CHAPTER 1: GENERAL PROVISIONS
Article 1
Subject matter and scope
(1) This Regulation lays down rules and procedures for investigating foreign subsidies that distort the internal market and for redressing such distortions. Such distortions may arise with respect to any economic activity, and in particular notably in concentrations and public procurement procedures.
(2) This Regulation addresses foreign subsidies granted to an undertaking engaging in an economic activity in the internal market. An Among others, an undertaking acquiring control or merging with an undertaking established in the Union or an undertaking participating in a public procurement procedure in the Union is considered to be engaging in an economic activity in the internal market.
Article 2
Existence of a foreign subsidy
(1) For the purpose of this Regulation, a foreign subsidy shall be deemed to exist where a third country provides directly or indirectly a financial contribution which confers a benefit to an undertaking engaging in an economic activity in the internal market and which is limited, in law or in fact, to an individual undertaking or industry or to several undertakings or industries.

(2) For the purpose of this Regulation,
(a) a financial contribution shall include inter alia :
(i) the transfer of funds or liabilities, such as capital injections, grants, loans, loan guarantees, fiscal incentives, setting off of operating losses, compensation for financial burdens imposed by public authorities, debt forgiveness, debt to equity swaps or rescheduling;
(ii) the foregoing of revenue that is otherwise due; or , such as tax exemptions;
(iii) granting of special or exclusive rights without adequate remuneration; or
(iv) the provision of goods or services or the purchase of goods and or services;
(b) the financial contribution provided by the third country shall include the financial contribution provided by:
(i) the central government and government authorities at all other levels;
(ii) any foreign public entities, whose actions can be attributed to the third country, taking into account elements such as the characteristics of the entity, the legal and economic environment prevailing in the State in which the entity operates including the government's role in the economy; or

(iii) any private entity whose actions can be attributed to the third country, taking into account all relevant circumstances: including those mentioned in subparagraph (ii).
Article 3
Distortions on the internal market
(1) A distortion on the internal market shall be deemed to exist where a foreign subsidy is liable to improve the competitive position of the undertaking concerned in the internal market and where, in doing so, it actually or potentially negatively affects competition on the internal market. Whether there is a distortion on the internal market shall be determined on the basis of indicators, which may include, inter alia , the following:
(a) the amount of the subsidy;
(b) the nature of the subsidy;
(c) the situation of the undertaking, including its size and the markets or sectors concerned;
(d) the level of economic activity of the undertaking concerned on the internal market;
(e) the purpose and conditions attached to the foreign subsidy as well as its use on the internal market.
(2) A foreign subsidy to an undertaking is unlikely to distort the internal market if its total amount is below EUR 5 million over any consecutive period of three fiscal financial years.

AND OF THE COUNCIL on foreign subsidies distorting the internal market – doc. 5407/2/22 REV 2 – 907 rows

Article 4
Categories of foreign subsidies most likely to distort the internal market
(1) A foreign subsidy falling in any of the following categories is most likely to distort the internal market:
(1 a) a foreign subsidy granted to an ailing undertaking, that is to say which will likely go out of business in the short or medium term in the absence of any subsidy, unless there is a restructuring plan that is capable of leading to the long-term viability of that undertaking and includes a significant own contribution by the undertaking;
(2 b) a foreign subsidy in the form of an unlimited guarantee for debts or liabilities of the undertaking, that is to say without any limitation as to the amount or the duration of such guarantee;
(3 c) a foreign subsidy directly facilitating a concentration;
(4 d) a foreign subsidy enabling an undertaking to submit an unduly advantageous tender, on the basis of which the undertaking would could be awarded the public contract.
(2) An undertaking shall be granted the possibility to prove that a foreign subsidy listed above does not distort the internal market in the specific circumstances of the case.

AND OF THE COUNCIL on foreign subsidies distorting the internal market – doc. 5407/2/22 REV 2 – 907 rows

Article 5
Balancing
(1) The Commission shall, where warranted, balance the negative effects of a foreign subsidy in terms of distortion on the internal market with positive effects on the development of the relevant economic activity:-
(2) The Commission shall take into account the balancing between the negative and positive effects when deciding whether to impose redressive measures or to accept commitments, and the nature and level of those redressive measures or commitments.
(3) The Commission shall publish guidance on the application of this article in light of enforcement practice.

Article 6	NL (Comments): NL: NLD believes it is important that the commitments and redressive measures take into account public procurements' specificities. Hence, NLD welcomes the new provision in paragraph 2. However, the new provision does not remedy the situation as such. Upon request, we are happy to think along with the Commission and the Presidency about possible remedies. With a scrutiny reservation, we suggest the following lines of thinking. Please note that further details, suitability, feasibility, and relation to the Union's international commitments require further investigation. We believe that measures that can be imposed on future tenders might in effect deter (i.e. prevent) unduly advantageous tenders (a concept to be further defined) for the current tender. Score/price adjustments: - Inspired by IPI measures, a score adjustment based on competitive prices can be imposed. This can be done for the current tender and/or future tenders (whilst permitting the current tender). - A score adjustment mitigates the unfair competitive advantage and deters unduly advantageous tenders for this and/or future tenders. Temporarily exclusion - Undertakings may be prohibited to participate in the current and/or future tenders for a limited period. - This might de facto be effectuated by a severe (increasing) score/price adjustment. Fines:

	- Based on the degree of an unduly advantageous tender, a fine might be imposed (whilst permitting the current tender). Sourcing restrictions: - Inspired by IPI measures, a sourcing restriction may be imposed. For instance: a maximum value percentage of sourcing (of goods, services and subcontractors) originating from the subsidy providing country. This may be adopted in the contractual conditions. - Further research is necessary in order to what extent sourcing restrictions are in line with the goal and scope of RFS. Gradual measures: Severity of measures may increase over time. E.g. in case of recurrent behavior the score adjustment increases.
Commitments and redressive measures	IT (Comments): For the purposes of legal certainty, it should be clarified whether it is an open or closed list. Furthermore, it should be clarified which is the criterion for choosing among the corrective measures envisaged. In addition, it should be considered whether it is appropriate to provide a preference for one type of measures over the others, as occurs in other related sectors, even with respect to less invasive measures for the company.

redressive measures. The undertaking concerned may also offer commitments.	(Drafting): (1) To remedy the distortion on the internal market actually or potentially caused by a foreign subsidy, the Commission may impose redressive measures. The undertaking-economic operator concerned may also offer commitments. EE (Comments): Wording should be as much in line with the procurement directives as possible in order to facilitate understanding for all parties involved. Since there is no definition for an undertaking given in the draft, the easiest and clearest solution is to use the same terms as in public procurement directives, where the appropriate definitions are given. Word “undertaking” should be therefore replaced with “economic operator” throughout the regulation. The same modifications should be done in the recitals. CZ (Drafting): (1) On the basis of the conclusions reached during the in-depth investigation, the Commission may impose redressive measures to remedy the distortion on the internal market actually or potentially caused by a foreign subsidy, the Commission may impose redressive measures. The undertaking concerned may also offer commitments. CZ (Comments): In our view it is appropriate and important for credibility of the EU legislation to link imposition of redressive measures to the facts established during the in-depth investigation.

(2) Commitments or redressive measures shall be proportionate and fully and effectively remedy the distortion caused by the foreign subsidy in the internal market.
(3) Commitments or redressive measures may consist, inter alia , of the following:	AT (Comments): Which commitments are addressed by Art. 30 if not “commitments” according to Art. 6? In its Power Point presentation for the CWG (no. 14) the COM referred – in the context of Art. 6 and procurement – to “commitments”. What kind of commitments does the COM envisage in the context of procurement? AT points again to the difficulties and legal problems if “offered commitments” alter bids during the course of a procurement procedure. As the ECJ consistently points out, tenders may not be altered in open procedures and the possibility to alter a tender offered only to a specific tenderer may infringe the principle of equal treatment. In this context AT also points out, that from the current wording it would not be clear, how a tender from an undertaking which had received a problematic subsidy would be “classified” (in a procurement context): would it be an “irregular” or “unacceptable” tender (see for ex Art. 26 para 4 letter b of Directive 2014/24/EU)?

