU and do not incorporate a structure which makes it difficult for the PEPP saver to understand the risks involved;*
- (b) the distribution of the PEPP is at the initiative of the PEPP saver or potential PEPP saver;*
- (c) the PEPP saver or potential PEPP saver has been clearly informed that, in the provision of the PEPP distribution activity, the PEPP provider or distributor is not required to assess the appropriateness of the PEPP or PEPP distribution activity provided or offered and that the PEPP saver or potential PEPP saver does not benefit from the corresponding protection of the relevant conduct of business rules. Such a warning may be provided in a standardised format;*
- (d) the PEPP provider or distributor complies with its obligations under the rules applicable to it, in accordance with this Chapter, concerning conflicts of interest in relation to PEPP distribution activities.*

3. The Commission shall be empowered to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 62 to further specify how PEPP providers or distributors referred to in Article 19(c) of this Regulation are to comply with the principles set out in this Article when carrying out PEPP distribution activities, including with regard to the information to be obtained when assessing the appropriateness of PEPPs for their customers and the criteria to assess noncomplex PEPP-related contracts for the purposes of point (ii) of paragraph 2(a) of this Article. Those delegated acts shall take into account:

- (a) the nature of the services offered or provided to the PEPP saver or potential PEPP saver, having regard to the type, object, size and frequency of the transactions; and*
- (b) the nature of the products being offered or considered, including different types of financial instruments.*

Justification

This amendment aims at deleting the possibility for a PEPP saver to waive his right to receive advice which should be given in any case to PEPP consumers.

OPINION OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE INTERNAL MARKET AND CONSUMER PROTECTION

for the Committee on Economic and Monetary Affairs

on the proposal for a regulation of the European Parliament and of the Council on a pan-European Personal Pension Product (PEPP)
(COM(2017)0343 – C8-0219/2017 – 2017/0143(COD))

Rapporteur for opinion: Birgit Collin-Langen

SHORT JUSTIFICATION

The rapporteur welcomes the Commission's initiative for a pan-European Personal Pension Product and the proposal to encourage Europe's citizens to make arrangements for their private pensions. It is in everybody's interest to combat the impact of the demographic shift on retirement policy in each Member State and introduce private savings schemes at an early stage. This applies particularly to the young generation and people on low incomes.

There is currently no single market for private pensions. In some Member States there are currently few or no private pension products available, and the existing national markets are extremely fragmented. It is not possible to take a product into another Member State or arrange a pension product in another Member State in order to gain a fiscal advantage. A standardised pan-European product would improve this situation. The proposal puts forward adequate and appropriate ways of removing the barriers to making cross-border pension arrangements and moving pension products across borders. The proposal is proportionate, as barriers to the portability of a product into another Member State cannot be removed by one Member State acting alone, even though private pension markets are governed by national jurisdiction.

The objective is to have a pension product which is voluntary, simple, safe, transparent, consumer-friendly and reasonably-priced.

Only then can the concept of a portable pan-European pension product succeed.

People buy PEPPs in order to make provision for their old age. As a rule, therefore, that provision must take the form of an annuity payable until a person's death.

A necessary condition for the PEPP to succeed will be support from the Member States, as only they can provide the same fiscal incentives and benefits as are available with comparable national products.

Various amendments and clarifications are proposed which will guarantee a high level of consumer protection.

Information obligations: One suggestion is for the provisions on advertising and the pre-contractual information (PEPP-KID) to be dealt with in the Regulation itself and for the reference to Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014 (the PRIIPS Regulation) to be removed. This would give more legal clarity and certainty.

Portability: The rapporteur welcomes the ambitious aim of having PEPPs available in all the Member States. However, the timeframe would seem to be too tight; the deadline for setting up the compartments needs to be extended to five years. Compartment partnerships will also be introduced to help PEPP providers to make their products available in all the Member States.