(a) offering access under fair and non-discriminatory conditions to an infrastructure-, including research facility, production capability or any other essential facility that was acquired or supported by the distortive foreign subsidies unless such fair and non-discriminatory access is already provided for by legislation in force in the Union;	CZ (Comments): Competition law defines the term "essential facility". By analogy, it should be also used here. "Research facility, production capability" would constitute an "essential facility" only under certain circumstances and not automatically. Thus, if the text of letter (a) were to be modified, the term "essential facility" should be used in accordance with the definition
(b) reducing capacity or market presence;
(c) refraining from certain investments;
(d) licensing on fair, reasonable and non-discriminatory terms of assets acquired or developed with the help of foreign subsidies;
(e) publication of results of research and development;
(f) divestment of certain assets;
(g) requiring the undertakings concerned to dissolve the concentration;	EE (Drafting): (g) requiring the undertakings economic operators concerned to dissolve the concentration;

(h) repayment of the foreign subsidy, including an appropriate interest rate-, calculated according to Commission Regulation (EC) No 794/2004.

	and in which situations the Commission will find it proportionate to use this measure IT (Comments): The amendment concerns only the commitments and not the decision prohibiting the award of the contract. In order to allow the Commission to deal jointly and only once the participation in all EU public procurement, the obligation to indicate (and update) the list of tenders in which the economic operator participates should be triggered at the time of in-depth investigation. In this way, the impact of a possible EC decision, concerning a single tender on the other not notified ongoing tenders would be reduced FI (Comments): The reason for introducing this amendment is a bit unclear to us. The obligation to make a notification is not a measure that is considered to correct the distortions like other measures. In addition, we would like to ask you to specify the temporal dimension of the proposal. In particular, we would like to know whether the period of notification obligation is in the Commission's discretion without any maximum duration. In our view, the time-frame should be restricted.

	It should also be explored whether the amendment is proportionate as it now covers all EU public procurement procedures below the threshold. AT (Drafting): (i) requiring the undertakings concerned to notify the Commission of participation in all EU public procurement procedures falling within the scope of Directive 2009/81/EC, Directive 2014/23/EU, Directive 2014/24/EU and Directive 2014/25/EU, including where the estimated value of the public contract is below the Article 27 thresholds. AT (Comments): It seems disproportionate and not in line with the PP Directives, that the undertaking (no plural needed here!) concerned has to notify the COM of participation in all EU public procurement procedures, even if the estimated value of the public contract is below the thresholds of Art. 27. Letter (i) does not set a minimum threshold for notification and since it is not phrased in a way, that it would only apply to pp procedures “falling within the scope of the 2014 procurement directives”, all pp procedures (even those well below the pp thresholds) would be covered!

	What are the consequences for the undertaking concerned if it does not notify its participation? SE (Comments): The addition is acceptable. It must be clear that it is not a notification according to chapter 4 that is requested in all cases. The reference to EU public procurement procedures should refer to procurements over the thresholds for EU public procurements as regulated by the directives. RO (Comments): RO supports the completion of the text. Ex officio review of foreign subsidies	BE (Comments): The addition of a role for Member States and organisations in Article 7 and the consequent precautions in Article 8 are in line with the desire for Member States or economic operators to be able to relay a problem they have identified in practice.
The Commission may on its own initiative examine information from any source regarding alleged distortive foreign subsidies. Such source may include, among others, the Member States and their authorities and any natural or legal person or association.

(1) The Commission shall (1) When the Commission considers that the information referred to in Article 7 indicates that a distortive foreign subsidy may exist, it may seek all the information it considers necessary to assess, on a preliminary basis, whether the financial contribution under examination constitutes a foreign subsidy and whether it distorts the internal market. 	The Regulation does not provide information on the criteria to open an “ex-officio review”. This instrument should be less discretionary to avoid unjustified obstacles to foreign investment in the EU internal market.
Article 9
In-depth investigation
(1) During the in-depth investigation, the Commission shall further assess the foreign subsidy distorting the internal market that has been identified in the decision to initiate the in-depth investigation, seeking all the information it considers necessary in accordance with Articles 11, 12 and 13.
(2) Where the Commission finds that a foreign subsidy distorts the internal market pursuant to Articles 3 to 5, it may impose redressive measures (‘decision with redressive measures’). Those implementing decisions shall be adopted in accordance with the advisory procedure referred to in Article 43(2).
(3) Where the Commission finds that a foreign subsidy distorts the internal market pursuant to Articles 3 to 5 and the undertaking concerned offers commitments, which the Commission deems appropriate and sufficient to fully and effectively remedy the distortion, it may by a decision make these commitments binding on the undertaking (‘decision with commitments’). A decision accepting the repayment of a foreign subsidy in accordance with Article 6(6) shall be considered a decision with commitments. Those implementing decisions shall be adopted in accordance with the advisory procedure referred to in Article 43(2).
(4) The Commission shall adopt without undue delay a no objection decision where it finds that:

(a) the preliminary assessment as set out in its decision to initiate the in-depth investigation is not confirmed; or
(b) a distortion on the internal market is outweighed by positive effects within the meaning of Article 5.
Those implementing decisions shall be adopted in accordance with the advisory procedure referred to in Article 43(2).
(5) The Commission shall as far as possible endeavour to adopt a decision within a period of 18 months from the opening of the in-depth investigation. In case of non-cooperation by the undertaking concerned or the third country pursuant to article 14, this period is suspended.

	(Comments): The suggested wording is not clear. AT (Comments): It seems to be at odds with the principle of a fair trial if undertakings will be held responsible for actions of a state (which they cannot influence) because according to para 1 the COM will take a decision on the basis of the facts available if an undertaking or a third country does not cooperate! Only in cases where the undertaking can be considered as a part of the respective state (like a SOE or a CA/CE according to the public procurement regime) such consequences would be adequate (see para 3). (5) The Commission may request the prior notification of any concentration which is not a notifiable concentration within the meaning of Article 18 at any time prior to its implementation where the Commission suspects that the undertakings concerned may have benefitted from foreign subsidies in the three years prior to the concentration. CHAPTER 4: PUBLIC PROCUREMENT PROCEDURES	HR (Comments): We have a general question: how does chapter IV but also chapter II correlate with: 1. Procurement under EU threshold as set out in PP directives; 2. Design contests and procurement of social and other specific services; 3. Contracts that are excluded from the scope of public procurement directives, for example according to art 7-17 of the Directive 2014/24/EU or art 11-14 of the Directive 2009/81/EC; 4. Defence and security procurement; 5. Procurement under art 346 of the TFEU. We believe it is not clear from the text nor the recital how will FSR proposal apply to those cases and we propose to make that precise and clear in the text. This is very important to increase legal certainty and predictability. IT (Comments): As a preliminary remark, it should be noted that the Italian authorities are concerned about the impact of the provisions under Chapter 4 on the execution of procurements that are important for the economic recovery, especially those included in the NRRP. In particular, suspending the award of high-value contracts for a considerable period of time, as provided for in Article 29, could undermine the objective of speeding up procedures and complying with the NRRP milestones.

AND OF THE COUNCIL on foreign subsidies distorting the internal market – doc. 5407/2/22 REV 2 – 907 rows

	In addition, it should be clarified in this Chapter 4 that, apart from cases of notifications and ad hoc notifications, the exercise of the ex-officio power of the EC would never affect contracts already awarded and their execution. In other words, the Italian authorities are concerned that the ex-officio exercise, in cases of redressive measures to undertakings, may also have an impact on the executions of the contracts already awarded to the company in question PL (Comments): In our opinion it is still also worth to consider other solutions to the problem of foreign subsidies in public procurement, such as: - establishment of an obligation for economic operators operating on the EU market, to inform/notify the Commission about received foreign subsidies (as is it in the case of national state aid assessed to its compliance with Article 107 TFUE); - on the basis of the result of the notifications proposed above the Commission could either: - publish “black lists” of economic operators excluded from the participation in contract award procedures in the EU because of received foreign subsidies distorting internal market, or - issue certificates to economic operators declaring that particular foreign subsidy does not distort internal market.

	Both above documents could then be used in procedure according to Article 69 of directive 2014/24/UE on “abnormally low tender”. NL (Comments): NL:NLD welcomes the new redraft and supports the instrument. As emphasized before, some key concerns remain relating to the timelines of an investigation. It is of utmost importance that delay of procurement procedures is kept to a minimum. This should be well addressed and reflected upon in the articles and recitals. DE (Comments): As a preliminary remark to this Chapter, DE supports the Commission’s approach to limit the instrument to the economically most important procurements. This will narrow down the application of the instrument to those distortions which have the most relevant impact on fair competition in the single market. OVERALL, IT NEEDS TO BE ENSURED THAT ADMINISTRATIVE BURDEN, COSTS AND UNEXPECTED COMPLICATIONS DURING THE AWARD PROCEDURE ON CONTRACTING AUTHORITIES AND ENTITIES ON ONE SIDE AS WELL AS ON UNDERTAKINGS ON THE OTHER SIDE ARE KEPT TO A MINIMUM. EFFICIENT, TIMELY AND LEGALLY SECURE PROCUREMENT PROCEDURES ARE OF UTMOST IMPORTANCE, ESPECIALLY IN TIMES OF

Distortions on the internal market by foreign subsidies in public procurement procedures
Foreign subsidies that cause or risk causing a distortion in a public procurement procedure shall be understood as foreign subsidies that enable an undertaking to submit a tender that is unduly advantageous in relation to the works, supplies or services concerned. The assessment of whether there is a distortion on the internal market pursuant to Article 3 and whether a tender is unduly advantageous in relation to the works, supplies or services concerned shall be limited to the public procurement procedure at stake. Only foreign subsidies granted during the three years prior to the notification shall be taken into account in the assessment. 	(Comments): Please see explanation in modification concerning art 6 (1). DK (Comments): We would like a clarification on what “unduly advantageous” means in this relation AT (Comments): The (wide) concept of “unduly advantageous tender” must be elaborated. The concept seems to be too narrow: the assessment “shall be limited to the pp procedure at stake”. The wording of Art. 26 presupposes that the undertaking concerned submits a tender itself; however, the regulation also cover cases where the undertaking concerned is “only” a subcontractor or part of a bidding consortium (see Art. 28). In the CWG on 28.6.21. regarding Chapter 4 clarifications regarding the term „undertaking“, which is not common in PP, were presented as possible. Unfortunately, the text hasn’t been adapted to address this issue! In addition, AT maintains the position, that the three-year limitation is questionable and also prior subsidies should be taken into account to have an effective instrument. SE

	(Comments): The concept of an unduly advantageous tender needs to be clarified within the proposed regulation, with cross references as relevant. NL (Comments): NL:Article 26 refers to a causal relationship between the subsidy and an “unduly advantageous bid”. From the current text, it is still unclear how the causal relationship will be demonstrated. Such as indicated in the Working Party (February 21), more clarification is required either in the articles, recitals or guidelines, as we believe proving causality is a complex exercise. We think a framework would be helpful, including specific examples where distortion in a tender can be presumed. NLD believes the period for subsidies that are eligible for notification should reflect a balance between the effectiveness of the instrument and the administrative burden for both undertakings and the Commission. NLD is interested why a period of three years is maintained. In this regard, we want to emphasize that an export credit facility (where distortion might be presumed) may be open for multiple years. As mentioned in our written comments for chapter 5, the relation with IPI requires clarification. Application of the instruments may coincide. It should be clear how the instruments interact. An example is a tender for a contract above the threshold of the RFS (250 million) whereby a tender is submitted by an undertaking from a third country, against which an IPI measure is already in force. It should be clear what is expected of the contracting authority in this case. With RFS, the trigger is the submission of the tender. The EC is notified and might investigate. With IPI, the trigger is the evaluation of the submitted tender

	to which an IPI measure should be applied, which is later in the procurement procedure. (Although in case of IPI, the contracting authority can see in the tender submitted by the undertaking whether it falls within the scope of an IPI measure). The question then is: what should the contracting authority do? Apply IPI when evaluating the submitted tenders and then wait for EC research results? Because depending on the percentage of the score adjustment under IPI (or exclusion), the relevant tender can still come out as the winner. A similar concern regards the interaction with abnormally low tenders (according to Article 69 of Directive 2014/24/EU). DE (Comments): DE understands that Article 26 requires a link between the existence of a foreign subsidy and an unduly advantageous tender in a specific procurement procedure for the instrument to apply. However, it remains uncertain how the Commission will assess this link and how an undertaking will be able to rebut the presumption that a foreign subsidy is causal for an unduly advantageous tender. DE suggests that a definition of the notion “unduly advantageous tender” should be added and more substantial explanations should be included in the recitals and/or in specifying guidelines. 	ES considers that the term “unduly advantageous tender” should be defined in an article dedicated to definitions, as it is different from the term “abnormally low tender” used in the Public Procurement Directives. (a) any type of award procedure laid down in Directive 2014/24/EU and Directive 2014/25/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council for the conclusion of a public contract as defined in Article 2(1), point (5) of Directive 2014/24/EU or of a supply, works and service contract as defined in Article 2, point (1) of Directive 2014/25/EU;	AT (Drafting): (a) any type of award procedure laid down in covered by Directive 2014/24/EU and Directive 2014/25/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council for the conclusion of a public contract as defined in Article 2(1), point (5) of Directive 2014/24/EU or of a supply, works and service contract as defined in Article 2, point (1) of Directive 2014/25/EU; AT (Comments):

	The definition refers on the one hand to “any type of award procedure laid down in Directive ... for the conclusion of a public contract” (see letter a; this would imply that all pp procedures, regardless if they are excluded from the scope of the PP Directives, are covered) but refers at the same time to specific procedures excluded by the PP Directives (see letter c; this would imply that only PP procedures covered by the scope of the PP Directives are addressed in letter a). The addition is necessary to make ensure that the award of public contracts that are excluded from the PP Directives are not within the scope of chapter 4 (see for example Art. 10 Dir 2014/24/EU).

HR (Comments): We have a question on the reasoning behind the inclusion of this point c) in the scope? It is not clear to us why contracts that are excluded from the scope of public procurement directives are included in the scope of FSR. What is the added value here? 	HU (Comments): We maintain our disagreement with the extension of the scope of the Regulation to public procurement exempted from the Public Procurement Directives by international agreement. ES (Comments): ES considers that the thresholds are a key element of the proposal and should therefore be re-evaluated in order to ensure predictability and legal certainty and to minimise administrative burdens to undertakings and public authorities, especially in the context of the implementation of the NGUE Funds. One of the reasons why the thresholds should be carefully established would be to avoid that the request by the COM regarding cases falling outside Chapter 2 of the Regulation (established in article 28(6) becomes the standard procedure. In particular, this request under article 28(6) should not be as broad as it is under the current wording, and be limited by certain time limits and requisites.

However, we would like to ask if you could specify what is meant by the “combined aggregate financial contributions”: is the idea to cover financial contributions that the company has received from several/more than one third countries? LU (Comments): We welcome this additional criteria. AT (Comments): Do we understand correctly that for the € 5 million threshold all financial contributions from all third countries to undertakings should be included when determining a “notifiable foreign financial contribution in an EU public procurement procedure”? The term “third country” should be clarified: are third countries all other countries outside the EU or are certain countries with which the EU has concluded bilateral or multilateral agreements covering the issue of “subsidies” not to be considered “third countries”? More specifically: Would the EEA countries be considered such third countries, what about the WTO members party to the WTO

HU (Drafting): b) the undertakings involved in the tender were granted from third countries combined aggregate financial contributions in the last three years prior to notification equal to or greater than EUR 5 million. HU (Comments): We agree with the revised drafting proposal namely, that the obligation to notify under Article 28 should not be constituted merely by reaching or exceeding a certain threshold, but also by the cumulative criterion of financial contributions from a third country participating in a public procurement procedure and amounting to at least EUR 5 million in the three years preceding the procedure. However, there is the question that how the "calendar year" is to be interpreted: should the current calendar year and the two preceding calendar years be taken into account, as in the state aid de minimis rule, or should 3 years be counted backwards from the current date? Furthermore, the text needs to be brought into line with the term 'last three years' used in Article 28(1). SE

It should be clarified with regard to both articles whether the de minimis threshold covers financial contributions / subsidies from one or multiple sources. ES (Comments): ES would welcome more clarification about the interplay between this provision and the provision in article 28 (undertakings shall either notify to the contracting authority or the contracting entity all foreign financial contributions received in the three years preceding that notification) as it is not clear if the undertaking concerned should notify all financial contributions or only those equal or greater than EUR 5 million.