Investment options: The rapporteur is in favour of a simple, safe, transparent, consumer-friendly and reasonably-priced pension product. The standard option should enable people to conclude the contract without taking advice. Many consumers have insufficient knowledge to make such far-reaching financial decisions. To ensure a well-informed basis for consumers' decisions, a decision tree will be provided. This will be developed by the EIOPA and will not give recommendations; it will help PEPP customers decide whether obtaining a PEPP will in fact provide them with the right kind of pension. There will also be a presentation of the various designs of the standard option so that the customer can see how they vary and come to an informed decision.

The design of the investment option will ensure the saver that the capital accumulated by the start of the pay-out phase will at least equal the contributions paid, including all costs and charges.

AMENDMENTS

The Committee on the Internal Market and Consumer Protection calls on the Committee on Economic and Monetary Affairs, as the committee responsible, to take into account the following amendments:

Amendment 1

Proposal for a regulation

Recital 1 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(1a) Old age pensions constitute an essential part of a retiree's income, and for many people an adequate pension provision makes the difference between a comfortable old age or poverty; it is a precondition for exercising fundamental rights laid down in the Charter of

Fundamental Rights of the European Union, including in Article 25 on the rights of the elderly which states: “The Union recognises and respects the rights of the elderly to lead a life of dignity and independence and to participate in social and cultural life”; as well as the rights enshrined in the Recommendation of the Committee of Ministers to Member States on the promotion of human rights of older persons of the Council of Europe^{1a}.

^{1a} Recommendation CM/Rec(2014)2 of the Committee of Ministers to Member States on the promotion of human rights of older persons.

Amendment 2

Proposal for a regulation Recital 1 b (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(1b) A substantial part of old age pensions is provided under public schemes, so that there is a direct connection between national pension systems and the sustainability of public finances. Notwithstanding the exclusive national competence regarding the organisation of pension systems as determined by the Treaties, income adequacy and financial sustainability of national pension systems are crucial to the stability of the Union as a whole. By channelling more of Europeans’ savings from cash and bank deposits to longer-term investment products, such as voluntary pension schemes, the impact would therefore be beneficial both for individuals (who would benefit from higher returns and improved pension adequacy) and for the broader economy.

Amendment 3

Proposal for a regulation
Recital 1 c (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(1c) The Union is facing several challenges, including demographic challenges because of the fact that Europe is an ageing continent. In addition, career patterns, the labour market and the distribution of wealth are undergoing radical changes, not least as a result of the digital revolution. At the same time, it is increasingly clear that national security systems are not adjusted to a globalised knowledge economy with open borders, labour mobility and migration. Too many people are not, or are inadequately covered by the traditional national pension systems, including, inter alia, women, young people, migrants, low-skilled workers, self-employed workers, workers with atypical contracts.

Amendment 4

Proposal for a regulation
Recital 1 d (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(1d) It is expected that the share of first pillar pay-as-you-go public pensions as part of the placement rate will decline. This could be partly compensated by accrued pension entitlements from second pillar-funded schemes. But a well-developed third pillar shall contribute substantially to improving the adequacy and sustainability of the existing national pension systems. The Pan-European Personal Pension Product (PEPP) shall therefore complement and strengthen the market for individual pension products across the Union.

Amendment 5

Proposal for a regulation Recital 2 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(2a) Deepening the internal market for pension products, by addressing cross-border barriers, would increase competition, enabling consumers to benefit from an improved quality of products and lower prices, while producers could benefit from economies of scale. As such, even Member States where demographic trends are favourable and whose pension systems are well funded, would benefit from a more effective internal market for personal pension products.

Amendment 6

Proposal for a regulation Recital 2 b (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(2b) The proposal for a Regulation will enable the creation of a pension product which, as far as possible, will be simple, safe, reasonably-priced, transparent, consumer-friendly and portable EU-wide and will complement the existing systems in the Member States.