This way, circumvention of the RFS through this de minimis threshold remains unlikely. 	(Comments): We believe that the current wording can be subject to some confusion. It should be clarified that the words "each lot concerned" only refer to the lots a specific tenderer applies for and not every single lot the procurement is divided into. The current proposal could be understood as to require every single tender to be valued at less than EUR 50 million for article 27 (2a) to apply. This would in turn mean that all tenderers are subject to notification if at least one tender surpasses the 50 million threshold even if they apply for a different lot where their own tender stays below said threshold. 	AT (Comments): AT supports the concept of para 2a; however it is not understandable, that the basic concept of Art. 27 (see para 2 letter a) is based on the estimated value of a contract, in the case of lots however on “the value net of VAT of the tender for each lot”. Since the value of the “tenders” might significantly vary and given the basic concept of Art. 27, para 2a should be based on the estimated value of the lot as well! We suggest to use the wording “equal or greater to” to be in line with wording in para 2b. HU (Drafting): (2a), Where the contracting authority or contracting entity decides to divide the procurement into lots, for the purpose of Article 28, the foreign financial contribution is subject to the notification requirement if the aggregate estimated value of the tender for all the lots combined for which the tenderer applies for is equal or greater than [EUR 100 million]. 	In our view, the proposed paragraph - especially the second sentence - is too complex and needs to be simplified to avoid legal uncertainty. For the sake of this, it would be useful, for example, to define only a specific value or percentage from which notification is mandatory in case of tendering (e.g. tenders for lots with an aggregate estimated value reaching EUR 100 million) . The phrase "must be notified for all such lots" can be misleading, because it sounds as if a notification should be submitted for each lot separately. According to our interpretation, the obligated undertaking submits one notification in a procurement procedure (it would be redundant to submit the same information more than once). PL (Drafting): (2a) Where the contracting authority or entity decides to divide the procurement into lots, for the purpose of Article 28, a foreign financial contribution in such a procurement procedure subject to the notification requirement in line with the threshold set out in paragraph 2(a), shall not be deemed to arise where the value net of VAT of the tender for each lot concerned is less than EUR 50 million. 	DE welcomes an explicit provision on thresholds for lots. As regards the second sentence, however, the 50% threshold might be difficult to apply where it is not clear from the start on how many lots a given undertaking is submitting a bid. It should be further explored, whether a uniform threshold according to sentence 1 (possibly lower) regarding lots would be preferable with a view to procurement practice. ES (Comments): This specific provision refers to procurement procedures divided into lots is welcomed. However, ES considers that, since the general rule in the field of EU public procurement is the division of the contract into lots, a clearer wording is essential to enable contracting authorities to apply the Regulation with maximum legal certainty. In particular, a provision about the awarding of those lots where there is no tender from an undertaking that has been granted a foreign subsidy, as well as a provision about the interplay between the notification obligation set out in this provision and the notification obligation set out in paragraph 2, would be welcomed.

	AT (Comments): AT supports the view the COM has shared in the CWG that only the procedure that leads to the conclusion of the FA is subject to Chapter 4, but not the respective call-offs from such FAs. Call-offs do not represent any type of award procedure. Yet, it shall be clarified in the legal text, how this regulations deals with a FA as such for reasons of legal certainty. Especially, in the light of Art 33 para 4 Dir 2014/24/EU, that allows for multiple partners in a FA and a later “mini-competition”. As already submitted in writing, those questions are of utmost importance for AT (see for example the following recent procedure: TED Nr. 2021/S 151-401747, open procedure to conclude a framework agreement; COVID-Tests; above € 400 Mio.). For a DPS a rule is suggested along the line of para 2a.

	It should also be clarified that procurements falling within the scope of the exclusions set out in Directive 2009/81/EC are not covered by Chapter IV. DE would like to point out that also the award of contracts under Directive 2014/24/EU can be highly relevant for military missions respectively military readiness (Einsatzfähigkeit). This is especially but not exclusively relevant in cases of urgency DE therefore considers it necessary to implement a mechanism that ensures that the application of this Regulation does not delay or prevent such awarding procedures that are required for military missions or military readiness. Such a mechanism is especially relevant since Art 28 para 6 is not limited to any threshold and has become even more relevant and important considering the crisis in Ukraine. It does not matter whether goods or services fall under Directive 2009/81/EC or under Directive 2014/24/EU. If the goods or services are needed for military missions it is necessary to ensure, that the application of this Regulation does not delay or prevent (see also our comments on Article 30 (2)) awarding procedures. ES (Comments): As procedures for the award of contracts falling within the scope of Directive 2009/81/EC, do not fall under Chapter IV, it should be clarified, conversely, that defence and security contracts which, according to Articles 15 to 17 of Directive 2014/24/EU are covered by its provisions, do fall within the scope of the Regulation. This is particularly relevant in relation to mixed contracts, as indicated in Directive 2014/24/EU, in the sense that the contracting authority should not be prevented from choosing to apply Directive 2014/24 to certain mixed contracts instead of applying Directive 2009/81/EC.

	The scope of the regulation covers all foreign subsidies. The need to notify cases under chapter 4 in cases when MS are free to use the negotiated procedure without prior publication does not seem proportional from an administrative costs point of view. The amendment is welcomed by SE but the whole of article 32 also covers inter alia situations with no tenders or no suitable tender and when only a particular economic operator can provide the supplies or services. This ground has its roots in the principle of proportionality. Exempting these procedures is relevant and they are strictly regulated by the directives, related national legislation and constitute decisions which can be followed up through the remedies directive, which secures that circumvention of the proposed regulation is avoided. RO (Comments): RO considers that in practice more cases which need to be exempted may arise. Example: the cases provided by Art.32 (3) (b) - for additional deliveries by the original supplier which are intended either as a partial replacement of supplies or installations or as the extension of existing supplies or installations where a change of supplier would oblige the contracting authority to acquire supplies having different technical characteristics.

Prior notification of foreign financial contributions in the context of public procurement procedures	PL (Comments): PL proposes to establish an ex-ante approval procedure of foreign subsidies for economic operators intending to apply for a public contract in the EU above threshold of Article 27(2)(a). In that case, the Commission shall adopt a decision prohibiting the award of the contract to the undertaking concerned pursuant to Article 30 (2) with the consequences set out in Article 30 (2). CZ (Comments): We suggest setting a clear deadline until which the undertaking concerned has to submit a notification or declaration. This should be done within the deadline for submission of tenders or requests to participate in a public procurement procedure. The „notification or declaration“ needs to be submitted using a standard form. The contracting authority or the contracting entity should not be involved in inviting and receiving complement, correction or clarification of notifications and declarations. If undertakings submit complement, correction or clarification of the notification or declaration directly towards the Commission, it will speed up and simplify the public procurement process and the process pursuant to this Regulation.

	The undertakings which have not submitted such information or declaration within the prescribed time limit shall send it additionally at an invitation of the contracting authority. In the situations described in Article 28 (1) in which the contract shall not be awarded the Commission shall adopt a decision prohibiting the award of the contract to the undertaking concerned in accordance with Article 30 (2) with the consequences set out in Article 30 (2). IT (Comments): It is necessary to specify a period beyond which undertakings which do not submit the information or declarations requested by the contracting authority are excluded and the ranking is scrolled without changing it. AT (Comments): Regarding the first sentence: Some MS, including AT, commented on the fact, that the term “undertaking” is not common in pp procedures. As the undertaking seems to include e.g. subcontractors and so forth, who has to notify/declare the contributions to the CA/CE? Para 3 includes the term “lead” economic operator, that is also unknown in the PP context. Who shall ensure notification? To solve those points, AT suggests changes to the first sentence with the following intentions:

	• No change to the purpose/result of Chapter 4 is intended; just putting para 1 in line with concepts known from the pp procedures. • As any tender or request to participate in a pp procedure necessarily contains various documents and/or information, any declaration or notification in this chapter shall be a mandatory part of it according to para 1. • This ensures, that the candidates or tenderers submitting the request to participate or the tender have to ensure that all (!) the information is included – independent of the fact, if a (sole) economic operator submits it or a group of economic operators; or, eg, a main subcontractor is part of the bid. • For multi-stage procedures, please see the suggestion for a new paragraph 4a Regarding the second sentence: If information is missing in a request to participate or in a tender, the consequence shall be the same as in the pp Directives. In Art. 28 this is a consequence directed at the CA/CE and is not based in a COM decision like in Art. 30 para 2. To ensure, that a notification or declaration can be supplemented and does not result in the modification of the request to participate or the tender, that is against European law, the sentence is suggested. General comment to Para 1: In light of the changes to Art. 27 para 2 letter b: Is it still appropriate to require a notification of “any” financial contribution? Wouldn’t it be enough to notify only those, that are at least theoretically significant? HU

PL (Comments): PL is of the opinion that a notification of foreign subsidy under this Article should be sent directly to the Commission by economic operators without the intermediary of contracting authorities. The solution currently proposed in this chapter (imposing on the EU contracting authorities the function of an intermediary in submitting notifications of foreign subsidies from contractors applying for the contract) is not optimal, as it involves unnecessary red tape. Economic operator should notify foreign subsidy directly to the Commission using appropriate on-line tools, and only inform contracting authority about the notification in the offer or in the application for participation if it is the case. We see the following benefits of such a solution:

	• Due to such shortening of the information flow the Commission would receive the notification earlier, practically at the same time as the deadline for submitting an application for participation in a tender or a bid (when an appropriate on-line form is to be used), so it will be able to proceed the notification sooner. The on-line form provided by the Commission should have the function of issuing a certified confirmation of receipt, which contractors would be able to attach to the application/offer, or indicate an appropriate link in the ESPD (Single European Procurement Document). • Disruptions in communication related to the participation of unnecessary intermediary in the notification procedure would be eliminated, and as a result, it would be possible to complete the investigation sooner, which then will allow for a timely award of the contract. • Contracting entities would not be subject to an unnecessary administrative burden related to the processing of notifications on foreign subsidies, completing it from applications or tenders of the contractor, providing this information in a complete form to the Commission, collecting and storing such information for a period of 10 years for the event of possible inspections. In this context, we propose a new wording of Article 28 para. (1). We therefore support the Commission's proposal for an implementing act concerning the form, content and procedural details of notifications pursuant to Article 28 provided for in Article 42 para. 1 lit. b, possibly complemented by explanative guidelines, to be drafted in close cooperation with the Member States. DE suggest that a distinction could be introduced between an initial notification containing information on the economic operator(s) acting as bidder(s) and a subsequent notification including information on subcontractors and suppliers. ES (Comments): ES would welcome more clarity in the wording of this article. Namely, in para 1 the obligation to notify is on the undertaking, and here, para 2 mentions economic operators. The term economic operator is precisely defined in public procurement directives. For example, Art 2(1)(10) of the Directive 2014/24/EU defines economic operator as any natural or legal person or public entity or group of such persons and/or entities, including any temporary association of undertakings, which offers the execution of works and/or a work, the supply of products or the provision of services on the market. In the first case, there will be problems with compliance with the timing of execution (the contracts of the NRRP, for example, must be concluded by 2026), in the second case the work could be carried out with the help of a subcontractor considered unsuitable following the screening (in Italy the name of the subcontractor is known 20 days before). This can be done during the procedure and even after the conclusion of a contract; in the latter case an exchange within the supply chain can be possible as well. There is also the question of whether all members of the supply chain should be covered by this obligation. The reduction of the percentage from 30% to 20% will amplify this problem. We note that our previous written proposal to limit the notification obligation to subcontractors and suppliers which are known at the time of the tender, has not been taken on board. PL (Comments): Is it correct to interpret this provision in this sense that the obligation to notify foreign subsidies, including to major subcontractors/subsuppliers, does not apply at the stage of contract execution when major subcontractors/subsuppliers are changed or only presented to the contracting authority at that stage? EU public procurement rules allow subcontractors to be disclosed to the contracting authority only at the stage of contract execution (not at the stage of tender or request for participation), if they are not known at the stage of proposal or tender; furthermore, the contracting authority may not require information on subcontractors/subsuppliers to be provided to it. This is a serious risk for circumvention. In these situations the provisions from chapter 2 may be applied. The meaning of ‘key elements’ requires more clarification. 	DE has a scrutiny reservation regarding the reduction of the threshold for being considered “main” subcontractor or supplier. The assessment largely depends on the details of the how such notification obligation will be designed. ES (Comments): In order to ensure predictability and legal certainty, a clarification should be included in the wording, explaining whether the text refers only to first-tier subcontractors or whether it extends to the whole chain of subcontractors. In this sense, ES considers that controlling the whole chain of subcontractors may give rise to some practical problems of applicability. ES would welcome an objective definition of “main subcontractors” or “main suppliers”, in quantitative terms, as a more ambiguous definition such as the current one (they shall be deemed to be main where their participation ensures key element of the contracts) could bring some difficulties to the assessment. Besides, the extension of the scope resulting from the reducing from 30% to 20% to the value of the submitted tender could be further discussed in order to ensure a right balance between the assessment of most distorting foreign subsidies and the right level of administrative burdens. ES considers that a specific provision regarding procedures where the main subcontractors or main suppliers are unknown at the time of the notification or change during the procedure could be included.

	(3) For groups of economic operators, main subcontractors and main suppliers, the lead economic operator shall ensure notification. AT (Comments): If the notification needs to be included in the request to participate or in the tender as suggested in para 1, it is clear, that the (group of) economic operator(s) submitting the request to participate or the tender has to ensure the validity of the information. Para 3 is therefore no longer needed. This would also solve the question, who the lead economic operator is as its definition is simply not necessary anymore. The obligation to include information about main subcontractors and main suppliers follows from para 2. Otherwise (if the change is not accepted): What is the definition of the “lead economic operator”? There is no “lead economic operator” in regard of “main subcontractors” or “main suppliers”, because there is no contractual relationship between subcontractors/suppliers. Why should one of them be responsible for the notification and on which legal basis? During the PP procedure this is even more problematic because the names of subcontractors/suppliers (if they are even known at this stage) constitute a protected (“secret”) information of the respective tenderer. To have a

	It must be clear that the point in time is in line with public procurement directives so that notifications are to be transferred after the tender process closes. NL (Comments): NL: As mentioned in Working Party (February 21), direct contact between the Commission and the contracting authorities is uncommon. NLD believes it is important that member states maintain an overview of the communication with the Commission. This aspect is also taken into account in the Council's position on the IPI. NLD suggests to organize a procedure where member states serve as an intermediary and suggests to make use of existing possibilities like Tender Electronic Daily (TED). We therefore suggest to examine to what extent the eForms is able to offer a convenient solution. ES (Comments): ES considers that the contracting authority or the contracting entity could also transfer to the COM all those declarations received in order to ensure the applicability of article 28(1a). A notification that is part of a tender submitted at a later stage of the procurement procedure is not to be transferred to the Commission unless the notification has been changed or a tender has been substantively modified. (4b) In any procurement procedure, once the Commission decided not to initiate an in-depth investigation according to Article 29 (3) or issues a decision according to Article 30 (3) regarding a specific undertaking, no further notifications from this undertaking need to be transferred to the Commission unless the notification has been changed. AT (Comments): Art 28 does not clearly distinguish between the submission of a tender and the request to participate; in para 1 it just mentions both next to each other. This raises several questions: Is it up to the economic operator to decide when to submit the required information (for example: can the tenderer in a restricted procedure decide to submit the information only together with the tender; can the tenderer decide to submit the information only at the last stage of a negotiated procedure together with the last and final offer; or does it repeatedly have to submit the information)? To address those questions, AT would like to propose two new paragraphs, that are based on the following ideas:

	• A candidate/bidder has to submit a notification or a declaration with a request to participate and with – every – offer (para 1). • As a general rule a CA/CE has to transfer a notification to the COM every time (para 4). • New: In a multi-stage procedure (restricted proc., negotiated proc., innovation partnership, competitive dialogue) a notification has to be – typically – submitted to the COM at the submission of the request to participate and with the initial tender, but not with every subsequent tender. • New: If the COM reaches a result regarding a specific undertaking, that no further action is needed, no further notifications regarding this undertaking are necessary. (As the COM laid out in the CWG on 21.2.22 it might be the case, that an assessment is already possible with a request to participate because it could be no relevant subsidy at all; no further notification shall be necessary here). • In any case, if the notification was changed subsequently, it shall be forwarded to the COM (this would cover a situation for example, where a new subcontractor, who received financial contributions, is affected). • On the other hand, a change in a tender shall only result in a new notification to the COM if the change was substantial; typical changes of offers in a negotiated procedure shall not trigger a new investigation by the COM. Obviously, a “substantial” change is a vague term at first, so it needs to be clearly explained in a recital or even the text needs to be supplemented with examples.