(10a) Insecure employment arrangements and changes to the law mean that pension rates are constantly decreasing. It is therefore especially important for the young generation and people with low incomes in particular to be able to ensure their standard of living

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(12) The Regulation harmonises a set of core features for the PEPP, which concern key elements such as distribution, investment policy, provider switching, or cross-border provision and portability. The harmonisation of these core features will improve the level playing field for personal pension providers at large and help boost the completion of the CMU and the integration of the internal market for personal pensions. It will lead to the creation of a largely standardised pan-European product, available in all Member States, empowering consumers to make full use of the internal market by transferring their pension rights abroad and offering a broader choice between different types of providers, including in a cross-border way. As a result of fewer barriers to the provision of pension services across borders, a pan-European Personal Pension Product will increase competition between providers on a pan-European basis and create economies of scale that should benefit savers.

Amendment

(31) During the phase when retirement benefits are paid, PEPP beneficiaries should continue to receive information on their benefits and corresponding pay-out options. This is particularly important when a significant level of investment risk is borne by PEPP beneficiaries in the pay-out phase. PEPP beneficiaries should also be informed of any reduction in the level of benefits due, prior to the application of any such reduction, after a decision which will result in a reduction has been taken. PEPP providers are recommended to consult PEPP beneficiaries in advance of any such decision.

Proposal for a regulation

Recital 32

Text proposed by the Commission

(32) In order to protect adequately the rights of PEPP savers and PEPP beneficiaries, PEPP providers should be able to opt for an asset allocation that suits the precise nature and duration of their liabilities. Therefore, efficient supervision is required as well as an approach to investment rules that allows PEPP providers sufficient flexibility to decide on the most secure and efficient investment policy, while obliging them to act prudently. Compliance with the prudent person rule therefore requires an investment policy geared to the customers' structure of the individual PEPP provider.

Such advice must not be limited to PEPP-related contracts provided by the PEPP provider or distributor itself, by entities having close links with the PEPP provider or distributor or by other entities with which the PEPP provider or distributor has close legal or economic relationships, including contractual relationships, as to pose a risk of impairing the independent basis of the advice provided.

Article 25a

Decision tree

- 1. The PEPP provider or distributor shall provide the PEPP customer with a standardised decision tree established by EIOPA to help potential PEPP savers, in the initial phase of interest, to assess which PEPP product, the default option or any other alternative investment option, would be suitable for them. The decision tree shall cover the essential characteristics of a PEPP and shall aim to clarify that the default option offered by the provider might be different from the default options offered by other providers so that the PEPP customer is able to take this information into consideration before concluding a PEPP contract.
- 2. The decision tree shall be made available on paper or on another durable medium and the PEPP provider or distributor shall ensure that the PEPP customer has gone through the decision tree before concluding a contract.
- 3. The decision tree shall not constitute a personal recommendation and shall not replace any demands on advice for other investment options than the default option.

4. In order to ensure a uniform use of the standardised decision tree referred to in paragraph 1, EIOPA shall draw up draft regulatory technical standards:

a) specifying the content and presentation of the standard decision tree, including the definition of the main characteristics of PEPPs and types of default options which are offered by different providers in accordance with the regulatory standards to be included in the decision tree;

b) establishing the conditions under which the standardised decision tree shall be provided on a durable medium or on paper, and how it may be adapted for this purpose. When drawing up the draft regulatory technical standards, EIOPA shall carry out consumer tests and take the following into account:

i) the different types of PEPPs;

ii) the differences between PEPPs;

iii) the competence of PEPP savers and the characteristics of PEPPs;

iv) the interactive technical implementation, including the use of websites and apps for mobile devices or the use of a different form to provide and complement the decision tree; and

v) the need to ensure that it is clear that the decision tree does not constitute a personal recommendation.

EIOPA shall submit the draft regulatory technical standards to the Commission after their publication. Power is conferred on the Commission to adopt the regulatory technical standards referred to in this paragraph in accordance with Article 15 of Regulation (EU) No 1094/2010.