A potential ex ante blockage of the conclusion of any pp procedure regardless of its value is entirely unacceptable, because it makes the management of pp procedures impossible for CA/CE. Either there should be an ex post review and process, or there needs to be a de minimis threshold in this provision as well. The consequences of the ex officio investigation are unclear. If the COM asks for a notification shortly before the award of the contract, can the CA/CE nevertheless award the contract if the COM has – beside the request for notification – not taken any other action? Furthermore, it should be considered to limit review proceedings under Chapter IV based on ad-hoc notification to a certain time period within the procurement procedure (e.g. time limit for the receipt of tenders) to avoid excessive delays. If the Commission asks for an ad-hoc notification after this time limit, the possible market distortion could still be assessed under the ex-officio instrument without any consequences on the individual procurement procedure. AT (Comments): The threshold of 150 days is still too long and must be shortened. The extension should be possible only once (like para 2). The time limit in Para 4 still reflects the general problem of the concept of Chapter 4: CA/CE struggle already now to have real competition in big projects (there can only be “one winner”, the non-successful competitors will have to bear their own – significant – expenses for the participation). Therefore, it is of utmost importance for CA/CE that their candidates and tenderers stay in the competition but also that only suitable candidates are selected for the bidding process. If it is unsure if economic operators can stay in the process (for ex.: the COM opens a preliminary review after the notification of a request to participate or the COM follows up with an in-depth investigation in parallel to a negotiation process) the CA/CE is in a very difficult situation because it needs legal security. It is most likely that CA/CE in such situations 1) put the procedure on hold (see in this regard Art. 31, which provides, that after the elapse of the delays of Art. 29 the contract may be awarded to the undertaking concerned) or 2) try to eliminate the respective undertaking. Doing the latter reduces the competition (maybe resulting in a single sourcing situation/ negotiation) or may have the effect (if the investigation is closed) that not the best value for money offer is selected (which in cases above 250 Mio € results in wasting a lot of public money). Furthermore, the exclusion of the tenderer will most likely be challenged; therefore, additional delays and costs will be caused. HU (Drafting): (4) The Commission may adopt a decision closing the in-depth investigation no later than 90 days after it received the notification. In duly justified cases, this time limit may be extended for 30 days after consultation with the concerned contracting authority or contracting entity. HU (Comments): We agree with the direction of reducing the deadline, but in our view 150 days is still too long and therefore the Commission's procedure may have a negative impact on the retention of bidders and the willingness to bid. We suggest that instead of 150 days, 90 days (or perhaps 120 days may

	ES (Comments): ES welcomes this new wording. Nevertheless, a closed list of reasons that would allow the COM to extend the time limit should be specified in this article. ES would appreciate a specification about when does this time limit starts to run, since Article 28(1a) and Article 28(4) establish the reception of the notification in two different moments.

Time limits laid down in this Article would make it impossible for CA/CEs to conduct procedures in case of urgency that do not yet allow for a negotiated procedure without prior publication (“extreme urgency”).

	Can the COM explain what kind of “commitments” it thinks of (which do not alter the tender contrary to the PP Directives and basic principles of Union Law)? It has been settled that Chapter 1, including Art. 6, is applicable: can the COM elaborate which commitments or redressive measures can – theoretically – be applied in the context of PP procedures bearing in mind the jurisprudence of the ECJ about equal treatment, prohibition to modify tenders in open and negotiated procedures a.s.o.? The impact assessment study accompanying the draft regulation foresees a significant human resource requirement for the operation of the mechanisms under the regulation, so we do not see the point of the proposal. Those implementing decisions shall be adopted in accordance with the advisory procedure referred to in Article 43(2). The assessment under Article 5 shall not result in a modification of the initial tender submitted by the undertaking that is incompatible with Union law. DE (Comments): DE understands that, for the purpose of chapter 4, the distortion of the internal market is assessed with regard to the specific procurement procedure and is closely linked to the notion of an unduly advantageous tender. According to DE's understanding the assessment is solely based on possible distortions in the specific procurement procedure while the wording of Article 30 implies an assessment in relation to the overall internal market. For the sake of clarity, DE would suggest aligning the wording with Article 26. In this context, it is not clear for DE, how the Commission will make use of the possibility for commitments and carry out the balancing test, given that its assessment is limited to distortions in the individual procurement procedure. It is difficult to think of a commitment that fully and effectively removes the distortion of the internal market, but does not alter the tender (e.g. do not affect the price offered or change any explicit conditions of the tender). While, in general, we welcome that – in line with the procurement directives – the tender of the undertaking concerned may not be altered by the commitments in the decision. We imagine however that this may severely limit the potential commitments in the decision. We would also like to point out that the procurement directives do not exclude modifications of an “initial offer”, especially in procedures with negotiation. 	CZ (Comments): The Commission decision under Article 30 (2) must be final in the sense mentioned bellow. It is necessary to exclude the possibility that the contracting authority's action or practice consisting in not treating the undertaking concerned as a participant in the public procurement procedure, respecting the Commission decision under Article 30 (2), is subject to national review. The undertaking concerned could defend itself against the Commission decision by bringing an action before the General Court. If the Commission decision is final, there will be no reason to review the actions of the contracting authority or the contracting entity in this regard, as the national authority would only refer to the Commission decision in its decision. Such a national review would be inefficient and would only prolong the tender process, usually for months. If the decision is not final, it could be challenged by arguments of the undertaking concerned. This would lead to a further significant prolongation of the public procurement procedure. It needs to be clarified / adjusted whether an action against the Commission decision under Article 30 (2) brought before the General Court would have automatic suspensive effect, whether suspensive effect may be granted to such an action by the General Court and whether suspension as an interim measure may be ordered by the General Court.

	We believe that the action has suspensive effect with regard to the possibility of further progress in the public procurement procedure IT (Comments): It is necessary to clarify which consequences could there be for the undertaking and the contracting authorities in case of participation in another call for tenders by an undertaking already subject to a decision pursuant to pr.2. In order to avoid litigation, it should be made clear whether, in the case of a group of economic operators, the "decision prohibiting the award of the contract" involves only the undertaking participating in the grouping or the group as a whole. It should be provided for the extension of the decision prohibiting the award of the contract to other contracts in which the undertaking concerned participates. This is in order to avoid the risk of disputes arising from the participation of the undertaking concerned in other tenders. A white or a black list of economic operators receiving foreign subsidies could be provided for AT (Comments): After the last CWG on 21.2.22 AT understands this provision in the following way: the decision of the COM is directed at the CA/CE and has to be “transposed” by it – for example with the rejection of the tender or the exclusion of the tender; the “technicality” doesn’t matter to the Regulation, as long as the contract is not awarded to the undertaking concerned. Since the COM does not want to “formally” interfere in the pp procedure by rejecting the tender in the decision itself (although this is the practical effect), the relationship to the Remedies Directives needs to be clarified, as well as the consequence within the system of the PP Directives. AT suggests to add a new paragraph for this (see para 4 below). HU (Drafting): Where the undertaking concerned does not offer commitments or where the Commission considers that the commitments referred to in paragraph 1 are neither appropriate nor sufficient to fully and effectively remove the distortion it shall adopt a decision prohibiting the award of the contract to the undertaking concerned (“decision prohibiting the award of the contract”). 	(Comments): It is of outmost importance that the procurement of certain services or supplies is still possible in case of a decision prohibiting the award of a contract. Important to solve the risk of a prohibition of award in case of just one possible tender. Where only one tender is submitted, there is a risk that another competitive procedure may end with the same outcome. Therefore a decision prohibiting the award of contract is disproportionate and inappropriate. Exemptions under article 27 is SEs proposed solution at this moment. RO (Comments): RO supports the completion of the text. NL (Comments): NL: In the case of only one bidder, the continuity of the procurement procedure might be threatened. For two bidders there is a risk of a disproportional price increase. We suggest to explicitly pay attention to this situation. 	DE (Comments): We still consider it necessary to find a solution in the regulation that precludes the risk of the failure of the award procedure in cases where only one offer that fulfils the requirements is available (e.g. in cases falling under Article 32 (2) b) of Directive 2014/24/EU). 	Commission decides in accordance with Article 30(2) to prohibit the award of the contract to the group of economic operators due to foreign financial contributions received by a participant in that group, it is not allowed to replace that participant. CZ (Comments): In order to allow the widest possible competition, we propose, in a situation where the Commission has decided to prohibit the award of the contract to the undertaking concerned due to foreign financial contributions received by the undertaking's subcontractor, that such an undertaking should be allowed to replace that subcontractor. This possibility of replacing the subcontractor should be left to the discretion of the contracting authority. However, the new subcontractor should also be subject to the obligation to either notify financial contributions or confirm in a declaration that it did not receive any foreign financial pursuant to Article 28. As a result, there may be further delays in the public procurement procedure in the light of further review by the Commission. Therefore, we believe that the appropriate option is leaving the possibility of replacing the original subcontractor with a new subcontractor at the discretion of the contracting authority. We also suggest that if the Commission decision prohibits the award of the contract to a group of economic operators due to foreign financial contributions received by a participant in that group, the group of economic operators is not allowed to replace that participant.

	ES welcomes this new wording and the involvement of MS within the decision-making procedures in this chapter.
	AT (Drafting): (4) In a review procedure according to Article 2 (1) b of Directive 89/665/EEC or Directive 92/13/EEC regarding a decision taken by a contracting authority or contracting entity taking into account any decision by the Commission adopted under this Article, Article 2 (1) a and c of Directive 89/665/EEC and Article 2 (1) a, c and d of Directive 92/13/EEC shall not be applicable as far as the decision by the Commission adopted under this Article is relevant for the review of the decision taken by a contracting authority or contracting entity. AT (Comments): AT understands the current proposal insofar, as undertakings affected by a decision of the COM according to this article would have in principal two paths to “challenge” the decision by the COM. The second path (see below) would cause significant problems for MS and its CA/CE. First path: An undertaking affected by a decision of the COM under this article can challenge this decision in court according to Art 263 TFEU as the legal service correctly pointed out in the CWG on 21.2.22. The undertaking shall clearly have legal standing. In that proceeding interim measures are obviously possible. This enables the undertaking to challenge the decision directly and protect its rights under Art 47 of the Charta of Fundamental Rights.

AND OF THE COUNCIL on foreign subsidies distorting the internal market – doc. 5407/2/22 REV 2 – 907 rows

	Second path: Since the decision by the COM has to be “transposed” by the CA/CE (see above to para 2), the subsequent decision taken by the CA/CE would obviously be subject to a review procedure according to the Directive 89/665/EC or Directive 92/13/EC. For example: the undertaking affected by the COM decision could challenge the contract award decision to the next best tender (in line with Art 31 para 4; also see Art 2a of Directive 89/665/EEC) and argue that the decision by the COM is in violation of this regulation or the treaties. If a review body in a procedure according to Art 2 para 1 letter b of those directives has doubts about the validity of the COM decision, it has to (!) refer this question to the ECJ according to Art 267 TFEU. Since Member States have some (although limited) leeway on transposing Art 2 para 1 of Directive 89/665/EEC or Directive 92/13/EC, in principal two consequences are possible: First: If the review system of a MS provides, that a review procedures is typically connected with an interim measure according to Art. 2 para 1 letter a Directive 89/665/EEC, the pp procedure could be effectively stopped for years. The ECJ typically takes more than a year to decide in a preliminary ruling. Keep in mind that this would especially effect major infrastructure/energy projects! Second: On the contrary, if interim measure are not necessarily link to review procedures according to Art 2 para 1 letter b of Directive 89/665/EEC, the CA/CE might award the contract to the next best tender (in line with Art 31 para 4). A consequent ruling by the ECJ, that the COM decision was indeed invalid, would also lead to the invalidity of the decision by the CA/CE and/or the contract. Either way, this could result in (major) damages the CA/CE would have to pay to the undertaking as foreseen in the remedies directives (see Art 2 para 1 letter c of Directive 89/665/EEC). The fact alone, that the decision by the

	COM was invalid and led to the invalid decision by the CA/CE, would not stop damages under the remedies directives. For this reasons AT suggests to block the second path. The following additional reasons and the following intentions guided our proposal for paragraph 4: • It is new, that the COM directly “interferes” in a pp procedures with a decision of its own. • There shall be no negative effects for a CA/CE if the COM decision is in violation of this regulation or the treaties (e.g. a yearlong standstill of the pp procedure and/or damages paid by the CA/CE to the undertaking). • Para 4 would – only – block interim measures and damages according to the remedies directives. And – solely – as far, as the (validity of the) decision by the COM is subject in the proceedings. Other grounds to challenge the (same) CA/CE decision can lead to interim measures and/or damages as foreseen in the remedies directives. Obviously, the “first path” shown above would not be affected by para 4.

Evaluations in public procurement procedures involving a notification and suspension of award	CZ (Drafting): ProcessesEvaluations in public procurement procedures involving a notification and suspension of award CZ (Comments): This article lays down the conditions not only for evaluation. We suggest the wording to be generalised.
(1) During the preliminary review and the in-depth investigation, the evaluation of tenders in a public procurement procedure may continue. The contract shall not be awarded before the expiry of the time limit set in Article 29(2).	CZ (Drafting): (1) During the preliminary review and the in-depth investigation, the contracting authority or the contracting entity may continue in the procurement procedureevaluation of tenders in a public procurement procedure may continue. 	The text “may continue to evaluate tenders” has been replaced with a more general wording to make it clear that the contracting authority may take any action (e.g. exclusion of other suppliers, handling objections, etc.). AT (Drafting): (1) During the preliminary review and the in-depth investigation, the evaluation of the requests to participate or the tenders in a public procurement procedure may continue. The contract shall not be awarded before the expiry of the time limit set in Article 29(2). AT (Comments): In a multistage procedure also the evaluation of the requests to participate shall continue. The second sentence has to be deleted, because if there has been a declaration by the “best” bidder, the award may happen anyway (see additional reasoning at para 3). HU (Comments):

	Our comment on the possibility of concluding the contract with a tenderer which is not under evaluation has not been taken on board, however the shortening of the evaluation deadline in itself extenuates the problem raised. DE (Drafting): (1) During the preliminary review and the in-depth investigation, the evaluation of tenders in a public procurement procedure may continue. The contract shall not be awarded before the expiry of the time limit set in Article 29(2). DE (Comments): DE welcomes the principle that the review carried out by the Commission and the procurement procedure run in parallel. In this context, DE would welcome an adjustment of the text providing for the possibility to award contracts even before the expiry of the 60 days time limit to an undertaking having submitted a declaration under Article 28 where the latter has in any case presented the economically most advantageous tender. This issue becomes particularly important in cases of ad hoc notifications requested by the Commission in the course of a procurement procedure. The same is true for cases in which the Commission takes the decision not to initiate an in-depth review before the 30 days time limit has elapsed.

	HR (Comments): It is not clear what does “in any case” mean? What happens if there is only one tender submitted in public procurement procedure? Can contracting authority award a contract in such case despite CION decision? We propose a clarification in recitals with practical examples. IT (Comments): Paragraph 3 of Article 31 requires substantial clarifications. While par.1 and 2 lay down a suspensive effect on the award, par.3 provides for the possibility of awarding a contract before the expiry of the time limits or before the adoption of an EC decision if: 1. The undertaking has submitted a declaration pursuant to Article 28; 2. The undertaking has submitted the most economically advantageous tender. In this respect, it is necessary to clarify: • Does par.3 apply only in case of a declaration that you have not received foreign financial contributions in the previous three years or does it apply also in case of notified foreign subsidies received? • Could the Commission adopt a decision under Articles 30.1 and 30.2? if so, which are the consequences on the contract awarded under Article 31.3? • Which relation exists between Article 31.3 and Article 31.4 and what are the consequences for the award of a contract? Should an award under Article 31.3 be subsequently revoked if a negative decision is taken by the Commission? With which consequences on the responsibility of the contracting authorities and on the execution of the contracts? In conclusion: the provisions under Article 31 are unclear and give rise to serious concerns regarding legal certainty in the award of a tendering procedure, the responsibility of the authorities, disputes between contracting authorities and undertakings, and the timing of the execution of contracts. AT (Drafting): (3) The contract may be awarded to an undertaking submitting a declaration under Article 28 before the Commission takes any of the decisions referred to in Article 30 or before the time limit laid down in Article 29(2) or (4) elapses only if the tender evaluation has established that the undertaking in question has in any case submitted the most economically advantageous tender. 	This would also benefit urgent procedures as laid down, for example, in Art. 27 para 3 Dir 2014/24/EU enormously. PL (Comments): With regard to paragraphs 3 and 4 it cannot be ruled out that, as a result of the application of these provisions, the Commission will issue a decision pursuant to Article 30 para. 2 (on the prohibition of awarding the contract), against an economic operator who made a false declaration in regard of foreign subsidies. From the perspective of the contracting authority such a situation should mean an obligation to withdraw from the contract and reopen the procedure. Meanwhile, the EU procurement directives do not provide for a basis for terminating the contract (or withdrawing from the contract) in such circumstances, and such an effect does not result from the provisions of the Regulation. Therefore should it be understood that the provision of para. 3 does not refer to the award of the contract (conclusion of the contract), but only to the selection of the offer of the contractor covered by the notification as the most advantageous, and the conclusion of a contract with such a contractor is still subject to the prohibition of awarding the contract under Article 31 para. 2? And if so, then how should it be understood in connection with the provision of Article 31 para. 3, the provision of Article 31 para. 5? SE (Drafting):

Also, any contact btw COM and CA/CE (and vice versa) must pass via the MS, so the MS has an idea of what is going on. Also there is no time frame. It seems disproportionate to impose fines a.s.o. in situations where it is clear that the undertaking concerned fails to (fully) notify a subsidy but has no chance to be awarded the contract. Article 44
Delegated acts
(1) The Commission is empowered to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 45 for the purposes of:
(a) 1) amending, if necessary, the thresholds for notifications as set out in Articles 18(3) and 18(4) for concentrations and Article 27(2) for public procurement procedures, after the Commission has assessed those thresholds in the light of its practice in preceding years of application of this Regulation, taking into account the administrative burden for the Commission and the undertakings concerned, as well as the effectiveness of the application of the Regulation, and has concluded on the necessity of revising them in order to:
(i) capture more accurately distortive foreign subsidies subject to the notification procedures set out in Chapter 3 and Chapter 4 ; and
(ii) ensure a reasonable administrative burden on the Commission and the undertakings concerned.
In particular, if the practice of the Commission during the preceding years of application of this Regulation shows that a large part of notifications made pursuant to Chapters 3 and 4 resulted either in the Commission closing the preliminary review pursuant to Article 8(3) or in the Commission adopting, following the in-depth investigation, a non-objection decision pursuant to Article 9(4), and provides indications that the thresholds for notifications as set out in Articles 18(3), 18(4) and Article 27(2) are set too low in terms of administrative burden for the Commission and the undertakings concerned, as well as any other additional indications provided by	AT (Comments): What is meant by “any other additional indications” in the first sub-paragraph after letter ii and in the first sub-paragraph after the second letter ii?

Conversely, if the practice of the Commission during the first five years of application of this Regulation, and taking into account the effectiveness of application; shows that,
(i) (b) a large part of notifications made pursuant to Chapters 3 and 4 resulted in the Commission adopting, following the in-depth investigation, either a decision with redressive measures pursuant to Article 9(2) or a decision with commitments pursuant to Article 9(3), or
(ii) the number of decisions with redressive measures pursuant to Article 9(2) or with commitments pursuant to Article 9(3) adopted regarding concentrations and public procurement procedures following an ex officio review of foreign subsidies pursuant to Article 7 is equivalent to or even higher than the number of decisions with redressive measures pursuant to Article 9(2) or with commitments pursuant to Article 9(3) adopted regarding concentrations and public procurement procedures following Chapters 3 and 4 of this Regulation, or
(iii) both
and provides indication that the thresholds for notifications as set out in Articles 18(3), 18(4) and Article 27(2) are set too high to ensure the effective application of the Regulation, as well as any other additional indications provided by the application of this Regulation supporting such conclusion, the thresholds for notifications in Articles (3), 18(4) and Article 27(2) shall be lowered.

(2) supplementing this Regulation by exempting, if necessary, certain categories of undertakings concerned, such as undertakings active in a particular sector or performing a particular type of economic activity from the obligation to notify pursuant to Articles 19 and 28, after the Commission has considered, in light of the practice of the Commission in during the first five years of -application of this Regulation, in case this practice allows that it was possible to-	AT (Comments): According to this para the COM might exempt “certain categories of undertakings ... from the obligation to notify according to Article ... 28”: it has to be pointed out, that in the context of Chapter 4 such an exemption seems very unlikely, because a distortive subsidy is evaluated against the background of a specific pp procedure. It seems unlikely that subsidies in a particular sector “per se” would not be problematic. Can COM elaborate its view, how para 2 might be applicable in the context of Chapter 4?
(i) identify economic activities in the internal market where foreign subsidies are unlikely to distort the internal market; pursuant to Article 3 and which would thus not necessarily justify a notification from the undertaking concerned pursuant to in Chapter 3 and Chapter 4,
-(e) amending the timelines for review and in-depth investigations as set out in Articles 24 and 29.
(2) Delegated acts referred to in paragraph 1 shall be adopted in accordance with Article 45.
(ii) define one or several categories of undertakings when considering those economic activities in the internal market; and
(iii) conclude that this or those categories of undertakings face an unreasonable administrative burden when complying with the notification requirements pursuant to in Chapter 3 and Chapter 4;

AND OF THE COUNCIL on foreign subsidies distorting the internal market – doc. 5407/2/22 REV 2 – 907 rows*

(3) amending the timelines for preliminary review and in-depth investigations as set out in Article 24(2) and Article 24(4) for notified concentrations and in Article 29(2) and in Article 29(4) for notified financial contributions in public procurement procedures. The Commission may adopt such delegated acts where the practice of the Commission in the application of this Regulation shows that the average duration of the Commission's assessment can either be performed more quickly than the timelines foreseen in this Regulation and hence can justify to shorten the timelines in Articles 24(2), 24(4), 29(2) and 29(4) or that more time is necessary to gather and assess the information on financial contributions notified pursuant to Chapters 3 and 4 and hence justify to increase the timelines in Articles 24(2), 24(4), 29(2) and 29(4).	AT (Comments): The criteria for the amendment of the time limits are still not sufficiently precise in the Regulation. It has to be pointed out, that the proposed timelines already pose significant problems; if these timelines would be extended, the problems would be enlarged. AT therefore rejects the possibility to extend the timelines for Chapter 4!

Exercise of the delegation

It shall take effect on the day following the publication of the decision in the Official Journal of the European Union or at a later date specified therein. It shall not affect the validity of any delegated acts already in force.
(4) Before adopting a delegated act, the Commission shall consult experts designated by each Member State in accordance with the principles laid down in the Interinstitutional Agreement on Better Law-Making of 13 April 2016.

	Overall, we consider it important that the relationship between FSR's Chapters 2 and 4 and the public procurement directive should be further clarified. AT (Comments): Can COM please clarify the competences of MS below the threshold of € 250 million (but still above the PP threshold)? Could MS introduce for example a similar regime like the proposed regulation on a national basis? AT maintains its positions, that Chapter 4 is not yet aligned to two stage procedures (that are foreseen in the PP Directives) in such a way that legal certainty is guaranteed (this is the reason for multiple suggestions). The most important points in this regard are the following: Firstly, Art. 28 para 1 does not clearly state at which point of a PP procedure a notification or a declaration shall be submitted. The “request to participate” (exists only in two stage procedures) and the “submission of a tender” (exists in one as well as two stage procedures) are both named. While it is easy to determine when to submit a notification or declaration in a one stage procedure (an open procedure or negotiated procedure without prior call for competition), because in these procedures only a tender is submitted, it is unclear when such a notification or a declaration shall be submitted in a two stage procedure (restricted and negotiated procedure with prior call for competition) where first a request to participate is submitted and after the selection process an offer is submitted. It is also unclear when such a notification or a declaration shall be submitted in the case of submission of multiple offers (negotiated procedure).

AND OF THE COUNCIL on foreign subsidies distorting the internal market – doc. 5407/2/22 REV 2 – 907 rows

	Secondly, this problem is closely linked to Art. 29 para 2. The COM shall carry out a preliminary review no later than 30 days after it “received the notification”. Thirdly, Art. 31 para 1 clearly states, that during “the preliminary review and the in-depth investigation, the evaluation of tenders” in a PP procedure may continue. This leads to the first block of open questions: • Is in a two-stage procedure a notification mandatory at the stage of the “request to participate” or can it be submitted together with (the initial/the final?) offer? • If it its mandatory already at the “request to participate”, will another notification be mandatory when submitting an offer (with every offer in a negotiated procedure?)? • If a notification was submitted with the “request to participate”, will the COM have all the necessary information to conduct its preliminary investigation? • Will there be another/multiple “preliminary investigations” for the initial tender or other tenders (see Art. 30 para. 1)? • If a tender has to be submitted before the investigation may start, what is the point in having a notification at the “request to participation” - stage? • If this is not the case, can the evaluation of the requests to participate continue? If so, Art. 31 para 1 needs to be adapted (because it only refers to “tenders”). Furthermore, can negotiations continue and new tenders be submitted in a negotiated procedure? Fourth, does that fact, that Art. 30 para 1 regarding an in-depth investigation is somehow connected to an “initial tender” imply that 1) a preliminary investigation can be based only on a request to participate? or

	2) that for any kind of investigation – even for a preliminary investigation – a tender has to be submitted? Fifth: It has been proposed to shorten the time limits (see Art. 29) but even these reduced time limits are problematic for urgent procedures (see for ex. Art. 27 (3) and Art. 28 (6) of Directive 2014/24/EU). SE (Comments): Important that this chapter is thoroughly worked through. DE (Comments): As the new German government still is forming its position we may have substantial amendments which we introduce at a later point in time. We therefore reserve our right to make further comments.
